Preface

Any student of the Roman Republic should be aware of the debt owed to T.R.S. Broughton for making it easier to examine constitutional and political issues. His The Magistrates of the Roman Republic not only listed officials year by year, but collected all the relevant source material, summarized known activities and legislation and included some discussion and fundamental bibliography. It seemed that something similar could be done for Athens. In 1980 I secured a research grant from the University of Tasmania to set the project in motion, and from 1981 to 1983 funds were made available from the Australian Research Grants Scheme. Primarily this money paid for the services of a research assistant, and at this point let me record my gratitude to David Betts, who with diligence and accuracy accumulated data for me from literary and epigraphical sources. Hence the store of file cards at the basis of the task of ordering and constant checking. I was fortunate also, while on leave in Princeton in 1981, to have the opportunity to work through the prosopographical files at the Institute for Advanced Study. My thanks, therefore, go to Christian Habicht, also to Steve Bradford and David Whitehead for the coffee and conversation which habitually provided relief from the chore, as well as stimulation, physical and mental. May I also express general thanks to those who have taken an interest and given help, to the readers for Cambridge University Press and to the officers of the Press for seeing matters through.

One debt in particular must be isolated. That is to David Lewis, who has been over the years so generous of his time in debating issues of content and format, for the most part compelling me to admit to necessities, reading and commenting in a forthright manner on developing versions and on so many occasions saving me from error or omission, especially, but by no means only, through his epigraphical knowledge. The value of this contribution cannot be overestimated in regard to a work where the need for accuracy, clarity, utility and thoroughness is paramount.

Nonetheless, only one name appears as author, that person who must take the responsibility for a work incorporating the results of advice taken or declined. The labour has been hard and sometimes tiresome, but it will be readily appreciated how much has been learned in the process. I have not presumed to anticipate every use that may be made of this volume, but have sought to cover as many lines of utility as I could conceive within the defined compass. There will naturally be disagreements, but although my own opinions have had their part to play, what is here presented will, I hope, provide a point of convenient reference and of departure for future investigations. After 322/1 Athens underwent institutional changes. It was queried at one stage why the work was not extended into the Hellenistic age and perhaps one or more people will take up that challenge. My experience may serve to demonstrate the time and effort needed, but also that there are considerable rewards to be gained by confronting a task which may not be as daunting as it first appears.

Procedures

Each name that is included carries with it, as appropriate, a reference to the number in PA and to the page in NPA and APF; a few have the number in Berve. With members of the council, otherwise mysterious elements may be clarified through the prosopographical index of Agora xv. Precise identifications are not always directly attested. Square brackets have been used normally to indicate letters and items of nomenclature restored in inscriptions and also surround epigraphical references which depend upon a sufficient degree of restoration, however likely the result. Real doubt in the restoration is signalled by question marks or direct comment. Where a number of references combine to produce a whole name, the degree of restoration in each reference is not indicated. Round brackets are used for elements of nomenclature which are not certain or not directly attested in the specific evidence, the addition of a question mark signalling doubt. Nonetheless, personal opinion intrudes: where the number of a tribe falls outside such parentheses, this indicates acceptance of the identification; where it is included within them, less certainty.

Texts are cited in approximate chronological order, literary evidence before epigraphical. For the most part citation is intended to be exhaustive; the intention goes beyond the mere establishment of a position for a person. So, for example, references to an archon will provide a conspectus of all specific allusions to the year in question. Then there are the records of the treasurers, where I have also indicated which of a plurality of documents are the actual inventories of the particular year, as these constitute a series (though not unbroken) over a considerable span of time.

Transliteration of Greek names is not consistent and is determined by what I feel comfortable with; hence Corcyra, Cyprus, Corinth, but Kyrene, Kenchreiai, and I could not bear to spell the historian's name Thoukydides when I do not pronounce it accordingly – the son of Melesias is a different matter. More generally, such variation as occurs should cause no problem.

As for the divisions in the work, Solon, the end of the tyranny, the Persian and Peloponnesian Wars provided demarcation points and after that one had to follow the arrangement of IG.

Chronology

Though there are periods when the chronology of a series of events is debatable, I have for the most part subdued my own discomfort and avoided discussion in favour of more orthodox views, so that the user may find information where it may reasonably be expected to occur. Where possible, I have included remarks under the appropriate year and the placing of some officials follows the chronological scheme indicated under the relevant heading in the ensuing section. I add here only a few brief notes, mainly for bibliographical purposes.

1. Solon. His work is included under 594/3 (q.v.), though I believe in a nomothesia ending in 592/1. For discussion see Rhodes, Comm. 120ff., 164, 169f.; add Reeker, A&A 1971, 96ff.; Maddoli, Cronologia 21ff., 51ff.; Podlecki in Classica et Iberica (Festschrift Marique: Worcester, Mass. 1975), 31ff.; Sheppard, LCM 1980, 205ff.

2. The Tyranny. My belief is that the chronology in Ath. Pol. for the ins and outs of Peisistratos is correct, with only the emendation of 'twelfth' at 14.4 to read 'fifth' or 'sixth'. Herein, however, I follow dates to be found in Rhodes, Comm. 191ff., placing Peisistratos' three coups in 561/60, 557/6 and 546/5. See also Jacoby, Atthis 188ff. and notes; Hammond, Historia 1955, 381ff.; Heidbüchel, Philologus 1957, 70ff., Sumner, CQ 1961, 37ff.; Ruebel, GRBS 1973, 125ff.; Hind, CQ 1974, 1ff.; Maddoli, Cronologia 27ff.; Rhodes, Phoenix 1976, 219ff.; Schreiner, SO 1981, 13ff.; Andrewes, *CAH*² III.3.399ff.

3. The Pentekontaetia. Debate still continues and will continue. Fundamental treatments are Gomme, Comm. Thuc. 1.389ff.; ATL III.158ff.; Deane, Thuc. Dates. The latter is in many respects radical, but not a patch on the openly anti-Thucydidean studies of Schreiner in SO 1976, 19ff., and 1977, 19ff.; OAth 1984, 163ff. One will, of course, consult Meiggs, Ath. Empire, and here is a further selection: P. Salmon, La politique égyptienne d'Athènes (Brussels 1965), 100ff.; Podlecki, Them. 197ff.; E. Bayer and J. Heideking, Die Chronologie des perikleischen Zeitalters (Darmstadt 1975); Milton, Historia 1979, 257ff.; Roveri, RSA 1980, 27ff., M. Steinbrecher, Der delisch-attische Seebund und die athenisch-spartanischen Beziehungen der kimonischen Ära (ca. 478/7–462–1) (Stuttgart 1985), 15ff.; Unz, CQ 1986, 68ff. Again I hold heterodox opinions, but here I follow the scheme of Gomme for the most part, though I may deviate by a year.

4. The Corinthian War. Works on the period 395/4 – 388/7 are likely to spend time on chronology. The main early treatment was provided by Beloch in Attische Politik and Griechische Geschichte. See also Aucello, Helikon 1964, 29ff.; T.T.B. Ryder, Koine Eirene (Oxford 1965), 165ff.; Cawkwell, CQ 1976, 271ff.; Hamilton, Bitter Victories. In general I follow Funke, Homonoia 76ff. and for Cyprus Tuplin, Philologus 1983, 170ff.

5. For the years 341–339 see Wankel, ZPE 42 (1981), 153ff.

References

Where possible, in the interests of those who might need to use translations, I have used Loeb editions, which can make a difference, for example, in the numeration of Hypereides' speeches or in section references to chapters of Plutarch's biographies. Fragments of orators follow the numeration of Teubner texts. Otherwise standard texts are used, though sometimes it has been necessary to specify the editor. I have generally not felt it necessary to indicate doubts about authorship, so that Dem. and Plut. may mean simply that a work appears in the corpus of the author.

As for secondary references, this is not meant to be a guide to bibliography in any large sense and I have tried to keep this area in reasonable bounds. References to ancient texts on which there are commentaries assume that those commentaries will be consulted. Articles are not included in the bibliography, which is intended to give full details of books and contributions to volumes of essays which are cited in abbreviated form. There follows a list of abbreviations used in the course of the work and the bibliography.

Introduction

THE OFFICIALS

There follow brief remarks on the various officials included in this work. The general criterion for inclusion has been those for whom we have names and who were subject to election, by whatever means, to positions in the service of the state or sections thereof where there is some connexion with the operation of state functions. There will be doubt in some cases, but I have sought justification in the appropriate section below. I have not felt obliged to restrict myself to those positions only which could be termed an arche (see Hansen, GRBS 1980, 151ff.), but have rather followed what seemed to be (though the term is dangerous) common sense.

There is one area, however, which needs to be dealt with here. I had originally included trierarchs and archetheoroi. This was an issue which provoked debate on both sides of the question. I had thought that trierarchs in particular were of some importance, but of course they were liturgants. If we included them, why should not other liturgants find a place? Systematic lists of those performing the various liturgies could be useful, but the decision was made to exclude trierarchs and with them went any possibility of other liturgants. Consistency has led me to resist an inconsolable plea for archetheoroi, but let me at least include for archetheoroi to Delos a reference to Coupry, BCH 1954, 285ff.

Certain assumptions may be held to apply to most, if not all, of the positions included. The state had means of scrutinizing suitability and qualifications for office. A minimum age of 30 may well be ascribed to most officials, but we must not assume that it applied in all cases or that it was necessarily rigid (Develin, ZPE 61 (1985), 149ff.).

Specific secondary references will be given in what follows where necessary, but not exhaustive bibliographies in all cases. In general officials may be traced through G. Busolt and H. Swoboda, Griechische Staatskunde II (Munich 1926), and U. Kahrstedt, Untersuchungen zur Magistratur in Athen (Stuttgart/Berlin 1936). References to Ath. Pol. as usual imply Rhodes' commentary.

Archons

The work begins when the archonship became annual. At this stage there were three officials: the archon (eponymous), basileus and polemarchos. At some unidentified point in the seventh century, but before c. 630, six subsidiary officers, the thesmothetai, were added (Ath. Pol. 3.4). At a later date, by or in connexion with the election reform of 487/6, the college became ten with the addition of a grammateus. At some state each of the three major archons was allowed to choose two paredroi (Ath. Pol. 56.1), men to act as advisers, helpers and sometimes substitutes for their archon; these are included as they were important enough to be subject to public scrutiny and accountability (Dow, Essays Brendel 80ff.).

On archon election see Develin, AC 1979, 455ff.; cf. Athenaeum 1984, 299, 305ff. At the early date, election was made on criteria of birth and wealth (Ath. Pol. 3.6), presumably by a body of electors similarly defined. By the time of Drakon (Ath. Pol. 4.2), the qualification was one of wealth and those of hoplite status did the electing. Nine candidates were chosen and the Areiopagos decided who was best suited to each post (Ath. Pol. 8.2), a role it may have played earlier too. Solon introduced a system whereby each of the four tribes preselected ten men and the final college was decided by lot, as was probably also at the same time the incumbent of each archonship. This system seems to have been abandoned by 582/1 and seems not to have operated during the tyranny or for some time thereafter. In 487/6, now with ten tribes, tribal preselection and the lot returned, with one member from each tribe represented on the college (Ath. Pol. 22.5, 55.1; cf. Bicknell, AC 1985, 78ff.). Solon at least made the top census class eligible for the archonship; either then or later it seems the second class was eligible. In 458/7 or 457/6 the zeugitai were granted access.

Our evidence is naturally dominated by eponymous archons. The first possible basileus appears in ?636/5, the first known polemarch in ?557/6. We know of no thesmothetai until 444/3 (given that Drakon was not one). And the first paredros appears under 394/3.

Military

Here I shall list strategoi, then other infantry and cavalry officers, followed by naval personnel and occasional commands.

Strategoi

Fornara, Generals 1ff., in the context of his discussion of the reform of 501/0, doubts that there were strategoi before that. Hammond, Studies 348ff., accepts that there were. We must indeed do so and the first known general is placed in 607/6. Not only is there evidence for specific generals, they are mentioned in Ath. Pol. 4. There we find that a property qualification higher than that of the archons was required, along with other stipulations, and the indication seems to be that one or a number were chosen annually, but this is problematic (Develin, Athenaeum 1984, 304f.). They will, I presume, have been elected by the hoplite body and their existence may well be a corollary of the extended franchise. As of 501/0 they were elected one per tribe by the whole demos (as I continue to believe against Fornara and Stanton, Chiron 1984, 15f.; see Ath. Pol. 22.2, cf. 61.1). As Ath. Pol. 61.1 indicates, at some stage the principle of tribal representation was abandoned. The first possible example of a tribe providing two generals comes in 479/8; the evidence on which this is based is not of the best, but thereafter one is not bound to exclude identifications which create double representation. In 441/40 we have indisputable evidence for it and in later years it is hard to avoid the conclusion that more than one tribe could provide two generals. The context of the Persian War seems appropriate for the change, as it would allow the selection of the best military leaders without restriction. In normal circumstances conservatism may have affected results, but again it is no surprise if the onset of the Peloponnesian War sees further loosening in this regard. For debate on the question and electoral procedure see also West, AJPh 1924, 141ff.; Wade-Gery, CPh 1931, 309ff.; Lenz, TAPhA 1941, 226ff.; Ehrenberg, AJPh 1945, 113ff.; Hignett, HAC 347ff.; Jameson,

TAPhA 1955, 63ff.; Dover, JHS 1960, 61ff.; Lewis, JHS 1961, 118ff.; Staveley, Anc. Soc. and Inst. 275ff.; Greek and Roman Voting and Elections (London 1972), 87f.; Bicknell, Studies 107ff.; Piérart, BCH 1974, 125ff.; Ruschenbusch, Historia 1975, 112ff.

At the time when Ath. Pol. 61.1 was written, generals were elected to specific areas, one ἐπὶ τοὺς ὁπλίτας (in command of the hoplites if they should be led out), one ἐπὶ τὴν χώραν (over the country, to protect it should there be war in Attika), two in charge of Peiraieus, two more of Mounichia, one of Akte, one in charge of symmories, who chose the trierarchs; the others were available for contingencies. Sarikakis, The Hoplite General in Athens (Diss. Princeton 1951), 13f., saw this system as coming in after Chaironeia, 338/7; Hammond supposed it originated immediately after the Persian War, but this is surely too early. Information on the activities of generals before 338/7 does not seem to square with having only two available for overseas expeditions, but there was no reason why more could not be relieved of specific duties if it was necessary. Moreover, the system could have come in gradually. Indeed, our first specific evidence provides a general over the country in 350/49, while such a general is mentioned in IG ii² 204.19f. (352/1).

The evidence does not seem to me to support the supposition that more than ten generals were ever in place at the beginning of a year. That this could have happened if the need arose is possible, but no such need can be demonstrated.

In 417/16 and 416/15 is the first evidence for possible paredroi.

Taxiarchoi

Ath. Pol. 61.3 mentions the direct election of taxiarchs, one presumes by the demos, one for each tribal contingent. It is clear that they could serve at sea as well as on land. One should suppose that their institution coincided with that of tribally distributed generalships in 501/0. The first known taxiarch appears sometime before 432/1 (appendix to Section IV).

Lochagoi

Ath. Pol. 61.3 says lochagoi were appointed by the taxiarchs. Whether that had always been so, we cannot say, but the first lochagos appears for 479/8 and Bicknell, Studies 21 and n.67, supposes they were in charge of trittys contingents.

Hipparchoi

Ath. Pol. 61.4 says that two hipparchs were chosen 'from all'. Each was in charge of five tribal cavalry contingents. However, three hipparchs appear together in the appendix to Section IV, so there could have been change over time. This is our first evidence for such officers, but they are mentioned in Ath. Pol. 4.2 and should be accepted as existing then, when they were selected from men of the same wealth category as strategoi (Develin, Athenaeum 1984, 304). Cf. Bugh, TAPhA 1982, 23ff.

Phylarchoi

Ath. Pol. 61.5 says they were directly elected, one for each tribal contingent. Their history is shadowy. Her. 5.69.2 says that Kleisthenes made the phylarchs ten instead of four. The context can hardly be made military (pace Fornara, Generals 1, 8), but this does not eliminate the possibility that the phylarchs had a military role to play. Our first known phylarch appears in 430/29. Cf. Bugh, TAPhA 1982, 23ff.

Toxarchoi

A single toxarchos appears under 413/12. We are in no position to say more.

Ephebic officers

Contrary to Reinmuth's supposition, the ephebic organization which we view is not visible in 361/60, but is first evidenced in 334/3 (Lewis, CR 1973, 254ff.; Dow, Essays Brendel 81ff.; Mitchel, ZPE 19 (1975), 234ff.). Ath. Pol. 42.2ff. gives us a description. Three men from each tribe over the age of 40 were chosen and from these the demos elected one from each tribe to be sophronistes; also elected, from all Athenians, was a kosmetes over all the ephebes. Two paidotribai were elected and didaskaloi, to teach skills to the cadets. For discussion on whether the sophronistai and kosmetai served for one or two years and on other matters see Rhodes, Comm. 504ff. The evidence within our period has names under the titles sophronistes, kosmetes, didaskalos, epimeletes, akontistes, gymnasiarch. We also have, in 324/3, a peripolarchos, in charge of patrols conducted by the ephebes; this position in fact arises earlier (411), whether or not it was connected with a similar group. The taxiarchs and lochagoi from the ephebic cadets are not appropriate to this work.

Nauarchoi/archons of the fleet

There are problems of terminology here, as sources could perhaps use 'nauarchos' of a general at sea, while Thucydides can certainly use 'archon' and cognates in referring to strategoi. Our first nauarchos appears in 460/59, but unfortunately through Ktesias. However, the term 'archon of the fleet' is attested epigraphically for 410/9 and it is hard not to equate the two. Also Nepos Conon 1.1 is able to separate Konon's exploits as praetor and as praefectus classis. That there could be at least three such naval officers in a year is indicated by Xen. Hell. 1.6.29, where the ten ships of the taxiarchs are followed by the three of the nauarchs. Views on this have been developed by Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 229ff. (Navy 119ff.). While I am in basic agreement on the existence of such officials, I do not follow his identifications in all instances and indicate my preference in individual cases. I shall also use the designation found in the particular source, though I believe 'archon of the fleet' to have been the actual title.

Pentekontarchoi

See Jordan, Navy 147ff. There was evidently one per trireme; the method of appointment we do not know. The first known are found under 405/4, but [Xen.] Ath. Pol. 1.2 shows that the position existed earlier.

Kybernetai

See Jordan, Navy 138ff. As professionals, helmsmen do not enter our scheme. I mention only one case (407/6) where such a man was given a special charge.

Others

Various other military or partly military positions are evidenced and simply show that ad hoc appointments could be made, perhaps by the generals, perhaps by the demos.

1. Phrourarchs could command garrisons as necessary. For the first possible name in this position see the appendix to Section V.
2. An archon at Oropos is placed in 411.
3. An archon at Pylos appears in 410/9.

4. We find an archon at Andros in ?363/2.
5. There is an archon at Arkesine on Amorgos in ?358/7.
6. We have an exetastes in 348/7 who was to inspect mercenaries. He will have been popularly elected (Kahrstedt 241, 272).

Finance

Though many offices had financial aspects, I deal here with those who handled funds, revenues and expenditures or oversaw financial practices. Though they appear late in the piece, I look first at those instances of general financial control which occur.

Theoric commissioners

See J.J. Buchanan, Theorika (Locust Valley, New York 1962); Cawkwell, JHS 1963, 47ff.; Rhodes, Boule 235ff. Control of the theoric fund and thereby of other financial areas seems to have been placed under a new magistracy around 354/3 and continued for the rest of our period. The position was filled by direct election. In its two mentions of it (43.1, 47.2), Ath. Pol. clearly indicates that there was a plurality of officials in each year, but whether this was always the case is unclear. Aisch. 3.25 speaks in the plural in regard to the institution of the office, but IG ii² 223 c.6 (Agora XV.34) has mention of only a single man ἐπὶ τὸ θεωρικόν in 343/2. However, since the latter is in the company of the prytany secretary and the man in charge of decrees, it seems likely that he is some sort of secretary. The man concerned was, I believe, general in 345/4 and if he was not actually a theoric commissioner, we can remove one objection to the thesis that the commissioners served for a four-year period. At Ath. Pol. 43.1 we are told that these officials served from Panathenaia to Panathenaia, which I take to mean a four-year period (ZPE 57 (1984), 133ff.). This will have been the case in the 320s, but we cannot be sure that it was so earlier. Though I tend to believe it was, I have not ventured to record known officials in any but the one year the evidence allows.

Financial administrator

Under this title I record Lykourgos and his successors from 336/5 on. See Mitchel, Lykourgan Athens; Rhodes, Boule 107f. I adopt the date not for the reason given at APF 351 (that Lykourgos died liable to euthynai; see the note on 328/7), but because the notice at Plut. Mor.

841b–c that Lykourgos was in charge of finances for three penteterides nonetheless ought to take us to the time of his death in 325/4. The term of office was four years and it could be held only once (Develin, ZPE 57 (1984), 134).

Tamiai of Athene and the other gods

Our first named tamiai appear in ?550/49 (the next come in 446/5), but they existed at the time of Solon and before (Ath. Pol. 4.1, 7.3, 8.1). Before Solon they were directly elected from the same census group as the archons. From Solon on they were chosen by lot from the highest census class (though there may be a suggestion at Ath. Pol. 47.1 that this was not always enforced). Perhaps after Solon they were chosen two from each tribe, but later they were certainly one per tribe in the Kleisthenic system. Inscriptions do record named tamiai who total less than ten, but at least this need not indicate that the number elected was constitutionally variable (cf. Develin, Klio 1986, 82f.).

In 434/3 was created a second board of ten, the tamiai of the other gods (cf. Develin, Klio 1986, 78; in general Linders, Treasurers), our first evidence for a name coming in 430/29. They were specifically analogous to the tamiai of Athene. In 406/5 (probably: Ferguson, Treasurers 104ff.; Thompson, Hesperia 1970, 61ff.; Meritt, PAPhS 1978, 292ff.), the two boards were amalgamated, a situation abandoned in 386/5, but resumed by 342/1 (perhaps in 346/5; for references see Linders, Artemis 74 n.57).

Both boards, of course, had secretaries. Those of the tamiai of Athene were chosen in reverse tribal order from 443/2 to 429/8, a practice resumed with the joint board until 387/6; it began again in forward order with the reamalgamation, though a form of tribal distribution could have begun with the tamiai of Athene in 356/5 (Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 10 n.9). On this see Ferguson, The Athenian Secretaries 70ff.; Treasurers 8ff.; Tréheux, 'Études' 34.

Hellenotamiai

These were officials of the Athenian league/empire of the fifth century, Athenians from its outset (Thuc. 1.96.2; Woodhead, JHS 1959, 149ff.; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 44f.). Our evidence on identities begins with a secretary in 453/2. A secretary cycle, in reverse tribal order, is evidenced between 439/8 and 429/8 (ATL III.359). The hellenotamiai themselves were elected one per tribe until we find in 410/9 evidence for the doubling of the board (see ML p. 258). I am not persuaded by arguments that iteration was now possible and that equal tribal representation was dropped (see 407/6 and SEG 26.31; 30.22). In 418/17 we have our first evidence for a paredros of the hellenotamiai (Dow, Essays Brendel 84). The office naturally ceased with the end of the empire, the last evidence being for 404/3.

Tamias of stratiotic fund

See P. Bruns, Eisphora-syntaxis-stratiotika (Paris 1983), 37, 170ff. Dem. 49.12, 16 is evidence that the fund existed by 373 and Dem. 50.10 shows that in 362/1 there were officials concerned with it. The tamias, however, may have come in at the same time as the reorganization which created the theoric commission and the first known incumbent is found in 344/3. He was a single official, and as of the 330s at least the office was held for four years (Develin, ZPE 57 (1984), 135). It was filled by direct election (Ath. Pol.).

Tamias of dockyards

See Jordan, Navy 57f. Our first evidence comes in 377/6, but the office is not mentioned in Ath. Pol., so we cannot be sure as to constancy of existence, title or function and we can only assume a regular election procedure.

Tamias of trireme funds

See Jordan, Navy 56f. This official, first evidenced for 363/2, is again not in Ath. Pol. A scholiast on Dem. 22.20 attests direct election, though there is some question of the boule having made an irregular appointment (Rhodes, Boule 121f.). At some stage tribal rotation may have been used (Rhodes, Boule 122 n.1; appendix to Section IX).

Tamias of rigging

Jordan, Navy 58f. This official is not in Ath. Pol. and appears only in 326/5. Jordan believes he may have been chosen by the curators of the dockyards.

Tamiai of the boule

See Rhodes, Boule 141. The first mention of tamiai of the boule is in IG ii$^2$ 120.20ff. (probably 353/2) and there are two in our first entry from 343/2. By 335/4 there is only one, as is the case at Ath. Pol. 49.4. Election was by lot.

Tamias of dedication
Found in 335/4, he may have taken over part of the duties of the tamiai of the boule (cf. Rhodes, Boule 141 n.4).

Tamias of tribe
Also known as tamias of the prytaneis, he is first evidenced in 341/40.

Tamiai of the two goddesses
First known from 329/8, they were two in number. Contra Kahrstedt 76, I see no implication that they held office for four years along with the epistatai of Eleusis. IG ii² 1672 simply records different tamiai in 329/8 and 328/7.

Tamias Paralou
The tamiai of the state galleys were directly elected (Ath. Pol. 61.7) and that of the Paralos is first found in the appendix to Section VII.

Poletai
Already mentioned in the context of Solon (Ath. Pol. 7.3), named poletai do not appear until 402/1 and then only through the secretary. Ath. Pol. 47.2 says they were chosen by lot, one per tribe, as will have been the case presumably in the wake of Kleisthenes, though it could have been similar under the previous four tribes.

Logistai
See Rhodes, Boule 111. From the middle of the fifth century we know of a board of 30 logistai, but we have no names. Ath. Pol. 54.2 records a board of ten chosen by lot. This may already be in place when we have our first names, for 407/6. Ath. Pol. does not say so, but they will have been chosen on the tribal principle (schol. Aisch. 3.15). For a different board of logistai see Ath. Pol. 48.3.

Taktai
Of these officials of the fifth-century empire we know only of a secretary in 434/3 and possibly Alkibiades in 425/4. If And. 4.11 refers to them, there were ten, perhaps directly elected at need.

Antigrapheus

See Rhodes, Boule 238f.; cf. Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 36f. Harpokration s.v. ἀντιγραφεύς says that there were two sorts of antigrapheus, one concerned with financial administration, the other an official of the boule. For the latter he cites Ath. Pol., Rhodes thinks wrongly (Comm. 601). Aisch. 3.25 says that there was an elected antigrapheus, a revenue clerk, until the theoric commission took over the function. When the title reappears later, Rhodes believes that it had passed to a different official, who had secretarial duties in the boule. The evidence produces an antigrapheus placed in the appendix to Section VI as before 377/6. Another appears in 335/4. On Rhodes' reconstruction they should be of different types. In fact, however, both appear in bouleutic inscriptions. Agora XV.12 is a dedication of the prytaneis of Pandionis wherein the antigrapheus accompanies the grammateus of boule and demos; Agora XV.43 is a list of bouleutai culminating with the officials serving the boule. The antigrapheus does not appear in Agora XV.34 of 343/2, which is consistent with Aischines, who also says that the theoric commission took over the function of the antigrapheus (and others) until the law of Hegemon came into being. May it not be, then, that the office was restored after the law of Hegemon? The duties could still have changed somewhat, but it was the same office. Pollux 8.98 records a change from direct election to selection by lot, which may correspond to a change in duties.

The antigrapheus found in 333/2 and 329/8 was probably specially elected in regard to Eleusis.

Others

In the appendix to Section III is noticed the attribution to Themistokles and Aristeides of the position of epimeletes of revenues. The nature of this office will remain unclear, but we are told Aristeides was re-elected to it.

There could always have been ad hoc financial officials, such as those whom I style eispraktores in 356/5. There are others who appear herein without title, including Aphobetos in the appendix to Section VIII (ἐπὶ τὴν κοινὴν διοίκησιν) and Dionysios in the appendix to Section IX (ἐπὶ τῆς διοικήσεως).

Epimeletai

Here I include all remaining state officials with this title, even though it covers a wide variety. The mysterious epimeletes of revenues has just been mentioned.

Epimeletai of dockyards

This office may have existed in the fifth century, but named epimeletai are not in evidence until 378/7. They are not mentioned in Ath. Pol., but were an annual board of ten, probably chosen by lot, one per tribe. It is possible that during the period 348/7 to 334/3 or thereabouts other officers replaced the epimeletai, as in particular we find an individual chosen from the boule in 346/5. See Rhodes, Boule 117ff.; Comm. 545f.; Jordan, Navy 30ff.

Epimeletes of springs

This official was directly elected and served for four years, at least in the 330s (Ath. Pol. 43.1; Develin, ZPE 57 (1984), 135f.). For the first known man see 347/6.

Epimeletai of emporion

Ath. Pol. 51.4 says ten such officials were chosen annually by lot. Our single example is a secretary in the appendix to Section VIII. The origin of the office cannot be dated (A.R.W. Harrison, The Law of Athens II (Oxford 1971), 27), but the first evidence is Hesperia 1974, 158. 21ff., 41 with Stroud's note 180f. (375/4).

Epimeletai of Nikai etc.

See the entry under this title in 334/3 and the epimeletes of pompeia in the appendix to Section IX.

Epimeletai of festivals

1. Epimeletai of the Dionysia are mentioned at Ath. Pol. 56.4, where it is said that the board of ten was previously elected directly by the demos, whereas now one per tribe is chosen by lot. Rhodes, Comm. 627f., suggests the change came in the Lykourgan period. Our first evidence involving a name records that Meidias failed to be chosen in 349/8 (appendix to Section VIII); otherwise see 343/2.
2. In 329/8 we meet epimeletai of the Amphiaraia at Oropos, a board of ten not selected on tribal principles.

3. Ath. Pol. mentions direct election of four epimeletai of the Eleusinian mysteries, which gives them a place here, even though two are chosen one each from the clans Eumolpidai and Kerykes. This is now confirmed by SEG 30.61.3of., where an age over 30 is restored for those chosen from all Athenians. We know of a pair from 331/30, though earlier Meidias held the position (appendix to Section VIII). It was instituted shortly before the middle of the fourth century. See Rhodes, Comm. 636f.

Epistatai

Again this term has varying uses.

Epistatai of public works

For specific public works commissions of epistatai were chosen annually as needed. Names occur from 446/5. For the fifth century we can only assume election by the demos, which seems to have been the case in the fourth century. See Boersma, Building Policy 5f.; Rhodes, Boule 124f.

Epistatai of Eleusis

Our first evidence comes with a secretary in 422/1 who served for four years. IG i$^3$ 32 provides for the selection of five men, one of whom is to be secretary, annually. So as between this and the evidence for 422/1, etc., there is a change. When we come to 409/8 we are dealing with annual boards and a suggestion that the number of members could change. With 363/2 we would have evidence for an eight-year board, were it not that we seem to be dealing with epistatai for work on the Eleusinion. By the 330s we are faced with a quadrennial board of eight, including the secretary, and some system of tribal representation seems to be included. These matters are dealt with by Cavanaugh, Eleusis, who wishes, if hesitantly, to see the board of 363/2 as the normal board of epistatai. However, an eight-year board seems to me beyond the pale. Cavanaugh wants a date for IG i$^3$ 32 in the 430s, perhaps c. 432.

Epistatai of Brauroneion

Evidence of names begins in 353/2. Linders, Artemis 75f., is of the opinion that the position was instituted at least by the beginning of the fourth century and that it was an annual office, as the evidence indicates. The number of epistatai each year cannot be ascertained.

Epistatai of the mint
One such board, of ten plus secretary, not chosen by strict tribal representation, is found in the appendix to Section VII. Such epistatai are mentioned in ATL II D 14 (ML 45) under the fifth-century empire.

Epistates of the navy
Such is Aischines' description of the extraordinary position given to Demosthenes in 340/39.

Epistates of the water supply
Such a position is attributed to Themistokles (appendix to Section III), which was perhaps an ad hoc appointment.

Epistates of the Akademy
This otherwise unknown position is found in the appendix to Section IX.

Miscellaneous

In this section I deal with remaining extraordinary and ordinary officials not placed in previous or forthcoming categories. I exclude from direct discussion the positions occupied by Drakon, Solon and Kleisthenes and the sixth-century tyranny, for which see the appropriate years. Tyrants are noticed only in the years they took on the position.

Athlothetai
Ath. Pol. 60.1 says ten athlothetai were chosen by lot, one per tribe. They served for four years and dealt with the quadrennial Great Panathenaia. All this may be retrojected to the fifth century and quadrennial office may have begun in 418/17 (Develin, ZPE 57 (1984), 133f., 136f.). The office existed earlier, as Perikles held it (appendix to Section IV), by direct election if we can trust the terminology of Plut. Per. 13.6, which we cannot. It has been thought that the men recorded under 566/5 were athlothetai (q.v.).

Sitophylakes
Ten were elected by lot, previously five for Peiraieus, five for the city, more recently 15 and 20 respectively (Ath. Pol. 51.3). Perhaps the change came with the corn shortage of 330 on (Rhodes, Comm. 577). Their history is vague, but they certainly existed in 388/7, where our single individual occurs.

Sitones
So we describe Kallisthenes in 357/6 and Demosthenes so refers to himself being directly elected by the demos in 338/7. The impression is that it was a single position, perhaps ad hoc, though later evidence is for a plurality (IG ii² 744).

Teichopoioi
Our evidence comes solely from 337/6, when tribal assemblies chose men for repair of the walls, though there is a mention in IG i³ 440.127 of 443/2.

The Eleven
These officers were chosen in the time of Ath. Pol. (52.1) by lot. They existed at the time of Solon and before (Ath. Pol. 7.3). Our first evidence of an individual comes before 411 (appendix to Section V). See Harrison, Law of Athens II.17f.

Eisagogeis
Ath. Pol. 52.2 tells us there were five, chosen by lot, each from a combination of two tribes (see Rhodes, Comm. 582). We have evidence for a secretary in 425/4, though Harrison, Law of Athens II.21 doubts we are dealing with the same eisagogeis.

Synegoroi
MacDowell, Wasps 198f., lists the various sorts of synegoroi. There were boards of ten chosen as prosecutors in the matter of magistrates' accounts. See also Rhodes, Comm. 597 on Ath. Pol. 54.2, where we find they assist the logistai and are chosen by lot. Our first evidence is found in 427/6. The other sorts mentioned by MacDowell are not relevant to our concern. His category C refers to men of the next entry.

Kategoroi
Perikles is said to have been elected one of the kategoroi of Kimon 462/1 (Plut. Per. 10.5) and in 324/3 we have another such board. Presumably direct election was employed.

Zetetai
A board of investigators is found in 415/14.

Syndikoi
A board is found in 355/4 as advocates of Leptines' law. There were five and they were directly elected.

Horistai
The Eleusinian hierophant and dadouch were chosen to re-establish boundaries in 350/49.

Probouloi
We have the names of two probouloi in 412/11 (q.v.). They were part of a body of ten (though see Pesely, LCM 1987, 51), perhaps one per tribe and probably men of considerable age.

Oath-takers
These are listed, as in 422/1, as men in any case chosen, but perhaps also already holding official positions.

Special cases
These concern the phenomena of the late fifth century.
1. In 411 we have a katalogeus to select those who would have full political rights.
2. From 411/10 to 405/4 Nikomachos was anagrapheus to write up the laws of Solon. From 403/2 to 400/399 he and another held a similar position for revision of the laws.
3. Finally, in 404/3 we have the Thirty, the Ten and archons in Peiraieus.

Religion

We have already mentioned some officials concerned with religious matters. The concern here is with others who are evidenced in the general area of state religious business. Some thought has been necessary on criteria of inclusion. In the final analysis the functionaries of Eleusis were not included: see Clinton, Sacred Officials 117ff. Priests too have been omitted, as often we cannot be sure of the selection process or the duration of the priesthood; many certainly were lifelong and/or hereditary or confined to certain families: in general see Feaver, YClS 1957, 121ff.; Garland, ABSA 1984, 75ff. The one exception is noted below.

Hieropoioi

1. Ath. Pol. 54.6f. mentions two sorts of hieropoioi, each a board of ten chosen by lot. Only the second concerns us, the yearly hieropoioi who saw to sacrifices and quadrennial festivals other than the Panathenaia. In fact, earlier such hieropoioi did take care of the yearly Panathenaia and such a body is evidenced in the 330s and so was separate (see Rhodes, Comm. 606). There were in fact various sorts of hieropoioi, many appointed from the boule (see Rhodes, Boule 127ff.). I set out the relevant sorts we find with names in order of appearance.

2. Hieropoioi of Panathenaia. Such, I believe, were the men found under 566/5, who, until later, will have dealt with the Great Panathenaia as well (see above on athlothetai).

3. Hieropoioi of Eleusis. They were probably in charge of most, if not all, matters at Eleusis until the epistatai were created, after which they still continued to exist (see above on the epistatai). Our first name comes from 421/20. On appointment at this time we have no information. In IG ii² 1672.280 we have hieropoioi from the boule and in Agora XV.38 the prytaneis of Aigeis praise ten of their number in 341/40 τοὺς ἱεροποιοὺς τοὺς τὰ μυστήρια ἱεροποιήσαντας Ἐλευσῖνι, but I am not convinced that they took the place of the regular hieropoioi.

4. Hieropoioi/syllogeis. See Rhodes, Boule 129f., for syllogeis (three per tribe) in the fourth century acting as hieropoioi. For first evidence see 336/5 (perhaps), though syllogeis appear in 341/40.

5. Hieropoioi for the Pythais. They are found in 330/29 to the number of ten, apparently one per tribe, possibly from the boule, which appointed theoroi to the festival (Dem. 19.128).

6. The suggested hieropoios to Delphi in the appendix to Section IX may be of similar sort.

Delos

1. Amphiktyons. See Rhodes, Comm. 693f. The first names occur in 413/12. There seem to have been four amphiktyons and a secretary until we find five and a secretary from 375/4 and an apparently quinquennial office (though not necessarily in strict line with the archon year). The earliest system is unclear. After 367 the evidence demonstrates annual office. It is difficult to be sure whether on a board of five half of the ten tribes should be represented in defined order.
2. Naopoioi to Delos are evidenced in 346/5, specifically an annual position. Two are named with a secretary, but there were more (Insc. Délos 104–24.14).

Delphi

A number of officials were sent to Delphi. In general see Roux, L'amphictionie.
1. The hieromnemon was the representative to the amphiktyony. He is mentioned in Ath. Pol. only among the constitutional provisions at 30.2. Our first possible incumbent is found in 424/3, the evidence (Ar. Clouds 623f.) showing that the choice was by lot. It has been suggested that it was a two-year office (Roux 25).
2. There were three pylagorai (or -oi) in a year, chosen by direct election (Dem. 18.149; Aisch. 3.114, 115, 126). Our first evidence may relate to Themistokles (478/7); otherwise we have to wait until 343/2.
3. I have included also the tamias at Delphi of 339/8: see Roux 125.
4. On the naopoioi see Roux 96ff. They seem to have been instituted about 372, although evidence for Athenians begins in 354/3. Here in particular chronological reconstruction is important. I have depended (with gratitude to the author) on P.D. Londey, Panhellenic Representation at Delphoi in the Fourth Century B.C. (Diss. Monash Univ., Australia, 1982). See also de la Coste-Messelière, BCH 1949, 201ff. and 1960, 467ff.; Bousquet, Mélanges Daux 21ff.; Marchetti, BCH Suppl. 4 (1977), 67ff.; BCH 1979, 151ff.; Londey, BCH 1979, 477f.; Roux, BCH 1979, 501ff.

Boönai
They were elected directly for the purchase of sacrifices. Our attestation is limited to Meidias (appendix to Section VIII).

Plouton and the Furies
A group of names associated with this cult is found in the appendix to Section IX.

Priest of Asklepios
See Ferguson, Priests; Pritchett and Meritt, Chronology 74ff., which I follow closely for dates, a sufficient number of which are doubtful; Schlaifer, HSCPh 1940, 244ff. There were two centres, in Athens and in the Peiraieus. We cannot be sure that there was a priest for each. Appointment may always have been by lot and surely was annual. Whether or not it was always so from the beginning (the cult was introduced in the year 420: IG ii² 4960), in the fourth century cycles of tribal representation may have been used. From 356/5 (in all probability) the forward tribal order was adopted, corresponding to that of the grammateis of the boule. The first named priests will be found in the appendix to Section VII, the first specifically dated one in 355/4. In one instance the cycle may have been broken (Demon: see 330/29).

Overseas

1. Ath. Pol. 62.2 mentions 'all the officials who are sent to Samos, Skyros, Lemnos or Imbros'. When it comes to evidence for our purposes, we fall short. In 329/8 we find generals on Lemnos and Skyros (q.v.) and we have a hipparch on Lemnos for three years (appendix to Section IX). In the appendix to Section VIII will be found two epimeletai on Lemnos. Otherwise we seem to be dealing with local officials of klerouchies (Rhodes, Comm. 694f.).
2. In 370/69 we have names of two men who led out a klerouchy and in 325/4 the founder of a colony. Presumably this involved some sort of appointment.

Local and sectional

Demarchoi

These seem to have been created under the Kleisthenic reforms (Ath. Pol. 21.5). We are told the demarch for Peiraieus was chosen by lot by the whole demos (Ath. Pol. 54.8) and the same source says the same about the archon to Salamis, who may be classed with demarchs. First evidence of named demarchs comes in the middle of the fifth century (appendix to Section IV), of the archon to Salamis in 402/1 (cf. appendix to Section VI). Election procedures may have varied: see Damsgaard-Madsen, C&M Diss. 9 (1973), 92ff. I include a possible paredros to a demarch in the appendix to Section IX. In general see Whitehead, Demes, parts of which I am grateful for seeing before publication.

Epimeletai of tribe

Our first names seem to come from 407/6. There were three per tribe, though one can no longer assume that they were always one from each trittys.

Envoys

On these in general see Mosley, Envoys. Three, five and ten were normal numbers. They were chosen by direct popular vote via nomination (Aisch. 2.18ff.). Cases which admit of doubt may be found in 596/5 and 508/7, the first clear instance of names being in 480/79. Along with envoys we may class the kataskopoi of 425/4.

Grammateis

The vast majority of public officials were served by secretaries and we find also syngrammateis and hypogrammateis. Some at least of these were all but professionals, drawn from a pool, but not allowed to serve the same magistracy twice. See Rhodes, Boule 139, and in general M. Brillant, Les secrétaires athéniens (Paris 1911); Ferguson, Secretaries. This leads us on to the next section.

Council and people

The annual lists will include any information on bouleutai under the heading 'Council and Assembly'. I discuss the other contents of that category below. Councillors often had special tasks to perform; see, for example, the epimeletai of the dedication in 328/7. We have already had cause to notice some positions associated with the council: tamias of boule, tamias of dedication, tamias of tribe, antigrapheus, epimeletes of dockyards, hieropoioi/syllogeis. Here we are concerned with the secretaries, on which see, besides the works noticed in the preceding section, P. Haggard, The Secretaries of the Athenian Boule in the Fifth Century B.C. (Diss. Missouri 1930); Rhodes, Boule 134ff.; Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 7ff.

Grammateus

The first known secretary to the council is found in the appendix to Section III and could be dated as early as c. 500. Whether the office goes back beyond Kleisthenes is unknown. Down to 368/7 the evidence shows that the secretary changed with each prytany in such a way that each tribe was represented and was never from the tribe in prytany. As long as this was the case it is very probable that the secretaries were themselves bouleutai. By 363/2 and probably from 366/5 (Alessandri 11) the grammateus is an annual officer and not a bouleutes (I do not follow Alessandri in the opinion that the prytany secretary and the secretary of the boule were different). Ath. Pol. 54.3 says that formerly direct election was employed and they chose men of distinction, whereas now (presumably from the reform of the 360s) the lot is used. Possibly with the reform tribal representation in random order was introduced, but certainly from 356/5, forward tribal order was used.

In charge of laws

The grammateus ἐπὶ τοὺς νόμους was also chosen by lot (Ath. Pol. 54.4). He appears in our period only in 324/3.

In charge of decrees

The grammateus ἐπὶ τὰ ψηφίσματα is not mentioned in Ath. Pol., but appears first in 343/2. Election was presumably by lot.

Grammateus of boule and demos

Ath. Pol. 54.5 says this official was directly elected by the demos. He is equated with the grammateus of the polis who appears as early as 414/13 (Thuc. 7.10) as well as much later (Plut. Mor. 841f) and with the shortened form 'grammateus of the demos' found in 335/4 and 324/3. The first named such official appears in the appendix to Section VI.

Anagrapheus

This was some sort of secretarial post, first evidenced in 335/4. See Rhodes, Boule 138f. He is made assistant to the man in charge of laws by Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 35f.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Besides recording the officials mentioned in the last section, this category deals with decrees and assembly meetings. All documents tied to a specific year will be noticed and numbered for convenience of reference. The appendix to each section will include all documents which give information on personnel or dating (even if only reference to a prytany), and occasionally some where a specific date has been suggested and so the category begins after Kleisthenes with the earliest documents actually in the appendix to Section III. Earlier measures are noted in a different manner. Very brief descriptions of contents are noted. Proposers are included; if there is more than one, there will be a rider in the document; if the measure is from the boule or is probouleumatic, it will be assumed that the proposer was a bouleutes. The presiding councillor is included as epistates throughout the work, though there was a change. Through the fifth century, the president was simply one of the prytaneis in session. Then there was a change (see Rhodes, Boule 25ff). Ath. Pol. 44.2f. describes a system wherein each day the epistates of the prytaneis chose by lot one member from each tribe other than his own, identifying one of these as epistates; one could be proedros once in each prytany, epistates once a year. We cannot be sure when this system came in: in 403/2 IG ii² 1.41f. has an epistates from the tribe in prytany; the first evidence for proedroi is now in 379/8 (q.v.). From 333/2 the symproedroi are sometimes listed. Epigraphical documents come first, generally in an order which follows the numbers in IG, then any other inscriptional collection, then SEG and Hesperia. I have not given great amounts of bibliography, simply, if at all, a recent SEG reference or anything that seemed relevant to the matters in hand. Then come literary references to proposals and to assemblies where these offer anything of substance. After all, most things that happened resulted from an assembly decision. Speakers in the assembly are noted, but not given prominence. Under 403/2 I have included laws with decrees, but thereafter I have a separate heading for nomothetai assuming that this was the means by which laws were created in the fourth century: see MacDowell, JHS 1975, 62ff.; Hansen, Ecclesia 187 n.15.

Archon

KREON PA 8781

The name of the first annual archon is preserved by Synkellos (ed. Dindorf I p. 400), Kastor of Rhodes (FGH 250 F 4) and Velleius 1.8.3, and there is no reason to doubt it (Cadoux, JHS 1948, 88; Jacoby, Atthis 172, 348 n.26). The date here given is contrary to those of Cadoux and Samuel, Chron. 198. MP A 32 gives this date; Cadoux says MP can make mistakes of a year or two, but it ought not to be in error in dating the first annual archon back from the archonship of Diognetos. It seems a fortiori probable that this was the official Athenian version. Too much confidence cannot be placed in Dionysios AR 1.71.5, whose date of 752/1 for the first year of the decennial archonship renders 682/1 for the first annual one; it is suspicious because of the synchronization with the founding of Rome, which was itself a matter of chronological dispute and had been subject to different synchronization (see Dion. AR 1.74). As for other sources, Kastor does not cause a problem (Jacoby, Atthis 346 n.22). Error in Eusebios would not be unusual and if his date was 682/1 (Arm.), it could in any case be no more than correspondence with Dionysios or the tradition in which he stood. Eusebios is also tied in with Pausanias in regard to the dating of the Messenian Wars, on which Pausanias' derived dates for archonships depend. Cadoux's discussion of texts relating to the second war (Paus. 4.15.1, 23.4, 17.2,10, 20.1) concludes that Pausanias is five years out, but I do not see that this warrants similar emendation in respect of the earlier war. The chronology of Messenian Wars has been a vexed question since antiquity (Mosshammer, Chronicle 204ff.). We cannot say that even if Pausanias' chronology is inaccurate, the association of a particular Olympiad year with a year in a decennial archonship must be accepted. Clearly the dating of the decennial archonship was not immutably fixed: Synkellos gives two alternatives, even if neither is acceptable. There could perhaps have been a contamination of two traditions, one fixing the war by reference to an Athenian archon year, the other based on one version of the reign of the Spartan king Theopompos in relation to the twenty-year war.

Given that Pausanias' implied dates are outside the acceptable parameters, MP must be given priority. Samuel, however, opts for 683/2 (a date popular before Cadoux: Jacoby, Atthis 346 n.22) and believes that MP gives that date and that Dionysios can be made to support it (which is possible). He also accepts that Pausanias is out by one Olympiad. He must, I think, be wrong that MP dated this year from 263/2, and indeed he chooses to work from 264/3 for the year of Lysiades.

LYSIADES PA 9332a

On the argument presented under 684/3 there is no reason to reject the evidence of MP A 33.

Archon

TLESIAS PA 13865

Paus. 4.15.1 with a five-year emendation as argued by Cadoux, JHS 1948, 88f. Dating of Kreon to 684/3 leaves this year open. Samuel, Chron. 199, prefers 681/80, assuming a four-year error in Pausanias.

In the fourth year of an Olympiad (Paus. 2.24.7), restored as the 27th by comparison with the name of the Olympic victor as given by Dion. AR 3.1.3 and Eusebios (Arm.); Cadoux, JHS 1948, 90. Samuel, Chron. 199, wonders if Pausanias might not still be out by four years. The man might well be a forebear of the tyrant.

668/7 (Ol. 28.1)

Archon

AUTOSTHENES PA 2756a

Accepting Cadoux's argument (JHS 1948, 90) that Pausanias' single discrepancy with the victor list in Eusebios is to be explained by a misreading of the name Charmis as Chionis and that Autosthenes can therefore remain in this year (Paus. 4.23.4). Cf. Samuel, Chron. 199.

Archon
MILTIADES PA 10205; APF 299
Paus. 4.23.10 with Cadoux (see 668/7). While it cannot be baldly assumed that this man was the same as the archon of 659/8 or that he (or either) was a Philaid, there must be a strong presumption of Philaid attachment; see Cadoux, JHS 1948, 90 nn.85, 86; Bradeen, Hesperia 1963, 196f. with notes; APF. It is difficult to fit a Miltiades of this vintage into the problematic Philaid genealogy given by Pherekydes FGH 3 F 2 (cf. Hellanikos FGH 4 F 22).

Basileus
EPAINETOS PA 4746
A notorious fragment of one Hippys of Rhegion (FGH 554 F 3; Samuel, Chron. 200, calls him Hippias, the MS has Hippon) includes the words ἐν Ἀθήναις ἐπὶ βασιλέως Ἐπαινέτου, dating this as Ol. 36, i.e. 636/5 – 633/2, in which Olympiad the stadion victor was Arytamas the Lakonian. No such victor is known: Eusebios has Phrynon of Athens as victor in Ol. 36. The whole citation is problematic and it hardly seems possible to emend one's way out of the difficulty if it involves changing the Olympiad, the name of the victor and the office of Epainetos. Cadoux (JHS 1948, 91) with reason advises the admission of ignorance. One might suggest, however, that Arytamas was victor in the diaulon. Pausanias saw an inscription at Sparta recording seven victories of Chionis, three in the diaulon (3.14.3 – perhaps a mistake; see Cadoux 90). We could suppose a misreading of a similar record here. Yet the Athenian archon should not have been confused with a basileus; why should Epainetos be mentioned and not the eponym? Even supposing that the archon died and the basileus took over his duties, the year should still be identified by the eponym. We do have from the end of the fifth century (perhaps) a basileus mentioned in what appears to be a dating formula (IG $i^3$ 1384; $i^2$ 776), which may give us some reason to believe in Epainetos' office, but not with great confidence. Cf. also Jacoby, Atthis 307 n.44, and, suggesting that Epainetos replaced Megakles (below 632/1), Miller, Arethusa 1969, 81.

Archon

MEGAKLES PA 9688; APF 370f.

A much discussed problem. See in general Cadoux, JHS 1948, 91; Gomme, Comm. Thuc. 1.428f.; Virgilio, Commento 98f.; Rhodes, Comm. 79ff. On date see also Moulinier, REA 1946, 182–202; Jacoby, Atthis 366 n.77. On other problems see Freeman, Solon 160ff.; Hignett, HAC 78, 120ff.; Wüst, Historia 1957, 176–91; Wade-Gery, Essays 144f.; Lang, CPh 1967, 243–9; Levi, Commento 9ff.; Jordan, CSCA 1970, 154–75; id. Servants 56ff.; Ghinatti, I gruppi 9ff.; Samuel, Chron. 200; de Laix, Probouleusis 11; Sealey, City States 98f., 105f. n.5; Lévy, Historia 1978, 513–21; Andrewes, CAH$^2$ III.3.368ff.

As to date, both Her. 5.71.1 and Thuc. 1.126.3 assert that Kylon was already an Olympic victor when he attempted his coup and Eusebios places the victory in 640/39. Assuming this latter year is ruled out (though Levi 17 gives it a chance), the possible dates for Kylon's attempt, which was made in an Olympic year, are 636/5, 632/1, 628/7, 624/3, provided that the latter year was not that of Aristaichmos' archonship (see 621/20) and that the attempt should precede Drakon. The date here given merely splits the difference as nearly as possible between Kylon's victory and Drakon's work. While arguments can be produced for other dates (proximity to the victory, proximity to Drakon, etc.), I know of none which tips the balance of probability. A full argument against Lévy's case for 597/6 or 596/5 need not be mounted here; Rhodes, Comm. 81f., deals with some points.

Though Herodotos and Thucydides do not mention Megakles as archon (or at all), I cannot share Samuel's pessimism as to the fact. The name is found at Herakleides Epit. 2 (hence from Ath. Pol.) and Plut. Solon 12. Whatever may be thought of the source tradition and of the justice of the Alkmeonid inculpation, it should be accepted that the curse upon the family originated from Megakles' actions as archon in dealing with the Kylonian suppliants. Although Thucydides says that the besiegers went away and entrusted to the archons the task of arranging matters as they saw best as autokratores, I cannot place much emphasis on the latter term as used here or on the suggestion that special powers were granted by the voice of the people (Wade-Gery, followed by Hignett); rather was Megakles as archon simply in charge. Other sources are schol. Ar. Knights 443; Aristodemos FGH 104 F 2.

One should point out that in regard to the Kylonian business, while Thucydides talks about the archons, Herodotos mentions only the prytaneis of the naukraroi. The various attempts to deal with this apparent discrepancy are now discussed by Lambert, Historia 1986, 105–12, whose own explanation I find unconvincing. In any event, the Alkmeonid context is shared by both authors (it is unavoidably implicit in Thucydides) and so the case for Megakles' archonship and actions taken therein remains.

Archon

ARISTAICHMOS PA 1638

Identified as archon in the year of Drakon's legislation at Ath. Pol. 4.1, but without any guide as to date. The date is indicated by a majority of the MSS of Eusebios (Hieron.) as Ol. 39.1 (624/3); Ol. 39 recurs in Tatianus ad Graec. 41; Clement Strom. 1.80.1 and Suda s.v. Δράκων. Schol. Aisch. 1.6 cannot be used. 624/3 would be acceptable but for Diod. 9.17, where the figure usually read has Drakon 47 years before Solon; however, it is possible to read 27, which indeed puts us in the correct Olympiad (see esp. Stroud, Drakon's Law 66ff.; Rhodes, Comm. 109). It seems likely that the interval was between archonships as read from some list and, as Ol. 39 is virtually assured, I accept the emended precision of Diodoros. See also Cadoux, JHS 1948, 92; Samuel, Chron. 200. Jacoby, Atthis 94, 308f. n.58, thought the archon date was invented along with Drakon's constitution around 411; contra see Stroud 66f. n.10.

Thesmothetes

DRAKON PA 4553

Drakon is indicated as thesmothetes by Paus. 9.36.8 and Clement Strom. 1.80.1, and while one cannot be sure whether this was meant to make him one of the six thesmothetai or a specially appointed lawgiver, I favour a special position, whether or not its designation was thesmothetes, a title which would certainly bear the appropriate meaning. See Stroud, Drakon's Law 74f.; also Jacoby, Atthis 94, 309 n.60, stating that Ath. Pol. probably did not know Drakon's precise position (in which case neither did anyone else). If Arist. Rhet. 2.23.29 1400b calls him nomothetes, this may be owing to later, natural confusion of nomos and thesmos (on which see Jacoby 309 n.64; Rhodes, Comm. 112, 177, favouring Ostwald, Nomos 9ff., 155ff.; cf. Quass, Nomos 11ff.). See also Hignett, HAC 307; MacDowell, Law 42, 44; Ruschenbusch, Historia 1960, 148.

On Drakon and his legislation see Stroud, esp. 76ff.; Rhodes, Comm. 84ff., 109ff.; Andrewes, *CAH*² III.3.370ff.; Develin, Athenaeum 1984, 295–306. I list here laws which have been attributed to Drakon (see Stroud for sources):
1. Homicide: IG i³ 104 (i² 115); Fornara no. 15; Gagarin, Drakon.
2. Theft in general.
3. Theft from temples.
4. Idleness and vagrancy.
5. Procedure against attempts at tyranny: Gagarin, TAPhA 1981, 71–7.
6. Training and education of children and young men.
7. Proper worship.
8. Special oaths.
9. Debt and land tenure.

Not all of these are to be accepted without question and Drakon did not create a constitution as such.

Strategos

PHRYNON PA 15029

Strabo 13.1.38f.; Plut. Mor. 858a; Diog. 1.74; Polyainos 1.25; Festus 358 L; schol. Aischylos Eum. 395; Suda s.v. Πιττακός. See Page, Sappho 152ff.; French, JHS 1957, 238; Wade-Gery, Essays 166 n.2; Jeffery, Local Scripts 72, 366f.; Berve, Tyrannis II.527, 553, 573; Mosshammer, Chronicle 246ff.; Frost, Historia 1984, 287f.

The tradition makes Phrynon general of the Athenian forces in the war with Mitylene over Achilleion and Sigeion, wherein he was killed in single combat with Pittakos. The date comes from the Eusebian tradition, which also has Phrynon as Olympic victor of Ol. 36 (636), which data are consistent. Her. 5.94f. mentions the struggle between Athens and Mitylene in the context of Peisistratos and, like other sources, includes mention of Alkaios and the arbitration by Periandros – but not Phrynon and Pittakos. Page proposes a solution: Alkaios mentioned Phrynon in his work, thus providing the basis for genuine tradition; Herodotos does not restrict himself to the time of Peisistratos, but freely goes back to an earlier stage of what he says was a protracted struggle. Wade-Gery notes Phrynon as founder of colonies at Sigeion and Elaious, accepting the emendation which produces Phrynon's name at Ps. Skymnos 707f. (cf. ATL III.289 n.75); Frost has him as oikistes. Jeffery dates the Sigeion stele to c. 575–550 and says it cannot be used to support the tradition of an Athenian colony in the late seventh century – but neither does it deny the possibility. The date, of course, may not be absolutely accurate, but there is no reason to reject Phrynon's military post.

KRITIAS (? son of Dropides) PA 8789; APF 322, 326
MP A 36 places this archon between Aristokles (605/4) and Simon (591/90) and by him dates Sappho's flight from Mitylene. We can date him before 597/6, and if Bradeen, (Hesperia 1963, 187) is right that the fourth letter in the name above Kypselos on the archon list (597/6) must be alpha, gamma or mu, then Kritias cannot belong in 598/7. The only other clue is the placing of Sappho's acme in Ol. 45 (600/599–597/6) by the Eusebian tradition. See Cadoux, JHS 1948, 92; Page, Sappho 224f.; Samuel, Chron. 201; Mosshammer, Chronicle 250.

Strategos

?SOLON son of Exekestides PA 12806; APF 322ff.
When Solon, we are told, had secured the repeal of the law which forbade Athens laying claim to Salamis, he was appointed to a generalship in the war against Megara (Plut. Solon 8ff.; Aelian VH 7.19; see also Polyainos 1.20; cf. Diog. 1.46f.; Justin 2.7.9ff.). For full sources on the Salamis affair see Martina, Solone TT 237–55; for discussion French, JHS 1957, 241 n.11; Hopper, ABSA 1961, 208ff.; Masaracchia, Solone 88ff.; Piccirilli, ASNP 1978, 1–13; Rhodes, Comm. 199f.; Frost, Historia 1984, 289. This would seem to fall about the turn of the century. Plutarch appears to put it before Solon's provocation of the Sacred War and his intervention in the affair of the Alkmeonid curse, during which time Athens again lost Nisaia and Salamis to the Megarians, whereupon Epimenides was brought in. If the latter's visit is correctly dated to 596/5, we have an approximate idea of the time, but no more. So the location of the generalship here (and I accept its actuality) is a convenience.

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos APF 403

Diog. 1.110 has him sent to Crete to seek the help of Epimenides, dated to Ol. 46 (596/5–593/2), which agrees with the general date given for Epimenides' visit. This mission is usually supposed to be an invention, but it need not be. See APF and Connor, AJAH 1976, 61–4. Despite Connor, a Cretan Nikias still seems possible and an inscription of the third century (IG vii 274) produces a tantalizing Nikias son of Epimenides (PA 10783).

APPENDIX

Ath. Pol. 3.5 refers to EPILYKOS (PA 4922; APF 296), a polemarch who rebuilt and furnished the Polemarcheion, renamed the Epilykeion. Unfortunately, this pre-Solonian polemarch cannot be simply accepted. He may not have been polemarch and could even belong to the fifth century; Jacoby, Atthis 93; FGH IIIb (Suppl.) ii.153 n.23; Rhodes, Comm. 105. Epilykos' existence is apparently accepted without question by Shapiro, Hesperia 1983, 306.

SOLON son of Exekestides PA 12806; APF 322ff.

Specifically dated to this year by Sosikrates apud Diog. 1.62 and a majority of the MSS of Eusebios (Hieron.). Solon's acme is given as Ol. 46 (596/5–593/2: Tatianus ad Graec. 41; Clement Strom. 1.65.3), Ol. 47 or 56 (592/1–589/8 or 566/5–563/2: Suda s.v. Σόλων). Demosthenes 19.251 in 343 speaks of 240 years since Solon. On the chronological problem see Rhodes, Comm. 120ff., 164. Though I place all of Solon's activities here, I believe his archonship saw only the immediate economic measures, with a subsequent nomothesia stretching to 592/1 (see LCM 1984, 155–6).

Plutarch (Solon 14.2) records that Solon was chosen δμοῦ καὶ διαλλακτὴς καὶ νομοθέτης, as well as archon. I very much doubt the suggestion that διαλλακτὴς was on the archon list (Jacoby, Atthis 175), but rather see it as part of the description of his role. Major sources for his activity are Ath. Pol. 5ff. and Plut. Solon 12ff.; for full references see Martina, Solone TT 260–509. For general bibliography see Rhodes, Comm. 125ff.; add Andrewes, *CAH*²III.3.375ff.; on economic matters Gallant, ABSA 1982, 111–24; on coinage Kagan, AJA 1982, 343–60; Kroll and Waggoner, AJA 1984, 325–40. I list here general heads of Solon's legislation; fragment references are to Ruschenbusch, ΣΟΛΩΝΟΣ ΝΟΜΟΙ; not all measures are necessarily to be accepted as genuinely Solonian and fragments numbered from 94 to 152 are in Ruschenbusch's category of items at least doubtful.

DROPIDES (? son of Dropides) PA 4573; APF 322ff.

Said by Philostratos Soph. 1.16.2 to have been the one ὃς μετὰ Σόλωνα Ἀθηναίοις ἦρξεν, favoured by Cadoux, JHS 1948, 99, because of his identification with the friend of Solon (Plato Tim. 20e; on the later tradition that he was Solon's brother see APF). Samuel, Chron. 201, leaves the matter unresolved. The challenger for the archonship is Phormion, identified by the scholiast on Ar. Peace 347 (with a reference to Eupolis' Demes) as the fifth of that name, ἀρχαῖος Ἀθηναῖος, μετὰ Σόλωνα ἄρξας. Cadoux suggested a number had dropped out of the text, a view criticized by Bradeen, Hesperia 1963, 192, who proposed 546/5 (q.v.) for Phormion. The words 'having held office after Solon' are more likely to be vague in a scholiast, especially when in Eupolis' play Solon and Peisistratos appeared. For Phormion in this year see also Maddoli, Cronologia 65 n.1; Corbetta, RIL 1978, 300.

EUKRATES PA 5742

Sosikrates apud Diog. 1.101 places his office in Ol. 47 (592/1–589/8); the only vacant years are this one and 589/8. His archonship is synchronized with the visit of Anacharsis to Athens, which Plut. Solon 5 puts at the time when Solon was drawing up his laws, which for me allows this year (see 594/3).

ALKMAION son of Megakles PA 651; APF 371

According to Plut. Solon 11.2, Alkmaion was in the records of Delphi as Athenian general in the Sacred War. While it is possible that he held the position for a number of years, the significance of this one is that it marks the capture of Kirrha in the archonship of Simon and in the records (if genuine) Alkmaion's name could have appeared in relation to this event, especially as subsequent mopping up operations were conducted by Thessalian forces. For discussion of difficulties involved in Alkmaion's leadership and its date see Forrest, BCH 1956, 49ff.; for recent doubts on the Sacred War see Robertson, CQ 1978, 38–73; Lehmann, Historia 1980, 242–6; cf. MP A 38. The date is also indicated by Ath. Pol. 13.2; see Rhodes, Comm. 180ff. The scholia on Pindar cited under 591/90, along with MP, indicate that the revived Delphic ἀγὼν στεφανίτης was held in Damasias' archonship and that can be dated to this year; in the absence of further qualification, this must be assumed to be the first, legitimate year of Damasias (Cadoux, JHS 1948, 102f.). The arguments of Samuel, Chron. 202, are deficient in assuming that when MP speaks of Damasias τοῦ δευτέρου, he means Damasias' second year, which cannot be so, as Cadoux showed, and in supposing that the second anarchia of Ath. Pol. 13.1 is Damasias' second year. Damasias is indeed the second of that name to appear as archon (see 639/8).

581/80 (Ol. 49.4)

Archon?

DAMASIAS PA 3110

Ath. Pol. 13.2 says that Damasias ἦρξεν for two years and two months. As Ath. Pol. identifies the archonship as the focal point of stasis, perhaps Damasias continued to call himself archon, but his position was hardly legitimate and it is possible that his second year at least was signalled as anarchia (Cadoux, JHS 1948, 78 n.9, 102).

Strategos

PEISISTRATOS son of Hippokrates PA 11793; APF 444ff.

The idea that Peisistratos' command against Megara was as polemarch has had a long life (de Sanctis, Atthis 342; Hignett, HAC 113 and n.9; Kinzl, AJAH 1979, 32, 42 n.51). There is no warrant for this: Her. 1.59.4 has ἐν τῇ πρὸς Μεγαρέας γενομένῃ στρατηγίῃ, which is confirmed by the use of strategos at Ath. Pol. 22.3, this in a technical treatise; Ain. Takt. 4.8 also has Πεισιστράτῳ γὰρ Ἀθηναίων στρατηγοῦντι, while Justin 2.8.2 is vaguer with dux. If Peisistratos was polemarch, why was he not so called? His exploits are mentioned at Her. 1.59.4 (followed by Ath. Pol. 14.1); Ain. Takt. 4.8ff.; Front. Strat. 2.9.9; Justin 2.8.1ff.

As to date, our sources connect the fame won in this war with Peisistratos' ability to seize tyranny in the first instance, so that the generalship should not have been too long before 561/60; I have placed it at the latest possible date, assuming that it was not in 561/60 itself. Berve (Tyrannis 11.544) says it cannot be before the 560s, while Kinzl (AJAH 1979, 32 and 42 n.52, citing Berve) for some reason opts for the early 560s; Bon, in her note on Aineias in the Budé edition (1967), 120, says between 565 and 561. Herodotos, in the context of 561/60, says of the incipient tyrant πρότερον εὐδοκιμήσας; Ath. Pol. 22.3 has Πεισιστράτος δημαγωγὸς καὶ στρατηγὸς ὢν τυράννος κατέστη, which could be taken to indicate that Peisistratos was still general when he became tyrant, but at least is evidence for a proximate connexion. So too Justin 2.8.6, though little weight can be placed on this: 'sed Pisistratus, quasi sibi, non patriae vicisset, tyrannidem per dolum occupat'. See also Hopper, ABSA 1961, 208ff.; Mossé, La tyrannie 63; Rhodes, Comm. 199f.; Frost, Historia 1984, 290.

Archon

KOMEAS PA 8955

MP A 40. Identified as archon in the year of Peisistratos' first seizure of power by Ath. Pol. 14.1; Plut. Solon 32.3 and MP; at least one MS of Eusebios (Hieron.) yields this date. See Cadoux, JHS 1948, 104ff.; Samuel, Chron. 202f.

Tyrannos

PEISISTRATOS PA 11793; APF 444ff.

On dates see p. xi. For this period see Her. 1.59.5f.; Ath. Pol. 14.1ff. For the tyranny as a whole see 546/5. Ath. Pol. tells us that the motion granting him a bodyguard was proposed by ARISTION (PA 1728 – Ariston in the MSS of Plut. Solon 30).

560/59 (Ol. 55.1)

Archon

HEGESTRATOS = PA 6309 (cf. p. 408)

Phanias F 21 Wehrli apud Plut. Solon 32.3 places Solon's death in this archonship, which succeeded that of Komeas: Cadoux, JHS 1948, 106ff.

So DAA 327, pp. 353ff., preferring 562/1 or 558/7 for the date, but allowing 554/3 to be possible; CEG 435 opts for 562/1, the date also indicated with a query at IG i³ 508. Davison (JHS 1958, 29ff.) suggested the men might be athlothetai (cf. 566/5); thus too the restoration reported at SEG 26.36, whereby the first name above disappears, the secretary Kallias remains, but we have restored

[ALKMEON]
[DEXI]LE[OS]

DAA 328 (IG i³ 509; i² 392) may date after nos. 326 and 327, but cf. Davison for the possibility that it may belong to the lesser Panathenaia between nos. 326 and 327. It has a name in relation to the post of grammateus, but it is unclear whether or not it is a patronymic:
PHAIDRI[AS] PA 13933.

?557/6 (Ol. 55.4)

Polemarchos

CHARMOS PA 15520; APF 451
Kleidemos FGH 323 F 15 (Fornara no. 30A): καὶ Χάρμου τοῦ πολεμαρχήσαντος θυγατέρα Μυρρίνην ἔλαβεν Ἱππίᾳ . . ., this of Peisistratos on his return, for the date of which see p. xi. Though the aorist participle may seem troublesome, it was hardly relevant to mention the polemarchy unless Charmos held it in the year of Peisistratos' return. Cf. Dover, Comm. Thuc. IV.333.

Tyrannos

PEISISTRATOS son of Hippokrates PA 11793; APF 444ff.
Her. 1.60.2ff.; Ath. Pol. 14.4f. See above on Charmos and for the tyranny as a whole 546/5.

556/5 (Ol. 56.1)

Archon

HEGESIAS PA 6309
Ath. Pol. 14.3 says he was archon in the year of Peisistratos' first expulsion, but even if this is not that year, the placing of him in the sixth year after Komeas is likely to be correct. It has been suggested by Cromey (Historia 1979, 137) that he may belong to the clan of the Salaminioi, but the name occurs in a number of possible tribes: see 438/7 epistatai; IG i³ 1191 (i² 964); Agora XVII.22.95.

555/4 (Ol. 56.2)

Archon

EUTHYDEMOS PA 5514
MP A 41; Sosikrates apud Diog. 1.68 places him in Ol. 56 (556/5–553/2). Cadoux, JHS 1948, 108f.; Samuel, Chron. 203; Jacoby, Atthis 375 n.112, wanted him in Ol. 56.1.

551/50 (Ol. 57.2)

Archon

K--

IG i³ 1031 (ML 6b; Fornara no. 23B). One might venture an association with one of the two unplaced archons Kritias (necessitated by the description of the archon I have placed in 600/599 as the first Kritias) and Kebris (PA 8263), mentioned in Philochoros' third book (FGH 328 F 31).

550/49 (Ol. 57.3)

Archon

PHA-- APF 269

IG i³ 1031 (ML 6b; Fornara no. 23B). The archon of 490/89 is called Phainippides the second at MP A 48; the real name is Phainippos. An earlier Phainippos (or Phainippides) could appropriately be restored here, but cf. Bradeen, Hesperia 1963, 190 n.14, and APF.

Tamiai?

CHAIRION son of Kle(i)d[ikos] or Kle(i)d[emos] PA 15258= ?15254=?15257; APF 13

IG i³ 590 (i² 467; DAA 330). The date is approximate.

Also IG i³ 510 (i² 393) records the following tamiai about this time (there may well have been eight in all):

ANAXION PA 817; APF 26

EUDIKOS PA 5417; APF 189

S-- APF 487

ANDOKIDES PA 826; APF 27

LYSIMACH[OS] APF 48

549/8 (Ol. 57.4)

Archon

548/7 (Ol. 58.1)

Archon

ERXIKLEIDES PA 5180

The dating of the archon given at Paus. 10.5.13 allows the completion of the name from the first three letters in the archon list fragment IG i³ 1031 (ML 6b; Fornara no. 23B). See Bradeen, Hesperia 1963, 190, for unlikely alternatives.

547/6 (Ol. 58.2)

Archon

THES[PIEUS]

IG i³ 1031 (ML 6b; Fornara no. 23B). This is the suggestion of Bradeen, Hesperia 1963, 191, for the name on the archon list fragment and it seems preferable to the alternatives which he mentions.

546/5 (Ol. 58.3)

Archon

PHOR[MION] PA 14948

See Bradeen, Hesperia 1963, 191f., with possible alternatives for IG i³ 1031 (ML 6b; Fornara no. 23B). This will be the Phormion mentioned as archon after Solon by schol. Ar. Peace 347 (see under 593/2). The case has been strengthened by McGregor, Phoenix 1974, 18–21, and this is not undermined, I think, by Corbetta, RIL 1978, 299f. (SEG 28.19). While Bradeen's argument on the supposition that Phormion was archon in the year of Pallene cannot be pressed, that correspondence is allowed on the chronology adopted here.

Tyrannos

PEISISTRATOS son of Hippokrates PA 11793; APF 444ff.

For the date see p. xi. The final seizure of power and details on subsequent events and general activities under the tyranny are related at Her. 1.60.2ff.; Ath. Pol. 15.2ff.; for further sources and the tyranny as a whole see Hignett, HAC 108ff.; Andrewes, Tyrants 100ff.; French, Growth 30ff.; Berve, Tyrannis 1.47ff., 11.543ff.; Mossé, La tyrannie 49ff.; Cassola, PP 1973, 85f.; Starr, Economic and Social Growth 186f.; Rhodes, Comm. 189ff.; Andrewes, *CAH*² III.3.402ff.

Peisistratos is credited with helping farmers through loans, though he imposed a five per-cent tax on produce (Thuc. 6.54.5, to be preferred to the other tradition: Rhodes, Comm. 215; Dover, Comm. Thuc. IV.329f.). He also instituted deme justices (Rhodes, Comm. 215f.). We have no reason to believe that he brought in other constitutional measures, but he ensured a crony was archon (Thuc. 6.54.6; Dover, Comm. Thuc. IV.330f.). For other measures see Berve 551 and for coinage 550f.; also Kraay, Coins 55ff. The tyrants were also active in the field of foreign affairs and in the social, religious and architectural advancement of Athens: Kolb, JDAI 1977, 99–138; Frost in The Craft of the Ancient Historian (Essays in Honor of Chester G. Starr, ed. J.W. Eadie and J. Ober: Univ. Press of America 1985), 57–78.

?536/5 (Ol. 61.1)

Archon

?[PHRY]NAIOS

MP A 43 indicates the archonship of . . . ναίου τοῦ προτέρου as that in which Thespis first acted and produced drama in Athens, which in the scheme of MP must come between the fall of Sardis and the accession of Dareios. Suda s.v. Θέσπις says Thespis first acted during Ol. 61 (536/5–533/2); 533/2 is occupied and we may as well choose this year. We know of no archon whose name has this termination and the one given is the only one which fits to be found in APF; of similar names to be found in PA, Athenaios, Arnaios, Eirenaios, Lenaios, Panaios, only the latter might fit this period.

528/7 (Ol. 63.1)

Archon

PHILONEOS PA 14677

He was archon when Peisistratos died; computations from Ath. Pol. 17.1 and 19.6 and from the archonship of Harpaktides, 511/10, when the tyranny ended, produce this date, which corresponds with one version of Eusebios; 527/6 is now occupied. See Cadoux, JHS 1948, 109; Samuel, Chron. 204. Jacoby, Atthis 371 n.99, on the other hand, considers 529/8 possible, even preferable.

Tyrannos

HIPPIAS son of Peisistratos PA 7605; APF 446ff.

Thucydides (1.20.2; 6.54.2, 55.1) felt it necessary to insist that Hippias alone was tyrant, though this was clearly held by Herodotos (5.55), as later by Ath. Pol. (18.1). However, the latter's general statement (17.3) that after Peisistratos' death 'his sons held the rule' will have some relation to reality (cf. Her. 6.39.1, 103.3; Rhodes, Comm. 224f.). For sources in general see Berve, Tyrannis II.554ff.; on coinage Kraay, Coins 60f.; cf. under 546/5.

527/6 (Ol. 63.2)

Archon

[ON]ETO[RIDES] APF 421

The names down to 522/1 appear on the archon list fragment IG i$^3$ 1031 (ML 6c; Fornara no. 23c). I follow ML on the restoration here; the alternative would seem to be Onetor; both are kalos-names on vases. That the fragment concerned is from an archon list must be accepted despite the brief flurry involving Alexander, CJ 1959, 307–14; Thompson, CJ 1959–60, 217–20; Alexander, CJ 1959–60, 220–1; Eliot and McGregor, Phoenix 1960, 27–35; see also White, Polis and Imperium 81–95.

526/5 (Ol. 63.3)

Archon

HIPPIAS (son of Peisistratos) PA 7605; APF 446ff.

See 527/6. I have followed general opinion in assuming that this was the tyrant, but perhaps the possibility that it was another scion of the tyrant house should be taken more seriously: White, Polis and Imperium 89ff.

525/4 (Ol. 63.4)

Archon

[K]LEISTHEN[ES] (son of Megakles) PA 8526; APF 375

See 527/6; this is the most likely restoration.

524/3 (Ol. 64.1)

Archon

MILTIADES (son of Kimon) PA 10212; APF 301f.

The first letter is missing on the archon list fragment (see 527/6), but the name, dated to Ol. 64 at Dion. AR 7.3.1, enables us to date the fragment: see Cadoux, JHS 1948, 110 n.216.

523/2 (Ol. 64.2)

Archon

[KA]LLIADES

The most reasonable restoration on the archon list fragment (see 527/6), the alternatives being Philliades and Telliades; see Cadoux, JHS 1948, 111; ML p. 12.

522/1 (Ol. 64.3)

Archon

PEISISTRATOS (son of Hippias) PA 11792; APF 450f.

See the discussion in APF. Peisistratos is named as archon under the tyranny at Thuc. 6.54.6; the archon list fragment (see 527/6) has . . .$^{5}$. . strat[os]. The inscription mentioned by Thucydides is extant (IG i$^{3}$ 948 (i$^{2}$ 761; ML 11; SEG 31.31; Fornara no. 37)) and there is no bar to dating it to this time. Cf. Cadoux, JHS 1948, 111f.

?518/17 (Ol. 65.3)

Archon

?HABRON PA 3; APF 270

The discussion on the possibility of a Habron in 518/17 by Cadoux (JHS 1948, 112) has been superseded by P.Oxy. 2438 with commentary by Lobel, published in 1961. The dispute in the tradition was evidently whether Pindar could have been 50 or have died in the archonship of Habron, 458/7. There is the temptation of a Habron on a dedication from the Akropolis (IG i³ 909; i² 742; DAA 339) and a candidate for ostracism in the 480s, as well as the existence of a Kal(l)ias son of Habron before the middle of the sixth century (on all of whom see APF), and the consequent possibility of a Habron being archon around 520 and so able to be confused with the later archon.

511/10 (Ol. 67.2)

Archon

HARPAKTIDES PA 2249

This man was archon when Hippias was expelled in the fourth year before Isagoras' archonship (Ath. Pol. 19.2, 19.6, 21.1); Her. 5.55 has the tyranny continue four years after Hipparchos' murder, which must be placed at the Panathenaia of 514/13; Thuc. 6.59.4 says the tyranny went on for three years and ended in the fourth; MP A 45 yields this date: Cadoux, JHS 1948, 112f.; Samuel, Chron. 204. For full details on the murder of Hipparchos, the last years of the tyranny and the expulsion see Berve, Tyrannis II.558ff; the major sources are Her. 5.55ff.; Thuc. 6.54ff.; Ath. Pol. 18f.; cf. Fornara no. 39.

APPENDIX

There are a number of unplaced archons. For KRITIAS and KEBRIS (PA 8263) see under 551/50, where one of them could belong. For PHAINIPPOS or PHAINIPPIDES see 550/49. Finally, Philochoros FGH 328 F 202 mentioned an archon LAKRATEIDES (PA 8967) who held office during the reign of Dareios (522–486); he might reasonably be assigned to the period 521/20–512/11.

Whether or not And. 1.106 refers in a garbled way to Pallene or in a mysterious way to the events of 511/10 (as seems more likely), there is little warrant for making Leogoras (PA 9074) and Charias (PA 15322) generals, despite the verb used; see MacDowell, Mysteries 212f.; Davies, APF 27f.

Archon

LYSAGORAS PA 9275a

MP A 46; Cadoux, JHS 1948, 113. The suggestion has been made (Knight, Studies 18ff.; Bicknell, Studies 41 n.158; Pleket, Talanta 1972, 74ff.) that this man put Kleisthenes' proposals to the vote, being a possible supporter. This seems to me entirely contrary to Ath. Pol. 21.1.

508/7 (Ol. 68.1)

Archon

ISAGORAS son of Teisandros PA 7680

Dion. AR 1.74.6; Ath. Pol. 21.1 gives this as the year of Kleisthenes' proposals; filiation from Ath. Pol. 20.1 and Her. 5.66.1. On the basis of Teisandros' name some have supposed a Philaid connexion: Hammond, CQ 1956, 127f.; Sealey, Essays 25; contra Lewis, Historia 1963, 25f. Bicknell, Historia 1974, 153, again restores the name Kimon son of Isagoras on an ostrakon; at Studies 86 he prefers to call Isagoras a Kimoneios. McCargar, Phoenix 1974, 275–81, unnecessarily supposes the archon to be distinct from Kleisthenes' opponent. See also Rhodes, Comm. 242ff. Isagoras' activities in this year, in which his position as archon could be relevant, are recorded by Her. 5.70ff.; Ath. Pol. 20.

Nomothetes?

KLEISTHENES son of Megakles PA 8526; APF 375

The means by which Kleisthenes carried out his reform is not forthcoming from the sources and has been the subject of debate: Hignett, HAC 15, 126f., 130, 393f.; Ostwald, Nomos 155ff.; Rhodes, Comm. 248. The popular view has been that the measures were put through as decrees of the demos (Wade-Gery, Essays 139ff.), though Hignett changed his mind and preferred a legislative commission, following Beloch. I believe that even if Kleisthenes did gain approval from the demos for his proposals, he will have held an administrative post so as to draw up the provisions; he could have headed a commission, but I see no reason why he should not have been appointed nomothetes on his own. Certainly matters as described in Ath. Pol. show a distinct parallel with the treatment of Solon. While this may seem paradoxical in the light of Ostwald's theory that Kleisthenes heralded in the era of nomos as law decided upon by popular vote, what is here suggested by no means negates that as an intended course for the future.

On the date and in general see Rhodes, Comm. on Ath. Pol. 21; add Siewert, Die Trittyen; Stanton, Chiron 1984, 1–41. I persist in holding that the completed reforms were brought in in 505/4 (q.v.; Antichthon 1977, 18ff.), but I include them here. For the survival of Kleisthenes' laws in documentary form see Rhodes, Comm. 241, 375f.; also Bicknell, Studies 49f.; against the survival Day and Chambers, Aristotle's History 102ff. The chief accounts of Kleisthenes' work are Her. 5.66f.; Ath. Pol. 20f.

Kleisthenes instituted ten tribes instead of the previous four, consisting of three trittyes each, one from each of three geographically defined areas, each trittys consisting of one or more demes, each with its own demarch. The council was to be of 500, with 50 from each tribe, each deme having a quota of representatives to the tribal contingent. It may be doubted if Kleisthenes was responsible for the prytany system or the bouleutic calendar (Rhodes, Boule 17ff., 224f.). Ath. Pol. suggests that the use of deme names was introduced as official practice, but specific evidence does not seem to bear this out. On the demes as replacements for the naukraries and the possible relationship of Ath. Pol. on this matter with Kleidemos FGH 323 F 8 see U. Cozzoli, Quinta miscellanea greca e romana (Rome 1977), 100ff.; Rhodes, Comm. 257. Androtion FGH 324 F 5 says that Kleisthenes created the apodektai instead of the kolakretai, but the evidence suggests that the two offices existed side by side until (probably) 411; the apodektai are not attested before 418/17: Rhodes, Boule 98f. Ath. Pol. 22.4, taken with Arist. Pol. 3.2 1275b 36, indicates that some non-Athenians, including perhaps metics and people of dependent status (other suggestions include freedmen or their descendants and mercenaries), were made citizens by enrolment in the tribes. Whitehead, Metic 143ff., believes the metics as a class were established by Kleisthenes. See also Rhodes, Comm. 254ff.

Ath. Pol. 22.1 tells us that the laws of Solon had been obliterated under the tyranny and that Kleisthenes laid down new ones, aiming at the people, including the law on ostracism. I suspect that the laws here are to be seen, as with Solon, as separate from the constitutional enactments and relating to civil procedure (cf. Plut. Per. 3.1). This would fit ostracism, which was indeed the creation of Kleisthenes and was the province of the demos (never the boule, despite Vat. Graecus 1144; see Antichthon 1977, 10–21; 1985, 7–15). Hansen (JHS 1980, 91) thinks that eisangalia was now to be to the demos, but see Rhodes, Comm. 316f.

Envoys

Bicknell (Historia 1974, 118) suggests that Kallias son of Kratios, given medizing descriptions on ostraka, was one of the ambassadors sent to Sardis shortly after the eclipse of Isagoras, but this obviously cannot be pressed. Neither can Raubitschek (GRBS 1964, 153) be followed in suggesting that Kleisthenes, Megakles son of Hippokrates of Alopeke and Xanthippos son of Ariphron of Cholargos were on the embassy. On the idea that Kleisthenes disappears from view as a result of his membership of this discredited mission see Cromey, Historia 1979, 132f. For the embassy see Her. 5.73.

505/4 (Ol. 68.4)

Archon

?ALKMAION PA 647 = ?652; APF 382

Pollux 8.110 tells us that the tribes became ten in Alkmaion's archonship; Ath. Pol. 22.2 has Hermokreon (see 501/0) in the fifth year after the katastasis of Kleisthenes' measures, which, if we do not emend the text, thereby fall in this year. Rhodes, Comm. 263, favours 502/1; Bicknell, AC 1985, 76ff., produces more argument for the more conventional 507/6. There has been debate on the speed with which the reforms could be carried out (Thompson, SO 1971, 72–9; Andrewes, CQ 1977, 243–8; Rhodes, Comm. 248f.), but there is nothing amounting to proof such as would tell against the plain, credible testimony of Ath. Pol.

Cadoux (JHS 1948, 114 n.248) suggested he was son of Alkmeonides, but it has been felt more likely that he was son of Aristonymos, the brother of Kleisthenes, and the father of Leobotes, a prosecutor of Themistokles, which would make his deme Agryle (1): as well as APF see Lévêque and Vidal-Naquet, Clisthène 54 and 115 n.2 with references; Bicknell, Studies 54, 75; but see also Barrett, AncW 1978, 67–9.

It should be noted that Thucydides does not say that Themistokles was responsible for the start of the building of the Peiraieus fortifications, but that a beginning had been made of it in his archonship. As archon he will probably have had some hand in the business, even if only of an administrative nature. See Frost, CSCA 1968, 115; *Plut. For sources see Harrison, AJA 1972, 353–78. Miltiades was the major figure in the battle of Marathon and subsequently leader of the failed expedition against Paros which led to his condemnation for deceit of the demos (Develin, AC 1977, 571–7). Sources mention a decree of his concerning mobilization: Dem. 19.303 and schol.; Arist. Rhet. 3.10.7 1411a 10; Plut. Mor. 628e; Paus. 7.15.7; schol. Ael. Arist. 46 (III.542 Dindorf). This, however, has been considered spurious: Rhodes, Boule 17 n.4; Podlecki, Them. 160f.

STESILEOS son of Thrasyleos PA 12906
Her. 6.114. He died at Marathon.

ARISTEIDES son of Lysimachos of Alopeke (X) PA 1695; APF 48ff.
?THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff.
Aristeides is made general at Marathon by Plut. Arist. 5 (cf. Comp. Arist. and Cato 2.1, 5.1) and it is implied that Themistokles was also general. There is good reason for doubt (Fornara, Generals 41f.), but a case can be made at least for Aristeides, whose office I accept: Bicknell, AC 1970, 433ff.; Badian, Antichthon 1971, 7 n.18, 13 n.32; Podlecki, Them. 8.

?KYNEGEIROS son of Euphorion of Eleusis (VIII) PA 8944
?POLYZELOS PA 11957
On both Plut. Mor. 305b, 347d; Diog. 1.56. On Kynegeiros Pliny NH 35.57; [Them.] Ep. 11 (p. 751 Hercher); Suda s.v. Αἰσχύλος; Photios s.v. Μαραθώνιον ποίημα. On Polyzelos Suda s.v. Ἱππίας.

They have dubiously been made generals at Marathon along with Kallimachos (sic) and Miltiades (in full Plut. Mor. 305b). Such a position for Kynegeiros, the brother of Aischylos may be a deduction from Her. 6.114 (Bicknell, AC 1970, 432); at Justin 2.9.16 he is merely miles. Harrison, AJA 1972, 358f., opposes his generalship. Polyzelos may be a confusion with the Epizelos son of Kouphagoras mentioned at Her. 6.117.

ARISTEIDES son of Lysimachos of Alopeke (X) PA 1695; APF 48ff. MP A 49; Cadoux, JHS 1948, 117. See the discussion at Plut. Arist. 1.2,8, 5.7; there is no doubt here as to the identity of the man. See also the archon list fragment IG i³ 1031 (ML 6d; Fornara no. 23D). It has been suggested that another known Aristeides, son of Xenophilos of Alopeke (PA 1687; APF 52), was this archon and that Aristeides son of Lysimachos held an archonship other than the eponymous between 479/8 and 468/7; the identification of the archon as in Plutarch was merely a deduction from the bare name on the archon list (Badian, Antichthon 1971, 11ff.; Bicknell, RFIC 1972, 164–72). I prefer to accept Plutarch, where it is clear that his sources (i.e. by the end of the fourth century) thought this was the Aristeides. For the unprovable assumption that Aristeides initiated a temple to Athene see Boersma, Building Policy 39.

The identification with the son-in-law of Themistokles mentioned at Plut. Them. 32.2 (Badian, Antichthon 1971, 2f. n.3, 33; Bicknell, RFIC 1972, 170) means accepting the name Nikomedes: see Podlecki, Them. 206 n.8.

Strategos
?THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff. Themistokles may well have been general in a number of years in the 480s, but the reason for this suggestion is the peculiar notice at Nepos Them. 2.1: 'primus autem gradus fuit capessendae rei publicae bello Corcyraeo; ad quod gerendum praetor a populo factus . . .'. Nepos goes on to mention the revenue from the mines, which we may thus associate with the archonship of Nikodemos as at Ath. Pol. 22.7 and so assume that Aigina must be meant and not Corcyra, there being possibly a confusion with Themistokles' arbitration between Corcyra and Corinth: see Lenardon, Historia 1959, 46 n.115; Them. 55, 127, 227 n.50, 234 n.200. We are told that Themistokles used the argument of the war with Aigina to secure the use of the revenues for ship-building; it would make sense for him to produce his persuasion and act upon the resolution as general. Sources on this are Her. 7.144.1; Thuc. 1.14.3; Ath. Pol. 22.7; Nepos Them. 2.2; Justin 2.12.12; Plut. Them. 4.1; Ael. Arist. 3.234ff. THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff. Her. 7.173; Diod. 11.2.5f.; Plut. Them. 6f. He was sent to Thessaly in the aborted mission to defend at Tempe. Previously he had been involved in the interpretation of the 'wooden walls' oracle: Her. 7.143; Nepos Them. 2.7f.; Plut. Them. 10.2; Polyainos 1.30.2.

(i) He is also credited with the decree for the recall of the ostracized (Ath. Pol. 22.8; Nepos Arist. 1.5; Plut. Them. 11.1, Arist. 8.1; cf. Philochoros FGH 328 F 30; Rhodes, Comm. 281f.) and more controversially with the

(ii) decree for the evacuation of Attika and for mobilization, which may survive in an inscription that also seems to be dealing with the ostracized when it cuts short. The debate has continued; whether or not the inscription is a genuine record, it may go back to genuine material. Texts bearing upon it are Her. 7.144.3, 8.41.1f.; Isok. 15.233; Dem. 19.303; Nepos Them. 2.8; Justin 2.12.14ff.; Front. Strat. 1.3.6; Quintilian 9.2.92; Plut. Them. 7.1, 10.2ff.; Kimon 5.2; Ael. Contrib.* 79ff.; Robertson, Phoenix 1982, 1–44; Hammond, JHS 1982, 75–93.

(iii) The decree pronouncing Arthmios of Zeleia an enemy is attributed to Themistokles by Plut. Them. 6.3; Ael. Arist. 3.334 (Behr), though a scholiast on Aristides cites Krateros (FGH 342 F 14) for Kimon's authorship. For discussion see Meiggs, Ath. Empire 508ff.; Podlecki, Them. 100f.; Robertson, Historia 1980, 293ff., who wants to date it in 407; cf. Walbank no. 2.

APPENDIX

The '[Phry]naios the first' reconstructed as archon for 536/5 implies another of the name who could be one of the missing archons in this period. It is unlikely that an archon was mentioned at all in the decree concerning Salamis (IG $i^3$ 1), let alone that his name can be restored as Boulekles: see ML 14 with bibliography.

Epistates of water supply
THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff.
So the office at Plut. Them. 31.1, in which he collected fines sufficient to have built a bronze statue. We cannot say whether this came before or after his archonship: Podlecki, Them. 8. The attribution to him of a position as nauarchos (Plut. Them. 18.1) may be referred to a generalship.

Epimeletai of revenues
THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff.
ARISTEIDES son of Lysimachos of Alopeke (X) PA 1695; APF 48ff.
So Plut. Arist. 4.2ff. Themistokles' attempts to discredit Aristeides backfired and the latter was re-elected. This ought, one imagines, to date to the early 480s, but we cannot be sure even of that.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 1 (i² 1; ML 14; SEG 31.1; Fornara no. 44) is a decree placed in the late sixth century concerning Salamis, included here because it is specifically a decree of the demos and seems to mention the boule as it breaks off.

(ii) IG i³ 2 and 3 are put together, though the content of the first (dated c. 500)
(iii) is uncertain, while the second (490–480) concerns the Herakleia at Marathon.

(iv) IG i³ 5 (i² 5; LS no. 4; SEG 25.5) concerns sacrifices at the Eleusinia, dated in IG to around 500, but a later date is possible. Its preamble as restored makes it a decree of boule and demos:

Athenian commander with the fleet at Artemision and subsequently responsible for the battle off Salamis. After that he proposed at the conference of commanders that they break the bridges at the Hellespont and, when that failed to persuade, that the enemy be allowed to go (cf. also Podlecki, Them. 122). He made demands for money from the islanders. Plutarch reports Kleidemos' story that he secured money to put men on ships (cf. Rhodes, Comm. 287ff.).

Note: Aristeides will not have been general in this year: see Fornara, Generals 42; cf. Mattingly, Class. Contrib. 83.

KIMON son of Miltiades of Lakiadai (VI) PA 8429; APF 302ff.
XANTHIPPOS son of Ariphron of Cholargos (V) PA 11169; APF 455ff.
MYRONIDES son of Kallias PA 10509
Plut. Arist. 10.8 gives these names on the basis of the decree sponsored by Aristeides, though Idomeneus FGH 338 F 6, whom he cites for 10.6ff., has Aristeides himself as envoy. They went to Sparta to rouse the Spartans. Davies (APF 302) gives the date as 479/8, probably on the assumption that the envoys were all generals, but Plutarch indicates the year as that of Salamis. For all we know Kimon and Myronides could have been generals in 480/79 (cf. Bicknell, Studies 103 n.17); the latter at least certainly was in 479/8.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Bouleutes and proposer

LYKIDES PA 9194

(i) Her. 9.5 records a meeting of the council on Salamis which heard overtures from Mardonios. Lykides proposed that they accept the terms and put them to the demos. He was stoned to death. The story is referred to at
(ii) Lykourgos Leok. 124, who mentions a decree against the unnamed victim, while in other versions at Dem. 18.204 and Cic. de off. 3.48 the man is named in what is apparently the same episode as Kyrsilos (PA 8949), which I suspect to be a derogatory nickname. It must remain open whether there was actually any decree; see Podlecki, Them. 161.

Proposer:

ARISTEIDES son of Lysimachos of Alopeke (X) PA 1695; APF 48ff.
(iii) Plut. Arist. 10.4ff. has Aristeides moving a decree giving an answer to
(iv) Spartan envoys, another that the priests should curse any who communi-
(v) cated with the Medes or forsook the Hellenic alliance, and a third establishing the embassy to Sparta (see above).

He was general at Plataia. Herodotos does not mention him by name in the battle, but others add details; he suppressed an anti-democratic plot (Plut. Arist. 13.2f.), was involved in giving the prize of valour to the Plataians (Plut. Arist. 20.1ff.; Diod. 11.33.1 has him urge the granting of the prize to Sparta) and in proposing the yearly gathering at Plataia, that games be held every fourth year and that forces continue to be levied for the war (Plut. Arist. 21.1). These actions seem appropriate to his position as general. Cf. below Council and Assembly.

Envoys to Sparta in the matter of rebuilding Athens' walls; Themistokles went ahead of the others and effected delays. It has been suggested (Fornara, Generals 42; Podlecki, Them. 30) that Themistokles and Habronichos were generals, which is possible, but no source says so and Diod. 11.27.3 is directly against it. Diodoros (11.41ff.) continues to describe Themistokles' involvement in the Peiraieus fortifications under 477/6, adding other proposals (see 477/6). If this could be believed, Themistokles might be given some official position. See in general Podlecki, Them. 30ff.; Lenardon, Them. 87ff.; also Meiggs, Ath. Empire 414f.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Proposers

?ARISTEIDES son of Lysimachos of Alopeke (X) PA 1695; APF 48ff.

(i) Plut. Arist. 22.1 tells us that when the Athenians returned to the city, Aristeides sponsored a decree that the running of the state be open to all and that the archons be chosen from all Athenians. At the very least this came to nothing and it is a highly questionable report: Hignett, HAC 174f.

Plutarch goes on to tell how Themistokles had a secret plan, which the assembly ordained that Aristeides alone should hear; Aristeides reported that the plan, which was to burn the Greek naval establishment, would be profitable, but unjust. So the Athenians told Themistokles to abandon his plan (also Plut. Them. 20.1f).

THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff.

(ii) Thuc. 1.90 tells how a Spartan embassy proposed that Athens not rebuild her fortifications, but join in pulling down others in Greece. On the proposal of Themistokles, the Athenians replied that they would send an embassy to discuss the points raised. Themistokles then suggested that he be sent ahead of the other envoys (q.v.).

He, with Kimon, was involved in the dealings with the allies which led to the transference of leadership from Sparta to Athens and the subsequent reorganization of the alliance and assessment of tribute. The implication of Ath. Pol. is that the assessment was completed within 478/7 (accepted at ATL III.234f.); Diodoros' placing of this under 477/6 is hardly strong evidence against it, although Meiggs (Ath. Empire 58ff.) believes that the assessment may have taken some years. The full details may indeed have taken some time to work out and Aristeides may have been in charge without being general, but some arrangement was immediately necessary in 478/7.

Though Kimon could have been general in 479/8 (Fornara, Generals 42f.), no source says so. This generalship is doubted at ATL III.159f. and Rhodes Comm. 295. I see no real reason to suppose that he was not sent out with Aristeides and the Athenian contingent to the allied forces against Sestos and Byzantion.

The generalship of Kimon is likely. The capture of Eion is the first action mentioned by Thucydides in his account of the aftermath of the Persian War and Diodoros 11.60.1f. agrees with his priority, though writing under the year 470/69. The scholiast to Aisch. 2.31 gives 476/5 for the fall of the city, though the siege could have begun a year earlier (Fornara, Generals 43). The basic problem is the belief that Ephoros ought to put the investment of Eion and the expulsion of Pausanias from Byzantion in the same campaigning season, taken together with Justin 9.1.3, indicating seven years of possession of Byzantion by Pausanias (thus expulsion in 470/69). However, scholars are not loath in other instances to reject the testimony of Justin, whose reference here is retrospective and who may have been guilty of another error if we accept the manuscript reading 'condita [rather than the emendation 'capta'] primo a Pausania'.

And all Ephoros says is that the Athenians sailed out of Byzantion. See Deane, Thuc. Dates 94ff. n.10; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 73.

?THEMISTOKLES son of Neokles of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 6669; APF 212ff.
As noted under 479/8, Themistokles is said to be still involved in Peiraieus fortifications in 477/6 according to Diod. 11.41ff., which also adds that he persuaded the Athenians to supplement their fleet with 20 triremes a year and remove the tax on metics and craftsmen. KRATINOS PA 8750
LYKOURGOS (? of Boutadai) (VI) PA 9246; APF 349
LYSISTRATOS PA 9591
For Kimon see 477/6; schol. Aisch. 2.31 (Fornara no. 62) gives the other names; it does not say these three were generals, but it seems likely; there is no necessary implication that they were also generals in 477/6. Lykourgos' deme is assigned on the assumption that he was a member of the Eteoboutadai; neither this nor the fact of the generalship can be denied because it creates double representation of tribe VI.

These generals captured Eion and the latter three subsequently died at the site of Ennea Hodoi. Kimon captured Skyros (Plut. Kimon 8; cf. Thes. 36.1) and this seems to come soon after Eion, perhaps then also in this year, in which Plutarch dates the oracle telling the Athenians to recover the bones of Theseus (but see Podlecki, RSA 1975, 14f.). The sequence in Plut. Kimon 8, which goes from Eion to Skyros to the tragic contest of 469/8, cannot be pressed for significance, as it is a thematic chapter with no pretence to close chronological connexion. Neither is the messy Nepos Cimon 2 to be used as evidence for a separation of years between Eion and Skyros.

Kimon may well have been general in a number of subsequent years (perhaps all), for which, however, he is not attested. Diod. 11.60.2ff. has him operate successfully in Karia and Lykia (cf. Polyainos 3.2.5) and then on to a sea victory near Cyprus preceding Eurymedon. Nepos Cimon 4 mentions reduction of defecting allies before he includes Skyros, and all this after Eurymedon (which he mistakes as Mykale). For Kimon's dealings with the allies see also Plut. Kimon 11. In general see Meiggs, Ath. Empire 73ff.

I take this to be the year of the Eurymedon victory over the Persian fleet, as well as that in which the revolt of Naxos was put down, which operation may also have involved Kimon. The fullest version, in Plutarch (cf. Diodoros), tells of the winning over of Phaselis, operations in Cyprus and Eurymedon itself, with discussion of the aftermath. The Suda ascribes to Kimon the settlement of territorial limitations on the Persians. See in general Meiggs, Ath. Empire 75ff.

Plut. Kimon 13.5 (Kallisthenes FGH 124 F 16) indicates that after Eurymedon they sailed beyond the Chelidonian islands, which suggests generalships if true, but only an approximate date. See Rhodes, Comm. 334, and for doubts Lewis, Sparta and Persia 59f. and n.68.

Envoy

?KALLIAS son of Hipponikos of Alopeke (X) PA 7825; APF 258ff.
The problem is that of dealings with Persia. Plut. Kimon 13.4ff. tells of an arrangement made after Eurymedon, denied by Kallisthenes (FGH 124 F 16), but supported by Krateros (FGH 342 F 13), naming Kallias. Her. 7.151 has Kallias at Susa at the same time as an Argive embassy, which episode Meiggs (Ath. Empire 92f.) wants to put in 461, but this does not convince me. In support of this period for the Peace of Kallias see Walsh, Chiron 1981, 31ff.; Meister, Ungeschichtlichkeit, has argued that the correct date in the ancient tradition was c. 465/4, but that the peace is unhistorical. All I would say is that it is possible that Kallias was used as an ambassador to Persia more than once in the period before and after 450.

He may have seen out the siege of Thasos (see 465/4). We hear that when he returned he was prosecuted on a charge of bribery for not invading Makedonia (Plut. Kimon 14.2ff.; cf. Per. 10.5; Ath. Pol. 27.1). Ath. Pol. says that Perikles accused Kimon as general in the matter of his euthynai, which may well be correct (Rhodes, Comm. 335f.). Possibly in the later stages of this year Kimon led a first expedition to help Sparta; schol. Ar. Lys. 1144 dates Kimon's expedition to Ithome in 468/7, but this is hard to accept; yet that Kimon made two expeditions is indicated by Plut. Kimon 16.7f., 17.2 (which does not say that Kimon led the second expedition).

Strategos

KIMON son of Miltiades of Lakiadai (VI) PA 8429; APF 302ff.
Plut. Kimon 15. He may first have gone to Ithome (see 463/2), but he is said to have gone on a naval expedition, possibly, despite the orthodox dating, to Cyprus and Egypt, and on his return tried to reverse Ephialtes' legislation. Conventionally, however, this will be the year of Kimon's second or
(i) only expedition to Ithome, for the voting of which he was responsible; his ostracism is generally placed in spring 461. Sources on the Ithome expedition are Thuc. 1.102.1f.; Plut. Kimon 16.8ff.; Paus. 1.29.8, 4.24.6; cf. Ar. Lys. 1138ff. with schol. (Philochoros FGH 328 F 117; FGH 329 F 4).

ARCHESTRATOS

Though other sources associate Perikles with Ephialtes and Ath. Pol. 25 talks about Themistokles in this context, Ath. Pol. 35.2 mentions the laws of Ephialtes and Archestratos. Other sources pertaining to the reforms are Arist. Pol. 2.21 1274a 7–8; Diod. 11.77.6 (460/59); Plut. Kimon 15.2, 17.3; Per. 9.4, 10.7. The precise content of these measures is uncertain (see Rhodes, Comm. 311ff.), but in general they seem to have involved the transfer of judicial functions from the Areiopagos to the demos and the council of 500. Kimon (above) opposed the reforms which had been passed, as earlier Ephialtes is said (Plut. Kimon 16.8) to have opposed the expedition to help the Spartans.

The first name is in Dion. AR 10.1.1 and Plut. Mor. 835c; Diod. 11.77.1 offers Philokleides or Phrasikleides, the first alternative perhaps owing to confusion with the archon of 459/8; he probably wrote Phrasikleides, which is restored at IG ii² 2318.30. This sort of name confusion is common (see e.g. under 479/8, 468/7, 464/3, 457/6) and makes a decision difficult. It has been remarked to me that the archon of 371/70 is nowhere called Phrasikleides the second, but I do not think this need carry any weight.

Thuc. 1.105.2; Diod. 11.78.3f. General in the siege of Aigina. Diod. 11.70 puts the beginning of the Aiginetan 'revolt' in 464/3 and it may have begun before 459/8, as Thucydides writes 'war having come about against the Aiginetans.' This does not mean that Leokrates was also general earlier. Diodoros records the defeat of Aigina under 459/8, Leokrates having been in the theatre for nine months. This could in fact take us into the archon year 458/7. Thucydides, however, mentions terms with Aigina at 1.108.4, between Oinophyta and Tolmides' periplous, thus on our chronology in 457/6 or even 456/5. Diodoros has perhaps omitted the siege and assumed the naval victory brought final success. I will enter Leokrates with a query in 458/7 and 457/6.

?PH[RYNI]CHOS of tribe I PA 15009

?HIPPODAMAS of tribe I PA 7611

IG i³ 1147.6, 63 (i² 929; ML 33; Fornara no. 78). Hippodamas, whose name is in a second hand, may have served alongside Phrynichos or come in the next archon year or been a replacement. The document is a casualty list of tribe I. If Phrynichos is the correct name (Daux, BCH 1975, 153), we might make an association with one of that name known from IG ii² 1928.3 (APF 558) of the deme Euonymon in tribe I. On Hippodamas cf. Davies, Wealth 157. Of the choices for the place(s) where these men served, the eastern theatre and Halieis would seem to be the best possibilities.

?DIKAIOGENES son of Menexenos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 3773; APF 145

Isaios 5.42 says he died 'serving as general when the battle at Eleusis took place'. No battle at Eleusis is known, but could be placed in 446, when (contra Davies) tribe III could be doubly represented. However, the emendation of ἐν Ἐλευσῖνι to ἐν Ἁλιεῦσι remains attractive, and so a generalship in this year.

Note: Clairmont, Patrios Nomos 345, records Lysikleides (PA 9412) from IG i³ 1147.48 (i² 929) as phrourarch, but in ML 33 Phrourarchos is a name and comes after Lysikleides.

HABRON PA 3

Diod. 11.79.1 (Bion); P.Oxy. 2438 with commentary; IG ii² 2318.52.

While IG i² 19 restored Ariston (454/3), ML 37 restored Habron, with discussion, and IG i³ 11 opts for Habron in the apparatus. Ariston cannot, at least on other than epigraphical grounds, be ruled out, especially given Diodoros' indication of a war involving Egesta under 454/3 (11.86.2). An update on the epigraphical flurry may be found at SEG 26.8. The case for Antiphon (418/17) has been reiterated and in their view enhanced by Smart, JHS 1972, 128–46; Wick, JHS 1975, 186–90; CPh 1981, 118–21; Mattingly, Chiron 1986, 167–70. Habron has found champions in Bradeen and McGregor, Studies 75ff.; Meritt, PAPhS 1977, 437–47; Madsen and McGregor, Phoenix 1979, 238; cf. Henry, CSCA 1978, 102. While the armchair epigraphist hardly has a right to pronounce on this, I cannot share Wick's excitement at the revelations of his latest photographs, at least as printed, and feel compelled to take the conservative line. As to Habron's lineage, cf. IG i³ 551 (i² 419).

MYRONIDES son of Kallias PA 10509
Thuc. 1.108.2f.; Diod. 11.81.4ff.; Front. Strat. 2.4.11, 4.7.21; Plut. Mor. 185f, 345d; Polyainos 1.35.1f.; Aristodemos FGH 104 F 12.2. He was commander in the defeat at Tanagra and the success at Oinophyta, subsequently took Tanagra by siege and enjoyed successes in Lokris, Phokis and Thessaly, though he could not take Pharsalos (fullest account in Diodoros). Cf. Walters, AJAH 1978, 188–91.

TOLMIDES son of Tolmaios (? of Anaphlystos) (x) PA 13879; APF 74
Aristodemos FGH 104 12.2. Made co-general with Myronides at Oinophyta. The demotic is suggested by the identity of patronymic with Autokles, general in 425/4.

?LEOKRATES son of Stroibos PA 9084
See 459/8.

Note: That Perikles fought at Tanagra is stated by Plut. Per. 10.2. If not general, he may well have have held some position of command. See Fornara, Generals 46.

?PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.
Kimon's early recall from ostracism is mentioned at And. 3.3; Theopompos FGH 115 F 88; Nepos Cimon 3.3; and Perikles is identified as the mover at Plut. Kimon 17.6, Per. 10.3f. The sources tend to place this soon after Tanagra, but as Kimon is said to have made the truce with Sparta here dated to 452/1 on his return, a recall the year before seems more reasonable.

Strategos

?TOLMIDES son of Tolmaios (? of Anaphlystos) (X) PA 13879; APF 74
And. 3.3; Diod. 11.88.3; Plut. Per. 11.5; Paus. 1.27.5. Diodoros mentions actions in Euboia and Naxos under 453/2, but he misses out the archon of 452/1, even though his sequence of Roman consuls is unbroken. Tolmides' actions led to klerouchies and there are considerable problems of dating. Andokides mentions war in Euboia while Athens possesses Megara, Pegai and Troizen. Pausanias goes from Tolmides' periplous (456/5) to Sikyon to the klerouchies to Boiotia to Chaironeia, and elsewhere (5.23.4) mentions the 30-years peace after a second revolt of Euboia. In an admittedly vague passage Aristodemos FGH 104 F 15 goes from the periplous to the Athenians capturing Euboia again to the 30-years peace. And with the new fragment of the quota list IG i³ 259 II 16, we see that in 454 the assessment of Karystos was 12 talents, while in 451 it is 7½ talents (i³ 262 I 23) and 5 talents in 450 (i³ 263 IV 26), so that the Euboian klerouchies may well belong between spring 453 and spring 450. Naxos can then go along with this and also Andros (Meiggs, Ath. Empire 123). On these matters see Thompson, TAPhA 1967, 483–90; Erxleben, Klio 1975, 83–100; Schreiner, SO 1976, 26ff.; Gomme, Comm. Thuc. 1.376ff.

Ath. Pol. 26.4; Diod. 11.91.1; IG i³ [17] (i² 32; see i³ for references to debate; Mattingly's date of 418/17 is probably wrong).

Strategoi

KIMON son of Miltiades of Lakiadai (VI) PA 8429; APF 302ff.

Thuc. 1.112.2f.; Nepos Cimon 3.4; Diod. 12.3f.; Plut. Kimon 18f., Comp. Kimon and Luc. 2.4; Paus. 1.29.13; Aristodemos FGH 104 F 13.1; Suda s.v. Κίμων.

Diodoros places Kimon's expedition to Cyprus and Egypt, which ended in his death, in 450/49 and 449/8, but his major focus in 11.86–92 has been Sicily. The expedition followed upon the making of the five-years truce (see 452/1). Before his death he enjoyed considerable success in siege and sea battle.

ANAXIKRATES PA 805

Diod. 12.3.4. General with Kimon, he lost his life in a battle in Kilikia.

EUTHYNOS PA 5654

Diod. 12.3.1 has Euthydemos, but this is a confusion which occurs elsewhere (see 426/5) and the safest guide to name would seem to be IG i³ 21.3, 63, 88 (i² 22; ATL II.58ff. D11; SEG 31.6; Fornara no. 92). On the basis of name confusion it has been suggested that the Euthydemos found in the 'Papyrus Decree' is in fact our Euthynos (Meiggs, Ath. Empire 517; Fornara no. 94), so dating the beginning of the Propylaia and Parthenon on Perikles' motion; I am not persuaded by this (see 431/30). As to IG i³ 21, its date has been debated; see SEG 26.5. In ABSA 1970, 146f., Mattingly put it in 426/5 and argued that the archon of 450/49 was Euthydemos; in Historia 1981, 113–17, he removes the archon's name altogether from line 3. On date see also Bradeen and McGregor, Studies 38, 65ff. Again I follow the conservative line.

Named directly in 449/8 by Diod. 12.4f., though if there was an arrangement with Persia, formal or informal, or even negotiations, they could have been in the previous year. I will not enter the debate on the Peace of Kallias here (see 465/4). See Fornara no. 95; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 129ff., 487ff., 598f.; most recently Walsh, Chiron 1981, 31ff.; Meister, Ungeschichtlichkeit.

Meiggs (146) adds to the embassy Pyrilampes son of Antiphon (PA 12493; APF 329f.) and Plato Charm. 158a certainly assures him of a place as a frequent ambassador to Asia, but I hesitate to be so specific. For other references to Kallias, who may have been fined on his return, see Dem. 19.273; Paus. 1.8.2; Suda s.v. Καλλίας.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 1453 (ATL II.61ff. D 14; ML 45; Fornara no. 97) is the decree imposing Athenian coin standard, weights and measures on the allies, which may be dated here if it has any connexion with absence of tribute in
(ii) 448/7 (see Fornara for bibliography; SEG 31.7). It mentions an earlier decree:

Proposer

KLEARCH[OS]

Proposer

?PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.

(iii) Plut. Per. 17 records his decree that all Greeks should be invited to send to a congress at Athens to consider the matters of temples burnt during the Persian War, due sacrifices and peaceful freedom of the sea. Walsh, Chiron 1981, 59ff., discusses views that the decree is spurious (also Griffith, Historia 1978, 218–19, against Seager, Historia 1969, 129–41; Bosworth, Historia 1971, 600–16) and concludes that it is genuine, but belongs around 464/3. I accept the decree and retain it in 449/8.

Diod. 11.88.3; Plut. Per. 11.5, 21.2. Diodoros places the klerouchy to the Chersonese in 453/2, but it would seem to belong about here on the evidence of the tribute lists (Meiggs, Ath. Empire 160); already in 449 a partial payment is evidenced and there could have been trouble in the area earlier. A casualty list, which cannot be dated internally, shows deaths in the Chersonese, Byzantion and 'the other wars'; a concluding epigram refers to the Hellespont (IG i² 943; ML 48; CEG 6; discussion by Clairmont, Patrios Nomos 165ff.).

In this year also, I think, Perikles reinstated the Phokians at Delphi and secured for the Athenians the promanteia. Thuc. 1.112.5 has this after the death of Kimon and a Spartan expedition which had handed control to the Delphians. Philochoros FGH 328 F 34 has the Athenian expedition in the third year after the Spartan, which would fit dates of 450/49 and 448/7 (I do not believe that Philochoros should be emended to read 'in the third month': Gomme, Comm. Thuc. 1.409).

Thuc. 1.113; Xen. Mem. 3.5.4; Diod. 12.6 (447/6); Plut. Per. 18.2f., Comp. Per. and Fab. 3.2, Ages. 19.2; Paus. 1.27.5; Aristodemos FGH 104 F 14.2, 15.1.

He was in Boiotia fighting Boiotian exiles; Chaironeia was taken, but he died after the defeat at Koroneia. Despite Diodoros, I favour an earlier beginning; the confusion could have been caused because these events took place in the summer of 447.

?EPITELES (? son of Soinautes of Pergase (I)) PA 4953 = ?4962
IG i³ 1162.4 (i² 943; ML 48). Dated by Meiggs (HSCPh 1963, 17) by conjunction with Perikles' operations in the Chersonese (see above). Epiteles died there, but it could have been earlier. The identification is suggested by ML.

?DEMOKLEIDES (? of tribe II) PA 3474

IG i³ 46.12, 38f. (i² 45; ML 49; Fornara no. 100). He is identified as the one to found Brea. The use of autokrator has no necessary implication, but that he was general is slightly suggested by the appearance of soldiers at lines 26ff. (the precise reference of this is unclear). Troops may have been necessary for the operation; compare Hagnon in 437/6. As to date, I accept in general the arguments followed by ML, but nothing is certain. For the tribe see 439/8.

Diod. 12.7. They negotiated the 30-years peace. Kallias' identity is likely, but not quite certain, even given his grandson's later trips to Sparta (see 387/6, 375/4).

ANDOKIDES son of Leogoras of Kydathenaion (III) PA 827; APF 29f. And. 3.6; Aisch. 2.174; Plut. Mor. 834b (Hellanikos FGH 323a F 24; Fornara no. 105). He was one of the ten plenipotentiary envoys to Sparta to arrange peace.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary of the boule is restored at IG i³ 437.34 (i² 340) and D.M. Lewis now advises that the second alternative for the name is equally possible:

Grammateus

[ANT]IDO[ROS] or [ANT]IDO[TOS]

(i) IG i³ 39 (i² 17; Fornara no. 102) is part of a treaty with Eretrians.

(ii) IG i³ 40 (i² 39; ML 52; SEG 26.10; Fornara no. 103; Balcer, Ath. Reg. Chalkis) is a decree of pryt. Antiochis:

For the demotics of the last two, by no means certain, see APF.

(iii) IG i³ 41 (i² 40/41, 42, 48; SEG 32.3) contains arrangements concerning Hestiaia.

(iv) IG i³ 46 (i² 45; ML 49; Fornara no. 100) is the decree for the colony to Brea; the secretary appears at lines 15f. only as dating the syngraphai:

On the possible identity of Epicharinos see the apparatus to IG i³, which rightly avoids restoration, given that the demotic, unlike any other in the inscription, would have to have been abbreviated if either of the two known possibilities appeared; so we may well be dealing with another man altogether. ### COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary is known from the reading of Lewis reported in APF and now ventured in IG i³ 455.5f. (i² 359). He belongs to this or the previous year. This means that Oionichos (cf. PA 11371) now disappears.
Grammateus

Plut. Per. 16.3 says that Perikles was general continuously for 15 years after the ostracism of Thoukydides. The series then ended in 429/8 and Perikles may be entered in every year until then. I do not share the doubts of Kagan, Outbreak 160f., on the evidence of Plutarch.

LAMPIDES of Peiraieus (VIII)
KLEITOPHON of Thorai (X) PA 8548
The full list comes from Androtion FGH 324 F 38, eleven names from which I excise Glauketes Athenaios (PA 2951); I will not argue this, but at least the passage of Aelius Aristides (3.74 Behr) on which the comment is made which gives us the list says of Perikles δέκατος αὐτὸς στρατηγῶν and the list itself is headed as giving ten generals, so it would be very odd if there were eleven on the list. On this see Lenz, TAPhA 1941, 226ff.; Ehrenberg, AJPh 1945, 113ff.; Hignett, HAC 349, 354ff.; Hammond, Studies 376ff.; Jacoby, FGH III b ii.136 n.14; Fornara, Generals 49; Connor, Gnomon 1974, 623.

For Perikles and Sophokles Cic. de off. 1.40.144; Strabo 14.1.8; Justin 3.6.12f.; Plut. Per. 8.5; Aristodemos FGH F 15.4 (wrongly dated). For Sophokles only Ion FGH 392 F 6; schol. Ar. Peace 681; vita Soph. 1.9 (see appendix to this Section, p. 104); Suda s.v. Μέλητος. For Perikles only Thuc. 1.116.1ff.; Diod. 12.27.1ff.; Plut. Them. 2.3, Kimon 13.5 (doubtful: see Fornara, Generals 46 n.24), Per. 24.1, 25; schol. Ar. Wasps 283.

The ten generals were all sent out to the Samian theatre. It could be that all ten did not stay for the whole time and that Perikles and Sophokles were left. Thucydides summarizes the operations; Ion says Sophokles was the one who went to Lesbos (and Chios). Thucydides in fact goes on beyond this year. On the expedition see Meiggs, Ath. Empire 188ff.; on the chronology of the war Fornara, JHS 1979, 7ff.

On the date of what follows and further discussion see Frost, JHS 1964, 69–72; Mansfeld, Mnemosyne 1980, 17–95. Diod. 12.39, in the context of 431/30, talks generally of an assembly at which attacks were made on Pheidias, leading to a decision to arrest him, and proceeds to similar attacks on Anaxagoras. Also general is schol. Ar. Peace 605 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 121); see also above on Perikles as epistates. Plut. Per. 31 has more detail:

(i) one Menon was granted immunity by the demos so that he could bring
(ii) information against Pheidias. A subsequent decree granted Menon ateleia and ordered the generals to see to his safety:

Strategoi

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff. See 443/2. This is probably the date of the Pontic expedition of Perikles (Plut. Per. 20.1f.), preceded by Amphipolis and followed by a colony in the area. For a date of 447/6 see Karamoutsou, Dodone 1979, 9–36; but for other discussion see Gomme, Comm. Thuc. 1.367f.; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 197ff.; Meister, Ungeschichtlichkeit 37, 108; Clairmont, Patrios Nomos 178ff. (with a new fragment changing the evidence).

?LAMACHOS son of Xenophanes of Oe (VI) PA 8981
Plut. Per. 20.1. He was with Perikles on the Pontic expedition and was left with a force to aid the exiled Sinopians. The generalship is therefore an assumption.

?PHORMION son of Asopios (of Paiania) (III) PA 14958
Thuc. 2.68.7 has an undated reference to action in Akarnania, which I do think ought to postdate Samos and antedate other concerns in the area, hence the approximate date. For discussion see Gomme, Comm. Thuc. II.202; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 204 and n.1; de Ste Croix, Origins 85ff.; Salmon, Corinth 422f. (by whom I am unpersuaded).

PA has Kallias as the son of Kalliades who was strategos in 432/1; while this is possible, the matter is best left open. As to date, Mattingly (ABSA 1967, 14ff.; BCH 1968, 450ff.; ABSA 1970, 147ff.) has equated the secretary with the Mnesitheos who was hellenotamias in 418/17 from tribe II and tried to date the decrees to 422/1; I am not convinced. Fornara's argument for 418/17 in GRBS 1970, 185–96, was countered by Bradeen, GRBS 1971, 469–83. See also Linders, Treasurers 45, 49, 55ff.; Meritt, Hesperia Suppl. 19, 112–21.

Proposer
PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (v) PA 11811; APF 457ff.
(iii) Thuc. 1.31ff. tells of an assembly addressed by envoys from Corcyra and Corinth and the Athenian decision at a second assembly to make a defensive alliance with Corcyra. According to Plut. Per. 29.1 it was Perikles who persuaded the demos to this course. We cannot be entirely sure that this occurred very early in this year, rather than late in the last; see de Ste Croix, Origins 318f.
(iv) For the following matters see Fornara nos. 122 and 123. A decree was passed banning the Megarians from the Athenian agora and the harbours of the empire; sources that ascribe this to Perikles are Ar. Acharn. 530ff. and schol.; Plut. Per. 30.1ff.; schol. Ar. Peace 605 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 121), 608; schol. Thuc. 1.67.4; other sources Thuc. 1.139; Diod. 12.39.4. For discussion of the evidence see de Ste Croix, Origins 225ff.

Proposer
CHARINOS PA 15434
(v) Plut. Per. 30.3 (cf. Mor. 812c–d) records that after a herald sent to the Megarians was killed, he put a decree of enmity towards the Megarians; this is found also in schol. Ar. Peace 246. Connor, AJPh 1962, 225–46, wants this to belong to the period 352–349 B.C., but this was countered by Dover, AJPh 1966, 203–9. See de Ste Croix, Origins 246ff., though I prefer this date to 432/1.

Strategoi
KALLIAS son of Kalliades PA 7827
Thuc. 1.61, 62.4ff.; Diod. 12.37.1; IG i³ 365.[5] (i² 296). He joined operations against Pydna and then enjoyed some success around Poteidaia but was killed. For the date see Fornara, Generals 52f., 55; de Ste Croix, Origins 319ff. I have not given Kallias a demotic, as the commonness of the name makes that speculative; Fornara, Generals 53, opts for Aixone (VII), but one could point out a Kallias son of Kalliades later in Paiania (III) (see Lewis, JHS 1961, 118).

PHORMION son of Asopios (of Paiania) (III) PA 14958
Thuc. 1.64.2ff.; Isok. 16.29; Diod. 12.37.1; Front. Strat. 3.11.1; Polyainos 3.4.1; Athenaios 5.216c; schol. Thuc. 1.64.3; IG i³ 365. [? 13], [? 17], [? 23], (i² 296). He was sent to replace Kallias, blockaded Poteidaia and laid waste land in Chalkidike and Bottiaia.

EUKRAT[ES] (of Melite) (VII) PA 5759
IG i³ 365.5 (i² 296). General in Makedonia. For the demotic, which I accept, see Fornara, Generals 76f.

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.
Thuc. 2.13.1, 21.3, 22.2f.; Diod. 12.39.3, 42.6, 42.8; Plut. Per. 33.4ff. He was in charge of the defence of Attika and, says Plutarch, drove out the Aiginetans to make way for Athenian klerouchs. This may extend into 431/30.

KARKINOS son of Xenotimos of Thorikos (V) PA 8254; APF 283
PROTEAS son of Epikles of Aixone (VII) PA 12298
SOKRATES son of Antigenes of Halai (II) PA 13099
Thuc. 2.23.2, 25.1ff., 30; Diod. 12.42.7; IG i³ 365.31, 36, 38f. (i² 296). Sent around the Peloponnese, they caused some damage and attacked fortifications at Methone without success. Then they landed in Elis and subsequently captured Sollion and Astakos and won over Kephallenia.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary is to be found at IG i³ 365 (i² 296):

Grammateus

-- son of [D]iotimos of Phegaia (II) PA 4365

Proposer

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.

(i) Thuc. 1.139.1f. mentions the refusal to rescind the Megarian decree; while de Ste Croix, Origins 245, is correct to say that Diod. 12.39.4f. and Plut. Per. 30f. (and cf. Ar. Acharn. 535ff.) only say that Perikles opposed the repeal, it may well be that he put a formal motion.

(ii) Thuc. 1.139.3ff. records an assembly to decide on an answer to Spartan demands at which Perikles spoke and the demos voted as he suggested, that they were willing to have arbitration.

(iii) Thuc. 2.12.2 tells us of a decree passed on Perikles' motion that no herald or envoys of the Spartans should be received when the Spartans had left their own land, by dint of which they refused access to an envoy.

(iv) Thuc. 2.13f. (cf. Diod. 12.40) says that Perikles addressed an assembly to forestall any suspicion stemming from his friendship with Archidamos; he ran through Athenian resources and the demos accepted his advice to bring their property into the city and send their livestock to Euboia and other islands.

APPENDIX

Strategoi

?NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.

As Fornara (Generals 51) remarks, one could easily imagine generalships not otherwise attested for prominent individuals in this period. More specifically, Plut. Nikias 2.2 reports that Nikias, whose first datable strategia is 427/6, served as general alongside Perikles while he was alive and held independent command often. 'Often' may be an exaggeration, but one wonders whether one can believe this at all. Might there have been at some point a confusion with Hagnon son of Nikias?

?MENIPPOS PA 10033

Again, Plut. Per. 13.10 (cf. Mor. 812c), in the general context of Pheidias' work on the statue of Athene, mentions Menippos, a friend of Perikles, of whom he uses the verb ὑποστρατηγεῖν; but that this means a strategia for Menippos, let alone more than one (Fornara, Generals 50 and n.44), is by no means secure, especially as Plutarch would know ὑποστρατήγος as a Greek term for the Latin legatus.

?SOPHOKLES son of Sophillos of Kolonos (II) PA 12834
He could have held generalships other than the attested one of 441/40. The anonymous life of him says he was general with Perikles and Thoukydides; the latter could be the son of Melesias earlier or the historian in 424/3 (cf. 423/2); section 9 of the life seems to refer to 441/40. This is all problematic, but a number of strategiai cannot be ruled out. See Ehrenberg, Soph. and Per. 117 n.1; Woodbury, Phoenix 1970, 215f.; Lefkowitz, Lives 80ff.

?METIOCHOS PA 10131; APF 308
Also presumably to be fitted into this period, he is evidenced as a crony of Perikles and, among other things, general at Plut. Mor. 811f; Davies, APF wishes to associate him with the Kimonids.

?ERASISTRATOS of Acharnai (VI) PA 5024; APF 322
A generalship for the father of Phaiax seems to be indicated at Diog. 2.63, but see APF.

?--ODOTOS of tribe VIII
Bradeen, Hesperia 1964, 22ff., suggested that he, in no. 5 line 2, may have been a general and in the year 446; for the name his best suggestion is Pythodotos. The date may be correct; the strategia is a deduction from the greater size of the letters in his name.

Strategos or nauarchos
DIOTIMOS son of Strombichos of Euonymon (I) PA 4386; APF 161
Timaios FGH 566 F 98 (with commentary); Polyainos 5.22.3. He is reported to have gone on a mission to Neapolis, which should fall in the 430s and, if he was nauarchos, before his strategia of 433/2. However, schol. Tzetzes 733 (FGH apparatus) has strategos.

Hipparchoi
PRON[A]P[ES[ (son of Pronapides of Prasiai) (III) PA 12250; APF 471
X[E]NOPHON (son of Euripides of Melite) (VII) PA 11313; APF 199f.
LAKEDAIMONIOS (son of Kimon of Lakiadai) (VI) PA 8965; APF 305f.
IG $i^3$ 511 ($i^2$ 400; DAA 135, pp. 146ff.). The date of the dedication is disputed and to be deduced from operations in which cavalry can have been active. Raubitschek opted for Oinophyta in 457, Gomme, Comm. Thuc. II.203, for c. 446. The coincidence of names suggests to me that a date in the early 440s is to be preferred, letter forms being indecisive.

Taxiarchos
KRATINOS son of Kallimedes of tribe VI PA 8755
Kratinos T 15 (Kassel-Austin). Gomme, Comm. Thuc. II.75, wonders about 432/1 for the date, but as Kratinos is said to have lived to be 97 and died during the late stages of the Archidamian War (see TT 3, 10), this is highly unlikely.

Tamiai

In IG i³ 249 are the remains of names which may refer to two separate boards of tamiai of Athene; I do not record the mere letters.

(a) THEODO--

(b) TIMARCHOS son of Pe- or of the deme Pe--

Grammateus

--STRATOS

?KTESIAS

IG i³ 32.31f. has money being handed over to Ktesias, while at lines 35ff. a rider deals with the count of the money handed over to the tamias by the boule. Is Ktesias the tamias and what sort of treasurer is he? IG follows the dating to 449/8 or 448/7 proposed by Meritt and Wade-Gery, JHS 1963, 111ff., but the 430s have been proposed by Cavanaugh (Eleusis 140ff.) and the matter is open.

Hellenotamias

?SOSIAS PA 13176

Antiphon 5.70; ATL 1.570. ATL 1.184 has the suggestion that this man may have been hellenotamias in 440/39, but all we know is that he held the office before c. 415.

Athlothetes

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.

The election is reported at Plut. Per. 13.6; I avoid dating.

Epistatai

IG i³ 433, 434 and 435 (i² 335, 337, 338) are accounts for public works, of an unknown nature in the first two cases, for the statue of Athene Promachos in the third. They contain the names of epistatai and grammateis, but are dated only to the middle of the century or around 450. I list the cast of characters in order of appearance, representing individual years.

Grammateus

(a) [?AST]YPHI[LOS]

There are a number of letters which might belong to names of epistatai.

The first name is a suggestion from the files of the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton.

Grammateus

[E]UCHARI[DES] (? son of Euchares) of Aphidna (IX) ?PA 6144

Demotic from the inscription, patronymic suggested by identification with the thesmothetes of 444/3 (q.v.).

B. IG i³ 434.
Of the preserved letters the only possibility worth mentioning would seem to be that in line 15 we have either the demotic for Pelekes (IV) for the grammateus or the name THARREX, which is evidenced a century later in the deme Lamptrai (I) (PA 6584).

C. IG i³ 435; Athene Promachos
The only secretaries of whom traces remain are at lines 36ff. and 94:

(a) Grammateus
[K]AL[LIST]RATOS [? of Acharnai] (VI) ?PA 8148 (sic; it should be 8158)
The deme looks likely and leads to the possibility that this was the general of 441/40; see Raubitschek, Hesperia 1943, 12ff.

(b) Grammateus
. . .[5]. . S

Epistatai for work at Eleusis
IG i³ 398 (i² 319) produces a name which seems to be a secretary of the epistatai:

Grammateus
GLAUKO[N]

Epistates

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff. Terminology used in sources indicates that Perikles was epistates of a number of works, but there is more than doubt that these can be taken literally (see Boersma, Building Policy 73). They are (i) Parthenon: Strabo 9.1.12 (Boersma is wrong to cite Strabo for Perikles' being concerned with the Telesterion at Eleusis); (ii) Odeion: Plut. Per. 13.5; (iii) Harpokration s.v. Λύκειον reports Theopompos (FGH 115 F 136) as ascribing the making of the Lykeion to Peisistratos, while Philochoros (FGH 328 F 37) said Perikles was epistates of it (cf. Boersma 74).

Demarchoi

IG i³ 248 (ML 53) is dated 450–440 and gives the names of five consecutive demarchs of Rhamnous (IX):

MNESIPTOLEMOS
NAUSIMENES
EUAINETOS
DEMOPHANES APF 140

Envoys

PYRILAMPES son of Antiphon PA 12493; APF 329f.
Plato Charm. 158a. He was a frequent ambassador to Asia; see 450/49.

DIOTIMOS son of Strombichos of Euonymon (I) PA 4386; APF 161
Strabo 1.3.1 (Damastes FGH 5 F 8). Ambassador to Susa; see Lewis, Sparta and Persia 60 n.70.

Uncertain

See IG i³ 399 for the possibility that the remains of a name may be an epistates at Eleusis or a secretary of epistatai or even of the Amphiktyons to Delos:

--DES of Hybadai (IV)

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Grammateis

?PARAIBATES PA 11609
See the appendix to Section III (p. 60).

?MECHANIO[N] PA 10162
IG i³ 841 (i² 626; DAA 383, pp. 41of.). If he could be identified with the casualty of 459/8 (IG i³ 1147.22; i² 929; ML 33; Fornara no. 78), this would establish his tribe (I) and a terminus ante quem for his office, but I shrink from the identification.

METROBIOS PA 10133
Kratinos F 1 (Kassel-Austin) (Plut. Kimon 10.4).

(i) IG i³ 7 (i² 80) is a decree of 460–450 concerning the Praxiergidai:
Grammateus
. . . ⁶ . . S

(ii) IG i³ 8 concerns cults at Sounion and dates about 460–450:
Proposers
KALLIMACHOS
ANTIBIO[S]

(iii) IG i³ 10 (i² 16; ML 31; Fornara no. 68; cf. SEG 28.1) is a decree of pryt. Akamantis concerning Phaselis:
Grammateus
[O]NASIPPOS PA 11439 or [M]NASIPPOS
Bouleutes epistates
NE . . . . DES or E[. . .]EDES
Proposer
LEO[N] PA 9099
I use the dating 469–450, though tempted into 465/4; 425/4 is hardly likely. For the date see ML with bibliography. For the name of the secretary see the apparatus to IG i³ 10 and i³ 66.4 and Wade-Gery, Essays 182 n.1. For the name of the epistates see IG i³; Wade-Gery suggested Nelonides, but that the nu is the first letter of the name is uncertain and the alternative Epimedes has thus been advanced (for the reading which creates only three missing letters see Bradeen and McGregor, Studies 116); a restored Epimedes of Hagnous in Akamantis was bouleutes in 378/7 (q.v.); see also Fornara, CQ 1979, 49 n.1.

(iv) IG i³ 12 (i² 20) is a decree dated in i³ c. 433/2, but with a note of other possibilities; it is an alliance with Halikyai:
Bouleutes epistates
AR--
So I believe he is, rather than an archon.

(v) IG i³ 14 (i² 10; ML 40; Fornara no. 71) and 15 (i² 11, 12, 13; SEG 31.5)
(vi) concern Erythrai; the first seems to have the letter L as the beginning of a name (? the proposer rather than the archon); I believe the date could be anything up to about fifteen years before 450.

(vii) IG i³ 18 (i² 23 + 30; Walbank no. 12) is a proxeny decree for certain men of Parion(?):
Grammateus
DI[OTIMOS?] or DI[ON?]
Proposer
[AR]CHEDEMO[S]
Dated c. 450 in IG i³. Walbank calculates that if Dion is restored, which seems likely, and if the epistates is included, the archon, if named at all, would have to be that of 458/7, 456/5, 454/3, 450/49 or 449/8, and he wonders seriously about 450/49.

(viii) IG i³ 23 (i² 36; Walbank no. 11) is a proxeny decree for certain Thespiaians of pryt. Aiantis:
Proposer
--ILEOS
The reading is that of Walbank, who dates c. 460–440, while IG i³ has c. 447.

(ix) IG i³ 27 (i² 27; Walbank no. 13) is a proxeny decree for certain Delphians of pryt. Leontis:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . OSTRATOS
Grammateus
. . . .⁷. . . RATES PA 1892 (Aristokrates)
Proposer
. . . .⁷. . . CHOS
Dated in IG i³ to c. 450/49, though Mattingly (BCH 1968, 481f., 485) wanted it in 422/1, along with IG i³ 28 (next entry). This seems unlikely and Walbank gives c. 460–445, pointing out also that there are common names to provide alternatives for the secretary.

(x) IG i³ 28 (i² 143; Walbank no. 17) is a proxeny decree, possibly for certain men of Abydos, of pryt. Leontis:
Grammateus
ARIS[TO]KRATES
Bouleutes epistates
. . .⁶. . R . . . . or . . .⁶. . B . . . S
See the last item. Mattingly's date for this has more chance, but IG i³ puts it 450–440, while Walbank has c. 445–435, with 440/39 specifically given a chance. Walbank is also strongly against Mattingly's identification of the secretary as PA 1904 or 1925. As for the epistates, the first version is from IG i³, where indeed Nikostratos is restored, the second from Walbank (cf. SEG 32.1).

(xi) IG i³ 30 (i² 31) is a decree described in i³ as praise for a Theraian, but restored by Walbank (no. 16) as a proxeny perhaps for Theramenes and Lakedaimonios:
Grammateus
[E]UKLES
Proposer
--S
These names are based on the readings of Walbank, who wonders whether Eukles could be fitted into IG i³ 21 of 450/49. His date is c. 460–445, while IG i³ has c. 450.

(xii) IG i³ 31 is a decree of pryt. Antiochis recording a treaty with Hermione:
Grammateus
THEODOROS of Prasiai (III)
Bouleutes epistates
SI . . . [6] . .
Proposer
[L]EON
IG dates c. 450, which is preferable to Mattingly's 425/4 (Historia 1961, 173ff.; cf. BCH 1968, 484).

(xiii) IG i³ 32 is a probouleumatic decree concerning the epistatai of Eleusis:
Proposers
THESPIEUS
[LYSANIAS]
On the date see above on the tamias Ktesias.

(xiv) IG i³ 35 (i² 24; ML 44; SEG 31.9, 32.2) is a probouleumatic decree of pryt. Leontis concerning the priestess and temple of Athene Nike:
Proposers
[GL]AUKOS
HESTIAIOS PA 5194
On date see IG i³, SEG and Tracy, Studies Dow 281f., who identifies the stonecutter with that of IG i³ 435.

(xv) IG i³ 42 and 43 (i² 34 and 35) are two decrees concerning Kolophon, the
(xvi) second of pryt. Hippothontis. The first is dated c. 445–442, the second c. 435–427, though IG i³ notes Mattingly's suggestion of c. 430 for both.

(xvii) IG i³ 44 is of uncertain import but seems to include the following, dated 450–445:
Proposer
EUA--

(xviii) IG i³ 48 bis is a decree granting privileges to someone:
Grammateus
PROMACHOS
Proposer
MENITES
IG dates 440–430. Two of the men chosen by the honorand, Archestratos and Lakedaimonios, were generals in 433/2.

(xix) IG i³ 49 (i² 54) concerns public water supply:
Proposers
?[HIPP]ONIKO[S]
NIKOMA[CHOS] PA 10933
IG i³ dates 440–432, noting Thompson's c. 430.

(xx) IG i³ 50 is a probouleumatic decree concerning public works, possibly the Eleusinion, dated c. 435:
Bouleutes epistates
PROINAUTES
Proposer
[?KALLIAS]

(xxi) IG i³ 56 (Walbank no. 33) is a proxeny decree:
Grammateus
IA[SON]
Bouleutes epistates
. . .[5]. . PPOS
Proposers
. . . . .[9]. . . . S
HIPPOK[RATES]
Walbank follows Meritt's readings, though he does not restore Iason; his date is c. 440–425, that in IG is c. 430.

(xxii) IG i³ 130 (i² 128) is a decree of pryt. Antiochis concerning perhaps Apollo of Delos and dated to c. 432:
Bouleutes epistates
STRATON PA 12971
Proposer
LYS[I]KLES ?PA 9417

(xxiii) IG i³ 131 (i² 77; SEG 31.11; 32.4) is a decree of pryt. Erechtheis concerning the perpetual right to eat in the Prytaneion:
Bouleutes epistates
--THIPPOS
Proposer
. . . IKLES
The date given is c. 440–432 ? and IG i³ properly avoids the temptation to restore the proposer as Perikles, as there are other names which could fit.

(xxiv) IG i³ 132 (i² 111) is a decree, dated in i³ only to the second half of the century, concerning the building of a temple:
Bouleutes epistates
SMIKYTHO[S] PA 12775
Comparison has been made with IG i³ 66, dated 427/6, in which the name Smikythos is restored as epistates.

(xxv) IG i³ 133 (i² 127) is a decree, dated after 434/3, concerning the Anakes:
Bouleutes epistates
AINEAS PA 296
Proposer
ELPIA[S]

(xxvi) IG i³ 141 (i² 168) is a fragment dated 440–425 of pryt. Antiochis.

(xxvii) IG i³ 145 is a fragment dated 440–430:
Proposer
CHROMON

(xxviii) IG i³ 147 (i² 104) is a fragment:
Grammateus
[AI]SCHYLO[S] PA 434
It is correct, I think, to doubt that this is the same Aischylos as the secretary of 412/11, as indeed is the case in PA, where the two have separate entries. IG i³ dates 440–420 (?).

(xxix) IG i³ 148 (i² 37) cannot well be dated; it seems to have concerned the Messenians and contains the letters --OKLES Phi, which could refer to a gentleman of Philaidai (II), perhaps a grammateus, but all is uncertain.

(xxx) IG i³ 155 (Walbank no. 24) is a proxeny decree for Krison:
Bouleutes epistates
MELET[OS] or MELET[ON]
Proposer
. . . .⁷. . . N
IG dates c. 440–430, Walbank c. 435–425, though favouring the late 430s. Walbank also points out that the second name is possible.

(xxxi) IG i³ 156 (i² 56; Walbank no. 22) is a proxeny decree for Leonidas of Halikarnassos of pryt. Antiochis in the second part, as the remains begin with the end of a preceding decree:
Grammateus
CHAROIADES (? son of Euphiletos) PA 15528 = ?15529
Bouleutes epistates
HEGESANDROS PA 6305
Proposer
CHAIRESTRATOS PA 15147
Dated in IG i³ 440–425, by Walbank c. 440–435.

(xxxii) IG i³ 184 (i² 163) is the beginning of a decree of pryt. Erechtheis dated c. 450.

(xxxiii) IG i³ 185 is the beginning of a decree dated c. 440:
Grammateus

(xxxiv) In the fragment IG i³ 189 (i² 162) there is restored a secretary from Alopeke (X) who may be nothing of the sort. The letters in the line above, HIERO--, could be the beginning of a name. Date 440–405.

(xxxv) IG i³ 207 (i² 139) is the remains of a decree dated 440–420:
Proposer
. E . . . . NDROS

(xxxvi) IG i³ 1454 (xii 1.977; Tod 110) is a decree honouring the Karpathians of pryt. Aigeis or Oineis, now dated to the third quarter of the fifth century (Meiggs, Trees 201 and 498 n.36):
Grammateus
TEI[SIAS] PA 13471
Bouleutes epistates
ATHENODO[ROS] PA 259 = ?260
Proposer
KTESIAS PA 8838

Proposers

(xxxvii) For the Arthmios decree and the possibility that it might have been proposed by Kimon in this period see 481/80.

(xxxviii) ARISTEIDES son of Lysimachos of Alopeke (x) PA 1695; APF 48ff. Ath. Pol. 24 says Aristeides advised the Athenians to seize the hegemony and leave their fields to live in the city, where there would be sustenance for all. We may not believe this, but it is quite conceivable that Aristeides made proposals in the assembly regarding the empire before his death sometime in the mid 460s.

?ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (iv) ?PA 597; APF 15f.
(xxxix) Dem. 20.115 and Plut. Arist. 27.1f. record a decree of an Alkibiades granting land in Euboia and pecuniary benefits to Lysimachos son of Aristeides, presumably in the later 460s. Both the fact and the identity of the Alkibiades are doubtful; see APF 51f. Not ascribed to Alkibiades is the
(xl) voting of a dowry to Aristeides' daughter found at Aisch. 3.258; Nepos Arist. 3.3; Plut. Arist. 27.2ff. (includes Demetrios FGH 228 F 45).

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (v) PA 11811; APF 457ff. Plut. Per. 8.5 says that the only writing Perikles left was in his decrees. He is specifically credited with the introduction of various sorts of fees for (xli) service and the like (Plut. Per. 9, 34.1; Plato Gorg. 515e.2–7). For doubts
(xlii) that he introduced theoric distributions see Rhodes, Comm. 514. It is more likely that he introduced pay for service on the juries, for which see also (xliii) Arist. Pol. 2.21 1274a 8–9; Ath. Pol. 27.3f.; Rhodes, Comm. 338ff. Plut. Per. 11.4 mentions the introduction of amusements for the people in the context of the 440s. At Per. 12f. Perikles is made generally responsible for a whole building programme, but his precise role cannot be recovered, though some proposals seem to be assumed, as is the case with the corn stoa
(xliv) at Peiraieus mentioned at schol. Ar. Acharn. 548. Plut. Per. 13.5 specifically mentions Perikles' decree for the Long Wall, which he says Sokrates heard (from Plato Gorg. 455e); I refrain from dating this. On the building

(xlv) see Boersma, Building Policy 66ff. Plut. Per. 13.6 records a decree for the institution of a musical contest at the Panathenaia. According to Plut. Per. 14, Perikles came under attack for his expenditure from Thoukydides and his associates and Perikles persuaded an assembly to let him have his way.

?KANNONOS PA 8249

(xlvi) A decree of his is mentioned at Ar. Ekkl. 1089 with schol. (Krateros FGH 342 F 15); Xen. Hell. 1.7.20, 34; it could belong to this period. It said that if anyone wronged the demos, he must plead his case in fetters and if convicted, be executed, his property being confiscated and one-tenth going to the goddess. See Hignett, HAC 154f., 304f.

Bouleutes

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.
Plut. Nik. 5.1, probably in this period.

Archon

EUTHYDEMOS PA 5515
Diod. 12.38.1; Athenaios 5.217a; SEG 10. 226.[11] (see the apparatus at IG i$^3$ 366). I believe he could be the archon mentioned in the 'Papyrus Decree': see 450/49.

Strategoi

SOKRATES son of Antigenes of Halai (II) PA 13099
KARKINOS son of Xenotimos of Thorikos (V) PA 8254; APF 283
PROTEAS son of Epikles of Aixone (VII) PA 12298
In autumn 431/30 the forces which they had commanded around the Peloponnese (see 432/1) joined in the invasion of the Megarid (Thuc. 2.31.1) and their generals probably still led them; Fornara, Generals 53.

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.
Thuc. 2.31.1, 55.2, 56 (cf. 6.31.2); Diod. 12.44.3 (430/29); Plut. Per. 34.1ff.; ?Lykourgos F 58. He led the expedition to the Megarid. Sources other than Thucydides say he drove out the Aiginetans and established klerouchs in their place. In summer 430 he led another expedition to the Peloponnese, making landings.

PHORMION son of Asopios (of Paiania) (III) PA 14958
Thuc. 2.29.6, 58.2; ?Front. Strat. 3.11.1. His activities in the north, joining with Perdikkas against the Chalkideans, may have been curtailed and he may have been involved in the invasion of the Megarid; Fornara, Generals 53f.

HAGNON son of Nikias of Steiria (III) PA 171; APF 227f.
Thuc. 2.58.1, 6.31.2; Diod. 12.46.2 (429/8). With Kleopompos in summer 430 he replaced Phormion and continued with the siege of Poteidaia into 430/29; Fornara, Generals 53f.

KLEOPOMPOS son of Kleinias (? of Skambonidai (IV) or Thria (VI)) PA 8613; APF 16
Thuc. 2.26.1, 58.1; Diod. 12.44.1 (430/29). He was in command of a fleet around Lokris and Euboia in summer 431 and had some success. Later he joined Hagnon at Poteidaia; Fornara, Generals 52ff. For the deme see the discussion in APF; Thria seems more likely.

Note: At IG i³ 366.6, as will be seen from discussion there, Meritt (SEG 10.226) restored a generalship for
[ARISTO]TELES (son of Timokrates) of Thorai (X) PA 2055

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) Taking the name of the archon at face value, the 'Papyrus Decree' (Strasbourg Papyrus Graeca 84; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 515; Fornara no. 94) will refer to this year in respect of a proposal concerned with money and the building programme (cf. 450/49):
Proposer
PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.
(ii) The text evidently continues with another decision, that the council should oversee the maintenance of old triremes and see that ten new ones were built each year.
(iii) Plut. Per. 34.1 mentions that Perikles kept the people happy with
(iv) distributions of money and specifically that he was responsible for the klerouchy to Aigina.

(v) At 2.24 (cf. 8.15.1) Thucydides reports in terms like a decree the decision to set aside a reserve fund of 1000 talents, not to be used except for defence of the city, and a reserve fleet of 100 triremes each year. One might well suspect that the initiative for this came from Perikles.

(vi) Thuc. 2.29 records first the proxeny for Nymphodoros of Abdera (Walbank no. 30), then mentions that Nymphodoros went to Athens and
(vii) arranged an alliance with Sitalkes of Thrace and had Sitalkes' son Sadokos
(viii) made an Athenian citizen (cf. 2.67.2; Osborne T 4).

PERIKLES son of Xanthippos of Cholargos (V) PA 11811; APF 457ff.

Thuc. 2.59.3, 65.3; Diod. 12.45.3f., Plut. Per. 35.4. Diodoros and Plutarch say he was removed from office, but Thucydides only mentions a fine; see Fornara, Generals 54f.

PHORMION son of Asopios (of Paiania) (III) PA 14958

Thuc. 2.69.1, 80ff.; Diod. 12.47.1, 48 (429/8); Paus. 10.11.6. He blockaded the Corinthian Gulf from winter on and engaged the Peloponnesian fleet with success; this probably continued into 429/8.

MELESANDROS PA 9803

Thuc. 2.69.1; Paus 1.29.7; TAM 1.44 (see ML 93). Sent to Karia and Lykia to collect money and prevent Peloponnesian obstruction, he was defeated and killed. I reject speculation on the demotic from a fourth-century trierarch (PA 9804; APF 388) or from a restoration with regard to Euetion, possible general of 414/13 (q.v.).

KALLIADES

Thuc. 2.70.3, 79; Diod. 12.47.3 (Xenophon and Phanomachos); Plut. Nik. 6.3 (Kalliades and Xenophon). They completed the siege of Poteidaia during winter and made an agreement for which they were faulted. They engaged the Chalkideans and Bottiaians in summer 429 and were subsequently killed at Spartolos. Thucydides does not mention Kalliades (he says there were three generals), but on him see Thompson, CQ 1969, 160f.

He was engaged in the Corinthian Gulf, landed in Akarnania and made arrangements there; he returned to Naupaktos and in the spring to Athens, where he was fined at his euthynai.

KLEIPPIDES son of Deinias of Acharnai (VI) PA 8521
Thuc. 3.3.2f., 4.1ff., 5.2ff.; Diod. 12.55.3f. (Kleinippides: 427/6). Sent with two others in summer 428 to deal with Mitylene; an armistice was made, but hostilities resumed. See Fornara, Generals 55.

HAGNON son of Nikias of Steiria (III) PA 171; APF 227f.
Thuc. 2.95.3 with schol. Thucydides mentions him as hegemon in the northern theatre and goes on to state the necessity of an Athenian force being in the area against the Chalkideans. It is a fair conclusion that he was general.

D[A]MIPPOS of Phyle (VI)

IG i³ 282 (ATL II.30 List 26). For the date see 430/29 and for Damippos in particular the following note.

Note: There would seem to be some chance of extracting officials from lines 250ff. of IG i³ 383 (i² 310.1ff.). If the demotic at 254f. is correctly restored we have a possible official:

-- of Aphidna (IX)

After that we encounter a reference to hieropoioi and we appear to have the remnants of two names:

--AS

EUTH--

The next reference is to hellenotamiai and this is intriguing, since we already know the names of some who filled that office in 429/8. The major problem is that we cannot be sure that the inscription is in fact confined to this one year, however much we may feel that it is. IG i³ suggests that this side of the stele had a range of 20 to 25 letters, but there seems little to prevent it having been a few letters more. Line 261 had the name of the secretary of the hellenotamiai, which post was filled in this year by Damippos of Phyle; if he is inserted with demotic in line 261, this consumes 28 letters. If the known hellenotamias Theodoros of Anagyrous is restored to lines 267f., line 268 will also contain 28 letters. The other names of which fragments survive could also belong to hellenotamiai:

-- of Melite (VII)

AISCHYL[OS]

--ES of Anaphlystos (X)

LYS--

The third of these could be the known Epikrates. For the last man, I would merely ponder a homonym of the hellenotamias of 407/6 (PA 9405) Lysitheos of Thymaitadai, which restoration would give line 281 a length of 28 letters.

ASOPIOS son of Phormion (of Paiania) (III) PA 2669
Thuc. 3.7.1ff. See Fornara, Generals 56, and for the demotic Phormion under 440/39. He went around the Peloponnese in summer 428 and then to Akarnania, where he failed to take Oiniadai. He was killed on the way back from Nerikos.

PACHES son of Epikouros PA 11746
Thuc. 3.18.3ff., 28, 33.2ff., 49; Diod. 12.55.5ff. (427/6); Front. Strat. 4.7.17; Plut. Nik. 6.1f.; Arist. 26.3; Polyainos 3.2. From autumn 428 he was in command on Lesbos, where he made terms with the Mitylenians and occupied Antissa. Having operated along the Ionian coast and taken Notion, he returned to Lesbos and further success. He was responsible for acting on the Athenian decrees (see Council and Assembly). Despite his apparent success, he fell on his sword while undergoing euthynai on the conduct of his generalship, if we believe what we are told; see Westlake, Phoenix 1975, 107–16.

LYSIKLES PA 9417

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 62 (ii² 55b) is a decree concerning the Aphytaians. For a defence of the date see SEG 30.10.

(ii) Thuc. 3.36ff. records the business over Mitylene (cf. Diod. 12.55). An initial decision was to execute prisoners in Athens and also the whole adult male population of Mitylene, women and children being enslaved:

Proposer

KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff.

At a second assembly Kleon spoke again, but his motion was just defeated
(iii) in favour of one proposed by a man who had also spoken at the first assembly:

Proposer

DIODOTOS son of Eukrates PA 3889

Thus the fortifications of Mitylene were destroyed, the land was divided into klerouchies, for the working of which Lesbians paid rent, and the Athenians took over the mainland possessions of Mitylene. The prisoners
(iv) in Athens were, nonetheless, put to death on the motion of Kleon.

Thuc. 3.51; Plut. Nik. 6.4; Comp. Nik. and Crassus 3.4; ?Athenaios 5.218b. He was engaged from summer 427 in blockading the Megarians, taking the island of Minoia. He was later sent to Melos (Thuc. 3.91.1ff.), but this will at least have extended into 426/5 (q.v.). Cf. Thompson, CQ 1969, 161f.

NIKOSTRATOS son of Dieitrephes (of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 11011

Thuc. 3.75. See Fornara, Generals 56f. In summer 427 he went from Naupaktos to try to settle matters in Corcyra. He was presumably in command of the Athenians in the naval fighting at Thuc. 3.77f. For the deme see MacDowell, CQ 1965, 41–51.

EURYMEDON son of Thoukles (? of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5973; APF 334

Thuc. 3.80.2ff., 85.1. See Fornara, Generals 56, 58, 78. He went to Corcyra with a fleet and sailed away again later. It has been suggested that he was the father of Speusippos (see APF). The association which provides his deme seems highly likely (but cf. Thompson, Phoros 147). Fornara disapproves, but see also MacDowell, CQ 1965, 44f. n.4. He is likely to be the general from Myrrhinous in IG i$^3$ 369 of 423/2; Lang and Meritt (CQ 1968, 90) have the general in the inscription, but Mattingly (ABSA 1970, 137f.) follows a suggestion of Lewis (JHS 1961, 119) that we have an hellenotamias. See also Gomme, Comm. Thuc. III.627f.

CHAROIADES son of Euphiletos PA 15529

They were sent out to Sicily where they engaged in operations, Charoiades being killed in battle with the Syracusans. Laches took Mylai and Messina surrendered.

DEMOSTHENES son of Alkisthenes of Aphidna (IX) PA 3585; APF 112f.
PROKLES son of Theodoros PA 12214
Thuc. 3.91.1 with schol., 94ff.; Diod. 12.60.1ff. (425/4); Plut. Nik. 6.3. They were sent around the Peloponnese in summer 426 and then ravaged the territory of Leukas and Aitolia, with initial success, but eventual losses, including Prokles (not mentioned by Diodoros). Demosthenes was afraid to return to Athens. On his subsequent status and chronological matters see Fornara, Generals 57.

I do not think the chronological attributions used here are seriously undermined by Bloedow (Chiron 1981, 65–72), who places Hipponikos in particular in this year. The Athenians will have known when Nikias went to Melos whether he and Hipponikos would be generals in 426/5, but not how long their missions might take.

Thuc. 3.91.4f. and for Eurymedon 115.5, 4.2ff., 8.4, 13.2ff.; Diod. 12.54.6f. (Eurymedon: 427/6), 65.3ff. (Hipponikos: 424/3); Strabo 8.4.2; Athenaios 5.218b (Hipponikos). The two of them led forces into Boiotia and joined with Nikias (q.v.). In winter Eurymedon was associated with Sophokles (q.v.) in command of forces to go to Sicily and help Corcyra on the way, but they became involved in the capture of Pylos and Sphakteria.

SOPHOKLES son of Sostratides PA 12827
Thuc. 3.115.5; 4.2ff., 8.4, 13.2ff.; Philochoros FGH 328 F 127; Diod. 12.54.6f. (427/6); Strabo 8.4.2. See under Eurymedon, with whom he was probably associated in the fleet's activity around Pylos (Thuc. 4.15.2, 16.1 mentions 'the generals' in regard to the armistice). On the lack of demotic or tribal affiliation see Whitehead, JHS 1980, 210.

LACHES son of Melanopos of Aixone (VII) PA 9019
Thuc. 3.103.1ff., 115.6; Philochoros FGH 328 F 127. He remained in Sicily, with little success, before being relieved by Pythodoros.

PYTHODOROS son of Isolochos of Phlya (VII) PA 12399
Thuc. 3.115.2ff., 4.2.2; Philochoros FGH 328 F 127. Sent in winter with the advance force to take over from Laches in Sicily, he was defeated by Lokrians.

SIMONIDES PA 12713
Thuc. 4.7. He captured Eion in Thrace in summer 425, but was driven out again.

HIPPOKRATES (son of Ariphron) of Cholargos (V) PA 7640; APF 456
IG i³ 369.3 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134). It is not known where he operated; he is attested in Athens.

Note: Prokles and Demosthenes are not to be included; see Fornara, Generals 57, 58; contra Lewis, JHS 1961, 119f. Neither is Lamachos (Fornara 58) and I cannot see that he need be given any other rank. His generalship mentioned at Ar. Acharn. 593ff., will refer to an earlier year. Davies, Wealth 151, includes him as taxiarch, citing Ar. Acharn. 569 and 1073ff., but I am not persuaded.

Nauarchoi

HIEROPHON son of Antimnestos PA 7515
ARISTOTELES son of Timokrates (of Thorai) (X) PA 2055
Thuc. 3.105.3, 107.1. They became involved around Akarnania. For the demotic of Aristoteles see Fornara, Generals 58, and IG i³ 366.[6] (i² 299; SEG 10.226). For their status, which cannot be regarded as totally secure, see above p. 6; Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 238f. = Navy 128f.

Tamiai of Athene

ANDROKLES of Phlya (VII) PA 873
?[KAL]L[IA]DES of Anakaia (VIII)

Grammateus

KEPHISOPHON son of Kephisodoros of Hermos (V) PA 8413
For Androkles and Kephisophon IG i³ 300.4f. (i² 240.92f.); for Androkles i³ 369.2,14,15f. (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134); for Kephisophon i³ 299.41 (i² 239.78); 301.18f. (i² 241.103f.); 324.58 (i² 263.51); 350.64 (SEG 24.38); for Kalliades i³ 468.8 (i² 368), where see the apparatus ad loc. for possibilities and for the following lines. An inventory of the year is i³ 300.

Envoys

LEOGO[RAS] PA 9072
[PL]EISTIAS
IG i³ 61.51 (i² 57; ML 65; Fornara no. 128). Ambassadors to Perdikkas of Makedon.

?MEGAKLES son of Megakles of Alopeke (X) PA 9697; APF 381
?LAMACHOS son of Xenophanes of Oe (VI) PA 8981
Ar. Acharn. 614. Evidently they had been on an embassy soon before the production of Acharnians; see APF.

?THEOROS PA 7223
Ar. Acharn. 134ff. with schol. ad 134. Aristophanes says he had been sent to Sitalkes, but the reality of the mission cannot be relied upon; cf. MacDowell, Wasps 133.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 61 (i² 57; ML 65; Fornara no. 128; SEG 32.8) includes at lines 32ff. a probouleumatic decree of pryt. Hippothontis concerning the Methonians:
Grammateus
MEGAKLEIDES of Leukonoion (IV) PA 9687
Bouleutes epistates
NI[K]OM[ACHOS] or NI[K]OM[EDES]
Proposer
KLEONYMOS
The secretary is also known from IG i³ 369.5 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134); 468.3f. (i² 368), and he was first secretary, as we know from IG i³ 369, which also gives us other prytanies of the year: 2. Kekropis; 4. Pandionis; 8. Akamantis; 10. Erechtheis.

(ii) IG i³ 68 (i² 65; Fornara no. 133) is a decree of pryt. Kekropis regulating the collection of tribute:
Grammateus
POLEMARCHOS PA 11881
Bouleutes epistates
ONASOS PA 11443
Proposers
KLEONYM[OS]
P . . . KRITOS

(iii) A further decree follows at lines 30ff., again of Kekropis with the same secretary largely restored and Kleonymos wholly restored as proposer:
Bouleutes epistates
[H]YGIAINON

(iv) IG i³ 69 (ii² 71; Walbank no. 42) is a proxeny decree, again of pryt. Kekropis and with the secretary restored, along with Hygiainon as epistates and Kleonymos as proposer.

(v) Thuc. 4.17ff. reports an address of Spartan delegates; but they failed to achieve anything, having received a series of demands in reply:
Proposer
KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff.
See also Philochoros FGH 328 F 128.

STRATOKLES PA 12927
Diod. 12.60.1; Strabo 8.4.2 (emended); hyp. Ar. Knights; schol. Ar. Clouds 575; IG i³ 71.56f., 59 (i² 63; ML 69; Fornara no. 136); 369.17 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134); ?IG xiv 1097.[14].

Strategoi

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.
Thuc. 4.27.5ff., 42ff., 53.1, 54ff.; Diod. 12.65.5ff. (424/3); Plut. Nik. 6.4f., 7.3f., Comp. Nik. and Crassus 3.4, Alk. 14.5, Mor. 345d; Polyainos 1.39.1; Diog. 1.72; Suda s.v. Νικίας; IG i³ 369.[20f.] (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134).

See Fornara, Generals 59. He stood down from the command at Pylos in 'favour' of Kleon. Then, with two others, in summer 425 he led a force against the territory of Corinth with success. He conducted raids in the north-eastern Peloponnese and returned to Athens. Then, with Nikostratos and Autokles in summer 424, he took Kythera, ravaged the coast and sailed north, capturing Thyrea. He took back prisoners.

NIKOSTRATOS son of Dieitrephes of Skambonidai (IV) PA 11011
AUTOKLES son of Tolmaios of Anaphlystos (X) PA 2724 = ?2717; APF 74
Thuc. 4.53ff. See above on Nikias.

DEMOSTHENES son of Alkisthenes of Aphidna (IX) PA 3585; APF 112f.
Thuc. 4.29ff.; Diod. 12.61f.; Plut. Nik. 7.1, Mor. 345d, 347a, 349d, 351a–b; Paus. 1.13.5; Polyainos 3.1.1; schol. Ar. Knights 55; IG i³ 369.18 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134).

See Fornara, Generals 59. He was in command with Kleon in the successful operation at Pylos, receiving the surrender of Spartans and returning to Athens.

ARISTEIDES son of Archippos PA 1685
DEMODOKOS of Anagyrous (I) PA 3464
LAMACHOS son of Xenophanes of Oe (VI) PA 8981
Thuc. 4.50.1 (Aristeides), 75.1; Diod. 12.72.3f. (423/2). They commanded tribute-collecting ships. Aristeides captured a Persian at Eion. Later they were all in a troubled Pontos–Hellespont area, where they retook Antandros.

SOPHOKLES son of Sostratides PA 12827
PYTHODOROS son of Isolochos of Phlya (VII) PA 12399
EURYMEDON son of Thoukles (? of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5973; APF 334
Thuc. 4.46ff., 65.2f.; Timaios FGH 566 F 22 (Eurymedon). Engaged against the exiled party of Corcyra, they incurred discredit in their handling of prisoners. The Athenian force then sailed to Sicily, where peace was made. Pythodoros and Sophokles were banished, Eurymedon fined on suspicion of bribery to leave Sicily.

?HYPERBOLOS son of Antiphanes of Perithoidai (VI) PA 13910; APF 517 Ar. Knights 1303ff.; schol. Ar. Acharn. 846, Peace 1319. The passage in Knights indicates that Hyperbolos was general in this year, where he is (pace Connor, New Politicians 146 n.17) placed by Camon, GIF 1963, 46ff., though Camon is not entirely sure that he was general (p. 58). The two scholia say that he was, but these might not count for much, were it not that at Knights 1313 the word στρατηγῶν is used. This does not seem to be a reference to Hyperbolos' trierarchy (Camon 51ff.), which I decline to date. Scepticism towards evidence on Hyperbolos is especially visible in Baldwin, AClass 1971, 151–6.

KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff. Thuc. 4.28.3f., 29ff.; Dem. 40.25; Diod. 12.63.4; Plut. Nik. 7.3f., 8.1, Comp. Nik. and Crassus 3.4, Mor. 345d, 349d; schol. Ar. Knights 55, Clouds 187, 609; Suda s.v. Κλέων.

See Fornara, Generals 59, and above on Nikias and Demosthenes. Though other sources call him strategos, Thucydides does not and we should view this as an extraordinary appointment, although we may include it among the generals.

Note: The text at Diod. 12.72.3 has one Symmachos sent out with Aristeides against Mitylenian exiles from Antandros. Thuc. 4.75 is specific that there were three generals in the area and Symmachos is likely to be a confusion with, or corruption of, Lamachos.

Hipparchoi

?SIMON PA 12687

Thuc. 4.27.3. They were elected for, but did not go on a fact-finding mission to Pylos. On Theogenes cf. MacDowell, Wasps 283f.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 71 (i² 63; ML 69; SEG 31.13; Fornara no. 136) contains two
(ii) probouleumatic decrees concerning the assessment of tribute, both proposed by the same man:

Proposer

THOUDIPPOS (? of Araphen) (II) PA 7251 = ?7252; APF 228f.

The first secretary is reconstructed from lines 56 and 59 and IG i³ 369.17 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134):

Grammateus

PLEISTIAS PA 11864

The first decree is restored to pryt. Leontis (but see SEG 32.9):

Grammateus

. . . . ON

The second, which begins at line 54, is of pryt. Aigeis:

Grammateus

[PHIL]IP[POS]

Bouleutes epistates

. . . .⁷. . . OROS

(iii) IG i³ 61 (i² 57; ML 65; Fornara no. 128) begins at line 56 a decree of pryt. Kekropis (fifth or sixth prytany) concerning the Methonians:

Grammateus

. . . .⁷. . . ES

Bouleutes epistates

H[I]EROKLEIDES PA 7462

Other prytanies are known from IG i³ 369.16ff.; 4. Oineis, 9. Pandionis.

Thuc. 4.27ff. reports how Kleon and Theogenes were chosen kataskopoi

(see above) and how Kleon blamed Nikias for problems at Pylos; Nikias
(iv) suggested Kleon go to deal with it, as he himself stood down. The arrangements for Kleon's expedition were made in the assembly and Demosthenes was chosen to be Kleon's colleague (cf. Plut. Nik. 7).

(v) Thuc. 4.41 (cf. Diod. 12.63) records the Athenian decision to keep the Spartan prisoners in jail and kill them if the Peloponnesians invaded. The Athenians also rejected Spartan approaches.

(vi) Thuc. 4.57 records Athenian decisions concerning inhabitants of Kythera, Aiginetan prisoners and Tantalos the Spartan commander.

Archon

ISARCHOS PA 7685
Philochoros FGH 328 FF 123, 129, 130; Diod. 12.65.1 (alternative Hipparchos); Athenaios 5.218d; schol. Ar. Clouds 549; hyp. Ar. Clouds A 6; IG i³ 369.[25] (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134); ii² 2318.[96].

Strategoi

HIPPOKRATES son of Ariphron of Cholargos (V) PA 7640; APF 456
DEMOSTHENES son of Alkisthenes of Aphidna (IX) PA 3585; APF 112f.
Thuc. 4.66ff., 72.2ff., 74.2, 76f., 89ff., 101.1ff.; Xen. Mem. 3.5.4 (Hippokrates); Diod. 12.66, 69f.; Plut. Nik. 6.3, Mor. 833d (cf. 581d); Paus. 3.6.1, 9.6.3.

See Fornara, Generals 59. They were first involved in summer 424 in the attempt on Megara, which was then lost to Brasidas, the Athenians going home. Attention was then on Boiotia. Demosthenes sailed to Naupaktos to raise an army to take Siphai; he forced certain Akarnanians to join the Athenian alliance, but Siphai could not be taken. Hippokrates led the failure at Delion in winter and lost his life. Demosthenes had a failure at Sikyon.

LAMACHOS son of Xenophanes of Oe (VI) PA 8981
Thuc. 4.75.2; Diod. 12.72.4. See Fornara, Generals 59f. He lost his ships in the Pontos and marched to Chalkedon in summer 424.

EUKLES PA 5704
THUCYDIDES son of Oloros of Halimous (IV) PA 7267; APF 233ff.
Thuc. 4.104.4ff., 5.26.5; Marcellinus vita Thuc. 23, 46; anon. vita Thuc. 3; schol. Thuc. 4.104.4. Eukles, defending Amphipolis, during winter sent for Thucydides, who was at Thasos. Amphipolis was lost. Thucydides defended Eion. For his pains he was banished from Athens.

NIKOSTRATOS son of Dieitrephes of Skambonidai (IV) PA 11011
NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.

AUTOKLES son of Tolmaios of Anaphlystos (X) PA 2724 = ?2717; APF 74
Thuc. 4.119.2. They were signatories to the truce with Sparta.

KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff.
Ar. Clouds 581ff. See Fornara, Generals 59, 61, for the fact of the generalship. We know of no actions.

Note: For erroneous views on the generals of this year see MacDowell, CQ 1965, 41ff.

Officers?
HIPPONIKOS son of Kallias of Alopeke (X) PA 7658; APF 262f.
LACHES son of Melanopos of Aixone (VII) PA 9019
And. 4.13 speaks of the death of Hipponikos as general at Delion, but this is either confusion (with Hippokrates), falsehood or an elevation of Hipponikos' actual status. Cic. de div. 1.54.123 mentions Laches too as praetor, but he could have been an officer of some sort. The absence of both from Thucydides' account seems enough in this instance to deny them generalships.

Tamiai of Athene
THOUKYDIDES (son of Ariston) of Acherdous (VIII) PA 7271; APF 54
Grammateus
SMIKYTH[OS] or SMIKYTH[ON] PA 12773
IG i³ 302.28f.,37 (i² 242.112f., 121); for Thoukydides i³ 369.25,34,35 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134); for the secretary i³ 301.17f. (i² 241.102f.); 303.41f. (i² 243.124f.). An inventory of the year is i³ 302. For the patronymic of Thoukydides see Androtion FGH 324 F 57 and APF. For the secretary see Thompson, Hesperia 1965, 311 n.5.

Hellenotamias
CHAROPIDES of Skambonidai (IV) PA 15534
IG i³ 369.27 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134).

Hieromnemon
?HYPERBOLOS son of Antiphanes of Perithoidai (VI) PA 13910; APF 517
Ar. Clouds 624. The scholiast to the passage says that there was no record of Hyperbolos holding the position in this year and Camon, GIF 1963, 49ff., argues that the reference came in the revised version of Clouds; but cf. Connor, New Politicians 114 n.46. For Aristophanes to have written τῆτες in a revised, non-performed version seems highly unlikely. See also Roux, L'amphictionie 24.

Envoys

AGAK[LES ?]
IG i³ 75.34f. (i² 87). They were to swear to the alliance with Halieis.

ARISTONYMOS
Thuc. 4.122.1ff. He brought the news of armistice to Brasidas in Chalkidike, refusing to include Skione. He reported to Athens. Envoy is the best categorization I can find.

EPILYKOS son of Teisandros PA 4925; APF 297
And. 3.29. He was ambassador to Persia (cf. Thuc. 4.50). This is the date I prefer, after Andrewes, Historia 1961, 1ff.; also Wade-Gery, Essays 207ff.; Meiggs, Ath. Empire 134ff. For other suggestions see Raubitschek, GRBS 1964, 155ff. (just before 415); Thompson, Klio 1971, 119–24 (424–418); Murison, Phoenix 1971, 24ff. (425/4); Blamire, Phoenix 1975, 21–6 (422/1). Meister, Ungeschichtlichkeit 79ff., argues that no treaty was made.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The name of the first secretary, in pryt. Hippothontis, is known from IG i³ 369.26 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134):
Grammateus
[EPI]L[Y]KOS (? son of Teisandros) PA 4925; APF 297

(i) IG i³ 36 (i² 25; LS no. 12; ML 71; Fornara no. 139) is a decree of pryt. Aigeis concerning the priestess of Athene Nike:
Grammateus
NEOKLEIDES PA 10631
Bouleutes epistates
HAGNODEMOS PA 136
Proposer
KALLIAS PA 7810
The secretary also appears in IG i³ 75 and is restored in IG i³ 74 (for which see below). He has been restored also in IG i² 68 (SEG 10.81), but this is not approved at IG i³ 72, which dates the inscription to ?414. This document, with the secretary Phileas that it exhibits, is best placed in the appendix to this Section. Of the more recent literature see Thompson, Klio 1971, 122; Bradeen and McGregor, Studies 90.

(ii) IG i³ 74 (i² 145; Walbank no. 46) is a decree restored to the prytany of Aigeis (Walbank is somewhat more cautious) giving proxeny to Sotimos of Herakleia or Herakleion.

(iii) IG i³ 75 (i² 87) is another decree of pryt. Aigeis concerning the treaty with Halieis:
Proposer
LACHES (son of Melanopos of Aixone) (VII) PA 9019

(iv) IG i³ 61 (i² 57; ML 65; Fornara no. 128) will have been a decree of pryt. Akamantis (eighth prytany; IG i³ 369.32f.) collecting together the decrees concerning Methone:
Grammateus
PHAINIPPOS son of Phrynichos PA 13979
Phainippos also appears in IG i³ 73 and Thuc. 4.118.11 (on which see below).

(v) The first part of IG i³ 73 (i² 70; Walbank no. 45) is an undated decree seemingly granting proxeny to Potamodoros, his son and others of Orchomenos:
Proposer
ARCH[ESTRATOS] ?PA 2411
In fact, I do not think we can believe with any confidence the identity of this man with the son of Lykomedes, as suggested at PA. There follows a
(vi) decree restored to pryt. Akamantis of this year giving further honours, wherein Archestratos proposes a rider:
Bouleutes epistates
AGA . . . ? . . .
Proposer
[HE]RMODOROS

(vii) IG i³ 227 (ii² 8; ML 70; Walbank no. 47) is a probouleumatic decree possibly of pryt. Pandionis granting proxeny to Herakleides of Klazomenai (now made certain by the association with IG ii² 65: Walbank, ZPE 51 (1983), 183–4 (SEG 32.10)):
Grammateus
S--
Bouleutes epistates
[N]EOKLEIDES ?PA 10631
Proposer
THOUKYDIDE[S] PA 7264
The date has been disputed; see the apparatus to IG i³; Henry, CSCA 1978, 86; SEG 30.13. We cannot be confident enough to restore the name Simon for the secretary (= PA 12686).

Thuc. 4.117ff. deals with the making of an armistice between the Spartans
(viii) and Athenians. This includes an Athenian decree of 14 Elaphebolion and of pryt. Akamantis:
Bouleutes epistates
NIKIADES PA 10765
Proposer
LACHES (son of Melanopos of Aixone) (VII) PA 9019

Thuc. 4.122 records Athenian reaction to the report of Aristonymos (above
(ix) envoys) which led to a decree to recapture Skione and execute its inhabitants:

Proposer

KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff.

Erechtheis was sixth or seventh prytany: IG i³ 369.31.

423/2 (Ol. 89.2)

Archon

AMEINIAS PA 670

Diod. 12.72.1; Athenaios 5.218d; hyp. Ar. Clouds A 6 (Koster); schol. Ar. Clouds 31c, 549 (Androtion FGH 324 F 40); hyp. i Ar. Wasps; schol. Lucian Tim. 30; IG i³ 369.[37], [56] (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134); ii² 2318.[108].

Strategoi

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.

NIKOSTRATOS son of Dieitrephes of Skambonidai (IV) PA 11011

Thuc. 4.129.2ff.; Diod. 12.72.8ff.; Plut. Nik. 6.4; cf. IG i³ 369. [56f.] with apparatus (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134). See Fornara, Generals 61. In summer 423 they were in command against Mende and Skione, the former being captured, the latter blockaded.

KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff.

Thuc. 5.2f.; Diod. 12.73.2f. (422/1); Suda s.v. Κλέων. See Fornara, Generals 61f. He was sent out to Chalkidike in summer 422 and took Torone, whence he set out for Amphipolis. Some of this may have spread into 422/1.

(? EURYMEDON son of Thoukles) of Myrrhinous (III) PA 5973; APF 334

IG i³ 369.38 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134). See Lang, Hesperia 1965, 235. The demotic is in the inscription. For the association with Eurymedon see 427/6.

Note: See also the envoy Amynias and the appendix to this Section on Sophokles.

Tamiai of Athene

TIMOKLES of Eitea (V) PA 13733

Grammateus

TELESTES son of Theognis of Hagnous (V) PA 13546; APF 220

IG i³ 302.29f. (i² 242.113f.); 303.39f., 48 (i² 243.122f., 131); for Timokles i³ 369.36, [46f.], 52 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134). An inventory of the year is i³ 303.

Tamias of the other gods
GORGOINOS son of Oineides of Ikarion (II) PA 3082
IG i³ 369.55f.,76,77 (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134).

Envoys
PHAIAX son of Erasistratos of Acharnai (VI) PA 13921; APF 521f.
Thuc. 5.4f.; cf. And. 4.41. Sent to Sicily and Italy, he won over Kamarina and Akragas to oppose Syracuse, but not Gela. On his way back he conducted negotiations with some cities and made arrangements with Lokrian settlers. On And. 4 see Burn, CQ 1954, 138–42.

AMYNIAS son of Pronapes (? of Prasiai) (III) PA 737; APF 471
Ar. Wasps 1271ff. with schol. on 1271 (Eupolis F 209 Edmonds, with schol. Ar. Clouds 691). MacDowell, CQ 1965, 50 (cf. Wasps 139), argues for a generalship; this, though possible, seems unlikely. Amynias was ambassador to Pharsalos in Thessaly. The deme comes from the identification of the father suggested by Raubitschek, DAA 207, 463 (with references; cf. APF).

Theoroi
?ANDROKLES of Pithos (VII) PA 870
?KLEISTHENES son of Sibyrtios PA 8525
Ar. Wasps 1187 with MacDowell's commentary 284f. However, I am not confident as to the actuality of their sacred embassy.

Note: MacDowell, Wasps 138ff., argues that the men mentioned at Wasps 74–82 should all be officials of this year. They include Nikostratos and Amynias, who are dealt with above; also a SOSIAS (son of Pythis: PA 13177; cf. the unplaced hellenotamias of the name in the appendix to Section IV), although it is suspected that the name is an intrusion, perhaps replacing Nikias; and finally a DERKYLOS (PA 3247).

The credentials for the inclusion of the synegoros -- son of Chaireas (PA 15091), on whom see MacDowell, Wasps 226f., might depend upon what sort of synegoros he was.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary, of pryt. Akamantis, is found at IG i³ 369.37, [57] (i² 324; ML 72; Fornara no. 134):

During summer 422 he conducted diplomatic moves from Eion, failed to take Stagiros, took Galepsos, and then lost his life at the battle around Amphipolis.

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.
?LACHES son of Melanopos of Aixone (VII) PA 9019
?EUTHYDEMOS son of Eudemos PA 5521
Thuc. 5.19.2, 24.1. Nikias and Laches are associated in bringing about the treaty at Thuc. 5.43.2 (see 5.16.1 for Nikias). The three appear together among those who took the oath for peace and alliance, and I share the inference that they were selected from the generals (Andrewes and Lewis, JHS 1957, 180), as well as the further conclusion that Lamachos and Demosthenes, being separated from these three, were not chosen qua generals (which is not to rule out the possibility that they could have been generals). Generalships for Prokles and Pythodoros, who follow this trio in the lists, are possible if (and why not?) the generals were not listed in tribal order, but the explanation of Andrewes and Lewis (see further below) seems preferable. In any event, that Nikias was general is all but certain (cf. also Plut. Nik. 9f.).

Tamiai of Athene

Grammateus

PRESBIAS son of Semias of Phegous (I) PA 12185; APF 66f.
IG i³ 303.40 (i² 243.123); 325.3f., 10f. (i² 264.56f.,63f.); 351.2 (i² 280.71; Fornara no. 141); 352.28f. (i² 281.95f.). Inventories of the year are i³ 325 and 351.

Epistatai of Eleusis

Grammateus

PHILOSTRATOS of Kydathenaion (III) PA 14736
IG i³ 391.[2], 9f. (i² 311.3, 10f.).

Oath takers

The following took the oaths for peace and alliance. The reconstruction of Andrewes and Lewis (JHS 1957, 177–80) has Lampon and Isthm(i)onikos as religious officials, Nikias, Laches and Euthydemos as generals (qq.v.), then ten chosen commissioners, with Lamachos and Demosthenes added to make up the number. Deme/tribe attributions were made so as to demonstrate tribal order, which could be correct, but other possibilities are noted. The names come from Thuc. 5.19.2, 24.1.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 391.7 (i² 311.8) tells us who was first secretary (for whom cf. also SEG 25.43b.2). He appears in IG i³ 79 (i² 81), a decree of pryt. Aigeis concerning the building of a bridge near Eleusis:
Grammateus
PREPIS son of Eupheros PA 12184
Bouleutes epistates
PATROKLES PA 11696
Proposer
THEAIOS PA 6642
For the date see Meritt and McGregor, Phoenix 1967, 158ff. The deme Xypete (VII) has been suggested for Prepis: Raubitschek, DAA 229; Mattingly, BCH 1968, 476.

(ii) IG i³76 (i² 90) is the remains of a decree concerning a treaty with the Bottiaians:
Proposer
EUKRATES

(iii) IG i³ 77 (i² 64) is a tribute assessment.

IG i³ 78 will be found in the appendix to this section.

(iv) Thuc. 5.14ff. records the making of peace and alliance, the peace to be effective from 25 Elaphebolion.

Plut. Nik. 10.3ff. Fornara, Generals 62, seems correct in arguing for the generalship, though Plutarch does not call him general.

Tamiai of Athene
EUPHEMOS of Kollytos (II) PA 6042; APF 206
Grammateus
NIKEAS son of Euthykles of Halimous (IV) PA 10728
IG i³ 325.4f. (i² 264.57f.); 326.14f.,23f. (i² 265.66f.,75f.); 351.4f. (i² 280.72f.; Fornara no. 141); 352.26f. (i² 281.93f.); for Nikeas i³ 327.28 (i² 266.80); 353.52 (i² 282.109). Inventories of the year are i³ 326 and 352.

Tamiai of the other gods

--A]RCHIDES of Kephale (V)
ERGAMENES of Acharnai (VI) PA 5046
ARISTOKRATES of Phaleron (IX) PA 1925; APF 60
ARISTOTELES (? of Thorai) (X)

IG i³ 285 (ATL II.33 List 34; SEG 25.43). Aristoteles' deme is by association with the general of 426/5 (cf. 431/3); perhaps this is a little adventurous, but the tribe will be correct.

Epistatai of statues for the Hephaisteion
APOLEXIS son of Smikythos of Iphistiadai (V)
CHAIREAS son of Epi[gon]os of Hagnous (V) PA 15099
PEISANDROS son of Glauketes of Acharnai (VI) PA 11770

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary is restored at IG i³ 285 (ATL II.33 List 34; SEG 25.43a) and found at i³ 472.5 (i² 370):
Grammateus
MENEKLES of Anaphlystos (X)

(i) IG i³ 80 (i² 82; Walbank no. 49) is a proxeny decree of pryt. Hippothontis for Asteas of Aleia:

Bouleutes epistates
TIMIAS PA 13657
Proposer
THRASYKLES PA 7317

(ii) IG i³ 82 (i² 84; LS no. 13) is a probouleumatic decree of the same prytany concerning the Hephaistia:
Proposer
HYPE[RBOLOS ?] (son of Antiphanes of Perithoidai) (VI) PA 13910; APF 517
The reason for restoring Hyperbolos is that he was possibly a bouleutes this year; see IG i³ apparatus and Edmonds on Plato com. F 166–7.

(iii) IG i³ 81 (i² 83; Walbank no. 48) is a proxeny decree for Polystratos (? of Phleious) and perhaps his brother; it is restored as probouleumatic.

Envoy
NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.
Thuc. 5.46.2ff. Whether or not he was general, he was one of a number sent to Sparta with requirements and other instructions concerning complaints. At his request the Spartans renewed the oaths.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 83 is the alliance with Argos, Mantineia and Elis; see above generals and Thuc. 5.42ff.; Plut. Mor. 351b. Thucydides tells of the Spartan envoys coming before the council and of subsequent assemblies at which
(ii) Alkibiades and Nikias spoke; the decision was to send the embassy to Sparta:

K[LEOMEDES] (son of Lykomedes of Phlya) (VII) PA 8598; APF 347

IG i³ 370.17,21 (i² 302.16,20; ML 77; Fornara no. 144). See Fornara, Generals 62f. ML will not be committed to restoring Alkibiades and he is only in the apparatus to IG i³; I do not believe that Thuc. 5.61.2 and Diod. 12.79.1 are a conclusive bar to it (cf. Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. IV.88). Kallistratos is much safer (see the secretary of 429/8). He is associated with Nikias in preparations for an expedition to the north (see Comm. Thuc. IV.154). That the third general was Kleomedes is ventured in ML (cf. APF).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary is found at IG i³ 287 (ATL II.33 List 33; ML 75; Fornara no. 142; see above for date); 472.16 (i² 370.14):
Grammateus
. . . ? . . . of Aphidna (IX)

(i) IG i³ 84 (i² 94; LS no. 14) is a probouleumatic decree of pryt. Pandionis concerning the precinct of Neleus, Basile and Kodros:

Pandionis was ninth prytany and Aigeis tenth; see i³ 84.19 and the note to line 2.

(ii) IG i³ 85 (i² 95) seems to have been an honorary decree, seemingly also in the ninth prytany (but see SEG 29.14):
Proposer

Strategoi

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.
Thuc. 5.83.4. He was set to command an expedition to Chalkidike and Amphipolis which had to be abandoned.

ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff. Thuc. 5.84.1; Diod. 12.81.2f.; Plut. Alk. 15.2f. He went in summer 416 to Argos to expel pro-Spartans.

KLEOMEDES son of Lykomedes of Phlya (VII) PA 8598; APF 347
TEISIAS son of Teisimachos of Kephale (V) PA 13479; APF 501ff.
Thuc. 5.84.3, 114; IG i³ 370.29f., [32] (i² 302; ML 77; Fornara no. 144). Generals against Melos in summer 416. When the Melians would not submit, they blockaded the place and went home with the bulk of the forces.

Paredros?
RHINON son of Charikles of Paiania (III) PA 12532; APF 67
IG i³ 370.26f. (i² 302; ML 77; Fornara no. 144). See Fornara, Generals 63. A generalship is possible, but unlikely, I think, given the run of the inscription. For the suggestion of paredros cf. the apparatus to IG i³.

For the deme see Meritt, Hesperia 1945, 123. There is no proposer, unless the letters SY- began a name; the restoration in IG i³ is not of a name and the bill could originate from syngrapheis; see the apparatus in i³.

Thuc. 5.114. See 416/15 and Fornara, Generals 63; Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. IV.189. That they remained generals at Melos is further strengthened by the arguments rehearsed in APF.

PHILOKRATES son of Demeas PA 14585

Thuc. 5.116.3f. He brought another force to Melos in winter and the surrender was secured. Thucydides does not call him general, but the implication is likely.

ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.

LAMACHOS son of Xenophanes of Oe (VI) PA 8981

Thuc. 6.8.2ff., 42ff.; Isok. 16.7 (Alkibiades); Diod. 12.84.3; Justin 4.4.3; Plut. Nik. 12.3f., 14.1, Alk. 18.1f.; schol. Ar. Acharn. 258; schol. Thuc. 6.9.1 (Nikias); IG i³ 370.49ff. (Alkibiades and Lamachos restored; i² 302; ML 77; Fornara no. 144).

See Fornara, Generals 63f. Generals to Sicily, they travelled via Corcyra to Rhegion. That they were generals in this year is made certain by the inscription. They were made autokratores, but as they were evidently chosen for Sicily after the elections for 415/14, they were not in this year or the next apart from the regularly elected generals. Whether they were so separated in the next years will be considered under 414/13.

Paredros ?

ANTIMACHOS of Hermos (V) PA 1123; APF 37

IG i³ 370.53,55,57 (i² 302.41,43,45,47; ML 77; Fornara no. 144). The inscription does not specify the position, but this suggestion seems likely.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary is found at IG i³ 289 (ATL II.36 List 39) and restored at i³ 370.36 (i² 302; ML 77; Fornara no. 144):

Grammateus

The secretary Archikles (i³ 91; 92) would fit, but see the appendix to this Section.

(i) Thuc. 6.6 tells of the arguments of the Egestaians and their supporters in assemblies which led to a decision to send an embassy to Egesta.

The debate on the Sicilian expedition is recorded by Thuc. 6.8ff.; Plut.
(ii) *Nik.*12, Alk. 17f. On receipt of information from Egesta, the force and generals were voted. Five days later another assembly further considered the forces and supplies and was addressed by Nikias and Alkibiades. Nikias spoke again and unexpectedly found the Athenians convinced that a larger force was necessary. Nikias was then forced to be more specific and the
(iii) Athenians voted full powers to the generals to arrange the expedition; Plutarch names the proposer:

DEMOSTRATOS PA 3611; APF 105f.

See APF for possible demes.

(iv) Connected with this could well be the decrees regarding the Sicilian expedition found at IG i³ 93 (i² 98/99; ML 78; Fornara no. 146).

The affair of the Hermokopidai, which involved Alkibiades, entailed speeches in the assembly: Thuc. 6.28; Plut. Alk. 19. And. 1.11 mentions an assembly just before the generals left for Sicily at which there spoke Pythonikos.

See Fornara, Generals 64; for their status see 416/15. In Sicily Alkibiades won the strategic debate and sought support of Sicilian towns and reconnoitred. After he escaped to avoid return to Athens and prosecution, other diplomatic and military efforts were mounted, a success being recorded before Syracuse and later Epipolai being taken.

TEISANDROS PA 13455

Diod. 13.7.1 (Pisandros or Peisandros); IG i³ [371] (i² 297); ii² 4960.23f. (SEG 25.226.34f.); 6217.2.

Strategoi

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.

LAMACHOS son of Xenophanes of Oe (VI) PA 8981

Thuc. 6.98ff., 7.1ff., 22ff.; Diod. 13.7ff.; Plut. Nik. 17ff.; Polyainos 1.39.3 (Nikias); schol. Thuc. 6.101.6 (Lamachos); schol. Ar. Thesm. 841; IG i³ 371.[11](cf. line 7).

As with 415/14, the precise division of actions between years cannot be made. They proceeded to build fortifications around Syracuse and fought engagements by land and sea. Things began to go badly and Nikias sent an urgent letter to Athens. Lamachos died and Nikias fell ill.

The position favoured by Fornara, Generals 64f., is that the autokratores were apart from the ten elected generals, which would help him to explain that he has a total of eleven generals for the year. This is properly to omit Euthydemos and Menandros, who were chosen in addition (προσείλοντο: Thuc. 7.16.1) from those in Sicily to serve until the replacements should arrive; they were strategoi, but chosen extraordinarily. There are ways to prevent a list of eleven elected generals being evidenced. A replacement could have been chosen for Lamachos if needed (Demosthenes and Eurymedon were regularly elected generals). Alternatively, Pythodoros Laispodias and Demaratos, whom Thuc. 6.105.2 calls archontes, could be nauarchs, though I doubt that; Konon is more reasonably eliminated. At all events, I see no reason to believe that Nikias and Lamachos were not members of the regular college.

MENANDROS PA 9857

EUTHYDEMOS son of Eudemos PA 5521

Thuc. 7.16.1; Plut. Nik. 20.1, 4. See Fornara, Generals 65. They were chosen extraordinarily from those in Sicily (see above). They may be included below also as officers before their elevation.

EURYMEDON son of Thoukles (? of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5973; APF 334
Thuc. 7.16.2; Diod. 13.8.7; Plut. Nik. 20.1; Justin 4.4.11; IG i³ 371.[7] (cf. line 9). Chosen, surely from among the existing generals (see above), along with Demosthenes, for Sicily, whither he went at once.

DEMOSTHENES son of Alkisthenes of Aphidna (IX) PA 3585; APF 112f.
Thuc. 7.16.2f., 20.2f., 26; Justin 4.4.11; Paus. 1.23.3, 29.13; Suda s.v. Νικίας; IG i³ 371.12f. Elected for Sicily with Eurymedon, he stayed in Athens to organize forces. He joined Charikles in raids on the Peloponnese before heading for Sicily.

PYTHODOROS (? son of Epizelos of Halai) (II) PA 12402 = 12410; APF 481
LAISPODIAS son of Andronymis (? of Koile) (VIII) PA 8963
DEMARATOS PA 3283
Thuc. 6.105. See Fornara, Generals 65. They were active in summer 414 in ravaging the Peloponnese. Although Thucydides does not call them generals, the inference here seems unescapable. On Laispodias see Develin, JHS 1986, 184.

EUETION (? of Kephisia (I) or Sphettos (V)) PA 5460; APF 190
Thuc. 7.9. In summer 414 he could not take, but blockaded Amphipolis. IG i³ 371.3 does not print Meritt's restoration of Euetion with the patronymic 'son of Melesandros' and, there being no other evidence for this and as there is apparently another Melesandros available, Thompson (Hesperia 1967, 105f.) restored a general Melesandros with good reason.

? [MEL]ES[A]NDR[OS]
IG i³ 371.[3]. See the last entry and TAM 1.44; ML 93. If Thompson is correct, he will have operated in Asia Minor.

CHARIKLES son of Apollodoros PA 15407; APF 502f.
Thuc. 7.20.1; Diod. 13.9.2. He was in command around the Peloponnese in spring 413, making raids in concert with Demosthenes. He went home after establishing a fortified post in Lakonia. Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 223 (Navy 124), makes him nauarch. I have assigned no tribe; see 404/3.

DIEITREPHES (? son of Nikostratos of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 3755
Thuc. 7.29. See Fornara, Generals 65. Instructed to take Thracians back home, he operated in Boiotia in summer 413, taking Mykalessos, which was then lost. The filiation is highly likely.

?KONON son of Timotheos of Anaphlystos (X) PA 8707; APF 506ff.
Thuc. 7.31.4f. Thucydides says ἦρχε Ναυπάκτου and he may not have been general – or not in this year. He could have been nauarch (Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 233 (Navy 123)). Nepos Conon 1.1 says as praetor he commanded infantry and as praefectus classis he performed great exploits at sea, but this cannot be pressed to solve this problem. If he held the generalship, I would be inclined to ascribe it to this year though the next is a possibility. But see also Diphilos in 413/12.

Officers (taxiarchoi?)
?MENANDROS PA 9857

See above on them as generals. It seems they must have held some position of command for them to be chosen as extraordinary generals. See Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 237 (Navy 128), calling them archontes.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Schol. Ar. Birds 1297, including Phrynichos F 26 (Edmonds), mentions a decree which should be of this year forbidding anyone to be satirized by name in comedy, though see Sommerstein, CQ 1986, 101–8, on the contents and Halliwell, CQ 1984, 87, for doubts about the law:
Proposer
SYRAKOSIOS PA 13041

Thuc. 7.10ff. tells of the reading of Nikias' letter to the assembly, which resulted in the appointment of Menandros and Euthydemos and the voting of another force.

It is known from IG i³ 371.11f. that Erechtheis held the seventh prytany; cf. 430.5, which thereby will belong to this year and show (line 31) that Antiochis held a later prytany.

NIKIAS son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 10808; APF 403f.
DEMOSTHENES son of Alkisthenes of Aphidna (IX) PA 3585; APF 112f.
EURYMEDON son of Thoukles (? of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5973; APF 334
Thuc. 7.31ff., 35ff.; Diod. 13.9ff.; Plut. Nik. 20off., Mor. 169a; Paus. 1.29.12; Justin 4.5; Polyainos 1.39.4 (Nikias); schol. Thuc. 7.52 (Eurymedon), 61.1 (Nikias), 86.2 (Nikias and Demosthenes); Suda s.v. Νικίας.

Demosthenes, after further engagement, met with Eurymedon in Akarnania; they organized forces and then made their way to Sicily, conducting diplomacy and joining Nikias to oversee the Athenian defeats by sea and land. Eurymedon was killed in a naval encounter. The fleet was then commanded by Demosthenes, Menandros and Euthydemos. In the attempt to retreat and escape all lost their lives; Demosthenes and his troops surrendered and then Nikias was forced to do so too; both were subsequently put to death (but cf. Plut. Nik. 28.4f.).

EUTHYDEMOS son of Eudemos PA 5521
Thuc. 7.43.2ff. (Menandros), 69.4ff.; Diod. 13.13.2ff. See above and Fornara, Generals 65 n.113. There can be little doubt that they were now regularly elected generals, which is as they appear before Thuc. 7.69.4, though not autokratores. It is only at Thuc. 7.69.4 that they are called strategoi, but Fornara's conclusion from the predicative position of the word that they were temporarily given the role by the other generals is vitiated not only by the earlier references (cf. Diodoros), but also by the fact that the phrase οὗτοι γὰρ ἐπὶ τὰς ναῦς τῶν Ἀθηναίων στρατηγοὶ ἐπέβησαν will include Demosthenes, who has also been named.

?DIPHILOS PA 4464
Thuc. 7.34. He engaged in an inconclusive naval action in summer 413. The natural conclusion may seem to be that he succeeded Konon (see 414/13) in command at Naupaktos, but he could have been nauarch (Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 233 (Navy 123f.)).

ARISTOKRATES (? son of Skellias of ?Trinemeia (VII)) PA 1904; APF 56f.
Thuc. 8.9.2: ?Ar. F 591.70f. (Kassel-Austin). He was sent to Chios to deal with dissension in spring 412. For the identification see Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. V.22.

?HIPPOKLES son of Menippos PA 7620
Thuc. 8.13. He engaged Peloponnesian ships off Leukas. See Fornara,

Generals 65f. There is a chance that he was nauarch; see Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. v.32f., who favour a date of 412/11, with which I disagree.

?STROMBICHIDES son of Diotimos of Euonymon (I) PA 13016; APF 161
Thuc. 8.15.1. See Fornara, Generals 65f. (whence the date). He was to go to Chios. Cf. Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 238f. (Navy 129).

Hipparchos
?KALLISTRATOS (? son of Empedos of Oe) (VI) PA 8142
Paus. 7.16.4ff. The source suggests he was hipparch in this year. A hipparchy is mentioned at Plut. Mor. 844b for the orator Kallistratos and there may be confusion with another of that name. Our man is said to have died.

Strategoi
STROMBICHIDES son of Diotimos of Euonymon (I) PA 13016; APF 161
Thuc. 8.15.1, 16f., 30, 62f., 79.3f. Cf. 413/12. He and Thrasykles are unlikely to have been nauarchs; Strombichides is called general.

THRASYKLES PA 7317
Thuc. 8.17.3. See above on Strombichides.

DIOMEDON PA 4065
Thuc. 8.19., 20.2, 23f., 54.3, 55.1, 73.4ff. Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 236f. (Navy 126f.), has him and Leon as initially nauarchs. That they later replaced Phrynichos and Skironides does not show that they were not generals earlier.

LEON PA 9100
Thuc. 8.23f., 54.3, 55.1, 73.4ff.; Lysias 20.29. See above on Diomedon and Andrewes and Lewis, JHS 1957, 179 n.10.

PHRYNICHOS son of Stratonides of Deiradiotai (IV) PA 15011
Thuc. 8.25ff., 48.4ff., 54.3; Krateros FGH 342 F 17; Plut. Alk. 25.5ff.; Polyainos 3.6; schol. Ar. Thesm. 804; Suda and Hesychios s.v. Φρυνίχου πάλαισμα.

ONOMAKLES PA 11476
Thuc. 8.25ff., 30.2.

SKIRONIDES PA 12730
Thuc. 8.25ff., 54.3. For doubts about the name see Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. V.60.

CHARMINOS PA 15517
Thuc. 8.30, 41.3ff., 73.3; schol. Ar. Thesm. 804

EUKTEMON (? of Kephisia (I)) PA 5782
Thuc. 8.30. The deme of Euktemon is conjectured by association with PA 5798 (APF 562), born about 460.

I have given an initial list of generals because of the complex activities of the year. Strombichides was driven into Samos; Thrasykles came to join him and they pursued a force to Miletos. Thuc. 8.30ff. deals with operations against Chios and forces out of Samos in winter. Strombichides returned to this theatre with Charminos and Euktemon and with Euktemon and Onomakles operated against Chios (Thuc. 8.38ff.). Earlier Phrynichos, Onomakles and Skironides had enjoyed success around Miletos before retiring. Diomedon had enjoyed success against Chians and made an agreement with Teos. Then with Leon he recovered Lesbos and Klazomenai and had more success at Chios. These two also attacked Rhodes. Lysias says Leon was at the Hellespont. In that arena Strombichides took Lampsakos and failed at Abydos. Charminos had earlier been defeated at Syme.

Thuc. 8.47ff. tells how the leading lights at Samos determined to overthrow the Athenian democracy. In this Phrynichos took a leading role and he and Skironides were eventually deposed. Diomedon and Leon were reluctant to support oligarchy and cooperated with the Samians for their protection. Charminos was responsible for putting Hyperbolos to death.

EUKRATES son of Nikeratos of Kydantidai (II) PA 5757; APF 404f.
Ar. Lys. 103 with schol.; Suda s.v. Ἀπεστιν. He was suspected of bribery and treason.

Phylarchos
PYTHODOROS of tribe VIII PA 12405
IG i² 950.180.

Tamiai of Athene
KALLAISCHROS of Eupyridai (IV) PA 7760; APF 327f.

Grammateus
AUTOKLEIDES son of Sostratos of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 2713
IG i³ 310.19f. (i² 249.228f.); 311.35f. (i² 250.244f.); 334.17f. (i² 273.166f.; SEG 22.31; 24.32); 335.30f. (SEG 22.32; 24.33); 356.29f. (i² 287.177f.); 357.54f. (i² 288.202f.). The actual inventories of the year are i³ 311, 335 and 357.

Probouloi
HAGNON son of Nikias of Steiria (III) PA 171; APF 227f.
Lysias 12.65.

SOPHOKLES (? son of Sophillos of Kolonos) (II) PA 12834
Arist. Rhet. 3.18.6 1419a.25.

On these probouloi see Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. V.6f.; on Sophokles Avery, Historia 1973, 511ff.

Envoy
PEISANDROS son of Glauketes of Acharnai (VI) PA 11770
Thuc. 8.49, 53f., 56.1, 63.3, 64.1, 65.1, 67.1, 73.2; Plut. Alk. 26.1. He was sent from Samos to Athens, where he was chosen with ten others to go to Tissaphernes and Alkibiades. Thence he went to Samos, then being sent to Athens with half the other envoys, with instructions to instal oligarchies in the subject states he came to on the way. At least his embassy to Tissaphernes can be called official. Nepos Alc. 5.3 calls him general (praetor), but this seems in error, pace Connor, New Politicians 146 n.18, and (with a query) Davies, Wealth 160.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 96 (i² 101) is a decree of pryt. Akamantis concerning the Samians. See also SEG 31.15.

(ii) IG i³ 97 (i² 103; Walbank no. 73) is a proxeny decree of pryt. Hippothontis for Eurytion of Orchomenos and his father Potamodoros:
Grammateus
AISCHYLOS PA 435
Bouleutes epistates
KEPHISODOROS PA 8356
Proposer
MENETELES PA 10022; APF 390
APF suggests Meneteles might be the father of the secretary of 399/8 (IG ii² 1391.3), who was from Phrearrhioi (IV). I am not prepared to put IG i³ 147 in this year because of coincidence of secretary's name; it will be found in the appendix to this Section.

(iii) Thuc. 8.21 mentions a decree giving the Samians their independence, which may be associated with IG i³ 96, though that seems to have dealt with a wider number of areas.

(iv) Thuc. 8.53f. tells how Peisandros and others sent from Samos spoke in the assembly, there was debate and opposition to changing the constitution and the other proposals, but the people came round and voted Peisandros' embassy (see above) and the replacement of Phrynichos and Skironides as generals.

(v) Thuc. 8.65ff. tells us of events in Athens to do with the change of constitution, of assemblies and proposals. The present arrangements were suspended and the 400 were to be selected:
Proposer
PEISANDROS son of Glauketes of Acharnai (VI) PA 11770
The 400 took over from the existing council.

(vi) We may place beside this Ath. Pol. 29ff., where we find a decree constituting syngrapheis to bring proposals for the good of the city, with a rider that

Kleisthenes' laws should be sought out; I do not share the doubts on Pythodoros' decree of Sordi, GFF 1981, 3–12; Pesely, LCM 1987, 51:

Proposers

PYTHODOROS son of Polyzelos of Anaphlystos (X) PA 12412

KLEITOPHON son of Aristonymos PA 8546

We then hear of the proposals of the syngrapheis, which were approved. A
(vii) programme for the future was drawn up and provisions for the present, the latter being ratified by the people:

Bouleutes epistates

ARISTOMACHOS PA 1956

411 (Ol. 92.2)

I use this designation, as distinct from 412/11 and 411/10, for the period of the oligarchy and include here those evidenced during that period. Generals not connected with the oligarchy are listed under 411/10.

Archon

MNASILOCHOS PA 10324

Ath. Pol. 33.1; IG i³ [373] (i² 298; ML 81; Fornara no. 150). He was archon for two months.

Strategoi

DIEITREPHES (? son of Nikostratos of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 3755

Thuc. 8.64.2. See Fornara, Generals 66f. Appointed to the Thracian area in summer 411, he dissolved democracy at Thasos. I do not follow Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 234 (Navy 124), in making him archon to Thrace.

ALEXIKLES PA 535

Thuc. 8.92.4ff. He was arrested by the hoplites in Peiraieus and later released.

THERAMENES son of Hagnon of Steiria (III) PA 7234; APF 228

Thuc. 8.89.2, 92.6ff.; Lysias 12.65. He confronted the hoplites at Peiraieus.

THYMOCHARES (? of Sphettos) (V) PA 7406; APF 524f.

Thuc. 8.95.2ff. Sent to Eretria, he lost a naval engagement. For the deme see APF.

ARISTARCHOS (? of Dekeleia) (VIII) PA 1663; APF 48

Eupolis F 43 (Edmonds); Thuc. 8.98.1ff.; Xen. Hell. 2.3.46 (cf. Thuc. 8.90.1). On the deposition of the 400, he marched to Oinoe, where he tricked the garrison into losing possession. Xenophon associates him with Aristoteles and Melanthios in building a fort at Eëtioneia. APF will not be committed to the association which renders the demotic.

ARISTOTELES son of Timokrates of Thorai (X) PA 2055

MELANTHIOS PA 9768

Xen. Hell. 2.3.46. See above on Aristarchos.

?ANTIPHON (? son of Lysonides) PA 1283; APF 327f.
Xen. Hell. 2.3.40 and Plut. Mor. 832f both would attest a trierarchy, but the generalship of Plutarch may be doubted, unless Antiphon gained promotion to that office; Xenophon indicates the contrary by not specifying the strategia. The Moralia passage does point to the period of the 400, but the character is rather the man mentioned by Xenophon than the orator (son of Sophilos of Rhamnous (IX) PA 1304). See APF for discussion.

Taxiarchos
ARISTOKRATES son of Skellias of Trinemeia (VII) PA 1904; APF 56f.
Thuc. 8.89.2, 92.4. He commanded his tribal contingent at Peiraieus and accompanied Theramenes (q.v.).

Peripolarchos
HERMON PA 5170
Thuc. 8.92.5. He was commander of the peripoloi at Mounichia who helped in the arrest of Alexikles.

Officer?
POLYSTRATOS of Deiradiotai (IV) PA 12076; APF 467
Lysias 20.14. 16f. APF calls him garrison-commander, but a trierarchy may be more likely, or at least some form of naval command. Cf. Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. v.202.

Archon at Oropos
POLYSTRATOS of Deiradiotai (IV) PA 12076; APF 467
Lysias 20.6. I prefer this dating, before his naval exploits, given the context of the Lysias passage.

Tamiai of Athene
ASOPODOROS of Kydathenaion (III) PA 2672

Grammateus
EUANDROS son of E[ri]thalion of Euonymon (I) PA 5271 = 5267; APF 187f.
IG i³ 312.52f. (i² 251.261f.); 335.31f. (SEG 22.32; 24.33); 336.44f. (SEG 22.33; 24.34); 357.55f. (i² 288.203f.); 373.5ff. (i² 298; ML 81; Fornara no. 150); for Euandros i³ 311.36f. (i² 250.245f). See Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. v.194ff. The actual inventories of the year are i³ 312. 336 and (?) 358.

Hellenotamias
ANTISTHENES of Hermos (V) PA 1190
IG i³ 373.12f. (i² 298; ML 81; Fornara no. 150).

Katalogeus
POLYSTRATOS of Deiradiotai (IV) PA 12076; APF 467
Lysias 20.13f. Selected to choose the 5000, he was unwilling to do so and constructed a list of 9000. See Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. v.202ff.

Envoys

LAISPODIAS son of Andronymis (? of Koile) (VIII) PA 8963
ARISTOPHON PA 2102
MELESIAS (son of Thoukydides of Alopeke) (X) PA 9813; APF 232f.
Thuc. 8.86.9. They were sent to Sparta, but the crew of the Paralos handed them over to the Argives. On Aristophon see Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. V.289, where there is reluctance to accept the identification of Melesias.

ANTIPHON (? son of Lysonides) PA 1283; APF 327f.
PHRYNICHOS son of Stratonides of Deiradiotai (IV) PA 15011
ONOMAKLES PA 11476
ARCHEPTOLEMOS son of Hippodamos of Agryle (I) PA 2384
For the first two Thuc. 8.90.2, 91.1, 92.2; for Antiphon and the others Plut. Mor. 832f–833a, 833e–834a. Thucydides seems to indicate an embassy of twelve, but more likely he should be taken to mean ten. They were sent to Sparta to make peace, but were unsuccessful. Antiphon and Archeptolemos were condemned as traitors after the overthrow of the 400. That Antiphon here is the orator is accepted at PA 1304.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The consensus seems to be that IG i³ 98 honouring Pythophanes is to be placed in this period (or at least 411/10), but I cannot accept this, so that the document appears in the appendix to this Section.

Thuc. 8.97.1 records the assembly at which the 400 were terminated and matters handed over to the 5000.

411/10 (Ol. 92.2)

Archon

THEOPOMPOS PA 7011
Lysias 21.1; Ath. Pol. 33.1; Philochoros FGH 328 F 139; Diod. 13.38.1; Plut. Mor. 833d; ?IG xiv.1097.[8]. He served for the remaining 10 months.

Strategoi

Generals were chosen by the forces in Samos and others were elected in the city. For the eventual merger of the two sets see Fornara, Generals 68.

THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III) PA 7310; APF 240
THRASYLLOS PA 7333
Thuc. 8.76.2. 81 (Thrasyboulos), 100, 103.2ff.; Xen. Hell. 1.1.8ff.; Nepos Alc. 5.4 (Thrasyboulos); Diod. 13.38.3ff., 45.7ff., 49.3ff. (the latter two 410/9); Plut. Alk. 29.1f. (Thrasyllos; but see 410/9); Polyainos 1.40.9 (Thrasyboulos).

They were not regular generals but survived the replacements by the forces at Samos. Thrasyboulos persuaded the soldiers in the matter of Alkibiades' recall and sailed to Tissaphernes to get him. The two were active in the eastern theatre and won the battle at Kynossema in summer 411. Kyzikos was taken in the winter. Xenophon says Thrasyllos returned to Athens to report and request troops and ships. On chronology see Sealey, CSCA 1975, 273ff.

ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.
Thuc. 8.82, 85.4, 86.4ff., 88, 108.1f.; Xen. Hell. 1.1.5ff.; Lysias 19.52; Nepos Alc. 5.4ff.; Diod. 13.42.1ff., 46.2ff., 49.3ff. (the latter two 410/9); Front. Strat. 2.5.44, 7.6; 3.9.6; Plut. Alk. 26ff., Mor. 345d; Polyainos 1.40.9; Athenaios 12.535c.

See Fornara, Generals 67. Chosen as an additional general by the forces at Samos, he undertook to go to Tissaphernes, after which he prevented the forces sailing against Athens. Then he went again to Tissaphernes. He was active at Halikarnassos and Kos and shared in operations in the Hellespontine area in summer 411; he managed to escape from Tissaphernes and joined forces with Theramenes and Thrasyboulos in success at Kyzikos.

EUMACHOS (? of Euonymon) (I) PA 5342
Xen. Hell. 1.1.22. He was left at Chrysopolis with Theramenes. For the deme see Fornara, Generals 68, under 410/9 (q.v. for the reading of IG $i^3$ 375.35f.).

CHAIREAS son of Archestratos (? of Phlya (VII)) PA 15093; APF 346
Diod. 13.49.6, 50.7, 51.2ff. (410/9). In command of land forces at Kyzikos. APF is wrong to call him tamias Paralou in 412/11; see Gomme-Andrewes-Dover, Comm. Thuc. v.266. The demotic is hardly certain.

KONON son of Timotheos of Anaphlystos (X) PA 8707; APF 506ff.
Diod. 13.48.6 (410/9). One of the city generals, he took help to Corcyra.

THERAMENES son of Hagnon of Steiria (III) PA 7234; APF 228
Xen. Hell. 1.1.12ff.; Nepos Alc. 5.4ff.; Diod. 13.47.6ff., 49.3ff. (410/9); Polyainos 1.40.9. A city general, he was active around Euboia and Paros in winter, subsequently with Thrasyboulos in Thrace, joining in the success at Kyzikos.

THYMOCHARES (? of Sphettos) (V) PA 7406; APF 524f.
Xen. Hell. 1.1.1. Sent from Athens in summer 411, he lost a naval engagement in the Hellespont.

SIMICHOS PA 13030 or SYMBICHOS or STROMBICHIDES PA 13016; APF 161
The MS of Hell. Oxy. 7.4 reads σιχιον, while at schol. Aisch. 2.31 we have σιμμιχου or συμβιχου. Strombichides appears as an attempt to resolve this; Thompson, Hesperia 1967, 106f. I incline to Simichos. He was defeated around Amphipolis.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) Thuc. 8.97 tells of assemblies in the time of the 5000 to deal with the constitution and of the vote to recall Alkibiades; the latter is also at Plut. Alk. 33.1:
Proposer
KRITIAS son of Kallaischros PA 8792; APF 326f.
I give him no tribe; see 404/3.

(ii) Plut. Mor. 833 d-834b (Fornara no. 151) retains a decree passed under the 5000 concerning the arrest and trial of Archeptolemos, Onomakles and Antiphon and dated to the twenty-first day of the prytany (of Antiochis):
Grammateus
DEMONIKOS of Alopeke (X) PA 3562
Bouleutes epistates
PHILOSTRATOS of Pallene (X) PA 14742
Proposer
ANDRON (son of Androtion of Gargettos) (II) PA 921; APF 34

(iii) Lykourgos 1.113ff. records a decree regarding the trial of the dead Phrynichos for treason:
Proposer
KRITIAS son of Kallaischros PA 8792; APF 326f.

(iv) They also decreed punishment for any that defended Phrynichos.

Philochoros FGH 328 F 139 records a Spartan embassy for peace in this year, and Diod. 13.52f. includes a speech of the Spartan Endios to the assembly. Both identify the chief opponent of peace as Kleophon; see Rhodes, Comm. 424f.

410/9 (Ol. 92.3)

Archon

GLAUKIPPOS PA 2979

Lysias 21.1; Philochoros FGH 328 F 140; Diod. 13.43.1; Dion. Lys. 21; hyp. ii Sophokles Phil.; IG i³ 99(i² 109); 101 (i² 108; ML 89; Fornara no. 156); [102] (i² 110; ML 85; Osborne D 2; Fornara no. 155); 103 (i² 110a; ii² 142); 375 (i² 304 A; ML 84; Fornara no. 154; SEG 31.25); ii² 1498.[7], [9f.]; ? xiv.1097.[8]; Insc. Délos 93.8f. (IG i² p.299.29). The reading at IG i³ 208 seems to rule out the restoration at i² 112.

Strategoi

(THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III)) PA 7310; APF 240

(THERAMENES son of Hagnon of Steiria (III)) PA 7234; APF 228

(ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (IV)) PA 600; APF 9ff.

Lysias 19.52 (Alkibiades); Xen. Hell. 1.2.15ff. (409/8; Alkibiades); Nepos Alc. 5.4ff.; Diod. 13.64.1ff. (409/8); Plut. Alk. 29.2f. (Alkibiades). See Fornara, Generals 68f. Andrewes, JHS 1953, 1–9, has shown that these three were not official generals from 410/9 to 408/7 (hence the parentheses). Thrasyboulos' defeat at Ephesos (Diod.) is to be ascribed to Thrasyllos (so Xenophon; see below). Theramenes besieged Chalkedon and Byzantion, Alkibiades operating in the land held by Pharnabazos. Xenophon has Alkibiades at Lampsakos and attacking Abydos (cf. Plut.). Andrewes (p. 7) shows Thrasyboulos in the Thraceward area from May 410 to late 407.

THRASYLLOS PA 7333

Lysias 32.7; Xen. Hell. 1.1.33f., 2.1ff. (409/8; cf. Diod. 13.64.1ff.); Dion. Lys. 21; Plut. Alk. 29.1f., Mor. 345d; Koenen, Stud. Pap. 1976, 55ff., 70ff. (text also at Lehmann, ZPE 26 (1977), 189f.).

While at Athens, he led out forces, causing Agis to retreat. Then he sailed east, operated against Pygela and suffered defeat at Ephesos. He was more successful against Syracusan ships off Lesbos, then joined Alkibiades at Lampsakos.

EUKLEIDES PA 5672 = 5680

DEXIKRATES of Aigilia (X) PA 3226

PASIPHON of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 11668

ARISTOKRA[TES] (son of Skellias of Trinemeia) (VII) PA 1904; APF 56f.

?E[UMACHOS] of Euonymon (I) PA 5342

IG i³ 375.17, 35f. (i² 304 A; ML 84; Fornara no. 154; SEG 31.25). For Eumachos, unrestored in IG i³ and denied by Andrewes, JHS 1953, 4 n.13, see Fornara, Generals 68. The inscription has Eukleides in Eretria, the others at Samos. Bradeen, Hesperia 1964, 49f., suggested the latter might not be official, connecting Pasiphon with the naval archon in his no. 15 (Agora XVII.23.107); the deme squares with the tribe under which Pasiphon is listed as a casualty. I prefer, however, to record him as archon of the fleet in the next year (q.v.). Hence I do not count the Theoros in that list as general, but as archon of the fleet in this year (q.v.). See Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 229f., 234f. (Navy 119f., 124f.).

OINOBIOS of Dekeleia (VIII) PA 11357
IG i³ 101.47 (i² 108.38; ML 89; Fornara no. 156). He was general in Thrace.

Archon at Pylos
HERMON PA 5170
IG i³ 375.10 (i² 304 A; ML 84; Fornara no. 154; SEG 31.25). See Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 234 (Navy 125).

Officers
MENANDROS ?PA 9857
Xen. Hell. 1.2.16. He commanded 120 hoplites in pursuit of Pharnabazos. The exact position is hard to determine and even a generalship is possible.

PASION
Koenen, Stud. Pap. 1976, 57, 60, 70 (line 7) (Lehmann, ZPE 26 (1977), 189f.). He was under Thrasyllos at Ephesos. Lewis, Sparta and Persia 1 n.1, is tempted to emend him to Pasiphon, but as Pasion is a perfectly good name, I should resist the temptation.

I come now to the casualty list which is now Agora XVII.23, dated to this year or at least 409, which may take us into the next archon-year. I shall record here all the data on officers to be found therein, except for the case of Pasiphon, for which see above on strategoi and 409/8. The tribes correspond to columns in the document.

A. Tribe II: these may be taxiarchs or trierarchs:
. . .[7]. . . ON
. . .[6]. . . MOS

B. Tribe IV:
Archon of the fleet

To list them together is a convenience, as they could have served in consecutive years; but Bradeen, Hesperia 1964, 51, raised the possibility that one succeeded the other in this year.

C. Tribe VI: these may again be taxiarchs or trierarchs:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) The first secretary is found at IG i³ 375 (i² 304 A; ML 84; Fornara no. 154; SEG 31.25) and in the law quoted at And. 1.96 and referred to at Dem.

?[AM]YTH[E]ON or ?[EUE]TH[I]ON APF 93

The first suggestion is in IG i³, where the upsilon is read with a dot, the second on a file card at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton.

Ath. Pol. 28.3 speaks of
KLEOPHON (son of Kleippides of Acharnai) (VI) PA 8638
(vii) as the one ὃς καὶ τὴν διωβελίαν ἐπόρισε πρῶτος. To some this has suggested an office as poristes, but I would take the passage to mean that he was responsible for the introduction of the diobelia. What the diobelia was is uncertain, but payments for it first appear in this year in IG i³ 375. On Kleophon and this matter see Rhodes, Comm. 354ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 110 (i² 118; ML 90; Walbank no. 87; Fornara no. 160) is a probouleumatic decree of pryt. Antiochis granting proxeny to Oiniades of Palaiskiathos:

Grammateus

EUKLEIDES PA 5673

Bouleutes epistates

HIEROKLES PA 7482

Proposers

DIEITREPHES (? son of Nikostratos of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 3755

ANTICHARES PA 1309

For the possibility that Antiochis was first prytany cf. IG i³ p. 359. It depends on the deduction that the prytanies were in reverse tribal order, since we know from i³ 476 the following: 5. Oineis; 7. Leontis; 8. Pandionis; 9. Aigeis. On the other hand, Antiochis is one possible restoration for the tenth prytany and this matter extends into interpretation of IG i³ 377, which I deal with under 407/6. I am not persuaded that the evidence is sufficient to deduce reverse tribal order here.

(ii) IG i³ 111 (i² 120) is a prescript only:
Grammateus
DOR[OTHEOS?]
The name may be correct, but the man can hardly be the same as the secretary of the tamiai. Cf. Henry, CSCA 1978, 86f.

(iii) IG i³ 112 (i² 121) is a mere fragment, restored to produce
Grammateus
[?KLE]ARCHOS
Caution must be sounded, but Klearchos is the name of a councillor of this year (see below).

While the decree which is the second part of IG i³ 118 (i² 116; ML 87; Walbank no. 86; SEG 31.19; Fornara no. 162) seems to belong in 407/6, the earlier part records a settlement with Selymbria made in this year.

I will retain IG i³ 123 (i² 47) in 407/6, but for this year see Vattuone, Epigraphica 39 (1977), 41–50.

Alkibiades' return to Athens is described by Xen. Hell. 1.4.18ff.; Diod. 13.69.1ff.; Plut. Alk. 33f. All tell of him addressing the assembly and that
(iv) he was chosen strategos autokrator; the latter two mention decrees for the
(v) return of his property and the lifting of curses upon him.

Strategoi

ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.

Lysias 19.52, 21.6f.; Xen. Hell. 1.4.10,21ff., 5.11ff.; Nepos Alc. 7.1ff.; Diod. 13.69, 71, 73.3ff. (408/7); Plut. Alk. 33ff., Lys. 5.1f.; Paus. 9.32.6; Justin 5.5.2ff.

Chosen general at Athens and made hapanton hegemon autokrator (see 408/7), he was successful against Andros and other places. He then operated out of Samos, sharing the blame for the defeat at Notion (on which see Hell. Oxy. 4 with Bruce, Comm. 35ff.). He went into exile. Nepos and Plut. Lys. say he was deposed from office.

THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III) PA 7310; APF 240

Xen. Hell. 1.4.10, 5.11; Nepos Alc. 7.1; Diod. 13.69.3,5, 72.1f. (408/7). He was chosen general at Athens. Xenophon later has him besieging Phokaia. Diodoros says Alkibiades left him at Andros and then has him sail to Thasos and Abdera.

KONON son of Timotheos of Anaphlystos (X) PA 8707; APF 506ff.

Xen. Hell. 1.4.10, 5.18,20; Justin 5.5.4, 6.1ff. He was evidently at Andros before going east to replace Alkibiades.

ADEIMANTOS son of Leukolophides of Skambonidai (IV) PA 202

ARISTOKRATES son of Skellias of Trinemeia (VII) PA 1904; APF 56f.

Xen. Hell. 1.4.21; Nepos Alc. 7.1; Diod. 13.69.3 (408/7). While the two later sources pair Adeimantos with Thrasyboulos, Xenophon associates him with Aristokrates as land commanders. They accompanied Alkibiades to Andros and thence to Asia.

?PHANOSTHENES PA 14083

Xen. Hell. 1.5.18; Plato Ion 541d. Sent to Andros to replace Konon, he captured two Thourian ships. Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 232 (Navy 122), makes him nauarch in 406/5. Plato mentions foreigners elected to generalships and other offices, but is specific enough to prove a strategia for Phanosthenes, which seems more likely than any other office, especially since it is being said that Ion can aspire to the generalship.

?P[ERIKLES] (son of Perikles of Cholargos) (V) PA 11812; APF 458
IG i³ 117.[5f.] (ML 91; Walbank no. 90). The name is restored from the initial letter, as it was not at IG i² 105.

Kybernetes
ANTIOCHOS PA 1153
Hell. Oxy. 4.1f.; Xen. Hell. 1.5.11ff.; Androtion FGH 324 F 45; Diod. 13.71.1ff.; Plut. Alk. 35.4ff., Lys. 5.1f., cf. Alk. 10.1; Paus. 9.32.6. He is included because he was left in charge by Alkibiades with disastrous consequences at Notion.

IG i³ 316.60ff. (i² 255; only six listed); for the secretary 340.21 (i² 275); for Philion Meritt, AE 1978, 98.90 (IG i³ 377.25; i² 304 B; Fornara no. 158).

Inventories of the year are i³ 316 and ? 361. For the now amalgamated board see the Introduction, p. 8. For the date see also the references at Thompson, Hesperia 1970, 54. The readings have advanced much since IG i² and we may not have heard the last of the matter. The name Philion and the fact that he is a tamias of this year are new discoveries by Meritt and may have to be judged in the context of the debate on IG i³ 377, for which see under hellenotamiai. For the secretary see Meritt, AJPh 1968, 107.

Hellenotamiai
There has been a continuing debate on the inscription which is now IG i³ 377 (i² 304; Fornara no. 158; SEG 31.25). Pritchett (Historia 1977, 295–306, and BCH 1977, 7–42) maintains that it is a record of two years, thus providing evidence for iteration in the college, and has provided new readings. Some of these have been accepted by Meritt (AE 1978, 95-108; cf. PAPhS 1978, 288f.), but he still holds that the inscription refers only to this year, providing readings of his own. This extends to the logistai and epimeletai as well. In the absence of other evidence for iteration, I am loath to accept Pritchett's position. In what follows I list the readings of Meritt and then record variants.

Chariades comes from IG i³ 316.65f. (i² 255.328f.) and Meritt (AE 1978, 107, with the name as Charikles) places him in this year, while Phal . . . os is assigned to 406/5 (q.v.). The readings of IG i³ 377 and Pritchett are more conservative than Meritt's latest, but there are no variants as such; Tharrhynon, however, is completely Meritt's, while at i³ 377.9f. we find .E . . . .ON and at lines 20f. --ON, both actually in the dative.

Meritt agrees with Pritchett (the text of IG i³ retains the old reading) in not having Noumenios as a patronymic (iota having to be added). IG i³ shows no sign of Amphias and for the second name has EUAITELOS with no dotted letters (but see the apparatus). Meritt is also responsible for the identification of the office.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

From IG i³ 377 we can see at least that Aigeis held ninth prytany, Antiochis tenth. Were it the case that the later parts of the inscription actually belong to the beginning of this year, we would have Hippothontis (or Antiochis according to Pritchett) as first prytany and Erechtheis as second, but I prefer to accept that these belong to 406/5. See IG i³ p. 359 for discussion and above on hellenotamiai.

(i) IG i³ 101.48ff. (i² 108; ML 89; Fornara no. 156) is a second, probouleumatic, decree concerning the Neopolitans (cf. 410/9), assigned with a query to this year:
Proposer
AXIOCHOS (son of Alkibiades of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 1329 = 1330; APF 16f.

(ii) IG i³ 114 (i² 119; Walbank no. 89), possibly a proxeny decree for a man possibly of Abdera, is restored to this year in IG i³; Walbank is not averse to this, but is cautious with c. 425–405:
Grammateus
-- son of --ilos
Bouleutes epistates
EUKTEMO[N] (Walbank) EUKTE-- (IG i³)
It remains possible that Euktemon is the archon of 408/7. For the secretary cf. the next entry.

(iii) IG i³ 115 (i² 123) is a prescript:
Grammateus
[L]YSIKLES son of E-- PA 9418
Bouleutes epistates
--S
Woodhead, apud Walbank no. 89, suggested that in that document, compared with this, we might exempli gratia think about Lysikles son of Ergophilos of Kydathenaion (III).

(iv) IG i³ 117 (i² 105; ML 91; Walbank no. 90; Fornara 161), probably of this year, is a proxeny decree of pryt. Akamantis in honour of [Archelaos of Makedon]:
Grammateus
[?PHEL]LEUS
Bouleutes epistates
[SIB]YRTIO[S] PA 12646
The proposer is totally restored in IG i³ as Alkibiades (approved, but not restored by Walbank). I find this too conjectural to record in any more definite form.

(v) The ratification of arrangements with Selymbria in IG i³ 118 (i² 116; ML 87; Walbank no. 86; SEG 31.19; Fornara no. 162) seems to belong to this year (cf. 408/7); it includes a proxeny for Apollodoros and another:
Proposer
[AL]KIB[IAD]ES (son of Kleinias of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.

(vi) IG i³ 119 (i² 117; ML 88; Fornara no. 163) will probably also belong in this year; it is a decree concerning the Klazomenians holding Daphnous:
Grammateus
KRATE[S] PA 8741
Bouleutes epistates
[EPIGEN]ES PA 4779
Proposer
ALKIBIADES (son of Kleinias of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.

(vii) IG i³ 120 is a fragment dated to this year through the proposer:
Proposer
ALKI[BIADES] (son of Kleinias of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.

(viii) IG i³ 123 (i² 47; ML 92; Fornara no. 165) probably belongs here (cf. 408/7); it is restored as probouleumatic and records a treaty with Carthage:
Grammateus
. . .[6]. . . s of Aphidna (IX)

Plut. Alk. 36 tells how Alkibiades was attacked in the assembly by Thrasyboulos son of Thrason; this led to the replacement of Alkibiades.

For the suggestion that the Arthmios decree belongs here see 481/80.

Xenophon here and at 1.6.16 has Leon for Lysias (Rhodes, Comm. 423, calls Lysias suffect), while Diodoros here and at 13.97.6 has Thrasyboulos for Thrasyllos; also at 13.101.5 he has Kalliades as general, clearly in error. Other sources Xen. Hell. 1.6.15ff.; Diod. 13.76ff. (407/6), 97ff.; Lysias 21.8; Ar. Frogs 1196 with schol. See Fornara, Generals 70. They were all active in the east, particularly Konon at Mitylene, but only Lysias informs us that Archestratos was there and that he died. And they were at Arginousai, after which Protomachos and Aristogenes became exiles, the others, apart from Konon, being condemned to death. Cf. Ath. Pol. 34.1 with Rhodes, Comm.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 124 (i² 124) is the heading of a decree which concerned Kios:
Grammateus
[ER]OTION of Eleusis (VIII)
Now read instead of the previous Sotion (PA 13402).

If IG i³ 477 belongs in this year, the fourth prytany was held by Pandionis.

Ath. Pol. 34.1 reports Spartan overtures for peace after Arginousai, which were rejected under the influence of Kleophon; see Rhodes, Comm.

The treatment of the generals after Arginousai is reported particularly by Xen. Hell. 1.7 and Diod. 13.101ff. For our purposes we gain most informa-
(ii) tion from Xenophon. The generals spoke in the boule and a motion was passed for their trial by the assembly:
Bouleutes and proposer
TIMOKRATES PA 13748
At the assembly Theramenes spoke against the generals. The council was
(iii) told to bring in a probouleuma and this concerned the method of trial:
Bouleutes and proposer
KALLIXE(I)NOS PA 8042
(Diod. 13.103.2; Athenaios 5.218a). This was indicted as illegal, but was
(iv) eventually adopted. Before that we hear of a motion against those who had challenged Kallixeinos' proposal:
Proposer

The prytaneis were cowed into putting the matter to the vote, except one:
Bouleutes

(Xen. Mem. 1.1.8, 4.4.2; Plato Gorg. 473e; Apol. 32b; Athenaios 5.217f.).
The assembly was addressed by Euryptolemos. In this whole tale Diodoros adds only that an assembly was addressed by the general Diomedon.

Note: The implication drawn at APF 463 from P. Ryl. 3.489 col. IV. 100ff. that Eryximachos might have been a general at Aigospotamoi seems to me fallacious, for what is said can be taken to mean that he obtained the release of one of his fellow trierarchs (and he was trierarch).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG i³ 125 (ii² 174; Meritt, Hesperia 1970, 111) is a probouleumatic decree in honour of Epikerdes of Kyrene, which gives a name only for the rider:
Proposer
ARCHE . .⁴. .

(ii) IG i³ 126 (i² 125; Walbank no. 91) is a proxeny decree for Polypos of Gortyna or Gortys restored to pryt. Aigeis (see the epistates):
Grammateus
[PO]LYARATOS of Cholargos (V) PA 11907; NPA 144; APF 461

(iii) IG i³ 127 (i² 126; ii² 1; ML 94; Osborne D 4; Fornara no. 166) is a decree concerning the Samians of pryt. Kekropis, which originated from a proposal of the prytaneis:

(iv) And. 1. 73ff. includes a decree for the re-enfranchisement of those who had lost citizen rights (cf. Xen. Hell. 2.2.11):
Proposer
PATROKLEIDES PA 11685

(v) At Xen. Hell. 2.1.31f. we learn that a decree had been passed that if the Athenians won the sea battle, the right hand of all captives should be cut off. This had been opposed by Adeimantos the general.

(vi) Xen. Hell. 2.2.4 mentions the convening of an assembly which voted arrangements to have the city ready for a siege.

There are various sources which talk about the negotiations with Sparta which led to a peace settlement. On the chronology see Rhodes, Comm. 436f.; also and in general Krentz, Thirty chs. 1 and 2. I begin with Xen.

(vii) Hell. 2.2.11ff. We hear of various assemblies and of a proposal in the council that Spartan terms be accepted, which led to the imprisonment of the proposer and the forbidding of any such proposal:

Bouleutes/proposer

ARCHESTRATOS PA 2402

Theramenes persuaded the assembly to send him on his embassy (see above), reported back and was sent out again. On his return, he announced the Spartan terms, which were accepted. The sailing of Lysander into the Peiraieus which ends this account may be set beside Plut. Lys. 15.1, which dates his possession of the Athenian ships to 16 Mounichion. As Plutarch continues, however, Lysander is evidently out of Athens again and I leave the rest of the story for the next year.

Lysias 12.8ff. adds to this Kleophon's opposition to the terms of peace before Theramenes' embassy (he was subsequently tried and executed).

(viii) We hear of a decree of the council for Agoratos' arrest. Other decrees and procedures are mentioned.

Then Lysias 30.10off. tells us that Kleophon attacked the boule and we learn the names of two councillors, the first of whom persuaded the council to arrest Kleophon:

Also on demotics see Walbank, Hesperia 1982, 78ff. (Eumathes, Anaitios, Peison, Theomenes (doubtful)), 92f. n.44, 93. When Theramenes was killed, his place was offered to Thrasyboulos (Diod. 14.32.5; Justin 5.9.13; Orosius 2.17.11), but he refused; if Lysias 30.12 is not careless in saying that Satyros was one of the Thirty, it may be that he took Theramenes' place (Krentz 64). I will not detail the establishment and repeal of regulations during this regime.

Note: I do not accept that the ephoroi of Lysias 12.43, 46, said to be chosen by 'the so-called hetairoi', were in any way state officials.

Krentz, Hesperia 1979, 59 restored him at line 4 of SEG 21.80, where the demotic alone survives, but this means that he has to deny that πρῶτος ἐγραμμάτευε has its natural reference to the first secretary of the council; his contention is that Dromokleides was a tamias and the members of that board took turns as secretary. This is unacceptable in every way. Dromokleides appears in the conjuction of IG ii² 1370 and 1371 which is SEG 23.81 as secretary to the tamiai. So he ought to remain, without demotic, while the demotic of Prasiai may be left without a name for the first secretary, as it is at IG i³ 380.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The first secretary is found at IG i³ 380 (see above on tamiai):
Grammateus
-- of Prasiai (III)

Our sources on the time of the Thirty tell of activities of council and demos, but mainly in regard to judicial matters. I have already said that I will not detail the provisions of the Thirty, but we may single out some elements.

(i) First the acceptance that the democracy be dissolved and the Thirty chosen, opposed initially, according to Diod. 14.3, by Theramenes. The proposer of the decree to establish oligarchy is named at Lysias 12.73; Ath. Pol. 34.3; schol. Ar. Wasps 157:
Proposer
DRAKONTIDES of Aphidna (IX) PA 4546
I may mention too the proceedings in the council concerning the fate of Theramenes, at which he and Kritias spoke (Xen. Hell. 2.3.23ff.; Diod. 14.4.5ff.).

(ii) Paus. 1.23.9 tells of the decree to recall Thucydides:
Proposer
OINOBIOS (? of Dekeleia) (VIII) PA 11357

We know of three councillors specifically:
Bouleutai
EPICHARES PA 4991
And. 1.95. Despite PA, he was probably not the same man as the member of the Ten: see Krentz, Thirty 92.

SOPHOKLES son of Sophillos of Kolonos (II) PA 12834
Plut. Nik. 15.2 has him as general at a time when Nikias also held the position. Westlake (Hermes 1956, 110–16; cf. Sealey, Essays 110) argues for 423/2, but the argument is weak and based upon a supposition of generalship representation to which I do not subscribe, as is in part Woodbury, Phoenix 1970, 211ff. Ehrenberg, Soph. and Per. 117 n.1, though dubious, suggests 421–415. Cf. Fornara, Generals 61 n.97.

ANTIPHON (? son of Lysonides) PA 1283; APF 327
Plut. Mor. 832f; Philostratos Lives 1.15. Plutarch mentions generalship, which ought to be ascribed to this Antiphon and not his subject, and Philostratos says he was often general. See also 411.

KLEOPHON son of Kleippides of Acharnai (VI) PA 8638
While Fornara, Generals 70 is correct to say that Ar. Frogs with schol. and Lysias 13.12 do not prove a generalship for Kleophon in 406/5 or 405/4, the scholiast does call him general and he may have been so earlier. Cf. Connor, New Politicians 146; Lewis, JHS 1961, 123.

Note: Theramenes was elected general for 405/4, but was rejected at the dokimasia (Lysias 13.10).

Phrourarchos?
GYLON of Kerameis (V) PA 3098
Aisch. 3.171. He could have held some such position when he betrayed Nymphaion to the enemy.

Note: Clairmont, Patrios Nomos 197f., identifies a phrourarch Smikrias in Agora XVII.22.123 (IG i³ 1192), but in that publication Phrourarchos is (correctly) a name.

DEMODOKOS of Anagyrous (I) PA 3464
Plato Theages 127e. See ATL I.570.

ARISTODEMOS of Bate (II) PA 1812
Plut. Mor. 841b. The text may be unclear and ATL II.125 presumes the reference is to Lykourgos son of Lykomedes of Boutadai (VI) (PA 9249; APF 349f.). But the run of the passage makes it clear that Aristodemos was the hellenotamias and the time should be near the end of this period.

Epistatai
IG i³ 408, dated c. 412–405 ?, is conjectured to be related to works on the Tholos. There appears in it what seems to be the beginning of a name:
PHORYS--
This could be that of an epistates or of the grammateus, depending on whether the letters --OS in the next line be taken as the ending of the secretary's name or of a patronymic.

The following were epistatai of the golden Nike around 407/6; they come from IG i³ 469.27f. (i² 369.7f.):
THEOTIMOS of Cholargos (V)
SKOPAS of Pithos (VII) PA 12735
ANTI--

Grammateus

Hypogrammateis
NIKOMACHOS PA 10934
TEISAMENOS son of Mechanion PA 13443
Lysias 30.28 says 'you [have chosen as lawgivers] Teisamenos son of Mechanion and Nikomachos and other men ὑπογραμματέας'. It is not certain that this should be taken literally (Dow, Historia 1960, 271 n.1), but at the end of c. 27 Lysias has ἀντὶ δὲ ὑπογραμματέως νομοθέτης.

Miscellaneous
IG i³ 411 (i² 378) is included as an account or inventory from the second half of the fifth century. In it appear the remains of an official (?tamias) and secretary. Thompson (Hesperia 1965, 148) was not encouraged to identify these remains with the tamiai of 430/29, where I have noticed i³ 411. Given the unwillingness of i³ to be committed to this view, I hope this repetition was justified.

IG i³ 148 (i² 37) contains what appear to be the remains of a name:
--OKLES-- Phi--
The last element could be patronymic or demotic. For speculation on restoration and date see i³; appendix to Section IV decree xxix.

DEMODOKOS of Anagyrous (I) PA 3464
He is said at Plato Theages 127e to have held many high offices, which should mean others beside those noted elsewhere.

POLYSTRATOS of Deiradiotai (IV) PA 12076; APF 467
Lysias 20.5 says he held many offices.

A final word on the mass (mess) of detail attached to Antiphon at Plut. Mor. 832f and following. There is a story that Antiphon (who is supposedly the son of Sophilos of Rhamnous (IX): PA 1304) went as an envoy to Syracuse at the height of the tyranny of Dionysios, which cost him his life. The truth of this must be as doubtful as the activities of any given Antiphon.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Documents noticed in the appendix to Section IV which may belong in this period are IG i³ 43, 48 bis, 56, 132, 133, 141, 145, 147, 155, 156, 189, 207, 1454; also the decree of Kannonos (xlvi).

(i) IG i³ 59 (i² 75) contains two decrees which seem to concern financial
(ii) matters:
Grammateus
[PH]ANTOKLE[S] PA 14114
IG dates c. 430. It would seem to be not later than 422/1. Mattingly, CQ 1966, 187 brings in IG i² 37a (i³ 148) and dates to 426/5.

(iii) IG i³ 63 (i² 58) is a decree concerning the Aphytaians dated c. 426:
Proposers
PATROKLEIDES PA 11685
S[KOPAS?]

(iv) IG i³ 65 (i² 59; Walbank no. 39) is a probouleumatic proxeny decree for Apollonophanes of Kolophon with a rider, dated in IG c. 427/6, by Walbank c. 435–25:
Proposer
ANTIKL[ES?] ? PA 1051

(v) IG i³ 70 (Walbank no. 19) is restored as a probouleumatic decree with a rider granting proxeny, in the view of Walbank, who has the more definite readings, to Chion and his sons; IG dates 430–420, Walbank c. 445–430:
Proposer

(vi) IG i³ 72 (i² 68 + 69) has two decrees concerning the Boiotians, the first of
(vii) pryt. Aigeis:
Grammateus
PHIL[EAS] son of Lykos

IG dates 414?, but this must remain open. Cf. Bradeen and McGregor, Studies 90.

(viii) IG i³ 78 (i² 76; LS no. 5; ML 73; Fornara no. 140) is a decree of pryt. Kekropis originating from syngrapheis, with a rider, and concerning the Eleusinian aparchai:

Bouleutes epistates
KYKNEAS PA 8940
Proposer
LAMPON PA 8996

(x) begins with a rider to a probouleuma and at line 55 begins a separate measure passed in pryt. Aiantis on the proposal of the generals. IG dates 417–413?; for the suggestion of 415 see SEG 31.14.

(xi) IG i³ 91 (i² 144; Walbank no. 64) is a proxeny decree of pryt. Akamantis for Proxenides of Knidos:
Grammateus
ARCHIKLE[S] of Halai (II or VII) PA 2495
Bouleutes epistates
[ANTIKRATES] PA 1076
Proposer
DEMOS[TRATOS]
Antikrates is restored from IG i³ 92 (see below) and the two are dated c. 416/15 in IG, c. 430–415 by Walbank; Mattingly last favoured 425/4 (Phoros 92f.), 'vix recte' says IG i³. See Addenda p. 429.

(xii) IG i³ 92 (ii² 27; Walbank no. 65) dates to the same prytany as the last entry, with the same secretary and the epistates unrestored; it is a proxeny decree for Kallippos of Thessaly proposed by the generals. Now dated to 422/1; see Addenda p. 429.

(xiii) IG i³ 98 (ii² 12; ML 80; Walbank no. 75) is a proxeny decree in honour of Pythophanes:
Grammateus
--ATES of Ikarion (II)
Bouleutes epistates?

Proposer
[HI]PPOMENES PA 7554
This inscription is usually dated to 411, but I am sufficiently unconvinced not to have entered it under that year even with a query. The argument for 411 depends very much upon identifying the five individuals mentioned in the prescript (if such it is: Henry, Prescripts 14f.) with proedroi of the oligarchy. It is, however, open to serious doubt that there were men called proedroi doing the work of the epistates during that period; the case is put succinctly, but firmly, by Rhodes, Comm. 397f. Walbank, in the 1970 dissertation which became his book, found the name Antikrates in Ikarion (PA 1084); Polykrates was another suggestion. He was looking for a man with oligarchic sympathies. Menekrates (PA 9949) also appears in the deme, but I would point out that the Amphikrates of IG i³ 177 (see below) would exactly fit the space at the beginning of line 3 of i³ 98. If we could get over the dating of i³ 98 to 411, we could then put both of these documents in the same prytany of the same year. I will not speculate here on the actual nature of the five men mentioned.

(xiv) There is the matter of what may be a proxeny decree for three exiles from the Hellespont. IG i³ 106 (i² 106) and 186 are still associated at Walbank no. 85; IG dates 106 to 409/8, with no date for 186, while Walbank dates the combination c. 410–405, with a propensity for 409/8. The following is from i³ 186:

Grammateus

NAUPO[N] (? son of Krates of Lamptrai) (I)

For the relationships see Walbank p. 427.

(xv) IG i³ 107 (i² 106a; Walbank no. 93) is a proxeny decree dated c. 409 in IG,

(xvi) c. 420–400 by Walbank. It mentions a previous decree, with regard to which we have

Proposer

. . $^{5}$ . . POS

(xvii) IG i³ 113 (i² 113; SEG 26.23; Osborne D 3) is restored as a probouleumatic decree honouring Euagoras of Salamis, dated c. 410 in IG, early 407 by Osborne (cf. Lewis in SEG). The first name might be that of a proposer, the second concerns the rider:

Proposers

[PHR]ASIDEM[OS]

KLEO. . .

I have not ventured to restore the latter as Kleophon.

(xviii) IG i³ 121 (Walbank no. 84) is part of a proxeny decree dated 410–405 in IG, c. 430–405 by Walbank; it may be of pryt. Hippothontis, but that depends on the demotic of the man who might be epistates. For the secretary, I record the readings of IG and Walbank:

Grammateus?

AIN--

--AIK--

Bouleutes epistates?

-- of Anakaia (VIII)

(xix) IG i³ 137 (i² 78; LSS no. 8) is a decree concerning the worship of Apollo, dated c. 422–416:

Grammateus
ANTIKRATIDES
Bouleutes epistates
--OS
Proposer
PHILOXENOS
For suggestions on the identity of the latter see the commentary of i³.

(xx) IG i³ 158 (i² 160; Osborne x 28) is an honorary decree of pryt. Oineis for Korinthios dated c. 430:
Bouleutes epistates
LY--

(xxi) IG i³ 159 (i² 169; Walbank no. 37) is a proxeny decree of pryt. Kekropis or Hippothontis, dated c. 430 in IG, c. 430–420 by Walbank; I refrain from restoration:
Grammateus
. .[4]. . OS or . . . [7] . . . OS
Proposer
A . . .[6]. . . or AR . . .[6]. . .

(xxiii) IG i³ 164 (i² 152 and 154; Walbank no. 55) in the second part is a proxeny
(xxiv) decree, dated by Walbank to c. 430–410. The whole thing is dated in IG 440–425 and in the first part we find:
Proposer
DEMOKLEIDES PA 3475
This part is probouleumatic.

(xxv) IG i³ 165 (i² 85; Walbank no. 35) is a proxeny decree dated c. 430–420:
Proposer
T . . .[6]. . . or T . . . . [9] . . . .

(xxvi) IG i³ 167 (i² 149; Walbank no. 43) is a proxeny decree, possibly for Euphemos and sons, dated c. 430–415:
Grammateus
--S

(xxvii) I find Walbank's restoration of a proposer in his no. 58 (IG i³ 169) too hypothetical.

(xxviii) IG i³ 170 (i² 150; Walbank no. 54) is possibly a proxeny decree, dated 430–405 in IG, c. 430–410 by Walbank:
Proposer
E-- or ECH . . . [7] . . .

(xxix) IG i³ 173 (i² 148; Walbank no. 28) is perhaps a proxeny decree, probouleumatic, dated 430–405 in IG, c. 435–420 by Walbank:
Proposer
AN . . [5] . . or AL . . [5] . .

(xxx) IG i³ 174 and 175 (i² 93; Walbank nos. 50 and 51) are possibly copies of the (xxxi) same proxeny decree; the first at least is for Lykon of Achaia and both are dated 425–410 in IG, c. 430–410 by Walbank. The first provides data:
Grammateus
[?THE]AIOS PA Add. 6642
Bouleutes epistates
[ARI]S[T]AINETOS or . .LE.AINETOS
Proposer
PEISANDROS (? son of Glauketes of Acharnai) (VI) PA 11770

(xxxii) IG i³ 177 (ii² 60; Walbank no. 63) is a proxeny decree of pryt. Oineis (Walbank) for Xanthippos (Walbank) dated 420–405 in IG, c. 420–410 by Walbank:
Grammateus
AMPHIKRATES PA 768
Bouleutes epistates
PISTOKLES
Proposer
EUXITHEOS ?PA 5901
See above on IG i³ 98. On the basis of Walbank's arguments I am drawn towards 415/14.

(xxxiii) IG i³ 179 (ii² 73; Walbank no. 92) is a proxeny decree dated 415–405 in IG, c. 430–405 by Walbank, though he properly argues for a date close to, if not in, 405/4; the offices belonging to the names must remain uncertain:
Grammateus?
KALLIK--
Bouleutes epistates or proposer?
THEOPH--

(xxxiv) On Walbank's reconstruction, there is also mentioned a previous decree:
Proposer
[T]EISAMENOS (? son of Mechanion) ?PA 13443

(xxxv) IG i³ 180 (i² 67; Walbank no. 88) is what seems to be a proxeny decree with a rider, dated c. 415–410 in IG, c. 425–405 by Walbank:
Proposer
. . . [7] . . . IAS

(xxxvi) IG i³ 190 (ii² 164) is a problematic piece:
Grammateus
-- son of [Eu]rytimos

(xxxvii) IG i³ 192 (i² 164) has

Grammateus?
?[AM]EINOK[LES] or ?[D]EINOK[RATES]

(xxxviii) IG i³ 228 (ii² 32; Walbank no. 66) is a decree of 385/4 which republishes a proxeny for Archonides and Demon the Sikels dated by Walbank to c. 435–415; it is probouleumatic and has a rider:
Proposer
PHRASMON PA 14988

(xxxix) SEG 32.16 is the heading of an honorary decree of the late fifth century of pryt. Hippothontis.

(xl) D. M. Lewis (ZPE 60 (1985), 108) has discovered elements of an Athenian inscription in Insc. Délos 80; the name of the proposer reminds one of the busy orator of 426/5:
Grammateus
EUTHIPPOS
Proposer
[KL]EONYM[O]S

(xli) Athenaios 6.234e records a decree concerning Herakles at Kynosarges:
Grammateus
STEPHANOS son of Thoukydides of Alopeke (X) PA 12884; APF 233
Proposer
ALKIBIADES son of Kleinias of Skambonidai (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.
One might compare IG i³ 134.

(xlii) Isok. 8.82 mentions a decree that tribute should be brought into the orchestra at the Dionysia. Raubitschek (TAPhA 1941, 356ff.) brings in Ar. Knights 313 and schol. and suggests Kleon may have been responsible in 427/6 or 428/7. A time around 430 would seem vaguely right (cf. Unz. GRBS 1985, 40f.).

(xliii) We hear of a decree reducing the payments to comic poets; Ar. Frogs 367 with schol. produces the first name of the proposer, schol. Ekkl. 102 the second. I record both; Rhodes, Comm. 431, manages to have the two working in concert. The measure must date before 405/4.
Proposers
ARCHINOS of Koile (VIII) PA 2526
AGYRRHIOS of Kollytos (II) PA 179; APF 278f.

We have one councillor to add:
Bouleutes
KLEON son of Kleainetos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 8674; APF 318ff.
Ar. Knights 774 suggests he was so before 425/4; does Acharn. 379–81 suggest 427/6? There may be some connexion with the eisphora of 428 (Thuc. 3.19.1), but what is suggested in Acharnians could be in the wake of that rather than exactly at that time.

Anagrapheis or nomothetai

TEISAMENOS son of Mechanion PA 13443

NIKOMACHOS PA 10934

Lysias 30. They held office for the revision of the laws for four years; see Dow, Historia 1960, 271f.

Envoy

PHILON of Koile (VIII) PA 14847

Isok. 18.22. He was indicted for malversation on an embassy, but not tried.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

IG ii² 1 (Tod 97; Osborne D 4+5; Harding no. 5) begins with a re-inscription of the citizenship decree for the Samians of 405/4 (IG i³ 127; i²

126; ML 94) and continues with two probouleumatic decrees reaffirming
(i) and amplifying this. The first is of pryt. Pandionis:
Grammateus
AGYRRHIOS of Kollytos (II) PA 179; APF 278f.
Bouleutes epistates
[KA]LLIAS of Oa (III)
Proposer
KEPHISOPHON (? of Paiania) (III) PA 8401 = ?8400 = ?8415 = ?8416; APF 148

(ii) The second is of pryt. Erechtheis:
Grammateus
KEPHISOPHON of Paiania (III) PA 8416 = ?8400 = ?8401 = ?8415; APF 148
Bouleutes epistates
PYTHON of Kedoi (I) PA 12471
Proposer
EU . . . .[8]. . . .

For IG ii² 2 see the appendix to this Section.

(iii) SEG 28.45 (31.56; Harding no. 7) is a decree honouring the heroes of Phyle, which may be restored with reference to Aisch. 3.187 and the assumption that Kephisophon was epistates, which should give the prytany of Pandionis and Agyrrhios again as secretary:
Bouleutes epistates
KEPH[ISOPHON of Paiania] (III) = PA 8416 = ?8400 = ?8401 = ?8415; APF 148
Proposer
ARCHINOS of Koile (VIII) PA 2526

(iv) SEG 28.46 (32.37) is a decree of pryt. Antiochis concerning orphans, seemingly the one which was indicted as unconstitutional (Hansen, Sovereignty no.5):
Grammateus
. . . .[8]. . . . S
Bouleutes epistates
KALLISTHENES
Proposer
[THEO]ZOTIDES PA 6913 = 6914; APF 222f.

(v) Suda and Photios s.v. Σαμίων ὁ δῆμος (Theopompos FGH 115 F 155; Harding no. 6) record the decision to adopt the Ionic alphabet, in which the 'persuader' appears by emendation:
Proposer
ARCHINOS of Koile (VIII) PA 2526

(vi) Archinos was also responsible for a law on legal procedure (Isok. 18.2; schol. Aisch. 1.163). He features in Ath. Pol. 40, urging the execution without trial of one who did not respect the amnesty in the boule and

(vii) indicting as illegal a proposal to give citizenship to all those who returned from Peiraieus (also Aisch. 3.195; Plut. Mor. 835f–836a; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 4):
Proposer
THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III) PA 7310; APF 240

A number of measures are ascribed to
Proposer
ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.
(viii) First is the law that those not born of a citizen mother should be held as
(ix) illegitimate (Athenaios 13.577b), which looks very similar to a decree mentioned at schol. Aisch. 1.39:
Proposer
NIKOMENES PA 10968
(x) Second for Aristophon is a re-enactment of Solon's law forbidding foreigners to do business in the agora without paying the tax (Dem.
(xi) 57.31ff.). Third is the repayment of five talents to Gelarchos (Dem. 20.149).

(xii) And. 1.82ff. records a decree for the revision of the laws:
Proposer
TEISAMENOS son of Mechanion PA 13443

(xiii) Dion. Lysias 32ff. records a speech (Lysias 34) against a proposal to restrict citizen rights to those with landed property:
Proposer
PHORMISIOS PA 14945

KLEISOPHOS of Euonymon (I) PA 8529
IG ii² 1371.2ff. (SEG 23.81.9ff.); 1372.2ff. (SEG 23.82). I am not confident of the identification of Rhinon with the general of 403/2. IG ii² 1372+1402+SEG 17.39 (SEG 23.82) is an inventory of epeteia.

In Hesperia 1982, 75ff. (SEG 32.161) Walbank has published a number of stelai (poletai records) to be dated in or at least around 402/1, on which may be identified the following officials (for whom see Walbank's commentary):

A. Grammateus
EUTHYMACH[O]S ? son of Alk[imachos of Agryle] (I)
One presumes this is secretary to the council. The prytany is the seventh, of Aigeis.
Poletai
Grammateus
--ATOS or -- son of --ates of Plotheia (II)
Demarchoi
[M]ENIPPOS of Phaleron (IX)

B. Demarchos

Archon of Salamis?
LEUKOLOPHOS
I do not accept the argument that because he has no demotic he cannot be taken as an Athenian citizen; it is his status with regard to Salamis that is relevant in the context of the inscription.

C. Demarchos
NOTHIPPOS of Oion (IV or VIII)

D. Archons or thesmothetai

IG ii² 1388.9ff. (Harding no. 10); 1392.9ff. Only eight were listed.

Envoys

--KRATES
HAGNIAS (? son of Polemon of Oion (IV)) PA 133; APF 82f.
TELESEGOROS (? of Kollytos) (II) ?PA 13512
Hell. Oxy. 7.1f.; ?Isaios 11.8 (Hagnias); Androtion FGH 324 F 18 = Philochoros FGH 328 F 147 (Harding no. 11C). They and others were sent to Persia, but were captured and executed at Sparta. For date and discussion see Bruce, Historia 1966, 272, 276; Hamilton, Bitter Victories 177f.; cf. Seager, JHS 1967, 96 n.6. The identity of Hagnias is made very doubtful by Humphreys, CPh 1983, 219ff.; see the appendix to Section VII.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

A man who is presumably first secretary heads IG ii² 1391 and I place him here because in that inscription the tamiai of 397/6 will have been mentioned; the secretary may be mentioned because the paradosis took place before the boule (Ath. Pol. 47.1), but the heading is unique:

Grammateus

396/5 (Ol. 96.1)

Archon

PHORMION PA 14949
Diod. 14.54.1; IG ii² 1237.10, 45 (LS no. 19); 1395.9f.; 1540.50f.

Strategoi

?DEMAINETOS (? son of Demeas of Paiania) (III) PA 3265 = ?3276; APF 104f.
Hell. Oxy. 6.1ff. (Harding no. 11); cf. Aisch. 2.78. Pace Bruce, Comm. 51, the fact that he is said to have made private arrangements with the boule does not rule out an official position; his ship was state property. Kirchner suggested the identification, but APF is properly cautious. He went to aid Konon, but was disowned at Athens. This is dated to the end of 397/6 by Bruce 72; Hamilton, Bitter Victories 178 n.45; see also Funke, Homonoia 66. If the Milon of Hell. Oxy. is the Cheilon of Aischines, the sources will be associated and there will be an engagement with this Spartan. I am inclined to think this is the case, but see Cawkwell, CQ 1976, 272f. n.14; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 163, dates the event of the Aischines passage to before 388.

?KLEOBOULOS son of Glaukos of Acharnai (VI) PA 8558; APF 544
Aisch. 2.78. Associated with Demainetos; see above. In reference to him APF dates this to 388.

Tamias
[HEU]RETES of Alopeke (X) PA 5943
IG ii² 1395.8f., which is an inventory.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Hell. Oxy. 6.2f. tells of uproar in Athens after Demainetos' departure which resulted in an assembly at which it seems Thrasyboulos, Aisimos and Anytos spoke.

395/4 (Ol. 96.2)

Archon
DIOPHANTOS PA 4417
Diod. 14.82.1; Paus. 8.45.4; ?Zenobios Paroim. 3.37; ?Hesychios s.v. δραχμὴ χαλαζῶσα; IG ii² 1395; 1654.[24] (but see Hesperia 1938, 269 (Schweigert), for 405/4 and IG i³ p. 481 for 380–370 for the document); 1656 (Tod 107 A; Harding no. 17); xiv 1097.10.

Strategoi
?KTESIKLES PA 8861
Lysias 9.6. The date is the earliest possible. See Beloch, Att. Pol. 315; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 171, has 393/2 (?).

THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III) PA 7310; APF 240f.
Plut. Lys. 29.1; Paus. 3.5.4f.; cf. Dem. 57.42. He was sent to Boiotia and was in command at Haliartos.

?HIERONYMOS PA 7552
Ephoros FGH 70 F 73; cf. Diod. 14.81.4. Diodoros has him with Konon (under 396/5) along with Nikodemos (=Nikophemos: Hell. Oxy. 15.1 (Harding no. 12C); Bruce, Comm. 99). He may not be an Athenian strategos, though Harpokration, who cites Ephoros, says so.

Hipparchos
PAMPHILOS of Keiriadai (VIII) PA 11545; APF 365
Lysias 15.5. He is more likely to have been hipparch than phylarch, as a phylarch is subsequently alluded to by Lysias.

Hipparchos or Phylarchos
ORTHOBOULOS of Kerameis (V) PA 11489; APF 364f.

Lysias 16.13. The mention of Haliartos dates him to this year more firmly than Pamphilos (above). On the role of the hipparchs and phylarchs in this context see Bugh, TAPhA 1982, 24.

Tamiai
--RIDES of Ionidai (II)
--IPPOS

IG ii² 1395.3ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 14 (Tod 101; Harding no. 14) will be the alliance with the Boiotians mentioned at Xen. Hell. 3.5.16; Lysias 16.13; And. 3.25.

(ii) IG ii² 15 (Tod 102; Harding no. 16) is an alliance with Lokrians which may be placed in the same context.

Xen. Hell. 3.5.7ff. tells of Theban envoys addressing the assembly and the Athenian vote to help; Thrasyboulos' words may have been in the assembly; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 169, has him propose the aid, but the text cannot bear this (for an analogy see Dem. 7.20). Cf. also Ar. Ekkl. 195f.

394/3 (Ol. 96.3)

Archon
EUBOULIDES son of Epikleides of Eleusis (VIII) PA 5325 + Add. = 5317

IG ii² 2811.

Strategoi
THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III) PA 7310; APF 240f.
Lysias 16.15. This is presuming that he is 'the fine chap from Steiria' and that he was general in the adverse battle at Nemeia and not a subordinate. On the matter of his generalship at Koroneia see Seager, JHS 1967, 99 n.33; Funke, Homonoia 113 n.32.

MNESIKL[ES] of tribe VI
[THO]UKLE[IDES] of tribe IX
IG ii² 5221 (Clairmont, Patrios Nomos 209ff.; Harding no. 19, which gives a false impression of the text).

?POLYSTRATOS PA 12070
Dem. 4.24; Harpokration s.v. Πολύστρατος. Supposedly in command of the mercenary force at Corinth; the date is uncertain and Didymos, says Harpokration, found no record of him; see the speculation of Thompson, GRBS 1985, 55 n.23. Perhaps he was the first in a chain of commanders, if such it is, as mentioned by Demosthenes, who says citizens were serving. It cannot be regarded as certain from Dem. 20.84 that he was rewarded with citizenship.

Phylarchos
ANTIPHANES of tribe V PA 1221
IG ii² 5222 (Clairmont, Patrios Nomos 212ff.; Harding no. 19B).

Taxiarchos
LACHES (? of Aixone) (VII) PA 9012
Lysias 3.45. He was at Corinth. For the deme see Davies, Wealth 151.

Envoys
?EPIKRATES of Kephisia (I) PA 4859; APF 181
?PHORMISIOS PA 14945
Plato com. F 119 (Edmonds); Plut. Per. 30.7; Athenaios 6.251a. The date is not certain for their embassy to Persia. For discussion see Bruce, Historia 1966, 272, 274ff., 277f.; Seager, JHS 1967, 103 n.77; Funke, Homonoia 106 and n.12.

?ARISTOPHANES son of Nikophemos PA 2082; APF 201f.
?EUNOMOS PA 5861
Lysias 19.19f. They were envoys to Dionysios of Syracuse, whom they persuaded not to send ships to help Sparta. The date could be 393/2, but perhaps the embassy followed quickly upon IG ii² 18, dated to the sixth prytany of 394/3. Cf. Funke, Homonoia 130f.

?EURIPPIDES (? son of Adeimantos of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5955 = ?5949 = ?5956; APF 202ff.
Arist. Rhet. 2.6.20 1384b.15 and schol. Probably he was on the same embassy as Aristophanes and Eunomos.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 16 (Tod 103; Harding no.2), on the date of which see above under archon, is a decree of pryt. Akamantis from the boule concerning alliance with Eretria:

Grammateus
CHELONION son of Theog-- PA 15546
Proposer
GNATHIO[S] PA 3043

(ii) IG ii² 17 (Walbank no. 78; Osborne D 8) contains two decrees of pryt. Aigeis from the boule granting citizenship to Sthorys of Thasos:
Grammateus
[ARI]STOKRATES son of Aischines of Kephale (V) PA 1913 = 1895
Bouleutes epistates
AMEIPS[IAS] PA 709

(iii) IG ii² 18 (Tod 108; Harding no. 20) is a decree of sixth pryt. of Pandionis from the boule honouring Dionysios of Syracuse:
Grammateus
PLATON son of Nikochares of Phlya (VII) PA 11860
Proposer
KINESIAS (? son of Meles) PA 8438

(iv) IG ii² 19 (Osborne D 7) is a probouleumatic decree of pryt. Leontis or Aiantis granting citizenship to a Rhodian:
Proposer
SOPH[I]L[OS] PA 13414

(v) IG ii² 20 is now augmented at SEG 29.86 and the secretary could be placed in ii² 19 (Funke, ZPE 53 (1983), 152ff.); it is a decree in honour of Euagoras of Salamis:
Grammateus?
ARISTOKL[ES] (? of Myrrhinous) (III) = ?PA 1850 or 1851
Proposer
SOPHILOS PA 13414
The prytany is again Leontis or Aiantis. It remains possible that the date is 393/2.

393/2 (Ol. 96.4)

Archon
DEMOSTRATOS of Kerameis PA 3612
Diod. 14.90.1; IG ii² Add. 1424a.352; 1425.291; 1660; 1661 (SEG 19.141); 1664.12; Agora XV.2 (SEG 19.150); Insc. Délos 97.[1], 6, [20f.] (IG ii² 1634); 97 bis.3. On the reconstruction of Insc. Délos this Demostratos and not the archon of 390/89 must possess the demotic.

Strategos
?IPHIKRATES son of Timotheos of Rhamnous (IX) PA 7737; APF 248ff.
Xen. Hell. 4.4.9,15f.; Dem. 4.24; Nepos Iph. 2.1f.; Diod. 14.86.3, 91.2f., 92.2; Justin 6.5.2 (Harding no. 22c); Front. Strat. 2.1.6, 3.12.2; Polyainos

3.9.10,45,49,52,54; Orosius 3.1.21; Harpokration, Suda and Photios s.v. Ξενικὸν ἐν Κορίνθῳ (Harding no. 22A).

There are problems of chronology with Xenophon and Diodoros, but my assumption will be that Iphikrates remained in command of the force at Corinth until 390/89. A second question is whether he was a strategos of the Athenians or merely a mercenary commander; see Sealey, Essays 138 and n.54, Pritchett, Greek State at War 2.62f.; Thompson, GRBS 1985, 55f. There are indications that he was an official general. On Dem. 4.24 see 394/3 under the strategos (?) Polystratos. Frontinus calls Iphikrates 'dux Atheniensium' and Diodoros 14.92.2 speaks of him laying down his arche and the Athenians replacing him with the strategos Chabrias (this should be 390/89, q.v.; cf. Xen. Hell. 4.8.34). I am inclined to accept that he was strategos, despite the tradition of Justin and Orosius that he was only 20 years old at the time; we cannot say that an age limit was set for the strategia or that it could not be waived if it did exist. See Rhodes, Comm. 510; Develin, ZPE 61 (1985), 154f.

In this year Iphikrates was successful around Corinth and went into the territory of Phleious. The plundering and attacking of towns in Arkadia may belong here or in 392/1.

KALLISTHENES PA 8088

KALLIMEDON PA 8030; APF 279

Xen. Hell. 4.8.13ff.; IG ii² 1424a.350; 1425.289. They were sent to Tiribazos to counter the Spartan mission; see Bruce, Historia 1966, 272, 278. I avoid the prosopographical speculation of Sealey, Essays 138, but the suggestion for Dion comes from the lambda which follows his name in IG ii² 1425. That inscription has not received the attention due to it (though see Hansen, GRBS 1983, 166, indicating on this basis a separate embassy for Dion in 394/3(?)). If we could accept that the dates provided in the inscription were those of the registration of the crowns, we could be sure that the embassy was in this archon year, but I have been warned that registrations could well be in a year subsequent to the award, so that the context of 393/2 in which the crown to the ambassadors appears may be illusory and their crown may be alongside others, all of which were recorded by the treasurers of 392/1. In any event, I believe that the embassy did go in this year; contra Hamilton, Bitter Victories 244f.; Funke, Homonoia 86 and n.48; pro Tuplin, CQ 1982, 77, opposed by Whitby, Historia 1984, 299.

The presence of Konon, who was at the time in Persian service, seems a problem; yet if he is removed, we will be left with an unparalleled four-man embassy, while five is a normal number. See Jacoby FGH on Philochoros 328 F 149; Mosley, Envoys 55ff., who (p. 56) is suspicious of this embassy.

They were envoys to Sparta on the matter of peace, their willingness to accept which won them exile. On the problem of Philochoros see Funke, Homonoia 88 n.56, 143 n.35, against Bruce, Historia 1966, 273, 278ff.; Hamilton, Bitter Victories 234ff. Kratinos' demotic is an emendation of the close papyrus reading which cites Philochoros; PA indicates a restoration of Anaphlystos (X).

And. 3 is evidently Andokides' speech in support of peace with Sparta, which was rejected; see Philochoros FGH 328 F 149b.

Sent to Corinth to replace Iphikrates (see 393/2), he seems also to have been active in the Thracian area, perhaps aiding Thrasyboulos, but this is problematic. Perhaps he attacked Lakonia (Polyainos 3.11.15 – or 370/69?). In general see Thompson, GRBS 1985, 51–7.

PHILOKRATES son of Ephialtes PA 14586
Xen. Hell. 4.8.24; Dem. 23.116. He was intercepted on his way to help Euagoras in Cyprus by the Spartan Teleutias.

THRASYBOULOS son of Lykos of Steiria (III) PA 7310; APF 240f. Lysias 28.5, 29.7; Xen. Hell. 4.8.25ff.; Dem. 20.59f.; Nepos Thras. 4.4; Diod. 14.94.2ff., 99.4; schol. Ael.Arist. Pan. 172.2,5,6 (III.275 Dindorf), 112.2 (III.85); IG ii² 24a.6; 28.7f. (Tod 114; Harding no. 25).

Abandoning an expedition to Rhodes, he went to the Hellespont and the Thracian coast, reconciled Amedokos and Seuthes and made arrangements at Byzantion. Thence he went to success at Lesbos and to operations in Ionia, where he collected money. Then he went south towards the Eurymedon, where he died at the hands of disgruntled Aspendians. I have included the sources here, but I will put his death in 389/8.

ERGOKLES PA 5052; APF 542
Lysias 28; Dem. 19.180; Harpokration and Suda s.v. Ἐργοκλῆς; Photios s.v. Ἐργοκλῆς καὶ Ἐργόφιλος. He was associated with Thrasyboulos and was indicted for embezzlement of funds, along with his tamias Philokrates.

Schol. Ael. Arist. Pan. 172.3, 4 (III.274, 275 Dindorf). He replaced Chabrias at Corinth, perhaps in this year; so APF, where also there is speculation on his lineage, which I do not venture to assert. I presume he continued at Corinth into the next year. See also Thompson, GRBS 1985, 55f.

ARISTOPHANES son of Nikophemos PA 2082; APF 201f.
Lysias 19.7, 23. He was envoy to Cyprus, but was executed with his father, whether or not he was recalled; Pritchett, Greek State at War 2.25; Tuplin, Philologus 1983, 173ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

SEG 30.56 retains in this year IG ii² 22, but suggests 388/7 for ii² 21; I will,
(i) however, deal with both here. IG ii² 21 is a treaty with Seuthes, evidently of
(ii) pryt. Erechtheis; ii² 22 concerns Medokos; the fragments of the latter are now separated (SEG 32.44).

Xen. Hell. 4.8.33ff.; Front. Strat. 1.4.7, 2.5.42, 4.7.23; Plut. Mor. 219c; Polyainos 3.9.23,33,58. He was sent out to the Chersonese to counter Anaxibios (Bias in Plutarch), whom he ambushed at Abydos. Again there may be doubt as to whether he was strategos, but not much: Develin, ZPE 61 (1985), 154f.

PAMPHILOS of Keiriadai (VIII) PA 11545; APF 365
Xen. Hell. 5.1.2, 5; Ar. Ploutos 174 with schol.; Plato com. F 14 (Edmonds). Sent to Aigina, he clashed with Teleutias the Spartan. When besieged, he was recalled and evidently prosecuted for embezzlement.

?DIOTIMOS PA 4370; APF 162f.

Xen. Hell. 5.1.25; Polyainos 2.24; cf. 389/8. He was blockading Nikolochos at Abydos along with Diotimos. Polyainos has a siege of the Chalkedonians.

DIOTIMOS PA 4370; APF 162f.
Xen. Hell. 5.1.25; Lysias 19.50f. See above on Iphikrates. I presume he was not nauarchos or the like, as he was at some stage according to Polyainos 5.22.3 and Harpokration s.v. Διότιμος. He was unjustly accused of embezzlement.

CHABRIAS son of Ktesippos of Aixone (VII) PA 15086; APF 560f.
DEMAINETOS (? son of Demeas of Paiania) (III) PA 3265 = ?3276; APF 104f.

They followed Antalkidas towards Prokonnesos, but sailed past him. Dionysios was condemned.

?THRASYBOULOS son of Thrason of Kollytos (II) PA 7305; APF 238ff. Xen. Hell. 5.1.26f.; Lysias 26.23f.; Dem. 57.38. He sailed from Thrace and was unsuccessful against Antalkidas. He could have been nauarch. He was said to have practised extortion.

Envoy
?KALLIAS son of Hipponikos of Alopeke (X) PA 7826; APF 263ff. At Xen. Hell. 6.3.4 he is made to say that he went twice to Sparta to make peace and this is likely to be one of those occasions; see Cawkwell, CQ 1976, 276 n. 25.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 28 (Tod 114; SEG 31.59; Harding no. 26) is a decree of pryt. Kekropis honouring Klazomenai:

ATHENION of Araphen (II) PA 240
IG ii² 36.4ff. (Tod 119). They were chosen to administer oaths of alliance with the Chalkidians, on the date of which see below.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 34 (Tod 118; Harding no. 31) is from the first prytany, restored as Hippothontis, and is an alliance with Chios:
Grammateus
. . . . ? . . . . son of [? Steph]anos of Oion (IV)
IG ii² 35 is a copy of this.

(ii) IG ii² 36 (Tod 119), the alliance with the Chalkideans, may remain in this year if Hesperia 1971, 149f. (3) (Stroud), is a copy of it and is correctly restored by reference to it:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

IG ii² 1126 (LS no. 78; SEG 28.100) is of the third prytany, of Hippothontis, and Roux, L'amphictionie 44, shows it is an Athenian decree incorporating a measure of the Delphic amphiktyony, which thus becomes a part of Athenian law.

?CHABRIAS son of Ktesippos of Aixone (VII) PA 15086; APF 560f.
Xen. Hell. 5.4.14; schol. Ael. Arist. Pan. 172.10 (III.276 Dindorf). He was in command of Athenian peltasts guarding the road through Eleutherai. He may not have been general, but I believe he was. Cf. Cawkwell, CQ 1973, 57f.

DEMOPHON PA 3693
Diod. 15.26.2f. (378/7); ?schol. Ael. Arist. Pan. 173.11, 13 (III.281 Dindorf: Demades or Demeas). Diodoros says he led out a force to help Thebes; the scholiast on Aristides pairs him with Chabrias, provided the emendation is accepted. See Cawkwell, CQ 1973, 56ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 39 is a proxeny decree for Larissans.

ALKIMACHOS (son of Kephisios) of Angele (III) PA 615
IG ii² 41.17ff. (Tod 121; Harding no. 34). Envoys to Byzantion in the matter of alliance.

?AI[SI]MOS PA 311; NPA 8
IG ii² 42.19f. (Tod 122; Harding no. 37). It is hard to know exactly how he is to be seen; he is in the company of synhedroi (of the alliance). For date see Cawkwell, CQ 1973, 50f.

ARISTOTELES of Marathon (IX) PA 2065
PYRRHANDROS of Anaphlystos (X) PA 12496
THRASYBOULOS (son of Thrason) of Kollytos (II) PA 7305; APF 238ff.
IG ii² 43.76f. (Tod 123; Harding no. 35); for Thrasyboulos and Pyrrhandros Aisch. 3.138f. They were envoys to Thebes.

--ON or --AS
THEOPOMPOS PA 7016
IG ii² 40.7 (Harding no. 33); ?Aisch. 3.138f.; cf. Deinarchos 1.38. Theopompos is named in the inscription, which must refer to Athenian ambassadors (they are called to δεῖπνον in the Prytaneion, not ξένια). For the rest there is only the accusative ending -ντα and one may speculate about Aristophon and Leodamas, who, along with Thrason, are mentioned by Aischines as having been envoys to Thebes. Sealey, Essays 175, suggested 371 for Leodamas. On the nationality of the envoys see Cawkwell, CQ 1973, 49 nn.3, 5; Cargill, League 52ff.

Unknown
Lewis, Gnomon 1975, 718f., suggests this date for a document published as a photograph in AD 25 B.1 (1970), pl.56; in it a payment is made to a secretary of some sort:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 40 (SEG 31.62; Harding no. 33) concerns Thebes and Mitylene: it is probouleumatic with a rider:
Proposer
[ST]EPHANOS
He probably ought to stand, rather than Kephalos (PA 8277).

(ii) IG ii² 41 (Tod 121; Harding no. 34) is a treaty with Byzantion.

(iii) IG ii² 42 (Tod 122; Harding no. 37) is a treaty with Methymna:
Grammateus
KAL[L . . . ? . . . ] of Alopeke (X)
Bouleutes epistates
SIMON PA 12698
Proposer
ASTYPHILOS PA 2662

(iv) IG ii² 43 (Tod 123; SEG 31.61; 32.53; Harding no. 35) is of the seventh prytany, of Hippothontis, and concerns the Athenian alliance (cf. Diod. 15.28):
Grammateus
KALLIBIOS son of Kephisophon of Paiania (III) PA 7900; APF 148f.
Bouleutes epistates
CHARINOS of Athmonon (VII) PA 15443
Proposer
ARISTOTELES (of Marathon) (IX) PA 2065

(v) IG ii² 44 (Tod 124; Harding no. 38) is a decree of pryt. Leontis concerning alliance with Chalkis:

ARISTOTELES son of Euphiletos of Acharnai (VI) PA 2061
Bouleutes epistates
PANTARETO[S] PA 11605
Proposer
PYRRHANDROS (? of Anaphlystos) (X) PA 12496

Schweigert, Hesperia 1938, 626 (1), restored ii² 155 as a duplicate of this (denied by Accame, La lega 71f.) and later thought 203 was a copy of 155 (Hesperia 1941, 339).

(vi) IG ii² 45 appears to be a law concerning public debts.

HERAKLEIDES of Klazomenai PA 6489
APOLLODOROS of Kyzikos PA 1458
Plato Ion 541d. If Herakleides only gained citizenship in 399/8 (see now Walbank, ZPE 51 (1983), 183f.), then we may presume his strategia was after that and we may put Apollodoros in the same period.

ARCHINOS of Koile (VIII) PA 2526
Dem. 24.135 says he was general often.

Notes: Konon during this period was not an elected general of the Athenians: Seager, JHS 1967, 101; Funke, Homonoia 129 n. 72.

Similarly, the adventures of Iphikrates in Thrace were not as Athenian strategos.

Beloch (Att. Pol. 111 and n. 3) believed Thrasyboulos, Anytos and Archinos were generals in the years 403/2 to 395/4, which is possible (and Archinos is included above), but lacking in evidence as to specific years. The statement at Plato Meno 90b, which is evidence that they chose Anytos for the highest offices, is hardly enough even to attribute a queried generalship to him in 403/2 (so Hansen, GRBS 1983, 160).

Lochagos and Taxiarchos

NIKOMACHIDES PA 10931

Xen. Mem. 3.4.1. He held both positions many times, but failed to be elected strategos. That election, won by Antisthenes, will be noted in the appendix to the next section, but Nikomachides' service can easily be included in this. Only the theory of tribal representation in the strategia will allow him to be put in tribe III, by association with the tribe of Antisthenes which results from his identification; there is nothing in Xenophon to support it.

Financial officials

The following were discovered by Woodward, Hesperia 1956, 86 (4), 92ff. (9c) (SEG 15.22, 25c):

A. PAUS--
PHORYS or PHORYS[KIDES] or PHORYS[KOS]

LYSIPPIDES of Thorikos (V)

Thorikos VIII (1972/76 [1984]), 175ff. no. 75; Whitehead, ZPE 62 (1986), 213ff. The date is late fifth or early fourth century.

Archon of Salamis

PHILOMELOS

IG ii$^2$ 3093.5, dated to the beginning of the century.

Envoys

ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.
THRASON of Erchia (II) PA 7384; APF 239
LEODAMAS (? son of Erasistratos) of Acharnai (VI) PA 9077; APF 523
ARCHEDEMOS of Pelekes (IV) PA 2326

Aisch. 3.138f. For the first three see 378/7. They were envoys to Thebes.

?DEMOS son of Pyrilampes PA 3573; APF 330

Deduced by MacDowell, Wasps 144, from the fact that he received a gold cup from the Persian king (Lysias 19.25).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 2 has been eliminated from 403/2 by Walbank, Classical Views 26 n.s. 1 (1982), 259–74; he favours a date of 382/1, but the restoration of the archon leaves open 398/7 or even 408/7; Lewis (SEG 32.38) still wants it in 403/2. Walbank also thinks that fr. a may be separate from fr. b; the first at least is a proxeny decree of pryt. Pandionis for a Boiotian:
Grammateus
. . .⁶. . . OS of Kollytos (II)
Proposer
PHILAGROS PA 14203

(ii) IG ii² 3 is a proxeny decree of pryt. Aiantis dated c. 403/2 (cf. IG i³ p. 196):
Bouleutes epistates
AP[E]MANTOKLES (? of Trikorynthos (IX)) PA 1344
Proposer
. . . .⁹. . . . OS
For Apemantokles' demotic see Lewis, ABSA 1954, 33.

(iii) IG ii² 5, dated around 400, is reconstructed at SEG 14.36 as a proxeny decree:
Proposer
THEOZOTID[ES] PA 6913 + 6914; APF 222f.

(iv) IG ii² 6 (Tod 98; Walbank no. 61) is a decree from the boule of pryt. Oineis, dated c. 403/2, reinscribing the proxeny for the sons of Apemantos of Thasos:
Grammateus
DEXITHEOS PA 3214
Bouleutes epistates
DEMOKLES PA 3484
Proposer
MONIPPIDES PA 10414

(v) The prytany, secretary and proposer of IG ii² 6 are restored to ii² 7, which honours Kleonymidas:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . MOS

(vi) IG ii² 25 (SEG 15.86; Osborne D 9) gives citizenship to the Thasians Archippos and Hipparchos; Osborne dates c. 388:
Grammateus
. . .⁷. . . S of Peiraieus (VIII)

(vii) IG ii² 26, for the date of which cf. IG i³ p. 196, is a decree of pryt. Hippothontis dated 394–387 honouring Iphitos of Pharsalos:

Grammateus
CHARIDEMOS son of Theoteles of Lamptrai (I) PA 15386
Bouleutes epistates
[THR]ASYMEDES PA 7359
Proposer
ATHENODORO[S] PA 259

(viii) IG ii² 49 is a decree of the boule of pryt. Erechtheis, dated there at the beginning of the century, to the early 370s by Burnett and Edmonson, Hesperia 1961, 84 n.28, though AE 1957, 84ff., dates the relief to the 380s; it grants proxeny to some Abydenes:
Grammateus
KYDENOR son of Kydenor of Alopeke (X) PA 8921

(ix) IG ii² 50 is a fragment from pryt. Erechtheis dated to the beginning of the century, honouring a Samian (for date cf. IG i³ p. 196):
Grammateus
--of Paionidai (IV)
Bouleutes epistates
--of Agryle (I)

(x) IG ii² 51 (Lewis, ABSA 1954, 33; Henry, Chiron 1982, 104) is a decree of pryt. Aiantis, dated before 387/6, granting proxeny to a Delphian:
Grammateus
[HYPER]BOLOS PA 13907
Bouleutes epistates
. . .⁶. . . OS

(xi) IG ii² 58 (for date cf. IG i³ p. 196) is a decree of the boule of pryt. Pandionis honouring an Eresian (?):
Grammateus
EUDRAMON of Acherdous (VIII) PA 5442
Bouleutes epistates
EUXITHE[OS] PA 5901

(xii) IG ii² 59 is a fragment of pryt. Kekropis:
Grammateus
[PO]LYKLE[S] of Philaidai (II) PA 12001

(xiii) IG ii² 61 is a decree honouring a Sicilian:
Grammateus
AMEINIAS of Sphettos (V) PA 685
Bouleutes epistates
ANDROTION (? son of Andron) of Gargettos (II) PA 915 = 913; APF 33f.

(xiv) Lewis, ABSA 1954, 34 pondered a date of 373/2. Ameinias is also restored in ii² 62.

(xv) IG ii² 63 (Walbank no. 80; Lewis, ABSA 1954, 33) is a decree of the boule of pryt. Erechtheis granting proxeny to Echembrotos of Kleonai:

Grammateus
P[I]STOXENOS PA 11836
Bouleutes epistates
[CHA]IREDEMOS PA 15117

(xvi) IG ii² 69 is the end of a proxeny decree dated to the beginning of the century:
Grammateus
THEOPROPOS

(xvii) IG ii² 70 + Add. (Lewis, ABSA 1954, 34) is dated between 390 and 378 by Henry, Chiron 1982, 117 and n.109; it honours three Athenians who have been granted Phokian citizenship:
Grammateus
. . . . [10] . . . . s son of Demoph[i]los of Phegous (I) or Phegaia (II) PA 3690
Bouleutes epistates
CH[AR]M[IDES of Lamptrai] (I)
Proposer
O . . . [?] . . .

(xviii) IG ii² 72 is an honorific decree:
Grammateus
. . [5] . . s of Eroiadai (VIII)
Proposer?
ARIST[ION] PA 1734

(xix) IG ii² 76 (Lewis, ABSA 1954, 33), which Henry (Chiron 1982, 108) dates c. 378/7, is a decree of pryt. Oineis granting proxeny to Philinos of Byzantion:
Grammateus
NAUSIAS of Atene (X)
Bouleutes epistates
PHE[REKLES of Thria or Phyle] (VI)
If Nausias could be restored in ii² 158, he would be son of [Gl]aukippos.

(xx) IG ii² 77 + Add. (for date cf. IG i³ p. 196) is a decree of pryt. Hippothontis granting proxeny to Komaios of Abdera; it is passed by the boule according to a decree of the demos:
Grammateus
SMIKYTHOS son of Cha[r]inos of Acharnai (VI) PA 12788; APF 542
Bouleutes epistates
S[T]RATIOS
Proposer
XE[NOTI]MOS

(xxi) There follows a similar measure of pryt. Aiantis (probably earlier than (xx))
Proposer
PY[THON]I[KOS]

(xxii) IG ii² 80 is a probouleumatic proxeny decree for Epichares with a rider; for the reading see SEG 24.78:
Proposer
. . . ? . . . CHOS

(xxiii) IG ii² 81 honours a Megarian:
Proposer
--DOROS

(xxiv) IG ii² 84 is a probouleumatic decree honouring Polychartides and Alkibiades with a rider:
Proposer
KALLISTRATOS (? son of Kallikrates of Aphidna) (IX) PA 8157; APF 277ff.

(xxv) IG ii² 85 has the following (Wilhelm, Att. Urk. V.129ff., argued for 375/4 or 371/70):
Grammateus
--DROKLI--
Bouleutes epistates
? --S
Proposer

(xxvi) IG ii² 86 is dated to the early years of the century at SEG 24.76 and is a proxeny decree of pryt. Hippothontis:
Grammateus
DOR--
Bouleutes epistates
MY--

(xxvii) IG ii² 145 (Lewis, ABSA 1954, 36f.; Osborne T 20) grants honours, possibly citizenship, to Eukles the herald; it is dated 402–399 by Lewis, (?) 402/1 – 401/0 by Osborne (cf. also Rhodes, Boule 84f.); it is restored as a decree of the boule, but Rhodes wants it to be of the demos; it comes from pryt. Erechtheis:
Bouleutes epistates
SIMI--
Proposer
EURIPPIDE[S] (? son of Adeimantos of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5955 = ?5949 = ?5956; APF 202ff.

(xxviii) SEG 17.16 is a fragment of pryt Erechtheis:
Proposer
GNATHON (of Lakiadai) (VI)
For the deme see Hesperia 1983, 106.

(xxix) Hesperia 1938, 91 (11) (Meritt), is a fragment of a proxeny decree from the boule of pryt. Kekropis:
Grammateus
. . [5] . . KLEIDES
Bouleutes epistates
. . .[6]. . . EMOS

(xxx) Ath. Pol. 41.3 tells of the introduction of assembly pay and its augmenta-
(xxxi) tion by two further measures, which must be before 392:
(xxxii) Proposers
AGYRRHIOS of Kollytos (II) PA 179; APF 278f.
HERAKLEIDES of Klazomenai PA 6489
(xxxiii) Harpokration s.v. θεωρικά (Philochoros FGH 328 F 33) makes Agyrrhios responsible for the introduction of theoric distributions.

(xxxiv) Before 393 a measure on eisphora was passed (Ar. Ekkl. 823ff. and schol.):
Proposer
EURIP(P)IDES (? son of Adeimantos of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 5949 = ?5955 = ?5956; APF 202ff.

(xxxv) Between 400 and 380 a decree of unknown content brought an indictment for illegal motion (Lysias F 143; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 6):
Proposer
PHANIAS PA 14010

(xxxvi) Istros FGH 334 F 32 records that the same man moved the decrees which sent Xenophon into exile and brought him back; the first will fall in this period:
Proposer
EUBOULOS (? son of Spintharos of Probalinthos (III)) PA 5369
It is, of course, possible that it was not the same man.

(xxxvii) Proposer
KEPHALOS of Kollytos (II) PA 8277; NPA 109
He is said to have proposed numerous decrees (Aisch. 3.194).

Three known to have spoken in the assembly are Theomnestos in the period 394–384 (Lysias 10.1), Mantitheos about 400 (Lysias 16.20) and Philepsios early in the century (Harpokration, Suda and Photios s.v. Φιλέψιος; cf. Dem. 24.134).

Nomothetai

(xxxviii) IG ii² 140.8f. mentions a law to do with the Eleusinian cult, which is now dated in or after 403/2 (Rhodes, Boule 94f. and 95 n.1):
Proposer
CHAIREMONIDES

(xxxix) About 400 a law was proposed concerning the coming into force of nomoi (Dem. 24.42; MacDowell, JHS 1975, 62):

Proposer

DIOKLES PA 3989

Agora XV.9 gives us a bouleutes of tribe VIII Hippothontis:

Thymaitadai

ECH[OS]

Agora XV.12 gives us bouleutai of tribe III Pandionis, followed by a secretary of the council and demos and an antigrapheus; it is dated 400–350, but I favour this period:

377/6 (Ol. 100.4)

Archon

KALLEAS PA 7766
MP A 70; Diod. 15.28.1 (Kallias); IG ii² [95]; 216.10 (= [217]; SEG 14.47); [1410]; 1411.5; 1424.[17]; 1425.328; 1426.[7]; 1622.[437]; 1635.2, 9, 118, 122 (Tod 125; Insc. Délos 98); 2318.[222].

Strategos

CHABRIAS son of Ktesippos of Aixone (VII) PA 15086; APF 560f.
Diod. 15.30.5. In Euboia he ravaged the land of Hestiaia and left a garrison. Then he won over Peparethos and Skiathos and other islands in the Kyklades.

Tamiai of Athene

CHARIAS son of Chariades of Sybridai (I) PA 15361
KLEON son of Thoudi[ppos] of Araphen (II) PA 8669; APF 229
PATROKLES son of Pasikles of tribe III, IV or V PA 11695
[ARI]STOPHON son of Naukles of Lakiadai (VI) PA 2115; APF 66
PHILINOS son of Gniphon of Phlya (VII) PA 14339; APF 537
[N]IKESIAS son of Nikesidikos of Phaleron (IX) PA 10748
TA-- of tribe X
IG ii² 1410.1ff.; 1411.5ff. The actual inventory of the year was ii² 1410 and probably eight names were listed.

Epimeletai of dockyards

K[A]L[LIAS] ? of Oa (III)
D[I]OGEITON of Acharnai (VI) PA 3794
IG ii² 1604.2f. I place them here as a result of the tentative ascription of 1604 to the epimeletai of 378/7 (q.v.), thus not following Sundwall, Epig. Beitr. 36, who has 376/5 and ventures, without evident justification, to restore epimeletai from Diomeia (II), Potamos (IV) and the spurious Kyrteidai (supposedly V).

Tamias of dockyards

[M]ANT[IAS] (son of Mantitheos) [of Thorikos] (V) PA 9667; APF 364ff.
IG ii² 1622.435f.

Amphiktyons to Delos

SOSIGENES son of Sosiades of Xypete (VII) PA 13214

EPIGENES son of Metagenes of Koile (VIII) PA 4805
ANTIMACHOS son of Euthynomos of Marathon (IX) PA 1129
EPIKRATES son of Menestratos of Pallene (X) PA 4909; APF 182f.

Grammateus

DIODOROS son of Olympiodoros of Skambonidai (IV) PA 3961
Insc. Délos 98.6ff., 59f. (IG ii² 1635; Tod 125); 100.11.
Sosigenes served only for this year, Epigenes, Antimachos and Epikrates, along with the secretary, into 374/3.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

IG ii² 95 is a proxeny decree of the boule in honour of Apollonides:

Grammateus

EUCHARES

376/5 (Ol. 101.1)

Archon

CHARISANDROS PA 15471
Diod. 15.36.1 (Chariandros); IG ii² ?173.[8f.](Henry, Chiron 1982, 109, 111); 1141.5 (Hesperia 1941, 263 (67) (Pritchett)); 1410.[4]; 1411.[1]; 1424.19; Add. 1424a.367; 1425.314; 1426.[8]; 1445.[1]; 1635.6f., 27, [100f.], 118, 122f., 134 (Tod 125; Insc. Délos 98); 2318.[234]; xiv 1098.5.

Strategoi

CHABRIAS son of Ktesippos of Aixone (VII) PA 15086; APF 560f.
Xen. Hell. 5.4.61; Ephoros FGH 70 F 80; Dem. 13.22, 20.77 (cf. 78, 82, 83), 23.198, 24.180; Aisch. 3.222, 243; Deinarchos 1.75; Diod. 15.34.4ff.; Plut. Phok. 6.2f., 7.1, Cam. 19.3, Mor. 349f, 350f; Polyainos 3.11.2, ?3,11; schol. Aisch. 3.222; schol. Ael. Arist. Pan. 173.16 (III.282 Dindorf); IG ii² 1606.78f.,82f.; 1607.[20f.], 115, 126, [145f.]; Hesperia 1961, 74ff.

On the Chabrias monument and the actions of the year see Burnett and Edmonson in Hesperia. Chabrias began a siege of Naxos and won a victory against the Spartan Pollis off the island on 16 Boedromion (date in Plut. Phok. 6.3 and Polyainos 3.11.2). Later he drove the Triballoi away from Abdera and left a garrison. He evidently operated also among the islands. Diodoros prematurely kills him off and calls him nauarchos; he was certainly general.

TIMOTHEOS son of Konon of Anaphlystos (X) PA 13700; APF 507ff.
Xen. Hell. 5.4.63ff. (cf. 6.2.2); Isok. 15.108f.; Dem. 13.22, 23.198; Aisch. 3.243; Deinarchos 1.14,75,3.17; Arist, Oik. 2.2.23, 1350a.31ff.; Nepos Tim. 2.1f.; Diod. 15.36.5f.; Front. Strat. 1.12.11, 2.5.47; Polyainos 3.10.4,6,12,13,16,17; Ael. Arist. 1.313 (Lenz); schol. Ael. Arist. Pan. 173.17 (III.282 Dindorf); IG ii² 1606.[11f.], [25], [29f.], 70, [75], 87; 1607.20, 139f., 143, 153f.

Pace Diodoros, he was general and was not successor to Chabrias. At the request of Thebes, he was sent around the Peloponnese. He brought Corcyra under his control and defeated the Spartan Nikolochos at Alyzeia near Leukas. Diodoros says he won over the cities of Kephallenia and Akarnania, made a friend of Alketas king of the Molossi and gained control of the territory of the cities in those regions. Nepos says he took on as allies the Epirotes, the Athamanians, the Chaonians and all the coastal tribes of the area. The precise relations are unclear; see Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 549ff.

Officers

KEDON PA 8280

Diod. 15.34.5 is probably correct in having him in command of the left wing at Naxos, but there is no warrant to make him general with Beloch, Att. Pol. 316, and Hansen, GRBS 1983, 170. He was killed. See the next entry.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559

Plut. Phok. 6.2, 7.1, Mor. 805f. He is given command of the left wing at Naxos, probably in error (see above on Kedon). Gehrke (Phokion 2, 3f. and n. 23) and Hansen (GRBS 1980, 168) reasonably make him trierarch, but the fact that he was later sent by Chabrias to collect syntaxeis, if accepted, may indicate a position of higher authority; see Develin, ZPE 61 (1985), 155.

Phrourarchoi

PHILISKOS

DIOTIMOS ?PA 4370; APF 162f.

Hesperia 1961, 79 (Burnett and Edmonson). Philiskos was at Abydos, Diotimos at Syros. See Cargill, League 153.

Tamiai of Athene

TIMON son of Timokrates of Kytherros (III) PA 13846; APF 338

-- son of --ratos of Eroiadai (X)

AMEIPSIAS son of Lykomedes of Thorikos (V) PA 710

D. . . .[8]. . . . son of Dorkis of Dekeleia (VIII) PA 4534

Grammateus

EUTHIAS son of Peisias of Kettos (IV) PA 5486

IG ii² 1410.4ff.; 1411.1ff. The actual inventory of the year is 1411 and probably six names were listed.

Tamiai of the other gods

. . . ? . . . OS son of Meixikles of Anagyrous (I) PA 9758

IG ii² 1445.1ff., which is the inventory of the year with perhaps only eight names listed. The deme of the son of Mnesistratos is all but certain; cf. PA 10337, 10368, 10369.

Amphiktyons to Delos
IDIOTES son of Theogenes of Acharnai (VI) PA 7445
EPIGENES son of Metagenes of Koile (VIII) PA 4805
ANTIMACHOS son of Euthynomos of Marathon (IX) PA 1129
EPIKRATES son of Menestratos of Pallene (X) PA 4909; APF 182f.

Grammateus
DIODOROS son of Olympiodoros of Skambonidai (IV) PA 3961 Insc. Délos 98.6ff. (IG ii² 1635; Tod 125). See 377/6.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 173 is an honorary decree which may belong here; Henry, Chiron 1982, 109, 111.

(ii) An unknown individual proposed an honorary decree for Chabrias after his victory at Naxos; it was unsuccessfully challenged as illegal by Leodamas; Dem. 20.75,79,84,86,146, 23.198, 24.180; Aisch. 3.243; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 7.

On IG ii² 36 see 384/3.

The sources mentioned above refer to his being ordered home by two ambassadors after the conclusion of peace with Sparta, which peace he disturbed, however, by provocatively landing exiles from Zakynthos in their territory. There are problems of chronology for this and the subsequent years which are discussed by Gray, CQ 1980, 306ff.; Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 537ff.; also and generally Cargill, League 64ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 96 (Tod 126; SEG 31.64; Harding no. 41) is a probouleumatic decree for the admission of Corcyreans, Akarnanians and Kephallenians to the Confederacy, about the scope and effect of which there is dispute (see Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 545ff.). It gives us the names of two secretaries, the second of pryt. Antiochis (second prytany) and restored from ii² 99:

Grammateis

PHILOKLES son of O-- PA 14530
[PHY]LAKOS of Oinoe (VIII or IX) PA 15037

Proposer

KR[ITI]OS PA 8798

For the first secretary, the omega seems to me to begin a patronymic, given the space available; the only fourth-century name with this initial is Ophelion (PA 15588) of Ikarion, where Philokles is an attested name (PA 14544, 14545). However, D.M. Lewis informs me he once read traces which suggest The-- rather than omega.

(ii) IG ii² 97 (SEG 31.65; Harding no. 42) records a treaty involving Athens and Corcyra, which Tod (127) also placed in this year. I am prepared to accept the date and the interpretation of the document as a confederate alliance; see above on ii² 96 and further Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 553ff.

(iii) IG ii² 98 (Tod p. 86; SEG 31.66), concerning arrangements with Kephallenia, is dated here by association with ii² 96, but in re-editing the inscription with a new fragment, Schweigert, Hesperia 1940, 321ff. (33), attached the date 373/2.

(iv) IG ii² 99 is a proxeny decree of the second prytany, of Antiochis, for Alkimos (for the secretary see above on ii² 96):

Bouleutes epistates

. . . ? . . . TES of Themakos (I)

(v) IG ii² 102 (Tod 129; Harding no. 43) records an alliance with Amyntas of Makedon, the date of which is not certain.

Sources for the common peace of this year are Xen. Hell. 6.2.1; Isok. 14.10, 15.109; Nepos Tim. 2.2; Diod. 15.38; cf. ?IG ii² 3774 (Tod 128); Philochoros FGH 328 F 151 (Harding no. 44). It was probably concluded on Hekatombaion 16; Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 564 n.77.

(vi) It seems from Aisch. 3.243 that as a result of his success at Corcyra Timotheos was granted a statue by the Athenians, a proposal which Hansen, Sovereignty no. 8, assumes was unsuccessfully challenged as unconstitutional on the analogy of honours to Chabrias and Iphikrates which were so challenged. I do not find this legitimate, nor does Aischines' appeal to the jurors (in 330!) have to mean that dikasts confirmed Timotheos' honour.

Nomothetai

(vii) SEG 26.72 (31.63; Harding no. 45) is a law of the nomothetai concerning silver coinage:

KTESIKLES PA 8861

Xen. Hell. 6.2.10f.; Diod. 15.46.3, 47.4ff. Diod. 15.46.3 says that the Athenians voted to help the Corcyreans and the Zakynthian exiles and sent Ktesikles to Zakynthos; later, after Timotheos failed to go to Corcyra and was deposed, Ktesikles was sent to Corcyra, where he dealt with internal problems and had some success against the besieging forces. As Timotheos' deposition and trial should be placed in 373/2, although Diodoros includes all this under 374/3, the sequence requires that Ktesikles' expedition to Corcyra, which also involves Iphikrates (along with Timotheos, erroneously) coming with a subsidiary force, must be in 373/2; this is clearly the basis upon which Hansen, GRBS 1983, 171, gives him generalships in both years. Xenophon, however, has no mention of Zakynthos and has Ktesikles sent out to Corcyra before Timotheos is chosen to go there as well. I prefer to accept the version of Diodoros and believe that Xenophon's account resulted from confusion with the Zakynthian expedition. See Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 537ff. against Gray, CQ 1980, 322f.

TIMOTHEOS son of Konon of Anaphlystos (X) PA 13700; APF 507ff. Xen. Hell. 6.2.11ff.; Dem. 49.6ff., 13, 49; Diod. 15.47.3f., 7; ?Isaios 6.27. Chosen to go around the Peloponnese to Corcyra, he tried to find crews in the islands and/or Thrace (Diod.) and supposedly won allies for Athens (Diod.). He was about to depart in Mounychion (Dem. 49.6). See above on Ktesikles; also Cargill, League 69ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

For chronology see under Ktesikles 374/3. He is said to have replaced Timotheos and it is unclear whether he was one of the other regularly elected generals of the year; Tuplin, Athenaeum 1984, 539 n. 14. He went around the Peloponnese, making landings and overcoming cities in Kephallenia, whence he came to Corcyra; there he was successful in a naval engagement, later aiding friendly cities in Akarnania and making war against the Thyrians; he sailed to Kephallenia and exacted money, preparing for future action. Xenophon recounts all this together, but we could well be taken beyond this year and Iphikrates remained out until 371. On him, Chabrias and Kallistratos see Cawkwell, Historia 1973, 759ff.

Xen. Hell. 6.3.2ff. They were envoys to Sparta in the matter of peace; Kallias is given a speech. It is by no means clear that Kallistratos was one of those chosen; Xenophon says he was also present. For the assumption that he was an envoy, however, see Mosley, Envoys 58ff. He would make up the number of ten if one accepted the argument of Tuplin (LCM 1977, 51ff.)

that the text should be read to include Strombichides and Aristophon as envoys, not patronymics; he also wonders if Aristophon would then be the Aristophon (PA 2108; APF 65f.). The problem is that Xenophon introduces the names as being 'of those chosen' (ἦν δὲ τῶν αἱρεθέντων), but while one can see why Kallias should be given a patronymic, no such reason seems to hold good for Autokles and Demostratos when the others are not so identified.

SEG 19.133.3ff. Menandros' tribe is by elimination, so that there was an unknown grammateus of tribe II or IX. While the deme is correct and the chronology credible, we cannot be sure of the identity of Euboulos. I have assumed that the basileus is named after the archon, then the polemarch followed by the thesmothetai.

Chosen to go to the aid of the Spartans (see below on the Assembly), he went to Corinth, whence he conducted operations. Later he led the Athenians back from Arkadia to Corinth and, deciding to guard Oneion, failed to prevent the Thebans passing.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) Xen. Hell. 6.5.33ff. reports a meeting of the assembly convened by a resolution of the council through concern at Theban activity in the Peloponnese; this was addressed by Spartans, Kleiteles of Corinth and Prokles of Phleious and the decision was to help the Spartans. This may have been the occasion when Leptines spoke (Arist. Rhet. 3.10 1411a 4f.; cf. Plut. Mor. 803a).

(ii) Dem. 59.26f. records that Kallistratos persuaded the Athenians to help the Spartans and Xenokleides the poet opposed this.

Agora XV.13 can no longer be definitely ascribed to this or any other year; see SEG 29.148.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 103 (Tod 133; Osborne D 10) is a probouleumatic decree of the tenth prytany, of Erechtheis, in honour of Dionysios of Syracuse and his sons:
Grammateus
EXE[KESTOS] son of Pai[onid]es of Azenia (VIII) PA 4726
Bouleutes epistates
EUANGEL[OS] PA 5222
Proposer
[PA]NDIOS (? son of Sokles of Oion) (VIII) ?PA 11575
The possibility that the epistates was from Phrearrhioi (IV) arises from the presence of the name in Agora XV.13. For Pandios see below no. iv.

(ii) IG ii² 107.35ff. (Tod 131; Harding no. 53) is a reply to Mitylenian envoys:
Proposer
KALLISTRATOS (? son of Kallikrates of Aphidna) (IX) ?PA 8157; APF 277ff.

(iii) Insc. Délos 88 is a proxeny decree of the ninth prytany, of Leontis, proposed by the council for Pythodoros of Delos:
Grammateus
ARISTEIDES son of Strepheneos of Kydathenaion (III) PA 1707
Bouleutes epistates
SMIKRIAS of Athmonon (VII) PA 12741
Proposers
PHOXIAS PA 14942
EPIKRATES (son of Menestratos of Pallene) (X) PA 4909; APF 182f.

(iv) We may place here AE 1923, 36ff. (123) (Leonardos), which deals with repairs to the Amphiaraion at Oropos and also praises the priest of Amphiaraos Antikrates of Dekeleia:
Proposer
PANDIOS
The date has recently been discussed by Knoepfler (Chiron 1986, 71–98) and as this is a decree of the council, it is amenable to this year, in which a Pandios was on the council and is known as a proposer (restored in no. i above). Knoepfler (85f.) also notices men of the name other than the one whose identity is added above, especially a Pandios of Teithras (SEG 24.151.6, mid-century).

(v) Xen. Hell. 7.1.1ff. records discussion at Athens to decide the terms of alliance with the Spartans and their allies; the meeting is addressed by Timokrates of Sparta and Prokles of Phleious and the Athenians decide that each side should hold the leadership for five days after hearing Kephisodotos.

TIMAGORAS PA 13595
LEON PA 9101
Xen. Hell. 7.1.33ff.; Dem. 19.31, 137, 191; Plut. Artax. 22.5; Pel. 30.6; Athenaios 2.48d–e, 6.251b. They were sent to the King of Persia. Timagoras sided with Pelopidas and was condemned to death on his return home on the accusation of Leon (Hansen, Eisangelia no. 82). Dem. 19.191 seems to say they were co-envoys for four years, but this is doubted by Mosley, GRBS 1968, 157ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 104 (Tod 134) records a treaty with Leukas from the first prytany, of Kekropis:
Grammateus
MNESIBOULO[S] PA 10264 = ?10265; APF 225
Bouleutes epistates
PHILIPPOS of Eiresidai (V) 14390

(ii) IG ii² 105 + 523 (Tod 136; SEG 14.46, 31.68; Harding no. 52) is an alliance with Dionysios of Syracuse restored in IG to the thirty-second day of the seventh prytany, of Aiantis, but other days are possible (Hansen, GRBS 1982,341 (Ecclesia 93); cf. SEG 32.58) and Lewis (SEG) doubts the restorations here recorded and now would like the prytany to be the second, as close as possible to 369/8:

Proposers
[DIO]PHA[NTOS] (son of Thrasymedes of Sphettos) (V) PA 4438
AUTOLYKOS (? of Thorikos (V)) PA 2746
There must be doubt that Autolykos is the same man as the envoy, unless we suppose that he is proposing to praise himself.

(v) For the alliance with Alexandros of Pherai and honours to him see IG ii² 116.39f.; Dem. 23.120; Diod. 15.71.3; Plut. Pel. 31.4, Mor. 193d–e.

IPHIKRATES son of Timotheos of Rhamnous (IX) PA 7737; APF 248ff.

See 368/7. He was removed from his command (Dem. 23.149); it is evident from Hansen, GRBS 1983, 169, 176, that he believes Timotheos' assumption of the command should be dated to 364/3.

TIMOTHEOS son of Konon of Anaphlystos (X) PA 13700; APF 507ff. Isok. 15.108, 113; Dem. 2.14, 23.149ff., 154; Deinarchos 1.14, 3.17; Arist. Oik. 2.2.23 1350a 23ff.; Nepos Tim. 1.2, 4; Polyainos 3.10.7,8,9,14,15.

See also 367/6, 366/5 and above on Iphikrates. He took over from the latter in the northern Aegean, attacked Amphipolis and then waged war with the Chalkidians with the aid of Perdikkas of Makedon, taking some cities.

Nauarchos

?KYDIAS PA 8924

Euboulos F 67 (Edmonds). Edmonds wants to date this fragment to c. 363. Kydias may have held this position, if this is what it was, when he opposed the klerouchy to Samos (see below). Hunter, Eubulus 153, dates the play c. 350–320 on very little.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 216 + 261 = 217 is placed in this year by the restoration at SEG 14.47 and is not likely to be much wrong, if at all; see also Harding, Historia 1976, 190ff. The decree concerns the handing over of sacred objects from the old tamiai to the new:

(ii) Also mentioned in this text is a decree which somehow regulated the procedure:

Proposer

ANDROTION (son of Andron of Gargettos) (II) PA 915 = 913; APF 33f. See also Dem. 22.69ff. This will have to be dated in this year or shortly before.

Kydias (cf. above nauarchos) spoke against the sending of klerouchs to Samos (Arist. Rhet. 2.6.24 1384b 32ff.).

IG ii² 110.6 (Tod 143). See also 364/3. He returned to Athens and commended the help of Menelaos the Pelagonian.

CHABRIAS son of Ktesippos of Aixone (VII) PA 15086; APF 560ff.
IG ii² 111.17ff. (Tod 142; SEG 31.71; Harding no. 55); ?Paus. 9.15.4. The inscription mentions arrangements with Keos. Pausanias talks of defeat by the Thebans at Lechaion in the Peloponnese.

ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

KALLISTHENES PA 8089
Aisch. 2.30f.; Arist. Rhet. 2.3.13f. 1380b 10ff. He defeated Perdikkas of Makedon and made a truce with him which was adjudged premature and led to his execution; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 85; Sealey, Essays 152.

Hipparchos
KEPHISODOROS of Marathon (IX) PA 8376
Ephoros FGH 70 F 85; Paus. 8.9.10; Harpokration, Suda and Photios s.v. Κηφισόδωρος. He died at Mantineia.

Archon in Andros
?TIMARCHOS son of Arizelos of Sphettos (V) PA 13636
Aisch. 1.107f. The date is not specified, but if the offices described by Aischines are in chronological order (Cawkwell, JHS 1981, 51f. and n.47), then he held this position before his service as councillor in 361/60, for which position he will have been selected in 362/1. He is accused of misbehaviour by Aischines. Cf. Cargill, League 157f. and n.28.

LEPTINES of Koile (VIII) PA 9046; APF 340
IG ii² 1541.1. It seems he held a financial office of some (extraordinary?) sort; see APF.

Epistates of Eleusinion
AMPHIKTYON of Aphidna (IX) PA 776
IG ii² 1541.5. It looks as though he served until 357/6. That he was as described, and not epistates of Eleusis, seems to emerge from comparison with IG ii² 1666 (see 356/5); see also the Introduction, p. 13.

Amphiktyons to Delos
?THRASONIDES of Eupyridai (IV) PA 7398
Grammateus
?MENES son of Menekles of Pelekes (IV) PA 10028
Insc. Délos 104.6f. The query is whether they succeeded the previous board in this year, since there are doubts as to the length of service (see the Introduction, p. 18).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

This is the first year in which we have clear evidence that the secretary now served for the whole year; consequently he appears in all the inscriptions described below:

Grammateus
NIKOSTRATOS son of Philostratos of Pallene (X) PA 11043

(i) IG ii² 109a (Osborne D 11) is a probouleumatic decree dated to the thirtieth day of the second prytany, of Akamantis, dealing with Astykrates of Delphi and making him a citizen:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . ? . . . NES of Paiania (III)
Proposer
KRATINOS PA 8752

(ii) IG ii² 110 (Tod 143; Osborne T56) is a probouleumatic decree from the sixth prytany, of Oineis, honouring Menelaos the Pelagonian:

Proposer
SATYROS PA 12575

(iii) IG ii² 111 (Tod 142; SEG 31.71; Harding no. 55) is a decree of pryt. Aiantis establishing relations with Ioulis, evidently in similar terms to arrangements with other cities of Keos:
Bouleutes epistates
PHILITTIOS of Boutadai (VI) PA 14465
Proposer
ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

MENEXENOS PA 9972 = ?9971; cf. APF 390
(v) Schol. Aisch. 1.64 also informs us of a successful challenge to a proposal concerning the Keans made by Aristophon and opposed by Hypereides (F VIII); Hansen, Sovereignty no. 10.

(vi) Insc. Délos 88.28ff. is a decree from the seventh prytany, of Hippothontis (but see the note at SIG I³ 158), extending proxeny to Pythodoros' nephew (see 369/8):
Bouleutes epistates

Strategoi
AUTOKLES son of Strombichides of Euonymon (I) PA 2727; APF 161f.
Dem. 23.104, 36.53, 50.12; Hypereides F XI. Sent to Thrace, he was recalled and deposed, evidently for contravening instructions, eight months later; he was impeached for treason and tried in the winter of 360; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 90.

MENON of Potamos (IV) PA 10085
Dem. 36.53; 50.12. Sent to replace Autokles, he saw out the year, but was himself impeached around the same time as Autokles; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 95.

Epimeletes of dockyards
THEO[D]OTOS of Aixone (VII) PA 6786

See 363/2

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 112, 114 and 115:
Grammateus
AGATHARCHOS son of Agatharchos of Oe (VI) PA 33

(i) IG ii² 112 (Tod 144; Harding no. 56) is a decree of pryt. Oineis for alliance with Arkadians, Achaians, Eleians and Phleiasians:
Bouleutes epistates
XANTHIPPOS of Hermos (V) PA 11162
Proposer
PERIANDROS (son of Polyaratos of Cholargos) (V) PA 11800; APF 464

(ii) IG ii² 113 is restored to this year and the sixth prytany, of Pandionis, being a grant of isoteleia to Phanostratos and another and their descendants. Schwenk no. 60 follows Wilhelm in preferring 327/6, but there is not much left of the document.

(iii) IG ii² 114 (Tod 146; Harding no. 58) is a decree from the ninth prytany, of Erechtheis, concerning the sending of klerouchs to Poteidaia:
Bouleutes epistates
. . .⁶. . . s of Kerameis (v)
Proposer
PHIL[IPPO]S PA 14373

(iv) IG ii² 115 + Add. is also from the ninth prytany and is in honour of the Dieis of Thrace.

(v) The earliest measure of the year is to be found at Dem. 50.4ff. An assembly was held on Metageitnion 24, thus in the second prytany, which heard of troubles in the north; Miltokythes from Thrace had sent envoys asking for help and alliance and the Prokonnesians were asking for aid against the Kyzikenes. A vote was taken that the trierarchs should make ready their vessels, crews be selected and the fleet sent out:
Proposer
ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

(vi) Then, at section 8, we hear of a vote that the bouleutai, on behalf of the demesmen, should bring forward the names of those who should pay the

(vii) advance eisphora. And at section 13 we find a decree in praise of Apollodoros for securing funds to crew his ship.

(viii) Dem. 23.104 records the decree passed when Autokles was about to sail concerning Miltokythes.

Aisch. 1.53; IG ii² 116 (Tod 147; Harding no. 59); 1436.25; 1438.[9] (Hesperia 1938, 284 (16 A.10) (Schweigert)); 1611.[113]; 1617.125; 4894; SEG 23.78.1, 9f., [13] (Reinmuth no. 1, but see Lewis, CR 1973, 254; Dow, Essays Brendel 81ff.; Mitchel, ZPE 19 (1975), 234ff.); 27.14.5; 29.146 col. II.6.

Paredros
?[A]RISTOKRATES of Th[orikos] (v)
SEG 23.78.11. This is the suggestion of Dow, Essays Brendel 83, who also advises against the restoration of the demotic of the second paredros(?) named.

Strategoi
TIMOMACHOS of Acharnai (VI) PA 13797; APF 280
Dem. 19.180, 23.115, 36.53, 50.14,17f.,20f.,32,37,43ff.,48,51ff.; Aisch.

1.56 with schol.; Hypereides 4.1f. General in the north Aegean, he was impeached and condemned to death in his absence for betraying the Chersonese to Kotys, embezzlement and ordering the trierarch Kallippos to take the exiled Kallistratos from Methone to Thasos; Hansen, Eisangelia nos. 91, 92.

?PHILON (? son of Kallippos of Aixone (VII)) ?PA 14825; APF 274f.
Hypereides 4.1. His office is only an assumption from the context, as is the date; he fled before an impeachment for treason; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 89. The text describes him as ὁ ἐξ Ἀναίων, which in any case seems corrupt, as Davies points out, though he doubts the emendation to produce the demotic Αἰξωνεύς on the ground that it 'lacks palaeographical justification'; I doubt it because it would make him the only one in Hypereides' list to be given a demotic (even though an explanation could be found in the commonness of his name) and we seem to need some reference to his activity such as is provided for the following Theotimos.

?THEOTIMOS PA 7055
Hypereides 4.1. The office is again an assumption; he fled before an impeachment for treason for the loss of Sestos; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 94.

LEOSTHENES of Kephale (V) PA 9141; APF 342ff.
Aisch. 2.124; Hypereides 4.1; Diod. 15.95.2f.; Plut. Phok. 7.3; Polyainos 6.2.1f. Sent against Alexandros of Pherai at Peparethos and Panormos, he was defeated and condemned in absence for treason; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 88. I prefer to leave him in the year indicated by Diodoros.

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Ain. Takt. 11.13ff.; Diod. 15.95.3. Though apparently sent to replace Leosthenes, he went to Corcyra, stirring up trouble. I do not follow Cargill, League 173ff., in referring this to the early 360s and, taking Aineias too literally, having Chares as garrison commander only.

?[CHARID]EMOS (son of Philoxenos of Acharnai (VI)) PA 15380; APF 570ff.
IG ii² 118.7, which concerns Poteidaia; the generalship is a deduction by Kirchner.

Ship commanders

LYKINOS of Pallene (X) PA 9207; APF 345
Dem. 50.53. Put onto a trireme as commander by Timomachos. APF says 'he was presumably an aide-de-camp of Timomachos'. Jordan, TAPhA 1970, 235 (=Navy 125), wants him as archon of the fleet.

KALLIPPOS son of Philon of Aixone (VII) PA 8065; NPA 106; APF 274ff.
Dem. 50.46ff. Sent in command of a ship to fetch Kallistratos and, when thwarted, took over a trierarchy to do so. Davies calls him 'an under-general of Timomachos'.

Tamias of Athene
HEGESANDROS son of Hegesias of Sounion (IV) PA 6307; APF 209
Aisch. 1.110f.; schol. Aisch. 1.109. This is a problem which does not seem to have attracted attention, since he was also tamias to the general Timomachos (Aisch. 1.55f., 95), who, it seems, must be in this year and not earlier. But Aischines clearly separates the two positions in terms of Hegesandros' relations with Timarchos. He is accused of lining his pockets.

Epistates of Eleusinion
AMPHIKTYON of Aphidna (IX) PA 776
See 363/2.

Amphiktyon to Delos
? -- son of --ydikos of Kolonai (IV or X)
Insc. Délos 104–9.6 (IG ii² 1637 + Add.). The alternative date is 356/5, which is preferred by Insc. Délos. The man could be secretary.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary comes from IG ii² 116, restored at 117a:
Grammateus
CHAIR[I]ON son of Charinau[t]es of Phaleron (IX) PA 15268

(i) IG ii² 116 (Tod 147; Harding no. 59) is a decree dated to the twelfth day of pryt. Leontis for alliance between Athens and the Thessalians and their respective allies:
Bouleutes epistates
ARCHIPPOS of Amphitrope (X) PA 2548
Proposer
E[X]EKESTIDES (? of Pallene (X)) or (? son of Charias of Thorikos (V)) PA 4710 = ?4721 or ?4718; APF 175f.
Lines 45ff. also commend Theaitetos of Erchia (II) (PA 6631) for his words and deeds in carrying out his duty, which Hansen (GRBS 1983, 168) uses to describe him as addressing the assembly; perhaps he was an envoy or proxenos.

(ii) IG ii² 117 is a proxeny decree for Protomachos dated only by the restoration of the secretary; also restored is the dating to the fourteenth day of the prytany, but there is doubt about this; Hansen, GRBS 1982, 342 (= Ecclesia 94).

(iii) IG ii² 118 is not internally dated; it involves praise of the Poteidaians and is restored to the sixth day of the prytany, but Hansen (GRBS 1982, 342 (= Ecclesia 94)) suggests as an example of an alternative possibility that the surviving letters could represent a secretary from Hermos (V); if that were so, the inscription could not belong to this year. In any event, the following emerge:

Bouleutes epistates
. . . . [10] . . . . of Rhamnous (IX)
Proposer
[A]RI[STOPH]ON (son of Aristophanes of Azenia) (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

We know of another councillor of the year:
Bouleutes
TIMARCHOS son of Arizelos of Sphettos (V) PA 13636
Aisch. 1.109ff. relates his involvement with Hegesandros the tamias in embezzling public money; this was revealed at an assembly by Pamphilos; proceedings saw him voted out at first, but retained at the crucial vote of the council; Hansen, Eisangelia no. 143.

360/59 (Ol. 105.1)

Archon

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 145 has been recorded under 364/3, but Lewis (cf. ABSA 1954, 36f.) has affirmed that he sees nothing against this year and would like as low a date as possible.

(ii) SEG 21.246 is restored as in praise of envoys from the King of Makedon and this year is suggested.

Insc. Délos 104–5.19ff. is dated to the second prytany and a date involving the number eight for the day of Metageitnion; the following is restored as ratifier from the prytaneis:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 120 begins with a decree of the council concerning the writing up of the objects in the Chalkotheke and is followed by a list of such objects. It may belong to this year, but see 353/2 (much more likely).

(ii) IG ii² 248 is a probouleumatic decree granting proxeny to Damoxenos of Taras which was dated before 354 by Johnson, CPh 1914, 424 (cf. Rhodes, Boule 249); Wilhelm (IG ad loc.) restored the archon of this year and the tribe of the secretary is amenable to this (he may also have appeared in ii² 203 = 155 (Schweigert, Hesperia 1941, 339)):

DIOKLES of Alopeke (X) PA 4015 = 3990; APF 157
IG ii² 124.10 (Menon), 20ff. (Tod 153; Harding no. 65). For Chabrias Dem. 20.80ff.; Nepos Chab. 4; Diod. 16.7.3f.; Plut. Phok. 6.1; for Chares Dem. 23.173; Nepos Tim. 3.1; Diod. 16.7.3, 21.1; hyp. Isok. 8; IG ii² 1953.3; for Diokles Dem. 21.174; Polyainos 5.29.

They all took the oath in the alliance with cities of Euboia, where Menon had evidently been. Diodoros says Chares and Chabrias were generals against the revolting allies; Chabrias died in the siege of Chios. Hansen, Eisangelia 62 n. 36, following Kahrstedt and Tod, has Chabrias deposed towards the end of 358/7 and thus erased from the treaty (on which see below). Thus he accepts that Chabrias was trierarch at Chios. The latter position is in fact only found in Nepos; Dem. 20.82 does not say he was trierarch, though it may be thought that the language used indicates he was not general. If ii² 124 belongs wholly in 357/6, Chabrias could have been erased from the document indeed because he was dead.

On Chares see 358/7. For the possibility that he does not belong in ii² 124 see Cawkwell, C&M 1962, 38f. n. 23. Diokles was in Euboia and made a truce with the Thebans. On Alkimachos cf. 354/3.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 121, 123, Hesperia 1939, 12(4) and 1944, 229ff.(3):
Grammateus
DIODOTOS son of Diokles of Angele (III) PA 3891; APF 156f.

(i) IG ii² 121 is a fragment from the sixth prytany:
Bouleutes epistates
[MELE]SIAS of Halai (II or VII) cf. PA 9811
Proposer
[ARIS]TOPHON (son of Aristophanes of Azenia) (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

(ii) IG ii² 122 is a fragment from the eighth prytany, of Hippothontis; the letters in line 5 may represent remains of a patronymic:
Bouleutes epistates
? -- son of --nes

(iii) IG ii² 123 (Tod 156; Harding no. 69) is a decree from the eighth day of the ninth prytany, of Aigeis, concerning the garrison on Andros:
Bouleutes epistates
[DIO]TI[M]OS of Oinoe (VIII or IX)
Proposer
[HEGE]SANDR[O]S (son of Hegesias of Sounion) (IV) PA 6307; APF 209

(iv) IG ii² 124 (Tod 153; Harding no. 65) is the alliance with the Euboian cities. Hansen, Eisangelia 62 n. 36, wants to believe that the treaty was actually concluded late in 358/7 and the oath not taken until early 357/6, thus accommodating the erasure of Chabrias' name due to an assumed deposition from office. I do not find this persuasive and note that it conflicts with Hansen's dating of Timotheos' speech (see below) to 357/6 (GRBS 1983, 176), as his words hardly seem appropriate when an alliance has already been concluded.

(v) IG ii² 125 (Tod 154; Harding no. 66) concerns aid to Eretria:
Proposer
HEGES[I]PP[OS] (son of Hegesias of Sounion) (IV) PA 6351; APF 209
The document concerns some who made an attack on Eretria, from which Hansen constructs Eisangelia no. 99.

(vi) IG ii² 126 (Tod 151; SEG 31.72; Harding no. 64) is part of an alliance with the Thracian kings (see Dem. 23.173).

(vii) IG ii² 147, fragments of an alliance with Chalkis, is tentatively assigned to this year.

On the suggested attribution of IG ii² 230 to this year see SEG 21.249.

(viii) Hesperia 1939, 12 (4) (Schweigert), concerns Elaious:
Bouleutes epistates
LYSIPP-- of Marathon (IX)

(ix) Osborne D 13 is cautious about following Meritt, Hesperia 1944, 229ff. (3), in ascribing to this year the granting of citizenship to Aristomenes (Meritt suggested he might be restored as an Andrian), but the secretary fits the demotic:

Bouleutes epistates
-- of Aphidna (IX)

(x) We learn from Dem. 47.20ff. of a proposal that the trierarchs should recover equipment from those of previous years:
Proposer
CHAIREDEMOS PA 15112

(xi) There was trouble with this and the council had to pass a decree that the recovery should take place by any means possible. See Hansen, Eisangelia no. 144.

(xii) From Dem. 7.42f. and hyp. 3f. we hear of a proposal concerning the Kardians and the holding of land in Kardian territory by Athenians:
Proposer
KALLIPPOS of Paiania (III) PA 8078
This was unsuccessfully challenged as unconstitutional; see Hansen, Sovereignty no. 11, who wants to place this soon after the treaty of IG ii² 126.

Dem. 8.74f. tells of an address to the people by Timotheos urging an expedition to Euboia, which may well belong to this year. Cawkwell, Phoenix 1978, 45, manages to extract from this a generalship for Timotheos, which the text does not justify.

356/5 (Ol. 106.1)

Archon
ELPINES PA 4673

Thesmothetes
?THRASYLLOS son of Apollodoros (born of Lakratides) of Leukonoion (IV) PA 7336; APF 44f.
Isaios 7.34. The office, which came before his adoption, seems to have been held recently as of the date of the speech, which is about 355/4: Parke, JHS 1939, 80ff.; Wevers, Isaeus 10, 16, 25, 67.

No source mentions them all together, but they commanded against the allies; they came into dispute as to whether or not to engage battle and after the defeat at Embata, Chares accused his colleagues of treason, Timotheos of having received bribes from the Chians and Rhodians and Menestheus in regard to his use of funds. The generals were suspended, Timotheos went into exile to avoid his fine, Iphikrates and Menestheus were acquitted; Hansen, Eisangelia nos. 100, 101, 102. Chares then joined Artabazos, in revolt from the Persian king, and may have taken Lampsakos and Sigeion.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 127, 128 and SEG 24.88:
Grammateus
LYSIAS son of Lys[imachos ?] of Pithos (VII) PA 9355
From this year secretaries are in forward order of tribes.

(i) IG ii² 127 (Tod 157; Harding no. 70) is a probouleumatic decree from the eleventh day of the first prytany, of Hippothontis, recording an alliance with Ketriporis of Thrace and his brothers, Lyppeios of Paionia and Grabos of Illyria (cf. Diod. 16.22.3):
Bouleutes epistates
MNESARCH[OS] PA 10249
Proposer
KALLISTHE[NES] PA 8090

(ii) IG ii² 128 (Tod 159) is a probouleumatic decree from the ninth prytany, of Antiochis, concerning dealings with Neapolis:
Bouleutes epistates
[?KALLISTOGE]ITON of Phegaia (II)
Proposer
POLYEUKTO[S] (son of Sostratos of Sphettos) (V) PA 11925=11934=11950

(iii) IG ii² 129 is a fragment of a proxeny decree for [Zop]yros.

(iv) IG ii² 148 bears no internal date, but is ascribed to this year; Hammond, JHS 1937, 64 n. 80, placed it in 353. It is part of a treaty with Lokrians.

(v) SEG 24.88 now dates IG ii² 214 to this year and is restored as a proxeny decree:
Bouleutes epistates
A--
Proposer
. . .[6]. . . ON

(vi) There was an alliance with Phokis (Aisch. 3.118):
Proposer
HEGESIPPOS son of Hegesias of Sounion (IV) PA 6351; APF 209

Nomothetai

(vii) Dem. 20 concerns the law which sought to revoke all immunities from liturgies except for the descendants of the tyrannicides (cf. Libanius hyp. Dem. 20; Philostratos Soph. 1.23):
Proposer
LEPTINES of Koile (VIII) PA 9046; APF 340f.
For the syndikoi chosen to defend the law see 355/4.

For Dem. 22 and Androtion's proposal see 355/4. The speech provides certain details concerning this year. The council had failed to build ships as required and had themselves elected the tamias of the trireme builders (section 20). Androtion was a councillor and we learn of others from sections 38ff.:
Bouleutai
ANDROTION son of Andron of Gargettos (II) PA 915=913; APF 33f.
PHILIPPOS PA 14374
ANTIGENES PA 985
ARCHIAS of Cholargos (V) PA 2481
On Androtion's activities with regard to the collection of eisphora arrears see above appendix; the commission could have been drawn from the council. Cf. also Bultrighini, QUCC 1981, 87.

355/4 (Ol. 106.2)

Archon
KALLISTRATOS PA 8132
MP A 79; Diod. 16.23.1; Dion. ad Amm. 4; Dein. 9, 13 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 152); IG ii² 130 (SEG 19.49, 22.88, 24.85; Harding no. 73A); [131]; [133]; 1436.[34]; 1437.[8]; 1438.15 (Hesperia 1938, 284 (16 A.16) (Schweigert)); 1613.244f.; 1640.10; 1696.12; ? [5165] (cf. SEG 14.140); [1637+Add.] (Insc. Délos 104–9: or 360/59); 1643+Add. (Insc. Délos 104–12.93); Insc. Délos 104–21aB.[11]; SEG 27.17.6.

Strategoi
CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.

Diod. 16.22.2, 34.1; FGH 105.4 (Harding no. 72C); schol. Dem. 3.31, 4.19 (Harding no. 72A and B). As he was withdrawn in relation to the termination of the Social War, we may presume he remained general until then, though aiding Artabazos; see 356/5.

?MELANOPOS (son of Laches of Aixone) (VII) PA 9788
?Dem. 24.12f.; ? IG ii² 150.[5]. Demosthenes records him as envoy to Mausolos, which he could well have been as general; he is restored as general in the otherwise undated inscription, but D.M. Lewis advises that he cannot believe the text is as late as this.

Tamias
?GLAUKETES PA 2946
Dem. 24.129. Demosthenes seems to date this after the embassy of this year; he uses the words ταμιεύσας ἐν ἀκροπόλει and proclaims Glauketes' misdeeds. Given the date here adopted for Dem. 24 (354/3), I might suggest that Glauketes was tamias in this year and was envoy in the time he was off-duty or was allowed time off. Dinsmoor, AJA 1932, 165 n. 4, had him as the same man who was secretary to the treasurers in 374/3 (q.v.) and speculated on the deme, comparing IG ii² 130.6f. and wondering about Ankyle or Kolonai, but none of this seems legitimate.

Epistatai of Eleusinion
-- of Paionidai (IV)
DEMAINETOS PA 3267; cf. APF 103
NIKODEMOS son of Pistonides of Athmonon (VII) PA 10863; NPA 134
--NES son of Philippos of Hestiaia (III) PA 14393
MELANOPOS son of Hestiodoros of P-- PA 9793
See 356/5.

Amphiktyons to Delos
?PYTHOGENES son of A--

Grammateus
? -- of Lamptrai (I)

Insc. Délos 104–9.2ff. (IG ii² 1637+). This is the preferred date of Insc. Délos; see 360/59.

Priest of Asklepios
EUTHYDEMOS of Eleusis (VIII) PA 5533
IG ii² 47.24 (LSS no. 11); 4962.11ff. (LS no. 21). See Schlaifer, HSCPh 1940, 243. Further on Euthydemos see Threpsiades, Hesperia 1939, 179f.; Ampolo, RF 1981, 187ff.

Envoys
MELANOPOS (son of Laches of Aixone) (VII) PA 9788
GLAUKETES PA 2946

ANDROTION (son of Andron of Gargettos) (II) PA 915=913; APF 33f. Dem. 24.12, 127, 129; Libanius hyp. Dem. 24; hyp. ii Dem. 24. Envoys to Mausolos of Karia and perhaps Egypt (Dem. 24.127 on Melanopos), their vessel took a merchant ship off Naukratis and they retained the money therein; see below. On Melanopos see above strategoi. On date see Hornblower, Mausolus 215 and n. 271.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary appears in IG ii² 130, 131, 132.19f. and 133; the restoration in IG seems to me still to be the most probable (see Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 59), though I record also the variant suggested as an example by Pečírka, Enktesis 37f.:
Grammateus
[PAN]DIOS or [RHAI]DIOS son of Sokles of Oion (VIII) PA 11575

(i) IG ii² 130 (SEG 19.49, 22.88, 24.85; Harding no. 73A) is a proxeny decree for Sochares of Apollonia dated to the third day of the fifth prytany, of Pandionis:
Bouleutes epistates
GLAUKETES PA 2950
On identity cf. above tamias.

Proposer
[A]RISTOPHO[N] (son of Aristophanes of Azenia) (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

(ii) IG ii² 131 is a fragment of an honorary decree from the sixth prytany (cf. Hansen, GRBS 1984, 136):
Bouleutes epistates
. . . . [10] . . . . of Paiania (III)

(iii) IG ii² 132 (with Pečírka, Enktesis 37f.) begins with a proxeny decree of the council (cf. Hansen, GRBS 1984, 136):
Proposer
. . . [6] . . . ES

(iv) Then comes the beginning of a decree from the seventh prytany, of Hippothontis (cf. Hansen, GRBS 1984, 136):
Bouleutes epistates
. . . [7] . . . ES
Proposer
. . . OI . . . or . . . OK . . .
Of the possible demes mentioned in IG for the epistates Anakaia is ruled out as belonging to the tribe in prytany; the possibilities are in fact Aphidna, Aithalidai, Hagnous, Aigilia and Araphen. As for the proposer, in IG it is thought that the name may be Demokles or Philokles, but the association is made with the proposer of the earlier decree, which may be incorrect.

(v) IG ii² 133 is a proxeny decree for Philiskos of Sestos and his descendants, restored in IG to the ninth prytany, of Akamantis, but there are other possibilities for the number of the prytany (SEG 22.91):
Bouleutes epistates
. . . . [10] . . . . of Konthyle (III)
Proposer
. . .[6]. . . IDES
Cf. Hansen, GRBS 1984, 137.

(vi) Given the dating of the priest of Asklepios (above), IG ii² 47 (LSS no. 11), an inventory followed by a decree regulating celebrations, must belong here:
Proposer
ATHENODO[ROS] PA 260
He is thus unlikely to be the same man as PA 259.

(vii) That IG ii² 150 somehow relates to this year is suggested by the restored presence therein of Lysitheides and Melanopos (but see above strategoi), both of whom appear at Dem. 24.1ff. concerning the investigation of the envoys.

(viii) Dem. 22 concerns the decree to honour the council of 356/5:
Proposer
ANDROTION son of Andron of Gargettos (II) PA 915=913; APF 33f.
This had been passed by the demos, but was challenged as unconstitutional; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 12. At the assembly meeting some made accusations against the council, among them Meidias (section 10).

Athens came to terms with the revolting allies, recognizing their loss to the alliance: Dem. 15.26; Diod. 16.22.2; schol. Dem. 3.28; cf. Isok. 16.

(ix) Dem. 24.11ff. tells us the following. There was a decree establishing a commission of enquiry into the matter of the envoys of this year:
Proposer
ARISTOPHON (son of Aristophanes of Azenia) (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.
The subsequent assembly was addressed by the envoys, responding to one
(x) who then secured the passage of a measure regarding the recovery of the money:
Proposer
EUKTEMON PA 5784
This was unsuccessfully challenged by the envoys (cf. section 117; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 13), this in Skirophorion. The tale continues in 354/3 (which see for the dating).

Dem. 20.146ff. discourses on those chosen as advocates of Leptines' law and we may add Leptines himself; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 159ff., under the names:

Syndikoi

LEODAMAS (? son of Erasistratos) of Acharnai (VI) PA 9077; APF 523ff.
ARISTOPHON (son of Aristophanes) of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.
KEPHISODOTOS of Kerameis (V) PA 8331
DEINIAS of Erchia (II) PA 3163; APF 96
LEPTINES of Koile (VIII) PA 9046; APF 340

354/3 (Ol. 106.3)

Archon

DIOTIMOS PA 4372
Diod. 16.28.1; Dion. ad Amm. 4; Dein. 9, 13 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 152); IG ii² 134; 135; 136.4, [9]; 137, 1436.[35]; 1437.[10], 24, 26; 1438.[15], [18], [20], 22, [23], [24], 25 (Hesperia 1938, 284 (16 A) (Schweigert)); 1613.203, 254; 1696.15; 2318.[259]; [2819]; SEG 26.220.7; Hesperia 1936, 399 (10.65) (Meritt); 1963, 173 (8.[18]) (IG ii² 1517; Woodward, but see Linders, Artemis 38, 64f. – 353/2); 1971, 180 (?[27]) (Stroud); Agora I 7495 (unpublished).

Strategoi

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Dem. 24.183; Theopompos FGH 115 F 249; Duris FGH 76 F 35; Herakleides F 2 (Edmonds); Antiphanes F 303 (Edmonds); Dion. Dein. 13; Plut. Mor. 187c, 788d; Polyainos 3.9.29, 13.2f., 4.2.22.

He was active in the Thraceward area; the actions at Diod. 16.34.3 are placed in this year by Hammond, JHS 1937, 64f., but I leave them in 353/2. Dionysios dates Chares' prosecution of Timotheos, Iphikrates and Menestheus to this year; see above 356/5. Aisch. 2.70ff. has been made to relate to 347/6; Hansen, GRBS 1977, 53 (= Ecclesia 45, 63f.).

?ALKIMACHOS of Anagyrous (I) PA 616
Dem. 47.50, 78; Harpokration and Suda s.v. Ἀλκίμαχος. He was general in 'the war with Philip', not later than 353 if the Demosthenic speech is correctly dated. But it seems the possibilities are more open; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 160, has 355/4(?). Cf. 357/6.

Theoric commissioners

?DIOPHANTOS son of Thrasymedes of Sphettos (V) PA 4438
?EUBOULOS son of Spintharos of Probalinthos (III) PA 5369
Aisch. 3.25; schol. Aisch. 3.24; schol. Dem. 1.1; Harpokration, Suda and Photios s.v. θεωρικά; cf. Dem. 20.137; translation of sources Harding no. 75.

For discussion see the introduction and Cawkwell, JHS 1963, 54ff. There is no certainty that the commission began this year or that the two men served concurrently. For Diophantos' patronymic see Hansen, GRBS 1983, 166.

Tamiai of Athene
[K]ALLISTRA[TOS] PA 8133
ST[REPHENEOS of Kydathenaion (III)?]
[?MEGAK]LEIDES of L[eukonoion (VI)?]
--[O]N of Acharnai (VI)
--ON of Aphidna (IX)
Grammateus
HAGN[ON ?of Prasiai (III) or Phegaia (II)]
IG ii² 1442. Only eight names seem to have been listed in this opening to an inventory. I owe the dating to D.M. Lewis, who restores it with a line of 32 letters; IG has 346/5, while the cards at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton say probably 350s; the identities of the tamiai of 345/4, as known from IG ii² 1443, rule out the involvement of that year, but no other two consecutive archons in the fourth century can be made to fit a line of 31 letters. For the secretary see Ferguson, Treasurers 144 and n.2.

Epistatai of Eleusinion
-- of Paionidai (IV)
DEMAINETOS PA 3267; cf. APF 103

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 134, 135, 136, 137 and the unpublished Agora I 7495, which confirms the demotic proposed by Ferguson, Klio 1915, 394; Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 7 n.1, 10, 59:
Grammateus
PROKLEIDES son of Anacharsis of Aphidna (IX) PA 12191

(i) IG ii² 134 is part of an honorary decree from the third prytany, of Pandionis or Akamantis, the latter if Dem. 24 is correctly dated (see below):
Proposer
KRATI[NOS] PA 8752

(ii) IG ii² 135 is the beginning of a decree from the sixth prytany, of Antiochis, in honour of Moschos of Nau[kratis].

(iii) IG ii² 136 is a probouleumatic proxeny decree of pryt. Kekropis for Apollonides of Halikarnassos:
Bouleutes epistates
M--
Proposer
PHILOTADES son of Phi[lostratos] of Pallene (X) PA 14927

(iv) IG ii² 137 is a decree of pryt. Oineis concerning religious matters:
Bouleutes epistates
THARREX of Lamptrai (I) PA 6584
Proposer
. . . . [9] . . . . ES
Cf. Hansen, GRBS 1984, 137.

Dem. 14 unsuccessfully, I think (but see Jacoby, FGH III b Suppl. (i) 58), recommended changes to the naval symmories in the context of a debate during which some had evidently been advising aggression against the Persian king, a policy which did not win the day.

Nomothetai

(v) The unpublished Agora I 7495 is a law dated to the prytany of Antiochis (sixth prytany), seventh day of the prytany, and concerns the financing of a festival; the proposer is identified by association with the bouleutes of 335/4 (Hansen, GRBS 1983, 166):
Proposer
EPIKRATES (son of . .otetos of Pallene (X)) PA 4863; APF 182

(vi) The same man, one assumes, emerges from Dem. 24.27 as proposing on the eleventh day of the first prytany, of Pandionis (cf. section 26), a decree setting up nomothetai on the next day to deal with funds for the Panathenaia.

(vii) Dem. 24 belongs probably to this year (see Lewis, ABSA 1954, 32) and is an attack upon a law:
Proposer
TIMOKRATES son of Antiphon of Krioa (X) PA 13772; APF 513f.
This concerned state debtors and their sureties and we find at sections 39f. and 71 that it was proposed on the twelfth day of the first prytany, of Pandionis (on the genuineness of the documents cited see MacDowell, JHS 1975, 62). At section 71 we find who put Timokrates' law to the vote:

Epistates
ARISTOKLES of Myrrhinous (III) PA 1875
So the text, but Lewis, ABSA 1954, 32 wanted the deme to be Myrrhinoutte (II), worried about the epistates of the nomothetai being from the tribe in prytany.

353/2 (Ol. 106.4)

Archon
THOUDEMOS PA 7248
Diod. 16.32.1; Dion. ad Amm. 4; Dein. 9 (Eudemos), 13 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 153); IG ii² 138; 139; 140.14f. ## COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 138 and 139 (see Schweigert, Hesperia 1938, 286) and 1438 (SEG 19.129.14):
Grammateus
PHILOKEDES son of Dorotheos of Pallene (X) PA 4619

(i) IG ii² 138 + (Hesperia 1985, 309ff. (Walbank)) is a decree in honour of Xennias:
Proposer
EUTHYMA[CHOS] PA 5624

(ii) IG ii² 139 is a probouleumatic decree of unknown content:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . ESTRATOS of L[amptrai] (I)
Proposer
TIMONIDES PA 13855

(iii) IG ii² 332 (Schwenk no. 20–335/4) is dated to this year by Pritchett and Neugebauer, Calendars 44; the restoration of the prescript must remain in doubt, except perhaps for the prytany of Erechtheis:
Bouleutes epistates
[ARISTOK]RAT[ES]?

(iv) As IG ii² 1438 (SEG 19.129) concerns items in the Chalkotheke, Schweigert, Hesperia 1938, 281ff., correctly placed IG ii² 120 in this year (see 358/7).

(v) Dem. 23 is against the proposal of an honorary decree for Charidemos including special provisions for his safety:

Proposer
ARISTOKRATES PA 1897
This was still a probouleuma when it was challenged; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 14. We hear at sections 13f. and 110 of an assembly addressed by Aristomachos as envoy from Kersebleptes and Charidemos.

The Spartans and Megalopolitans sent envoys to Athens concerning their impending conflict and though Dem. 16 is in support of the latter, the Athenians decided not to intervene.

On the Athenian decision to send klerouchs to cities in the Chersonese see Diod. 16.34.4; cf. IG ii² 1613.297f.

Nomothetai

(vi) IG ii² 140 (SEG 30.62) is a law dated to the twenty-first day of the prytany of Pandionis (which is probably the tenth) concerning the aparche at Eleusis; the meeting was in the theatre of Dionysos:
Epistates

APPENDIX

Basileis
THEOGENES of Erchia (II) PA 6707
Paredros
STEPHANOS son of Antidorides of Eroiadai (VIII) PA 12887
Dem. 59.72, 81, 84, 121. At 59.72 Theogenes' deme is said to be Kothokidai (IV), but this may be a corruption; see PA and IG ii² 1903. The date may be the early 360s.

EUKTEMON son of Euboulides of Oion (IV) PA 5802; APF 80
Dem. 43.42ff. Sometime before 361/60.

Basileus or Polemarchos or Thesmothetes
AUTOLYKOS of Thorikos (V) PA 2746
That an Autolykos had been archon is known from Aisch. 1.81; Plut. Mor. 843d; Harpokration s.v. Αὐτόλυκος; cf. Lykourgos F III. He is assumed to be the man found in SEG 23.78, on whom see Dow, Essays Brendel 81ff.

Thesmothetai
[KALLI]AS son of Lykophron of Kydathenaion (III) PA 7872
IG ii² 1148.2f., 6.

ARISTOMACHOS of Kephale (V) PA 1974
Dem. 59.65. He evidently served before 371/70 and as he was of the same deme as Nausinikos, archon 378/7 (Dem. 59.71), that year is out.

Strategoi

It is likely enough, as always, that prominent men were generals in years other than those known to us, among them:

CHABRIAS son of Ktesippos of Aixone (VII) PA 15086; APF 560f.
Polyainos 2.22.3 tells of Ischolaos being besieged by Chabrias in Drys, which may belong about 374.

?NIKOTELES
SEG 30.114. He may have been general to Samos, though the token does not say he was general, perhaps in this period.

ANTISTHENES (? son of Antiphates of Kytherros (III)) PA 1184=?1194=?1196=?1197; APF 38f.
Xen. Mem. 3.4.1. See APF for discussion. The date may be around 370, despite the story being set in Sokrates' lifetime. If the identification is correct, we now know that he was choregic victor of 360/59 (SEG 27.15).

Osborne (ABSA 1971, 297–321, and Naturalization II.61ff.) has argued that IG ii² 207 belongs to the late 360s, but cf. Hansen, GRBS 1984, 134 n. 31; Moysey, ZPE 69 (1987), 93–100; Develin, ZPE 73 (1988), 75–81. In this there appear generals involved with Orontes, satrap of Mysia:
PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
CHARIDEMOS son of Philoxenos of Acharnai (VI) PA 15380; APF 570ff.
CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
PROXENOS son of Harmodios of Aphidna (IX) PA 12270; APF 478

Plut. Phok. 8.1 says that Phokion was general 45 times. Gehrke, Phokion 5ff., discusses these and on the basis of an age limit (which may or may not have been operative: Develin, ZPE 61 (1985), 153ff.) begins Phokion's career in the office around 371/70. We cannot know the years in which he was or was not in office, though his absences will have been few, beyond what specific evidence indicates and interpretative guesses. See also Tritle, AJAH 1981, 118–32, who wishes Phokion's deme to be Potamos (IV) on grounds which I do not find convincing.

Note: I see no necessary implication at Hypereides 4.28 that Aristophon was general, contrary to Beloch, Att. Pol. 318 (but cf. 363/2). Nor is it likely that Iphikrates was helping the Persians as Athenian general in the 370s (Diod. 15.29.4; see also schol. Ar. Ploutos 178).

Phylarchoi

THEOPHON PA 7180; APF 84
Isaios 11.41. Probably in the 370s.

DEMAINETOS son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3276; APF 103f.
DEMEAS son of Demainetos of Paiania (III) PA 3323; APF 103f.
DEMOSTHENES son of Demainetos of Paiania (III) PA 3596; APF 103f.

IG ii² 3130. They will have held the position in different years, perhaps not all within this period.

Taxiarchoi?
-- son of --onides of tribe III
AUT-- son of Eur-- of tribe V
Hesperia 1963, 33 (30) (Meritt).

Lochagos
ASTYPHILOS son of Euthykrates of Araphen (II) PA 2665; APF 229f.
Isaios 9.14. He held the position on a number of occasions, perhaps as a mercenary on at least some, and died at Mitylene sometime after 371.

Tamias Paralou
ANTHIPPOS PA 955; APF 34
IG ii² 2966.3. He probably held this position, perhaps in this period.

Tamiai of Athene
Hesperia 1940, 324f. (34), is an inventory recording tamiai whom Schweigert thought might belong in 355/4 or 345/4; if the secretary cycle was in operation, they will belong to 354/3, with the secretary of the previous year mentioned, but this cannot be guaranteed and IG ii² 1442 has been placed in 354/3. D.M. Lewis informs me that his guess is 356/5, but the late 360s are possible.

A. Grammateus
-- of Sounion (IV)

B. Tamiai
--RATOS of Philaidai (II)
--ENES of Phrearrhioi (IV)
--of Acharnai (VI)

D. M. Lewis would place IG ii² 1439 in the late 360s; it has indications of the treasurers for three consecutive years:

A. ?[L]EON
--ON of Athmonon (VII)

B. -- of Phyle (VI)

C. --ITES of Teithras (II)

Tamias of trireme funds
?[XAN]THIPPOS of G--, E-- or P-- PA 11160; NPA 167
IG ii² 1617.122. What is shown in IG would seem to allow any of the three letters shown to begin the demotic.

Epistatai of mint
The following come from SEG 21.667, dated before 356/5. Given the duplication of tribe IV, I do not guess at the tribes of men for whom the evidence is not specific:

-- of Anaphlystos (X)
-- DOROS son of . .[4]. . on
-- EMON son of Theo[ge]iton of Aphidna (IX) cf. PA 6681; APF 220
--S son of Phaidon of Phlya (VII)
--LOS son of Mnesi[th]eos of Lakiadai (VI)
--S son of Kallo[nid]es of Prospalta (V)
-- son of Smikri[on] of Leukonoion (IV)
-- of Leukonoion (IV)
-- of Paiania (III)
-- of Sybridai (I)

Grammateus

?HIERO--

Epistatai of Brauroneion

SEG 21.256 seems to concern epistatai with some relation to Artemis of Brauron and there may be remains of the demotics of Iphistiadai (V) and Cholargos (V) or Cholleidai (IV).

Priests of Asklepios

The following are dated before the middle of the century:

NIKODEMOS PA 10855
IG ii² 4351.

ELPINES PA 4672
IG ii² 4352.

KTESIKLES of Hagnous (V) PA 8866
IG ii² 4400.

THEOPHILOS
AD 1963, B (i) 20.

Epimeletai of tribe III Pandionis

[MEIDOKR]ATES son of Meidokrates of Probalinthos
A . . . . ?. . . . son of [Anti]sthenes of Kytherros
-- of Paiania
SEG 21.515. The reading for the second name I owe to information from D.M. Lewis; for Antisthenes see above strategoi.

Demarchoi

? . . . KLES son of Kalli . . [5] . .
IG ii² 1173. The grounds are indeed slight for suggesting Acharnai: Whitehead, Demes 391.

NIKOSTRATOS of Halai (VII) ?PA 11019; APF 410
IG ii² 1175.22. See Whitehead, ZPE 47 (1982), 39f.

NIKON of Ikarion (II) PA 11110
IG ii² 1178.

Envoys

KALLISTRATOS son of Kallikrates of Aphidna (IX) PA 8157; APF 277ff. Theopompos com. F 30 (Edmonds); Arist. Rhet. 3.17 1418b 13f.; Nepos Epam. 6; Plut. Mor. 193c,d, 810f. He was sent to the Arkadians in the 360s; 362 (PA) seems unlikely.

-- of Euonymon (I)
--N son of Lykophron of Acharnai (VI) PA 9259 PH--
IG ii² 207d.27. Envoys to Orontes. For the date see above strategoi. The letter ending the name of the son of Lykophron is as read by Osborne, Naturalization II.63.

HAGNIAS son of Polemon of Oion (IV) PA 133; APF 82f.
Isaios 11.8. Humphreys, CPh 1983, 219ff., argues convincingly that his embassy was in the 370s, possibly concerning Amyntas of Makedon in 371.

[EM]PEDOS of Oe (VI) PA 4696a
AISCHINES PA 333
--OROS of Acharnai (VI)
IG ii² 175.2ff. They were chosen with respect to oaths in arrangements with Thessaly; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 159, has 361/60(?).

ANDRON of Kerameis (V) PA 924
LYSIA--
-- of Phlya (VII)
EUPHROSYNOS of Paiania (III) PA 6123
IG ii² 1128.39f. (Tod 162). In the matter of ruddle from Keos, probably in the 350s.

HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff. Hypereides F XXIV. His embassy to Thasos is dated 361/60 (?) by Hansen, GRBS 1983, 177.

Unknown

A board of ten is found in IG ii² 2814, dated before the middle of the century (c. 350 in SEG 32.241):
-- son of --res of Ankyle (II)
-- of Kydathenaion (III)
NIKIAS son of Nikides of Sphettos (V) PA 10825
EUKRATES son of Lysikrates of Epikephisia (VI) PA 5754
ARISTOBOULOS son of Boularchos of Phlya (VII) PA 1770
PHILOXENOS son of Antiphon of Eleusis (VIII) PA 14708
DIONYSIOS of tribe IX PA 4130
AISCHYLOS of tribe X PA 437

Grammateus

-- son of Elpines of E[uonymon] (I) PA 4675

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 149 concerns the alliance with the Euboians and is dated before 355, but Cawkwell (Phoenix 1978, 45 n.14, 67 n.37) now wants it in 341/40 (contrast SEG 21.265).

(ii) IG ii² 152 is a proxeny decree of pryt. Akamantis for Timaphenides of Ainos, dated before 370 by Lewis, ABSA 1954, 38f.:
Grammateus
PHRYNON of Leukonoion (IV) PA 15030
Bouleutes epistates
KEDIKRA[TES] of Halai (II or VII) PA 8279
Proposer
DIO[G]E[IT]ON PA 3790

(iii) IG ii² 153 is of unknown content of pryt. Pandionis:
Grammateus
-- son of -- phon

(iv) IG ii² 154 is of unknown content and contains letters which may belong to names, but only the restoration of the demotic for Lamptrai (I) seems worth recording.

(v) IG ii² 156 is a bare fragment, but contains what are likely to be letters of a patronymic:
Grammateus
-- son of --isio--

(vi) IG ii² 157 is the beginning of a probouleumatic document of pryt. Aigeis which should be before 363/2:
Grammateus
. . .[6]. . . s son of Euphron of Phyle (VI)
Bouleutes epistates
[DE]XITHEOS of Hamaxanteia (VIII)
Proposer
? . . . .[10]. . . . . of Poros (V)
D.M. Lewis informs me of difficulties with this text, particularly in that it seems too early for the proposer to have a demotic. If we do not restore a demotic to the proposer, the alternative would seem to be for lines 4 and 5: ἔδοξεν τῆι βο | [λῆι καὶ τῶι δήμωι . .]ριος εἶπ[ε]ν. The problem then is finding a name to complete what survives.

(vii) IG ii² 158 simply has the following:
Grammateus
. . .[6]. . . son of [Gl]aukippos of Atene (X) PA 2985
Lewis, ABSA 1954, 33, wondered whether this could be Nausias (cf. IG ii² 76; appendix to Section VI, no. xix).

(viii) IG ii² 159 is dated before 363/2 (Meritt, Hesperia 1940, 65):
Grammateus
[N]IKOXENOS son of Nikokles of Cholleidai (IV) PA 10987

(ix) IG ii² 165 simply has DIIPPOS M--
who is not necessarily secretary, but IG ii² 4434, evidently the same document, has My--, which could be the demotic of Myrrhinous (III).

(x) Similarly, identification as secretary is unlikely for the following: IG ii² 166:
-- son of Leomedon

(xi) IG ii² 170:
[N]IKOTELES

(xii) IG ii² 171 is of pryt. Antiochis.

(xiii) IG ii² 172 is a probouleumatic renewal of the proxeny of Democharis son of Nymphaios (Walbank no. 81) dated to the third, fourth or fifth day of a prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 342 no. 9 (=Ecclesia 94)):
Bouleutes epistates
[AR]ISTO[N] of Pergase (I) PA 2174
Proposer
[KRATI]NOS PA 8752

(xiv) IG ii² 179 concerns arrangements with Naxos which may belong in 376 or 364 (SEG 29.89).

(xv) IG ii² 182 is a probouleumatic proxeny decree for Apollodoros and an-
(xvi) other, with a rider from the man who had proposed a previous decree:
Proposer
PHILOKRAT[ES] (? son of Pythodoros of Hagnous (V)) PA 14576 = ?14599
The identification is not quite secure; for the patronymic see 347/6 envoys.

(xvii) IG ii² 188 is a probouleumatic proxeny decree with a rider:
Proposer
EPICHARES PA 4976

(xviii) IG ii² 189 has a rider:
Proposer
BLEPYROS son of Pei[thandros of Paionidai] (IV) PA 2881
The restoration of the man known as secretary in 343/2 (?) is all but certain;
(xix) he is a speculative candidate to be --OS of Paionidai in IG ii² 168 (apparently not grammateus therein).

(xx) For IG ii² 207 in the late 360s see above strategoi; it is a citizenship decree for Orontes (Osborne D 12) of pryt. Pandionis:
Bouleutes epistates
-- of Phlya (VII)

Proposer
POLYKRATES son of Polykrates not PA 12027

(xxi) IG ii² 265 has been tentatively ascribed to this period by Pečírka, Enktesis 51ff., and I retain it here, even though Walbank, ZPE 63 (1986), 129–33, argues that it may have been originally a fifth-century decree:
Grammateus
PHEIDEL[EIDES]

(xxii) For IG ii² 404 in this period see SEG 19.50, 21.254. It is a renewal of the treaty with the cities of Keos; for the day and prytany see Hansen GRBS 1982, 346 no. 65 (= Ecclesia 98).

(xxiii) SEG 17.19 concerns arrangements with the Siphnians and is from the thirty-sixth day of the ninth prytany, dated c. 362–355.

(xxiv) For the recall of Xenophon from exile see the appendix to the last section no. xxxviii; the recall should fall in the 360s:
Proposer
EUBOULOS son of Spintharos of Probalinthos (III) PA 5369

Grammateis
AISCHINES son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 354; APF 543ff.
APHOBETOS son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 2775; APF 545
Dem. 19.70,98,200,237,249,314; Libanius hyp. Dem. 19; Plut. Mor. 840a,f. Dem. 19.249 says they rose from being hypogrammateis 'serving all the magistracies', including the demos and boule, to become grammateis.

The following spoke in the assembly: Meidias (Dem. 21.153,202); Melanopos (Plut. Dem. 13.3); Timarchos (hyp. Aisch. 1: he proposed more than a hundred decrees); Phokion (Plut. Phok. 7.3).

Nomothetai

(xxv) Dem. 24.61ff. informs us of a law amending the law on eisangelia passed before 353 (in general see Hansen, Eisangelia 12ff.):
Proposer
TIMOKRATES son of Antiphon of Krioa (X) PA 13772; APF 513f.

(xxvi) Dem. 24.138 tells of a proposed law of unknown content which almost resulted in the execution of its sponsor:
Proposer
PHILIPPOS son of Philippos

Agora XV.7 Provides us with victorious bouleutai of tribe VII Kekropis and, though given the date 390–360, probably belongs in this period:

Agora XV.16 retains names from tribe VII Kekropis before the middle of the century; that they are bouleutai is doubted (see also Rhodes, ZPE 38 (1980), 198), but I record the names:
MENON PA 10073
NIKANDRIDES PA 10676
ARIMNESTOS (? of Phlya) PA 1618a; cf. 1620

Agora XV.492 is dated around 370. It is there stated that it may be a list of bouleutai and alternates, which I find attractive (see also SEG 31.132, where corrections are noted). There is restored in it Kleopompos of Thria, whose name appears among the bouleutai of 360/59, but in reference to him Rhodes, ZPE 38 (1980), 201, says of this list that the men are 'surely not bouleutae'.

Strategos

NAUSIKLES son of Klearchos of Oe (VI) PA 10552; APF 396f.

Diod. 16.37.3; cf. Dem. 18.115. He was sent with aid for the Phokians. On his identity see Cawkwell. CQ 1962, 140 n.1 (but APF is not in doubt). That he commanded the Athenians who confronted Philip at Thermopylai is assumed, but not directly attested. I see no reason to reject Diodoros' dating. The fake decree in Demosthenes mentions Imbros and has him as hoplite general.

Epistates of Brauroneion

LYSIAS of Acharnai (VI) PA 9368

Priest of Asklepios

?THOUGENES PA 6689

IG ii² 1532.11, but the date is most uncertain.

The following names come from IG ii² 204.75ff. Five men from the boule and ten from all Athenians were chosen to re-establish the boundaries of the sacred land at Eleusis (A); one man from the boule and two from all Athenians were chosen to consult the oracle at Delphi (B):

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 204 (LS 32; SEG 32.70; Harding no. 78) concerns the sacred land at Eleusis (cf. above) and mentions at lines 54f. (see also Androtion FGH 324
(ii) F 30; Philochoros FGH 328 F 155) a previous decree on the matter:
Proposer
PHILOKRATES (son of Pythodoros of Hagnous) (V) PA 14576 = 14599

(iii) A vote of thanksgiving was passed for the defence of Thermopylai (Dem. 19.86 and schol.; Hansen (GRBS 1983, 166; 1984, 133) dates this 353/2):

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 205 (SEG 14.51) is a proxeny decree from the twenty-sixth day of pryt. Leontis for Demokrates of Lampsakos (on the proposer see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 137):
Grammateus
CHREMES son of Ph[iloitos of Ionidai] (II) PA 15566
Bouleutes epistates
[A]RISTAIO[S of Phaleron] (IX) PA 1634
Proposer
. . . .⁸. . . . S son of Aristy[l]los of Steiria (III) PA 2133

Although Dion. ad Amm. 4 places it in 352/1 (at least what he considers the first half), Ellis, REG 1966, 636–9, argues for this year for Dem. 4, in which the orator, as first speaker in a debate on the situation with regard to Philip,
(ii) unsuccessfully proposes the setting up of a force (see Hansen, C&M 1984, 58); thus I record
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Dem. 15 is in response to an appeal for help from the Rhodian democrats, which Demosthenes supports, but help was not given.

Hansen, GRBS 1983, 160, suggests this year as that in which Androtion addressed the assembly concerning Karia (Arist. Rhet. 3.4.3 1406b 27).

350/49 (Ol. 107.3)

Archon

APOLLODOROS PA 1381 + Add.
Philochoros FGH 328 F 155 (Harding no. 78B); Diod. 16.46.1; Dion. Dein. 9, 11; FGH 255 (2); Suda s.v. Φιλόχορος; IG ii² 1436.1; 1440.26; 1517.[78f.]; 1524.71, 81; 1696.27; xiv 1098.8.

Strategoi

EPHIALTES = PA 6156
Philochoros FGH 328 F 155 (Harding no. 78B). General ἐπὶ τὴν χώραν, he went against the Megarians and marked out the sacred land.

?CHARIDEMOS son of Philoxenos of Acharnai (VI) PA 15380; APF 570ff.
Philochoros FGH 328 F 50. Perhaps he continued in the Hellespont: see Cawkwell, CQ 1962, 131.

Tamiai of Athene

KTESIBIOS son of Tleson of Anagyrous (I) PA 8853
OINOPHIL[OS] of tribe II or III PA 11362
[PRAXITELES] son of [Pra]xiades of Kephale (V) = PA 12170
PHILEMON son of Lykourgos of Thria (VI) PA 14282
AUTOKLES son of Timeas of Aixone (VII) PA 2722
ANTIPHANES son of K-- of tribe VIII PA 1224
-- son of [Pa]mphilos of Besa (X) PA 11541
IG ii² 1436.1ff. Probably only 9 were listed in this inventory. The name of the secretary was never inscribed.

Epistatai of Brauroneion

[M]OIRAGENES of Kydathenaion (III) PA 10396
THRASON of Lamptrai (I) PA 7390
IG ii² 1524.72, 82.

Horistai

LAKRATEIDES PA 8969
HIEROKLEIDES PA 7460b
Androtion FGH 324 F 30; Philochoros FGH 328 F 155 (Harding no. 78B,C). Hierophant and daidouchos, they were chosen for the setting of the boundaries of the sacred land; see Clinton, Sacred Officials 17f.

Priest of Asklepios

?MENESTRATOS of Angele (III) PA 10001
IG ii² 4353; 4354. Note that Pritchett and Meritt, Chronology 79f., employed IG ii² 1753 as part of their argument for this date and this inscription has now been redated to c. 330 as Agora XV.47, partly on the assumption that this is the date of Menestratos' priesthood.

Appendix
-- son of Polemon[ikos]
-- son of ? . . . l.los
See 359/8 appendix.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

Grammateus
?-- of Paiania (III)
IG ii² 249.5 (cf. Johnson, CPh 1914, 424; Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 60f.). If this is placed in the correct period and the demotic does belong to the secretary, then the tribal cycle dictates this year. But the text is problematic and the man concerned could be the proposer.

349/8 (Ol. 107.4)

Archon
KALLIMACHOS of Pergase (I) PA 8025
Diod. 16.52.1; Dion. ad Amm. 4, 9 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 49; Harding no. 80), 10 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 156); Dein. 9; FGH 255 (2); Plut. Mor. 845d; Athenaios 5.217b; IG ii² 206; ?207 a.11 (but see the appendix to Section VII; Osborne D 12); [208]; [209]; 1436.6; 1514.7; 1515.[1]; 1524.[83]; 1582.62, 72 (cf. Hesperia 1941, 24; 1950, 302 (Crosby)); 1620.44, 62; 1621.110; 2822.[1f.]; SEG 27.19.6.

Strategoi
PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Dem. 21.164 (cf. 162); Aisch. 2.169f.; Plut. Phok. 12ff.; ?Polyainos 5.21. General to Euboia, he fought around Tamynai, subsequently expelling Ploutarchos from Eretria and holding the strongpoint Zaretra; see Brunt, CQ 1969, 248ff.; Carter, Historia 1971, 421. On IG ii² 207 as applying to Phokion, Charidemos and Chares, see the appendix to Section VII.

CHARIDEMOS son of Philoxenos of Acharnai (VI) PA 15380; APF 570ff.
Philochoros FGH 328 F 50 (Harding no. 80); cf. Theopompos FGH 115 F 143. He was sent to aid the Olynthians, which he did against Pallene and Bottiaia; Carter, Historia 1971, 424f.

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Philochoros FGH 328 FF 49 (Harding no. 80), 51; schol. Ael. Arist. Pan. 179, 8, 9 (III.298f. Dindorf); Suda s.v. Κάρανος; cf. Lucian Dem. 37. He was sent twice to aid the Olynthians; Cawkwell, CQ 1962, 130f.; Carter, Historia 1971, 420f., 427f.

HEGESILEOS (? of Probalinthos (III)) PA 6339
Schol. Dem. 19.290 (Ulpian). He is said to have been general to Euboia, tried for collusion with Ploutarchos to deceive the demos. His command and the year are problematic: see Carter, Historia 1971, 426; Gehrke, Phokion 11 n. 73. But the scholiast says he went when the Athenians sent help to Ploutarchos, which, if accurate, is suggestive, although Pausanias uses similar language with regard to Molottos (see 348/7 strategos).

Hipparchoi

MEIDIAS son of Kephisodoros of Anagyrous (I) PA 9719; APF 366f.
Dem. 21.164ff., 174. Demosthenes accuses him of shirking his duty in Euboia; Carter, Historia 1971, 422ff.

KRATINOS (? of Erchia) (II) PA 8753=?8760, APF 321
Dem. 21.132 with schol. (Ulpian). He led the cavalry to Argoura and was assailed by Meidias. The identity was suggested to me by D.M. Lewis.

Phylarchos?

KLEOPHANES PA 8628
Plut. Phok. 13.3. He recalled the cavalry from flight and so is at least likely to be an officer with Phokion in Euboia; Davies, Wealth 153.

Taxiarchoi

MENITES son of Menon of Kydathenaion (III)=PA 10055
Aisch. 2.169f. He was sent with Aischines to report the victory in Euboia. For the name, rather than Temenides (PA 13555), see Lewis, ABSA 1955, 31; Davies, Wealth 152; this more nearly reflects the MS readings.

MANTITHEOS son of Mantias of Thorikos (V) PA 9676; APF 364ff.
Dem. 39.17.

Officers?

THALLOS son of Kineas of Lamptrai (I) PA 6577; APF 492
GLAUKOS son of Polymedes PA 2994
Plut. Phok. 13.3. Their gallantry in Euboia may have been as officers.

Tamiai of Athene

[AMEINIAS] son of Philippos of Agryle (I) ?PA 677; NPA 163
[MNESAGO]RAS son of Mnesilochos of Halai (II)=PA 10238; NPA 130; APF 393
[TA]CHYKLES son of Phormion of Myrrhinous (III) PA 14957; NPA 158
HEGESIAS son of Hegias of Sounion (IV) PA 6331; APF 209
PLATON son of Isotimos of Iphistiadai (V) PA 11854
DEINON son of Deinias of Acharnai (VI) PA 3197; NPA 47
EXEKESTIDES son of Exekias of Xypete (VII) NPA 68
MORMIAS son of Eu[bou]los of Oinoe (VIII)=PA 10415; NPA 131

Grammateus

PISTIDES of Thorai (X) PA 11825
IG ii² 1436.6ff.; 2822.6ff. Only the eight were listed.

Epimeletai of dockyards
BLEPYROS son of Phyleides of Teithras (II) PA 2882
PHILOKALOS son of Exekias of Kerameis (V) PA 14506
ANTIPHON son of Archias of Kydathenaion (III) PA 1301
[KE]PHISOD[OROS or -OTOS] son of [E]uxitheos of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 8305
--POS son of Aristo. . .os of Eleusis (VIII)
IG ii² 1620.45ff.

Epistates of Brauroneion
PHILOKEDES of Paionidai (IV) PA 14510
IG ii² 1524.84.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is to be found in IG ii² 206, 208, 209;
Grammateus
DIEUCHES son of Demarchos of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 3766

(i) IG ii² 206 is a probouleumatic proxeny decree of the ninth prytany, of Pandionis, for Theogenes of Naukratis; the proposer amends his own decree:
Bouleutes epistates
SOKERDES of Halai (II or VII) PA 13057
Proposer
HIEROKLEIDES son of Timostratos of Alopeke (X) PA 7463

(ii) IG ii² 208 is a probouleumatic decree, evidently in praise of Akarnanians:
Bouleutes epistates
EMM[EN]IDES of Koile (VIII) PA 4689
Proposer
ARCHEDEMOS son of Ar[chi]as of Paionidai (IV) PA 2325

(iii) IG ii² 209 has something to do with Eleusis (where it was found); given that the proposer is correctly identified, it is probouleumatic (cf. no. i above):
Bouleutes epistates
. . . .[8]. . . . DES of Gargettos (II)
Proposer

(iv) IG ii² 210+259+EM 6874 (Schweigert, Hesperia 1937, 329ff.; Wilhelm, Att. Urkunde V.132ff.) is in praise of envoys from Akanthos and Dion.

(v) We come to Dem. 59.3ff.:
Bouleutes and Proposer
APOLLODOROS son of Pasion of Acharnai (VI) PA 1411; APF 428ff.
He brought before the council and then put as a probouleuma to the assembly the proposal that the people should determine whether excess revenue should be for military purposes or go into the theoric fund. The vote was for military use, but an indictment for illegal motion was brought by Stephanos; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 18.

Nomothetai

(vi) Despite Cawkwell, JHS 1963, 59f., there is reason to accept the statement of schol. Dem. 1.1 that after Apollodoros' attempt a law was passed setting death as the penalty for trying to make theoric money available for military use:

Proposer

EUBOULOS son of Spintharos of Probalinthos (III) PA 5369

(vii) Dem. 21.173 indicates that laws were passed concerning the cavalry:

Proposer

MEIDIAS son of Kephisodoros of Anagyrous (I) PA 9719; APF 366f.

The autumn of this year provides the setting for Dem. 2, 1 and 3, the Olynthiacs, in that order (Ellis, Historia 1967, 108–12). I am not as sure as Hansen (C&M 1984, 58f.) that none of these speeches involved proposals as such, but they concern the need and the means by which to help the Olynthians. Hansen suggests that the third speech could have been in support of a proposal to appoint nomothetai to abrogate laws concerning the Theoric fund.

ARISTODEMOS (of Metapontum, the actor)
Aisch. 2.15ff.; Dem. 19.12; hyp. Aisch. 2; hyp. ii Dem. 19. He was sent to Philip in the matter of Athenians caught in Olynthos; he was attacked for delaying his report, which was that Philip wanted alliance. He received a crown.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 211 may belong to this year: it grants ateleia to Olynthians (? – see Osborne X 12).

Aisch. 2.12ff. tells of envoys from Euboia addressing the assembly. Phrynon of Rhamnous was captured by pirates and on his return persuaded the assembly to elect an envoy to see about recovering his ransom money (see above Ktesiphon). Upon his report Ktesiphon was given a vote
(ii) of praise. Then came a motion that Philip be allowed to send envoys and a herald concerning peace:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 212 and 213:
Grammateus
LYSIMACHOS son of Sosidemos of Acharnai (VI) PA 9512; APF 358

(i) IG ii² 212 (Tod 167; Harding no. 82) is a decree of the eighth prytany, of Aigeis, in honour of the 'Bosporan princes Spartakos, Pairisades and Apollonios:
Bouleutes epistates
THEOPHILOS of Halimous (IV) PA 7125
Proposers
ANDROTION son of Andron of Gargettos (II) PA 915 = 913; APF 33f.
P[OLYEUKT]OS son of Timokrates of Krioa (X) PA 11946
This must have been passed at a meeting on Elaphebolion 8 or 16; see Hansen, GRBS 1977, 50f. (= Ecclesia 42f.). At lines 53ff. it looks forward to a meeting on the eighteenth, which we know to have taken place in connexion with the matters concerning the embassies (see below).

(ii) IG ii² 213 (Tod 168; Harding no. 83) is from the same day as no. i with the same epistates and concerns the renewal of the treaty with Mitylene:
Proposer
STEPHANOS son of Antidorides of Eroiadai (VIII or X) PA 12887

We may begin the considerable literary record of proceedings in this year with Dem. 19.10f., where we hear of Aischines addressing the council and assembly, supported by Ischandros, about Philip's designs and the need for envoys to Greek states to try to convene a meeting about war with Philip; subsequently Aischines reported on his embassy to Arkadia. We
(iii) learn more at 19.303ff., where we have the proposer of the decree for the embassies:
Proposer
EUBOULOS son of Spintharos of Probalinthos (III) PA 5369

The early stages of the business leading up to peace with Philip are to be read at Aisch. 2.16ff. Aristodemos (see 348/7 envoys) delayed his report, but he eventually spoke before council and assembly, after Demokrates persuaded the council to summon him, after they had heard from Iatrokles.
(iv) We learn of a bouleutes who proposed the crown for Aristodemos:
Bouleutes and proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
(v) Then came the proposal for the embassy to Philip concerning peace:
Proposer
PHILOKRATES son of Pythodoros of Hagnous (V) PA 14599 = ?14576
(vi) There was a proposal in the boule that envoys be chosen to go to the cities in which Aristodemos was bound to perform that he might be excused without penalty:
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
In what follows the major sources are Dem. 19 and Aisch. 2, with some additional information from other places, especially Dem. 18 and Aisch. 3. Members of the embassies (see above envoys) reported to and addressed the council and assembly, as also did Kephisophon (Dem. 18.21), Neoptolemos (Dem. 19.12, 315), Euboulos (Dem. 18.21) and Aristophon (Theopompos FGH 115 F 166). Out of the confusion Hansen, Ecclesia 69ff. (amending GRBS 1977, 54ff.), has created a scheme which I shall follow without indicating precise references for each detail (they are given by Hansen, whose views are criticized by Harris, CQ 1986, 366ff.).

The envoys returned and reported to the council late in Anthesterion or
(vii) in the first three days of Elaphebolion; probouleumata were passed giving (viii) safe conduct to Philip's envoys and honouring the Athenian envoys:
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

Shortly after this, the envoys reported to the assembly and the bill for safe conduct for the Makedonian envoys was ratified, as eventually was De-
(ix) mosthenes' other proposal. He was also responsible for a decree ordering
(x) the prytaneis to conduct an assembly on Elaphebolion 8 and another, in the boule, granting proedria at the Dionysia to the envoys of Philip. On
(xi) Elaphebolion 8 he carried a decree which fixed assembly meetings to discuss and conclude peace and alliance on Elaphebolion 18 and 19. Before these there was the regular meeting of the assembly after the Dionysia in the precinct of Dionysos, perhaps on Elaphebolion 16.

(xii) On Elaphebolion 18 the proposal for peace and alliance was up for discussion:

Proposer

PHILOKRATES son of Pythodoros of Hagnous (v) PA 14599=?14576

There was conflict on the terms because of a proposal of the allied synhedrion, but on the next day, after the assembly had heard from the Makedonian Antipater, Philokrates' proposal was passed. At some stage, perhaps in the boule (though I am not confident in Hansen's argument), the envoys were chosen to administer the oaths for the peace. Then an assembly was held on Elaphebolion 25 with Demosthenes as proedros. A (xiii) decree was carried that the allies should take the oath at once:

Proposer

PHILOKRATES son of Pythodoros of Hagnous (v) PA 14599=?14576

(xiv) Another decree was voted on, despite Demosthenes' objection, that Kritoboulos should take the oath on behalf of Kersebleptes:

Proposer

ALEXIMACHOS of Pelekes (iv) PA 545

(xv) A decree also gave instructions for the second embassy. On Mounichion 3
(xvi) it was voted in the boule that this embassy set out at once:

Proposer

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (iii) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

This is where Hansen's analysis ends. We continue with Dem. 19.58ff. The embassy returned on Skirophorion 13 and it will have been at the (xvii) assembly on the sixteenth that there was passed the decree honouring Philip and appointing the envoys I include under 346/5, including a clause to the detriment of the Phokians (Dem. 19.47ff.):

Proposer

PHILOKRATES son of Pythodoros of Hagnous (v) PA 14599=?14576

On Skirophorion 27 an assembly was held in the Peiraieus concerning dockyard matters, which heard from Derkylos, newly arrived from Chalkis
(xviii) with a report of Philip's actions. In the wake of this (Dem. 19.125) measures were voted to bring in the women and children from the country and for fortifications and holding the Herakleia in the city; this is the decree mentioned at Dem. 18.37; 19.86 and schol.:

Proposer

KALLISTHENES PA 8090

(xix) At Aisch. 1.80ff. we learn of a councillor who, we find at Dem. 19. 286f.,

proposed a measure that forbade the taking of arms to Philip:
Bouleutes and proposer
TIMARCHOS son of Arizelos of Sphettos (V) PA 13636

(xx) He had also proposed a decree concerning dwellings on the Pnyx which brought about the assembly of which Aischines informs us; there spoke the Areiopagite Autolykos and Pyrrhandros.

(xxi) Finally we have Aisch. 2.73, recording a decree that a message should be sent to Chares:
Proposer
KEPHISOPHON son of Kallibios of Paiania (III) PA 8417; APF 149
For the date see Hansen, GRBS 1977, 53f. (= Ecclesia 45f.).

Aisch. 2.94ff., 139ff., 162f., 178; Dem. 19.121ff.; hyp. ii Dem. 19. The matter has been obscured by rhetoric. An embassy of ten was chosen 'to the Amphiktyons', in fact to Philip in the matter of peace and actions against Phokis. Aischines cried off and Aphobetos was sent in his place; the envoys turned back when they heard that Philip had won Phokis. The same ten were then chosen, Aischines now being fit, to go to Philip and the Amphiktyonic Council.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is to be found in IG ii² 215 and 218:
Grammateus
KEPHISODOROS son of Athenophanes of Phlya (VII) PA 8387

DEMOPHILOS PA 3664
For the controversy on this see Osborne, ABSA 1971, 329f. and n. 32.

For assemblies concerning the third embassy see above envoys.

It seems Aischines spoke at an assembly considering the request from Thessalians and envoys from Philip that the latter be admitted to the Amphiktyonic Council (Dem. 19.111ff.), which may have been the occasion for Dem. 5 in autumn 346, though Libanius thought that this speech was written, but not delivered.

We know of a bouleutes from Dem. 57.8f.:
Bouleutes

?KEPHISOPHON (son of Kephalion) of Aphidna (IX) PA 8410; APF 292f.
IG ii² 1623.35ff.; 1629.483ff. Despite the lack of conclusion in APF, we could date his expedition to Skiathos in this year. For at IG ii² 1443.106ff. we have a dated reference to soldiers in Skiathos and at lines 111 and 120 we are still in the same archon year; also at lines 112f. the restoration of Kephisophon with demotic exactly fits for the man crowned by the Samothrakians. Our knowledge of the workings of the theoric commission is not such as to allow Kephisophon's position in that regard in 343/2 to negate this conclusion.

?EUKLEIDES PA 5678
Dem. 19.162 and schol. He was sent to Philip to complain about his activities in Thrace, perhaps in this year; cf. Hansen, GRBS 1983, 167.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 219 and 220:
Grammateus
. .[5]. . ENOS son of I . . .[7]. . . of Oion (VIII)

(i) IG ii² 219, with the reading of Schweigert (Hesperia 1939, 172f. (3); see also Hansen, GRBS 1984, 137), is a fragment of the eighth prytany, day 16 or 21 (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 342 (= Ecclesia 94)):
Bouleutes epistates
DIO--
Proposer
? -- of Phrearrhioi (IV) or Eitea (V or X)

(ii) IG ii² 220.23ff. seems to be the decree ratified in the earlier parts honouring the Pellaneans; it is restored to the tenth day of the ninth prytany:

Bouleutes epistates
. . . . ? . . . . s of Eiresidai (v)
Proposer
[ARISTONYMOS] son of [Aris]to[n]ik[os]
For the latter see also lines 7f.

344/3 (Ol. 109.1)

Archon
LYKISKOS PA 9214
Dem. 58.28; Philochoros FGH 328 F 157 (Harding no. 86); FGH 255 (4); Diod. 16.69.1; Dion. ad Amm. 1.10; Dein. 9, 11; IG ii² 221.9 (SEG 14.52); 1443.[1]; 1462.[16]; 1471.[62]; 1514.[59f.] (cf. Linders, Artemis 20f.); 1516.36 (cf. Linders, Artemis 26); 1518.[76] (Linders, Artemis 45); 1622.383; 2832; 3068.5; 3069.2; 3202.1f. (Agora XV.33); 4571.4.

Thesmothetes
-- of Hybadai (IV)
Dem. 58.27f. This was the brother of Theokrines, who used the latter as adviser (?paredros) and was involved in the dismissal of the whole board of archons (which was, however, reinstated).

Strategoi
PHILOCHARES son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 14775; APF 545
See 345/4.

?PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Plut. Phok. 15. It is extremely likely that he was general, but the specific query is that the campaign to Megara mentioned by Plutarch may not belong here. See Brunt, CQ 1969, 264f. and 252 n. 3, for Phokion in Cyprus this year; Gehrke, Phokion 12ff., 225ff.

Tamias of Athene
-- son of --etos of Peiraieus (VIII)
IG ii² 1443.2. Only six or seven were listed in this inventory.

Tamias of stratiotic fund
NIKERAT[OS] (son of Nikias) of Kydantidai (II) PA 10742; APF 406f.
IG ii² 1443.13f. The inscription implies this year rather than 345/4.

Priest of Asklepios
LYSITHEOS of Trikorynthos (IX) PA 9407
IG ii² 1532.34; 4389.2ff.; 4390.2.

Syndikos
HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff.
Dem. 18.134; Plut. Mor. 840e, 850a. The people chose Aischines, but the Areiopagos rejected him in favour of Hypereides to represent Athens in the matter of who should have charge of the temple at Delos. Roux,

L'amphictionie 28, dates 345/4 or 344/3 and thinks the post was as pylagoras to Delphi.

Envoys

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff. Dem. 6.19ff.; 18.79; Dion. ad Amm. 10. He went to the Peloponnese to agitate against Philip.

HEGESIPPOS son of Hegesias of Sounion (IV) PA 6351; APF 209f. Dem. 7.2; 19.331; Libanius hyp. Dem. 7. He went to Philip on the matter of Halonnesos; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 168, has this in 343/2.

?ARISTODEMOS (of Metapontum, the actor)
Aisch. 3.83 (Harding no. 89A). He went on an embassy to Thessaly and Magnesia 'contrary to the terms of the peace' – perhaps in the context of Halonnesos? Hansen, GRBS 1983, 161, has 340/39 without a query.

Appendix: The agoranomoi of IG ii² 2823 are correctly dated to 129/8 at IG ii² Add. p. 348 and Pritchett, Hesperia 1942, 240 n. 39.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 220 ratifies the honours to the Pellaneans (see 345/4) on day 16 or 21 of the prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 342 (= Ecclesia 94)):

Bouleutes epistates

HIPPOCH--

Proposer

-- son of Oinobios of Rhamnous (IX) PA 11358

Plut. Phok. 15.1, if the year is correct (see above strategoi), tells of Phokion calling an assembly and revealing a message from the Megarians which resulted in a vote to send help.

There were a number of embassies to and from Athens this year. Androtion spoke in reply to one from Artaxerxes (Didymus in Dem. 8.14).

(ii) One from Philip, led by Python of Byzantion, elicited a reply proposed by the speaker of Dem. 7 (sections 23ff.):

Proposer

HEGESIPPOS son of Hegesias of Sounion (IV) PA 6351; APF 209f.
While some believe that it was at this assembly that Dem. 6, which contains no proposal, was delivered (Hansen, C&M 1984, 59), Markle, Antichthon 1981, 62–85, deals with the speech and accepts that it was produced at an assembly where envoys of Philip had complained about the words of Athenian orators and where envoys from Argos and Messene had objected

(iii) to Athenian support of Sparta. Then there is Demosthenes' embassy to the Peloponnese (Dem. 18.79):

Proposer

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

343/2 (Ol. 109.2)

Archon

PYTHODOTOS PA 12386

Dem. 48.23ff.; FGH 255 (4); Diod. 16.70.1; Dion. ad Amm. 5 (Apollodoros FGH 244 F 38b), 10; Dein. 9, 13 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 158); Diog. 5.10; schol. Aisch. 3.83 (Harding no. 89A); IG ii² 223 a.1, 4, b.[7], 16, c.[15] (Agora XV.34); 224; [225] (Harding no. 89B); 1443.[6]; 1454.3; 1462.[7]; 1471.63; 1517.[55f.], [120] (see Linders, Artemis 37); 1524.134; 1525.8; 1526.19; 1532.1; 1590.2; 1622.383f.; 1699.[1] (Agora XV.493); 2318.[287]; Insc. Délos 104–27.[2], 17; Hesperia 1936, 401 (10.126) (Meritt); 1941, 40 ([7]) (Meritt) (Agora XV.35). Panathenaic amphora: Frel, Amphoras 19.

Strategoi

PHILOCHARES son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 14775; APF 545
See 345/4.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Aisch. 2.184.

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Dem. 7.15 and schol., 58.38. He was stationed at Thasos. Dem. 7.15 complains about Philip using the generals to convey exiles from Makedon to Thasos and sending men to accompany the generals. Dem. 58.38 speaks of Chares appointing a rate of payment for the Ainians.

DIOPEITHES (? son of Diphilos of Sounion) (IV) PA 4327; APF 168
Dem. 8 passim, 9.15 (cf. 73), 12.3f., 16; Dion. ad Amm. 10; Dein. 13 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 158); Lucian Dem. 35, 37; Libanius hyp. Dem. 8; cf. schol. Aisch. 3.83 (Harding no. 89A).

He led out klerouchs to the Chersonese and grew ever more hostile to Makedon, aiding Kardia and operating in Thrace, among other things. Philip wrote to Athens complaining of his actions and his incitement of opposition to himself, matters which became the subject of debate at Athens. These actions would seem to extend into 341/40 and even in 340/39 Diopeithes may still have been in the Hellespontine area (see APF).

?KLEITOMACHOS
Dem. 9.72; 18.244; Aisch. 3.97f., 256 (see 341/40); Plut. Dem. 17.3, Mor. 841e. They went on missions to counter Philip in the Peloponnese. Lykourgos should be included here to create a uniform tradition (contra Mosley, TAPhA 1965, 258). For Kleitomachos see Hansen, GRBS 1983, 171.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 223c (Agora XV.34), 224 and 225:
Grammateus
KLEOSTRATOS son of Timosthenes of Aigilia (X) PA 8623

(i) IG ii² 224 is a decree from the fourth day of the tenth prytany, of Aigeis, honouring Kephallenians:

Bouleutes epistates
ARCHIKLEIDES of Paiania (III) PA 2492
Proposer
AR[ISTOPHO]N son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.

(ii) IG ii² 225 is a treaty with the Messenians and someone else from the same day and with the same epistates as 224.

IG ii² 223 (of which part c is Agora XV.34) is a dedication by the boule incorporating certain votes by the body and naming certain officers. The
(iii) first proposal is in honour of Phanodemos:
Proposer
DEINOSTRATOS son of Deiniades of Ankyle (II) PA 3192=3191
(iv) The second concerns the honours to the boule:
Proposer
[PHA]NO[DEMOS] son of [Di]yllos of Thymaitadai (VIII) PA 14033
(v) Then there is further praise for the council:
Proposer
[KEPHI]SOPHON son of Kallibios of Paiania (III) PA 8417; APF 149
(vi) The next praises Eudoxos for the functions he has fulfilled:
Proposer
. . .⁶. . . ON son of Antikrates of Pambotadai (I) PA 1086
(vii) A similar measure follows:
Proposer
BRACHYLLOS son of Bathyllos of Erchia (II) PA 2928
The latter part also gives us the secretary and the following:
In charge of decrees
DEMOPHILOS son of Pantaleon of Agryle (I) PA 3669
In charge of the theoric fund
KEPHISOPHON son of Kephalion of Aphidna (IX) PA 8410; APF 292f.
I suspect he was not a commissioner as such, but an official of the council who was concerned with this area.
Tamiai of boule
ANTIKLES son of Aristokrates of Kydathenaion (III) PA 1067
DROMOKLEIDES son of Thrasymedes of Hagnous (V) PA 4567

(viii) Aisch. 3.224 indicates a proposal of the death penalty for Anaxinos of Oreus, who was acquiring things for Olympias, perhaps in this year (Hansen, GRBS 1983, 164):
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
(ix) Also in this year Demosthenes will have proposed an embassy to Euboia (Dem. 18.79).

(x) Dem. 7 is attributed to the man who ends by saying he will propose the answer to Philip's letter:

Proposer
HEGESIPPOS son of Hegesias of Sounion (IV) PA 6351; APF 209f.

Agora XV.36 gives us bouleutai of tribe II Aigeis, dated to this year by the appearance of Deinostratos (see above); I assume, therefore, that Agora XV.493 is not a list of bouleutai and omit its names. Before the bouleutai I include the following, also found in Agora XV.37:

Grammateus of boule and demos
BLEPYROS son of Peithandros of Paionidai (IV) PA 2881
Philaidai
ANTIGENES son of Antidoros PA 1002
DIONYSIOS son of Hephaistion PA 4259
[L]YSIKLES son of Thrasymenes PA 9441
Ionidai
[CHR]EMES son of Philoitios PA 4802 = 15566
[E]PIGENES son of Androkles PA 4801
Halai
NIKERATOS son of Nikokrates PA 10734; APF 411
ANTIKRATES son of Phalanthos PA 1081
EUPOLIS son of Arrhileos PA 5939
EPIKRATES son of Nikomenes PA 4879; APF 410
[S]OKRATES son of Habron PA 13098
Phegaia
[A]KESTIDES son of Antiphanes PA 467; APF 191
SOTIMIDES son of Aischines PA 13400
[A]RISTI[O]N son of Philistides PA 1755
POLYKRATES son of Polyeuktos PA 12027
Ankyle
DEINOSTR[ATOS] son of De[ini]ades PA 3192 = 3191
PAUSIAS son of Sokrates PA 11730
Kydantidai
THEOMNESTOS son of Theomnestos PA 6969
Kolonos
ANTH[O]S son of Nikeratos PA 960
DEMETRIOS son of Speusikrates PA 3414
Bate
PYTHEAS son of Pythippos PA 12348
AMYNOMACHOS son of Philokrates PA 741
Araphen
MYRONIDES son of Kleon PA 10510; APF 229
MNESITHEOS son of Nikostratos PA 10288

(iii) I assume also that it was in this year that Demosthenes proposed the expedition to Oreos, not 341/40 as at Hansen, GRBS 1983, 164; Dem. 18.79.

Dem. 8, 9 and 10 belong to this year, containing no proposals (Hansen, C&M 1984, 59f.; for the date of Dem. 10 see Markle, Antichthon 1981, 82f.). The first deals with Philip's complaint about Diopeithes, the second supports giving reinforcements to the latter, the third urges action and addresses the question of revenues.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Philochoros FGH 328 F 160 (Harding no. 92); Diod. 16.74; schol. Aisch. 3.103. He defeated and killed Kleitarchos, tyrant of Eretria, and installed democracy.

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Plut. Phok. 14.2f.; Hesychios FGH 390 F 1.28ff.; IG ii² 228.11ff. (Tod 174; Osborne D 15; Harding no. 94); 1628.420; 1629.941. He was sent to help the Byzantians and made exactions of the allies; Hesychios records some success. The inscription IG ii² 228 concerns Elaious in the Chersonese.

?KALLIAS
Dem. 12.5. He is generally regarded as Kallias of Chalkis, but is accepted as Athenian by Hansen, GRBS 1983, 169.

Tamiai
-- son of --ates of Phrearrhioi (IV)
DEMOPHILOS son of Demokl-- PA 3666
Grammateus
-- son of --imachos of Eleusis (VIII)
IG ii² 1455.1f., the inventory.

Amphiktyons to Delos
PHANOMACHOS son of Charmiades of Sounion (IV) PA 14077
PYTHODOROS son of Nikostratos of Acharnai (VI) PA 12413; APF 482
EUPOLEMOS son of Euthymenides of Myrrhinous (III) PA 5928
CHAIRIAS son of Euortios of Anaphlystos (X) PA 15218; NPA 169
ARCHENEOS son of Diphilos of Prospalta (V) PA 2368; APF 390
Grammateus
TEISIADES son of Teisippos of Sphettos (V) PA 13468
Hypogrammateus
EM-- or M--
Insc. Délos 42; 104–27.5; 104–28a A.3ff.; IG xii 5.113.2ff. The latter text, from Paros, has Charmides for Charmiades and Chaire[mo]n for Chairias.

Naopoios to Delphi
EPIKRATES PA 4861
FD III, 5, 20.3.

Priest of Asklepios
EUNIKIDES of Halai (II) PA 5846
IG ii² 1533.7f.; Ferguson, Priests 145.

Envoys
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

Dem. 18.244; Aisch. 3.96f., 256. He went to the Peloponnese for support. On the date see Brunt, CQ 1969, 255ff.

EPHIALTES PA 6156
Plut. Mor. 847f, 848e. He came back from Persia, reputedly, with money to incite politicians against Philip.

?HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff. Plut. Mor. 850a. To Rhodes. Berthold, Historia 1980, 45 n. 51, holds that this may as well belong to 323; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 177, has 342/1. Bartolini, Iperide, sends him to Chios on the strength of the Chiakos (which depends on emendation; F LXV).

?MENELAOS (? son of Menelochos of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 9963; APF 389 Lykourgos 1.24. He went to the Persian king. This is perhaps to be connected with Ephialtes' mission, but the source has no indication of date; it is at least before 330.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is to be found in IG ii² 228.5f. and 229.3f.:
Grammateus
ONESIPPOS son of Smiky[thos] of Araphen (II) PA 11455

(i) IG ii² 228 (Tod 174; Osborne D 15; Harding no. 94) is a decree from the twenty-ninth day of the seventh prytany, of Pandionis, granting rights to the people of Elaious:
Bouleutes epistates
ARISTOMACHOS of Oion (IV or VIII) PA 1978
Proposer
HIPPOSTRATOS son of Etearchides of Pallene (X) PA 7669

(ii) IG ii² 229 is a decree restored to the thirty-seventh day of the tenth prytany, of Leontis, the last or penultimate day of the month (thus Skirophorion: for all this see Meritt, Ath. Year 10) honouring a Corinthian; on the proposer see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 137:
Proposer
-- son of --os of Phrearrhioi (IV)

(iii) IG ii² 230, the treaty with Eretria, is there reasonably dated to this year, though see SEG 21.249 for 357/6.

Aisch. 3.95ff. recounts Kallias' report to the assembly that he had secured support in the Peloponnese, which Demosthenes confirmed, as well as
(iv) reporting on his own embassy to the Peloponnese and Akarnania. A motion ensued that envoys be sent to Eretria and Oreos:
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

(v) It seems he also proposed the expedition to Eretria (Dem. 18.79; Plut. Dem. 17.1).

(vi) At Dem. 18.83 we hear of a decree awarding a crown to Demosthenes:
Proposer
ARISTONIKOS son of Nikophanes of Anagyrous (1) PA 2025
Plut. Mor. 848d says this was opposed, but Demosthenes wants to give the opposite impression.

Agora XV.38 provides the bouleutai of tribe II Aigeis:
Erchia
THARRHIAS son of Tharrhiades PA 6590
KYDIAS son of Lysikrates PA 8928
CHAIREAS son of Paramythos PA 15100
[PH]YLARCHOS son of Paramythos PA 15042
XENOKLES son of Kalliades PA 11220
POLYKLEID[E]S son of Kallistratos PA 11970; APF 362
Gargettos
DIODOROS son of Philokles PA 3940
MEIXIAS son of Hegesias PA 9752
SMIKRIAS son of Philokedes PA 12743
AR[E]SIAS son of Pausias PA 1597
Philaidai
DIONYSIOS son of Hephaistion PA 4259
EUTHYKLES son of Ameinias PA 5586
EUTHYDIKOS son of Ameinias PA 5565
Kydantidai
PYTHION son of Aischronides PA 12370
DEMOSTRATOS son of Demostratos PA 3622
Ionidai
MELIEUS son of Il[i]oneus PA 10101
Ikarion
TIMOKRITOS son of Timokrates PA 13790; APF 513
ARISTOPHANES son of Eukleides PA 2088
ARCHENAUTES son of Archenautes PA 2357
ERATON son of Eration PA 5042
[A]RIGNOTOS son of Babyrias PA 1613
Hestiaia
POSEIDIPPOS son of Kallikrates PA 12126; NPA 145
Bate
LYSISTRATOS son of Polyeuktos PA 9615; APF 171
Kolonos
KALLIPHANES son of Kallikles PA 8222
THEAGES PA 6616
Kollytos

CHAIREPHON son of Thrason PA 15201; APF 239
ALEXIS son of Sosiades PA 552
PHEREKRATES son of Philokrates PA 14196
Plotheia
CHAIRIAS son of Chairias PA 15223
Otryne
PHILINOS son of Theodoros PA 14334
Erikeia
EPAMEINON son of Epainetos PA 4765
Halai
LYSIMACHIDES son of Lysipolis PA 9479
EUBIOS son of Autosthenes PA 5295
APOLLODOROS son of Archias PA 1404
EUNOSTIDES son of Theophantos PA 5878
KALLIMEDES son of Archemachos PA 8083
Teithras
DEMOSTHENES son of Demophon PA 3598
DEMOPHILOS son of Demokles PA 3689
KALLISTRATOS PA 8182; APF 111
PROKLEIDES son of Proxenides PA 12204
Phegaia
AKERATOS son of Archedemos PA 476
THEOMNESTOS PA 6978
THEODOROS son of Theognis PA 6908
Araphen
ELPINOS son of Sosigenes PA 4682
KALLIMACHOS son of Mnesitheos PA 8007
Myrrhinoutte
THEOPHILOS PA 7151
Ankyle
EUBIOS son of Eubiotos PA 5290
Diomeia
DOROTHEOS son of Theodoros PA 4609
Ankyle
MELESIPPOS son of Melesias PA 9820; APF 233

There follows a series of tribal decrees. Tharrhias of Erchia praises the tamias of the tribe Poseidippos of Hestiaia. Aristophanes of Ikarion praises the syllogeis, Diodoros of Gargettos, Timokritos of Ikarion, Tharrhias of Erchia. Tharrhias praises the hieropoioi Poseidippos of Hestiaia, Timokritos of Ikarion, Aristophanes of Ikarion, Chairias of Plotheia, Kallistratos of Teithras, Pythion of Kydantidai, Eubios of Ankyle, Theomnestos of Phegaia, Theophilos of Myrrhinoutte, Meliseus of Ionidai. Diodoros praises Aristophanes of Ikarion.

Archon

THEOPHRASTOS of Halai (II or VII) PA 7171
Aisch. 3.115; Philochoros FGH 328 FF 55b (Harding no. 95C(2)), 161, 162 (Harding no. 95B); FGH 255 (5); Diod. 16.77.1; Dion. ad Amm. 10, 11 (Philochoros FGH 328 FF 54a (Harding no. 95A), 56a (Harding no. 96A)); IG ii² [231]; 233 [a] (Harding no. 97), b.4, 7, 10 (Tod 175); 1455.4; 1457.21; 1462.[19]; 1533.9; 1628.[436]; 1629.957; 2318.316; 2320.30; 2394 (or 313/12; Whitehead, Demes 384 no. 78); 2824 (or less likely 313/12); 3104 (or 313/12); Insc. Délos 104–21.[14f.] (or 351/50 or 347/6). Panathenaic amphora: Beazley, Black Figure 415. IG ii² 1202 and MDAI(A) 1941, 218f. no. 1, probably belong in 313/12: Pickard-Cambridge, *Festivals*² 49 n.3 (Lewis); Whitehead, Demes 375f. nos. 12 and 13.

Paredros

?MNESARCHIDES (? son of Mnesarchos of Halai) (II) PA 10242 = 10245; APF 392
Dem. 58.32. The identification is not secure, but a Mnesarchides was paredros to an eponymous archon in the late 340s, being entrusted with a case of maltreatment of an orphan. I place him here on the chance that his deme might make him a suitable paredros to a possible associate.

Strategoi

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Philochoros FGH 328 F 162 (Harding no. 95B); Plut. Mor. 188b; Steph. Byz. s.v. Βόσπορος. Cf. 341/40. He was at Byzantion. He conferred with the Persian generals and was unsuccessful in besieging Aristonymos in Methymna.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Plut. Phok. 14.3ff., Mor. 188b–c, 851a; IG ii² 1628.437; 1629.958. He was sent to Byzantion, where he was successful against Philip, following this up with raids into Philip's territory. For a possible expedition to Megara see 344/3.

KEPHISOPHON son of Kephalion of Aphidna (IX) PA 8410; APF 292f.
IG ii² 1628.438; 1629.959; ?Plut. Mor. 850f. He was general to the Hellespont with Phokion.

Tamiai

[NI]KOSTRATOS son of Nikiades of Halimous (IV) PA 11020; APF 95
MENAIO[S]

Grammateus

-- son of --rates of Trikorynthos (IX)
IG ii² 1455.5f. On the second name, a note on the card at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton says that chi as last visible letter is indicated on the squeeze, but D.M. Lewis tells me that on the Oxford squeeze he still reads MENAIΩ[I. . .] undotted.

PHILOKLES PA 14519
IG ii² 1457.21; 1462.20.

Epistates of navy
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Aisch. 3.222.

Epistatai of Eleusis
Grammateus
-- son of [K]leobo[ulos]
IG ii² 1543.2. The term was evidently four years.

Hieromnemon
DIOGNETOS of Anaphlystos (X) PA 3856
Aisch. 3.115ff.; FD III, 5, 22.19, 44. He fell sick and asked Aischines to speak for him.

Pylagorai
MEIDIAS son of Kephisodoros of Anagyrous (I) PA 9719; APF 386f.
THRASYKLES of Oion (IV or VIII) PA 7327
AISCHINES son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 354; APF 545ff.
Aisch. 3.115ff.; Dem. 18.149ff. Aischines was enlisted by the sick hieromnemon to speak for Athens on the matter of the Amphissans. See Roux, L'amphictionie 30ff.

Priest of Asklepios
DIOKLES of Myrrhinous (III) PA 3992; cf. 4041
IG ii² 1533.9; 4391.4.

Epimeletai of tribe II Aigeis?
[AN]DROKLES son of Andrios of Halai PA 857
PHILAGRO[S] (son of Diokles of Halai) PA 14208; APF 534f.
-- son of N[i]kokrates of Halai PA 10913; APF 411
IG ii² 2824.4f. IG doubts that they are epimeletai, APF accepts, after Pritchett, AJPh 1942, 429 n. 62. The date may be 313/12.

Tamias (? of tribe)?
GORGIADES son of Mnesikleides of Ikarion (II) PA 3062
IG ii² 2824.3f.; see the last entry.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 231 and 233a:
Grammateus
ASPETOS son of [Dem]os[t]r[atos] of Kytherros (III) PA 2638

(i) IG ii² 231 is a decree from the eleventh day of the ninth prytany, of Hippothontis, granting proxeny to Phokinos, Nikandros and Dexippos, possibly Megarians:
Bouleutes epistates
ANDRO[K]L[ES] PA 852
Proposer
[DEMOSTHENES] son of De[m]o[sth]e[nes] of [Paiania] (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

(ii) IG ii² 232 is a probouleumatic decree (with a rider) honouring Aratos of Tenedos after praising the city itself:
Proposer
[PHILODEMOS] son of [Autokl]es of Eroiadai (X) PA 14488; APF 539

(iii) IG ii² 233 (Tod 175; Harding no. 97) is a decree from the eighth day of the prytany of Kekropis honouring Aratos and the Tenedians:
Bouleutes epistates
S--
Proposer
[KA]LLIKRATES son of Charopides of [Lamptrai] (I) PA 7946 = 7973 = 8213

(iv) IG ii² 234 is possibly in honour of the Chians.

(v) IG ii² 235 (Hansen, GRBS 1984, 138) is a probouleumatic proxeny decree for Apelles of Byzantion amended in the assembly:
Proposer
. . . . KR]ATES son of Athen--

A number of measures were passed this year:
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
(vi) There was his law reforming trierarchic arrangements: Dem. 18.102ff.; Aisch. 3.55,222; Hypereides F 134; Lucian Dem. 36, 45. This survived a
(vii) challenge; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 25. He was responsible for the war with Philip: Philochoros FGH 328 F 55 (Harding no. 95C). He brought about the (viii) sending of forces to the north: Dem. 18.80; Plut. Dem. 17.2. He passed a
(ix) measure concerning the activities of the hieromnemon and pylagorai: Aisch. 3.125ff. This was after the pylagorai (see above) had reported to the assembly.

Plut. Phok. 14.3 tells of an angry assembly at which Phokion spoke, consequently being sent to the Hellespont.

339/8 (Ol. 110.2)

Archon
LYSIMACHIDES son of Lysimachos of Acharnai (VI) PA 9480; APF 357f.

FGH 255 (5); Diod. 16.82.1; Dion. ad Amm. 11 (Philochoros FGH 328 F 56a (Harding no. 96A)); Dein. 9; Diog. 4.2.14; IG ii² 1155a; 1457.22; 1462.[21]; 1533.18; 2493.12f.; 2833.[2] (Agora XV.41); [3133]; Hesperia 1934, 51 (38.5) (Meritt); 1937, 461 (9.2, 6) (Crosby: Agora XV.40); Suppl. 19.66ff. (Jameson); AJPh 1940, 358 (Schweigert).

Strategoi

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Plut. Phok. 16.1ff. Probably in this year he was in the islands, whence he returned to engage in debate about terms with Philip.

?PROTOMACHOS
Hesychios FGH 390 F 1.31. He succeeded Chares and was successful against Thrakians, but the date may be doubted; see Jacoby's commentary.

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
PROXENOS son of Harmodios of Aphidna (IX) PA 12270; APF 478
Polyainos 4.2.8; P.Ryl. 490 11.24 (Chares); Deinarchos 1.74 (Proxenos). They were in command at Amphissa and deceived by Philip. See Wankel, ZPE 55 (1984), 47f. n. 18.

Taxiarchos

BOULAR[CHOS] son of Aristoboulos of Phlya (VII) PA 2912
IG ii² 1155a.2, b.2, 4, 7, 10.

Epistatai of Eleusis

Grammateus

-- son of Kleoboulos
See 340/39.

Hieromnemon

?PROTARCHOS
FD III, 5, 14 11.11; 21.8. He could well be Euboian.

Tamias at Delphi

THOUKYDIDES son of Kephisodotos
FD III, 5, 47.46f.

Priest of Asklepios

POLYXENOS (? of Sounion) (IV) cf. PA 12066
IG ii² 1533.19. See Ferguson, Priests 145.

Envoy

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Dem. 18.178ff., 211ff., 221, 237, 244; Aisch. 3.256; Deinarchos 1.16, 24; Diod. 16.85.1 (338/7). He was one of ten in negotiations with Thebes, perhaps on more than one visit (Deinarchos uses a plural).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in SEG 16.52 and AJPh 1940, 358:
Grammateus
PHAIDROS son of [Me]idon of Cholleidai (IV)

(i) AJPh 1940, 358 (Schweigert) is a prytany decree from the second prytany, of Akamantis, restored to Boedromion 18:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . . .[11]. . . . . son of [Ar]istippos

(ii) SEG 16.52 is a fragment of a probouleumatic decree from the thirty-second day of the tenth prytany, of Pandionis:
Bouleutes epistates
KALLIAS (? son of [Ka]lliklei[des]) of Phrearrhioi (IV) = ?PA 7896
Proposer
[TEL]EMACHOS son of Th[ea]ngelos of Acharnai (VI) = PA 13562

(iii) IG ii² 1155 contains decrees of the boule and the tribesmen honouring members of the tribe Kekropis for military achievements.

We hear of assembly meetings at which Demosthenes crossed swords with Ameiniades (Aisch. 3.130) and Phokion (Plut. Phok. 16) and, of course, he spoke at other assemblies (Dem. 18.191) and was the major voice against peace with Philip (Aisch. 3.149f.). An extended account is Dem. 18.169ff.

(iv) The news that Elatea had been taken came to the prytaneis; the next day the boule met and at an assembly there was a proposal for mobilization, an advance to Eleusis and the sending of envoys to Thebes:
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

(v) He also brought about the alliance with Thebes (also Aisch. 3.141ff. and in
(vi) general Diod. 16.84; Plut. Dem. 17f.) and with other states. He secured the
(vii) hiring of mercenaries to the Amphissans over Aischines' protests (Aisch.
(viii) 3.146). Philochoros FGH 328 F 56a (Harding no. 96A) records Demosthenes' decree that all monies be used for military purposes, i.e. that excess revenues go the stratiotic fund.

(ix) An honorary decree in praise of Demosthenes survived a challenge (Dem. 18.222ff., 249; Plut. Mor. 846a; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 26):
Proposers
DEMOMELES son of Demon of Paiania (III) PA 3554; APF 116
HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff.

338/7 (Ol. 110.3)

Archon
CHAIRONDAS son of Hegemon PA 15279
Dem. 18.54,84; Aisch. 3.27; Demetrios FGH 228 F 36; FGH 255 (5); Diod.

16.84.1; Dion. Isok. 1; Dein. 9; Plut. Dem. 24.2, Mor. 837e, 842f; IG ii² [237] (Tod 178; Osborne D 16; SEG 31.76; Harding no. 100); 238a.[3]; 1496.18; 1522.10; 1524.92, 96; 1533.29; 1627.428; 1628.396, 569; 1629. 915, 1045; 1631.[10]; 3023.5; Hesperia 1934, 51 (38.11); 65 (57) (Meritt: but for other suggestions see Dow and Travis, Hesperia 1943, 163f.; Finley, Land and Credit 161 no. 151 and p. 193; cf. Millett, Opus 1982, 221).

Strategoi

CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.

LYSIKLES PA 9422

Diod. 16.85.2, 88.1f. (Lysikles); Plut. Mor. 843d; Polyainos 4.2.8 (Chares); Stobaios Flor. 54.47 (Chares). They were generals in Boiotia and at Chaironeia. Lysikles was condemned.

STRATOKLES (? of Lakiadai) (VI) PA 12931 = ?12941

Aisch. 3.143; Polyainos 4.2.2. He was general at Chaironeia; see Roberts, Klio 1982, 367f. n. 5; Wankel, ZPE 55 (1984), 48. For identification see Davies, Wealth 165. Hansen, GRBS 1983, 175, makes Aischines refer to 339/8.

. . .$^{6}$. . . T-- of tribe VI

Bradeen, Hesperia 1964, 55ff. (Agora XVII.25). One would be tempted to fill this out as Stratokles, whatever the space indicated, but Wankel (ZPE 55 (1984), 49) is hesitant and Stratokles is not reported to have died.

?NAUSIKLES son of Klearchos of Oe (VI) PA 10552; APF 396ff.

Wankel, ZPE 55 (1984), 46, thinks he was general because he is mentioned as being crowned in the same passage (Dem. 18.114) as Charidemos and Diotimos. He also believes one of these will have been at Chaironeia, perhaps Nausikles.

CHARIDEMOS son of Philoxenos of Acharnai (VI) PA 15380; APF 569ff.

Dem. 18.114,116; Plut. Phok. 16.3; IG ii² 1496.[28ff.]. He was in charge after Chaironeia, evidently in command of the hoplites, and joined in success by Diotimos. See Gehrke, Phokion 61 and n. 52.

DIOTIMOS son of Diopeithes of Euonymon (I) PA 4384; APF 163f.

Dem. 18.114,116; IG ii² 1496.[22]; 1628.397; 1629.916; 1631.[11]. He was general of the hippeis to Salamis. See above on Charidemos.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559

Plut. Phok. 16.3ff. We may accept that he was general when, Plutarch says, he was entrusted with the city after Chaironeia. Gehrke, Phokion 61ff., thinks he replaced someone.

Tamias of stratiotic fund

KALLIAS son of Habron of Bate (II) PA 7856; APF 270

Plut. Mor. 842f. See Develin, ZPE 57 (1984), 135.

Sitones
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Dem. 18.248f.; Plut. Mor. 845f; cf. ?Aisch. 3.159; Deinarchos 1.80.
Chosen after Chaironeia, he came under attack for embezzlement.

Epistatai of Eleusis
Grammateus
-- son of Kleoboulos
See 340/39.

Hieromnemon
At FD III, 5, 47 I.34, II.25 letters exist, but there is no restoration.

Priest of Asklepios
TEISIAS (? of Kephale) (V)
IG ii² 1533.29 (SEG 30.163). See Ferguson, Priests 145.

Envoys
DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.
Dem. 18.285; Demades Twelve Years 9; Diod. 16.87; Suda s.v. Δημάδης.
His precise role in peace negotiations is unclear, but the Suda says he was sent as envoy to Philip after Chaironeia on the matter of captives.

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Deinarchos 1.80. The circumstances are unclear, but he may have been after help for Athens (but see APF 137).

AISCHINES son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 354; APF 545ff.
Dem. 18.282ff.; Aisch. 3.227. He went to negotiate with Philip.

?HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff.
Hypereides F 28. See Hansen, GRBS 1983, 177.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is to be found in IG ii² 237 and 238; see Stamires, Hesperia 1957, 243 (SEG 17.24, 25); Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 62:
Grammateus
PHILIPPOS son of Antiph[emos] of [Eiresidai] (V) PA 14381

(i) IG ii² 236 (Tod 177; SEG 31.75; Harding no. 99) concerns the treaty with Philip.

(ii) IG ii² 237 (Tod 178; Osborne D 16; SEG 31.76; Schwenk no. 1; Harding no. 100) is a decree of the tenth prytany (Pečírka, Enktesis 49ff.), of Pandionis, seemingly on the sixth day of the prytany, the penultimate day of Thargelion (cf. Aisch. 3.27), honouring the Akarnanians and reaffirming as citizens Phormion and Karphinas:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . .[8]. . . . of Erchia (II)

Proposer

[HEGE]SIPPOS [son of Hegesias] of [Sounion] (IV) PA 6351; APF 209f.

(iii) IG ii² 238 (Schwenk no. 2) is a proxeny decree from the tenth prytany also for Drakontides and Hegesias of Andros.

A temporal connexion with the foregoing is found through Aisch. 3.27, where we learn that on the penultimate day of Thargelion there was a
(iv) motion that on Skirophorion 2 and 3 tribal assemblies should choose epimeletai and tamiai for work on the walls:

Proposer

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

(v) Demosthenes was also responsible for other measures: for guard posts,
(vi) moats and fortifications (Dem. 18.248); for partial demobilisation and the
(vii) sending of embassies (Deinarchos 1.78ff.); probably on the powers of the (viii) Areopagos (Deinarchos 1.62; Hansen, GRBS 1983, 164). Aischines also claims (3.159) that some decrees which stemmed from Demosthenes had another's name on them:

Proposer

NAUSIKLES son of Klearchos of Oe (VI) PA 10552; APF 396ff.

(ix) The same man proposed peace with and honours to Philip (Dem. 18.285;
(x) Demades Twelve Years 9; Diod. 16.87.3; Osborne T 68) and Athens' participation in common peace and the congress of Greek states, on which subject Phokion spoke (Plut. Dem. 16.4f.; Suda s.v. Δημάδης):

Proposer

DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(xi) There was a decree, which was passed, survived a challenge, but never came into effect due to circumstances, to enfranchise atimoi, metics and slaves and send women, children and sacred objects to safety; Dem. 26.11; Lykourgos 1.16, 41; Hypereides FF 32, 33; Plut. Mor. 849a; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 27 (Osborne T 67):

Proposer and bouleutes

HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff. That he was councillor comes from Lucian Parasit. 42, where he is associated with

LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(xii) The passage actually speaks of them putting together little motions and probouleumata.

Dem. 18.285 tells how he was appointed to speak over the dead despite the attacks of Aischines and Pythokles. Plut. Mor 803d records that Demokrates spoke at an assembly after the defeat.

Agora XV.39 is dated c. 340, but the gentleman now restored as secretary for this year appears at the bottom of this inscription and only restoration makes him the secretary of the council and demos, perhaps the position more to be expected here, but economy suggests that we have here bouleutai of tribe v Akamantis for this year:

Prospalta?
-- son of --nos
-- son of [Ch]airestrat[os]
-- son of [? Th]eophantos

. . . . P]EITHES son of Archinos
Thorikos
[SM]IKYTHOS son of Epiteles
[TH]OUKRITIDES son of Kallias = PA 7257; APF 272
DIONYSIOS son of Kalliades
[O]IAX son of Pedalion
[E]UKLEIDES son of Euthias
[AN]TIGENES son of Xenonides
Poros
[M]NESIKLES son of Pythokles
[TH]RASON son of Nikostratos
[ST]RATOS son of Melanopos

Archon

PHRYNICHOS PA 15002
FGH 255 (5); Diod. 16.89.1; Dion. Dein. 9; IG ii² 239 (Tod 180); 240 (Tod 181; SEG 31.77); [241]; 242; 243; [276] (Hesperia 1940, 342 (Schweigert)); 1255.3 (Schwenk no. 13); 1522.14, 16 (but see Linders, Artemis 26); 1524.93, 97f., 102; 1526.20; 1623.295; 2834; 4594; SEG 12.87 (Harding no. 101); Hesperia 1934, 113 (178.[5]) (Meritt = 1943, 52ff. (12)); 1938, 292 ([19]) (Schweigert); 1940, 325 (35) (Schweigert).

Strategos

DIOTIMOS son of Diopeithes of Euonymon (I) PA 4384; APF 163f.
It has been pointed out to me that IG ii² 1623.200ff. must give him a generalship in this year, since Stesileides got Euphrainousa through a decree of the boule proposed by Diophantos, who was on the council this year (IG ii² 243).

Theoric commissioner

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Aisch. 3.24ff.; Dem. 18.113.

Teichopoios or epimeletes of walls

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Aisch. 3.14,17,23ff.; Dem. 18.113,118; Plut. Mor. 845f, 851a; schol. Aisch.

3.13, 17. See Cawkwell, JHS 1963, 56f., for him as theoric commissioner and teichopoios. He was selected in the latter role by his tribe (Aisch. 3.31).

Epistatai of Eleusis
Grammateus
-- son of Kleoboulos
See 340/39.

Priest of Asklepios
THEOPHA[NES] of Acharnai (VI) PA 7077
IG ii² 304+604.17ff. (SEG 18.11; Schwenk no. 14).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or correctly restored in IG ii² 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, SEG 12.87, Hesperia 1938, 292 (19), 1940, 325 (35):
Grammateus
CHAIRESTRATOS son of Ameinias of Acharnai (VI) PA 15159

(i) IG ii² 239 (Tod 180) is a decree from the sixth prytany, of Akamantis, honouring Alkimachos (and Antipatros?) of Makedon (with proxeny?). This was dated to the fifth day of the prytany, Gamelion 7 (Schweigert, Hesperia 1940, 327; SEG 21.267), but the seventh of the month is the day of Apollo (Mikalson, Calendar 190) and Hansen, GRBS 1982, 342 (Ecclesia 94), tried Gamelion 5; Schwenk no. 4 has returned to Gamelion 10, also changing no.ix below, which Schweigert took to be from the same day as 239.

(ii) IG ii² 240 (Tod 181; SEG 31.77; Schwenk no. 7) is a proxeny decree from the tenth prytany, of Pandionis:
Bouleutes epistates
ANTIPHANES of Euonymon (I) PA 1232
Proposer
[D]E[MADES] son of [D]emeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(iii) IG ii² 241 (Schwenk no. 8) is the beginning of a decree from the same day and with the same personnel as the last one.

(iv) IG ii² 242 (Schwenk no. 10) is a probouleumatic decree from the last day of the same prytany:
Bouleutes epistates
[EU]THYKRATES (son of Drakontides) [of Aphidna] (IX) PA 5601
Proposer
[DIOPHANTOS] son of [Phrasikl]eides of Myrrhinous (III) PA 4435; APF 166

(v) IG ii² 243 (Schwenk no. 11) will be a probouleumatic decree of the same day, with the same personnel, honouring Kalliteles of Kydantidai.

(vi) The secretary of this year was restored in IG ii² 276 by Schweigert, Hesperia 1940, 342, though it could be around 342 (Hansen, GRBS 1983, 171; but see GRBS 1984, 138); it is Schwenk no. 12 and is a probouleumatic decree with a rider granting isoteleia to Asklepiodoros, restored to the same day as nos. iv and v above:
Bouleutes epistates
[EUTHY]KRATES (son of Drakontides) [of Aphidna] (IX) PA 5601
Proposers
-- of Potamos (IV)
KEPHISOPHON son of Kallibios of Paiania (III) PA 8417; APF 149

(vii) IG ii² 304+604 (SEG 18.11) comprise an honorific decree (for two doctors? – Schwenk no. 14).

(viii) Hesperia 1938, 292 (19) (Schweigert; Schwenk no. 9), honours the grammateus and is restored to the twenty-second day of the tenth prytany (of Pandionis), Skirophorion 16.

(ix) Hesperia 1940, 325 (35) (Schweigert), concerns Lemnos; on the dating see above no. i; Schwenk no. 5 offers the fifth day of the eighth prytany, Elaphebolion 18:
Bouleutes epistates
ERG--
Proposer
[D]EMAD[ES] son of [Demeas of Paiania] (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(x) IG ii² 1623.210ff. mentions a decree of the council concerning trierarchy, which should be of this year:
Proposer
DIOPHANTOS (son of Phrasikleides) of Myrrhinous (III) PA 4435; APF 166

(xi) This is, I think, the likeliest year for the proposal that Euthykrates of Olynthos be given proxenia, which was challenged as unconstitutional, the result being unknown; Hypereides F 76; Suda s.v. Δημάδης; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 28:
Proposer
DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3264; APF 99ff.

(xii) An honorary decree was passed for Demosthenes, which was challenged, but the case was not tried until 330/29; Aisch. 3; Dem. 18; Plut. Mor. 846a; schol. Aisch. 2.1; hyp. Aisch. 3; Libanius hyp. Dem. 18; hyp. ii Dem.18; Harpokration s.v. Κτησιφῶν; Suda and Hesychios s.v. Αἰσχίνης; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 30:
Proposer
KTESIPHON PA 8894

Plut. Phok. 16.5 reports on Phokion's comments when the Athenians had to decide on sending triremes and cavalry to Philip.

Nomothetai

(xiii) IG ii² 244 is a law for the repair of walls, which Schwenk no. 3 puts in 338/7, which could be correct:
Proposer
[?KEPHISOPHON son of Kephalion] of Aphidna (IX) ?PA 8410; APF 292f.

(xiv) SEG 12.87 (Harding no. 101; Schwenk no. 6) is a law against tyranny from the ninth prytany, of Leontis:
Epistates
MENESTRATOS of Aixone (VII)
Proposer
EUKRATES son of Aristotimos of Peiraieus (VIII) PA 5762

APPENDIX

Paredroi of archon
ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.
Aisch. 1.158 – to the eponymous archon sometime before 343.

?[ATHE]NODOROS son of [Arist]oboulos of Phrearrhioi (IV)
?[SMIK]YTHOS son of Hippodamas of Kephisia (I)
Platon 1959, 221f. (3.4f.) (Oikonomides). The editor restored them as proedroi, but the suggestion that they were paredroi is on the cards at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton.

Strategoi
A[UTOKLES?]
IG ii² 264.17f. But this may not belong in this period; see below.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
See the appendix to Section VII.

Hipparchos to Lemnos
PHEIDON of Thria (VI) PA 14178
SEG 30.114.

Phylarchoi
?ANACHARSIS son of Me-- (? of Kydathenaion) (III) PA 822
IG ii² 3135; 3136. For the deme see Davies, Wealth 153.

PHEIDON of Thria (VI) PA 14178
Mnesimachos F 4 (Edmonds). See Kroll and Mitchel, Hesperia 1980, 90f. This is dated to the 350s or 340s by Davies, Wealth 154.

Peripolarchos
?XENOKLES of Perithoidai (VI)
SEG 30.114.

Financial?
KEPHISOPHON son of Kallibios of Paiania (III) PA 8417; APF 149

At Dem. 19.293 we hear of an indictment in connexion with sacred money, this before 343. I do not share the confidence of APF that he was tamias, though he may have been in a position such as to receive money from the tamiai.

Theoric commission?
APHOBETOS son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 2775; APF 545
Aisch. 2.149 speaks of his brother as having been chosen ἐπὶ τὴν κοινὴν διοίκησιν; see Cawkwell, JHS 1963, 54. Hansen, GRBS 1983, 162, assumes the allusion is to election as treasurer (before 343).

Epimeletai of emporion
Grammateus
EUTHYPHEMOS PA 5660
Dem. 58.8 – in the 340s.

Religious officials
MEIDIAS son of Kephisodoros of Anagyrous (I) PA 9719; APF 386f.
Dem. 21.171 records that before 347 he was epimeletes of the mysteries, hieropoios, boönes and more. Dem. 21.15 indicates that he failed to be chosen epimeletes of the Dionysia in 349/8 (cf. APF 136 (G)).

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Dem. 21.114f. Before 347 he had been hieropoios, archetheoros to Nemean Zeus and hieropoios to the Eumenides.

Amphiktyons to Delos

?APELL--
Insc. Délos 104–15.2 (IG ii² 1650).

Naopoios to Delphi
KLEINOMACHOS son of Anthemokritos of Oion (IV or VIII) = PA 8516
FD III, 5, 91.2.

Priest of Asklepios
?TIMON PA 13837
IG ii² 4396. Dated ?335/4 at Pritchett and Meritt, Chronology 75, but on p. 80 it is noted that there is no clue but letter forms to the date.

Epimeletai on Lemnos
THEOPHILOS son of Meliton of Alopeke (X) PA 7126
IG xii 8.4.9f. (Myrine).

SA[URI]AS
IG xii 8.5.6 (Hephaistia).

Epimeletes of tribe IX Aiantis
NIKODEMOS son of Aristomenes of Oinoe
Hesperia 1936, 402 (10.159ff., 178) (Meritt) – before 346/5.

Demarchoi

GNATHIS (son of Timokedes) of Eleusis (VIII) PA 3048
IG ii² 1186.19.

A[RCHI]AS of Halai (II) = PA 2459
AE 1925–6, 168ff., 11f., 18. For identity see Whitehead, Demes no. 17.

ANTIPHILOS of Halimous (IV) PA 1266
Dem. 57.26, 60. Before 346/5.

EUXITHEOS son of Thoukritos of Halimous (IV) PA 5902; APF 93ff.
Dem. 57.63f. and passim. Before 346/5. From Dem. 57.25f. we hear that his father Thoukritos had held sortitive deme offices.

. . . . [10]. . . . . of Ikarion (II)

Envoys

APHOBETOS son of Atrometos of Kothokidai (VI) PA 2775; APF 545
Aisch. 2.149. He went to Persia sometime before 343.

TIMARCHOS son of Arizelos of Sphettos (V) PA 13636
Aisch. 1.120. He served on a number of embassies before 346/5.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Nepos Phoc. 1.3. He went at some time as envoy to Philip. Gehrke, Phokion 64 and n. 64, puts this in 338/7, but I do not share his confidence.

Note: We have notices that seem unacceptable that in 339/8 Aristotle was on a embassy to Philip on behalf of Athens (Diog. 5.2) and that Xenokrates also went to Philip before 337 (Diog. 4.8f.).

Oath takers
In IG ii² 280.4ff. there is the following list in the matter of a treaty:
--LES son of Sopo[lis]
-- of Aigilia (X)
-- of Anaphlystos (X)
M--
-- son of --es of Kephisia (I)
--EON son of Per--
--S son of Dikaia-- or DIKAIA--
--TEL--
The last name is as read by D.M. Lewis.

Unknown
Hesperia 1968, 283f. (20) (Meritt: SEG 25.185), is a list of officials with only demotics surviving, showing five from Lamptrai (I), one from Prospalta (V), one from Halai (II or VII) and others unidentifiable.

IG ii² 1701 lists a college from after mid-century:
-- son of [--n]es of Lamptrai (I)
-- of Araphen (II)

-- son of --es of Rhamnous (IX)
-- of Pallene (X)

IG ii² 2825 records a college from mid-century:
ARCHENEOS son of Archemachos of Anagyrous (I) PA 2366
MISGOLAS son of Naukrates of Kollytos (II) PA 10225
KALLIKRATIDES son of Kallikrates of Steiria (III) PA 7988
NIKESION son of Sosistratos of Sounion (IV) PA 10752
LYSANIAS son of Lysistratos of Thorikos (V) PA 9314
MNESISTRATOS son of Mnesimachos of Acharnai (VI) PA 10369
EUTHYDOMOS son of Demetrios of Melite (VII) PA 5573
EXEKESTOS son of Exekias of Anakaia (VIII) PA 4730
BOUTHEROS son of Dionysios of Marathon (IX) PA 2903

EUTHIPPOS son of Euthias of Pallene (X) PA 5499

Hypogrammateus

IOPHON son of Sophokles of Kolonos (II) PA 7585

IG ii² 291 also records ten men, but not selected one per tribe and evidently without secretary – could they have been envoys? Davies, APF 219 n. 1, by pondering the restoration of the tenth man as Kallippos of Aixone (PA 8065), would create a date prior to 357, but I would prefer circumspection:

-- of Lamptrai (I)

--LOS Marathon (IX)
--LES of Kephale (V)
--IP[P]OS of Aixone (VII)

IG ii² 1702 retains eight names in tribal order, dated after 350. As this comes from Eleusis, perhaps the board had something to do with matters there; D.M. Lewis suggests that in line 2 the restoration [ἱερο]ποιοί δ[ is attractive:

SOTES of Lamptrai (I) PA 13399
SKAPHON of Philaidai (II) PA 12725 = ?12724
ELPINES (son of Elpinikos) of Probalinthos (III) PA 4676
HAGNOTHEOS of Kettos (IV) PA 153
PHILOTHEROS of Hagnous (V) PA 14501
LYSISTRATOS of Phyle (VI) PA 9629
LYSISTRATOS (? son of Kephisodoros) of Melite (VII) PA 9619; APF 425
[CHA]ROPINOS of Dekeleia (VIII) PA 15535

IG ii² 1703, tentatively dated to the fourth century, may be assigned to the present period if we compare Philistides with the son of Philistides who was involved in levying the metic tax about 342/1 (Hesperia 1936, 401 (10.125, 147) (Meritt)) and Lysias with the secretary of 356/5:

[?CHAIRESTR]ATOS son of Chai--
DEMANTHES son of Tima-- (? of Marathon) (IX) PA 3280 = ?3282; APF 106
PHILISTIDES son of Phi[l--] PA 14437

Grammateus

LYSIAS son of L-- PA 9356

Hypogrammateus
?L--

Note: Euboulos seems to have been active with others in the early years of this period (Dem. 3.29 and schol.), but in what capacity I hesitate to say. In general see Cawkwell, JHS 1963, 47ff.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 185 and 251 are dated c. 350 by Osborne D 18 and 19 and I mention
(ii) them because they look forward respectively to the prytanies of Oineis and Pandionis.

(iii) IG ii² 226 (Osborne D 14) is a probouleumatic decree granting citizenship to Arybbas of Molossia, dated around 342.

(iv) IG ii² 253 is an honorific decree:
Proposer
-- son of --es of Sphettos (V)
On the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 138

(v) IG ii² 263 could be of 347/6:
Bouleutes epistates
[KL]EAR[CHOS]
Proposer
-- of Kedoi (I), Kerameis (V) or Xypete (VII)

(vi) IG ii² 264 honours an Iatrokles, but D.M. Lewis informs me that he does not think it has anything to do with the Athenian Iatrokles and doubts that it belongs to this period.

(vii) IG ii² 289 (SEG 23.60; 32.93) is a probouleumatic proxeny decree with a rider:
Proposer
-- son of --os or --es of Azenia (VIII)
On the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 138.

(viii) SEG 19.53 seems to be an honorary decree dated to the middle of the century and restored to produce the following:
Proposer
LEOS--
If this is correct, available known names are Leosthenes and Leostratos.

Dem. 18.70, 75 mentions a number of proposers of decrees concerning Philip and events in the north which must be dated 346–340:
Proposers
(ix) EUBOULOS son of Spintharos of Probalinthos (III) PA 5369
(x)(xi) ARISTOPHON son of Aristophanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 2108; APF 64ff.
(xii) DIOPEITHES son of Diopeithes of Sphettos (V) PA 4328; APF 160

(xiii) HEGESIPPOS son of Hegesias of Sounion (IV) PA 6351; APF 209f.
(xiv) PHILOKRATES son of Pythodoros of Hagnous (V) PA 14599 = 14576
(xv) KEPHISOPHON son of Kallibios of Paiania (III) PA 8417; APF 149

Two proposals of unknown content were successfully challenged as unconstitutional before 347 (Dem. 21.182; Hansen, Sovereignty nos. 19, 20):
Proposers
(xvi) SKITON
(xvii) SMIKROS

Two decrees concerning the Ainians before 342 were also challenged (Dem. 58.36ff.,43; Hansen, Sovereignty nos. 21, 22):
Proposers
(xviii) THOUKYDIDES PA 7265
(xix) DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

(xx) Likewise a decree concerning the Tenedians was challenged before 342 (Dem. 58.35; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 24):
Proposer
ANTIMEDON PA 1134

(xxi) The father of Epichares who proposed an honorary decree for Charidemos (Dem. 58.30ff.), correctly designated at Hansen, Sovereignty no. 23, appears as Epichares himself in Hansen, GRBS 1983, 166; GRBS 1984, 133.

(xxii) There was a decree protecting merchants passed before 342 (Dem. 58.53, 56):
Proposer
MOIROKLES (? son of Euthydemos of Eleusis (VIII)) PA 10400 = ?10401
For the patronymic and demotic cf. PA 5535; IG ii² 1191.

(xxiii) Two decrees of unknown content were successfully challenged as uncon-
(xxiv) stitutional before 336 (Hypereides 2.11):
Proposer
PHILIPPIDES PA 14351

(xxv) There is one said to have moved many decrees for others (Dem. 59.43):
Proposer
STEPHANOS son of Antidorides of Eroiadai (VIII or X) PA 12887

For Timarchos see the appendix to Section VII.

As for speakers in the assembly, Aisch. 1.64 tells of Hegesandros attacking Aristophon; we may include Meidias and Phokion from Section VII.

Nomothetai
(xxvi) A law restricting action in seizure of debtors' property on certain festive days was passed before 350 (Dem. 21.10):
Proposer
EUEGOROS (son of Philoinos of Paiania) (III) PA 5466; APF 360

As we come now to the boule, we may begin with the tamias who seems to be evidenced at Dem. 58.15 (τὰ κοινὰ διοικήσας):

Tamias of tribe

THEOKRINES of Hybadai (IV) PA 6946

Agora XV.18, augmented by SEG 28.150, gives bouleutai of tribe VII Kekropis from around the middle of the century:

Xypete
-- son of Antiphanes PA 1212
[?PHRY]NICHOS son of Aristokleides = PA 1156
PHILON son of Kleinias PA 14814

[KAL]LITELES son of Kal-- PA 8207
Hamaxanteia
[AIN]EAS son of Phyg--
[?DION]YSIO[S] PA 4146
But the latter is restored at SEG 28.145 as [Acherdo]usio[i]; it was not a name.

Agora XV.21 gives bouleutai of tribe I Erechtheis around 350:
Lamptrai
KOMEAS
[BL]EPAIOS (son of Sokles) PA 2876
. . [5] . . IOS
. . . . OK--

Agora XV.22 gives bouleutai of tribe X Antiochis around the middle of the century (on the first deme see Stanton, ABSA 1984, 306):
Kolonai
. . . . MEN[ES]
[EUPH]ANES son of Eu--
[IA]SIDEMOS son of Iasi[demos]

[PHI]LODEM[OS] son of [Autokles] PA 14488; APF 539

Agora XV.23 gives bouleutai from tribe IV Leontis from mid-century, along with a secretary of the boule:
--K]RATES
--TIADES
--RRHIS?

Phrearrhioi
[LY]SANIAS son of Lysikrates PA 9328
[S]OSTRATOS son of Olympiodoros PA 13374=13373; APF 499

STIBON son of Kletos PA 12908
Grammateus of boule
A[N]TIMENES of Alopeke (X) PA 1139

The following, crowned about the middle of the century, was probably a bouleutes; Agora XV.24:
[CHA]RINOS son of Charon[ides] of [Euonymon] (I) PA 15440

Agora XV.29 gives bouleutai of tribe I Erechtheis:
. . . IOS son of T--
Euonymon
.ROUSELOS
[A]RESIAS son of Th--

Agora XV.31 gives bouleutai of tribe VII Kekropis after mid-century:
Xypete
--NOS son of Thrasyme[des]
--TOS son of Pausides
--LEOS son of Hippon
--IOS son of Androkl--
--ES son of Philistides

-- son of --ysippos
-- son of --thykl--
-- son of [Ast]yphilos cf. PA 2662–2664
-- son of --sias
-- son of --on

Agora XV.32 gives us bouleutai of tribe III Pandionis from after mid-century (the prosopography is in fact ambiguous and it could well be in this period), as well as a secretary of boule and demos:
Paiania
?ANTH-- son of --S
--OS son of Demeas cf. PA 3323; APF 105

D[IPHIL]IDES son of [Di]philides PA 4660

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) IG ii² 328 (SEG 21.268; Schwenk no. 15) is a decree of the boule dated to the prytany of Akamantis day 28, Maimakterion 27, fourth prytany, or day 17, Metageitnion 27, second prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 343 (= Ecclesia 95)):
Proposer
[LYKO]URGOS son of Ly[kophron] of [Boutadai] (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(ii) IG ii² 329 represents the renewal of the treaty with Alexander.

(iii) IG ii² 330.29ff. (Schwenk no. 18) has first a decree of the boule in honour of three hieropoioi, probably not syllogeis (Rhodes, Boule 130), but possibly bouleutai; it is dated to the fourteenth day of the month, the second of the ninth prytany (thus in Mounichion):
Proposer
AGASI[AS] [? son of Chairigenes of Ikarion (II)] PA 95 = ?97
I record the identification proposed in IG and repeated elsewhere, but it creates a problem, in that Agora XV.42 below includes the bouleutai of Ikarion and Agasias was not among them. Therefore either Agora XV.42 does not belong in this year or the identification in IG is wrong, which means that the name need not even be Agasias.

(iv) There follows the ratification by the demos, dated to the last day of the tenth prytany and Skirophorion:
Proposer
HIPPOCHARES of Alopeke (X) A 7670
See line 26.
Hieropoioi
PHYLEUS son of Pausanias of Oinoe (IX) PA 15045
[PAUS]ANIAS of Oinoe (IX) ?PA 11722
CHARIDEMOS of Oinoe (IX) PA 15390
The tribe is settled by Agora XV.72.204.

(v) SEG 17.27 (Schwenk no. 16) is a fragment dated to a day in the 20s of the prytany.

(vi) Honours were proposed for Philip (Demades, Twelve Years 9; Diod.
(vii) 16.92.1f.) and peace was proposed with Alexander (Demades, Twelve Years 14):
Proposer
DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3264; APF 99ff.

(viii) Honours for the proedroi presiding when honours for the King of Makedon were voted were challenged as unconstitutional (Hypereides 2; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 32):

Proposer
PHILIPPIDES PA 14351

(ix) An honorary decree for Demades was voted and survived a challenge (Lex. Patm. in Dem. (ed. Sakkelion, BCH 1877, 1–16, 137–55) s.v. ἑκατόμπεδον; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 31):
Proposer
KEPHISODOTOS

Plut. Dem. 22 (cf. Aisch. 3.160) tells how Demosthenes reported a dream to the council, having heard of Philip's death, and how, when the news was
(x) generally known, a decree of thanksgiving and a crown for the assassin were voted: Phokion spoke against this (Plut. Phok. 16.6).

Nomothetai
(xi) IG ii² 334 + (SEG 18.13; LS no. 33; Schwenk no. 17) is a law concerning the Panathenaia, which seems to belong to this year or the next:
Proposer
ARISTONIKOS son of Ari[stoteles of Marathon] (IX) PA 2028
(xii) It is followed by a probouleumatic decree of the demos.

(xiii) A law concerning the ephebes could be dated to this year (Lykourgos F 20):
Proposer
EPIKRATES (son of . . .otetos of Pallene) (X) PA 4863; APF 182f.

Dated to this year is Agora XV.42, a list of bouleutai (but see above no. iii):

IG ii² 1524.127.

Envoys
PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Plut. Phok. 17.4f. He went to Alexander with an Athenian decree.

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
Aisch. 3.161; Diod. 17.4.7; Plut. Dem. 23.3. Chosen to go to Alexander, he turned back.

DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.
Diod. 17.15.4f.; Plut. Dem. 23.6. He persuaded Alexander against the exile of leading Athenians and in favour of Theban exiles.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 330, 331, 363, 1700.213 (Agora XV.43.227), SEG 21.272, Hesperia 1940, 328 (36):
Grammateus
PROXENOS son of Pylagoras of Acherdous (VIII) PA 12271

(i) IG ii² 330 (Schwenk no. 18) is a decree from the last day of the month, seventeenth of an unknown prytany (Meritt, Ath. Year 79), in honour of Phyleus (see 336/5 nos. iii and iv):
Proposer
THEODO[ROS son of Antiphanes of Alopeke] (X) PA 6854

(ii) IG ii² 331 (SEG 21.270; Schwenk no. 22) is from the last day of the month, Skirophorion because it is the thirty-fifth day of the tenth prytany, of Antiochis (or possibly the thirty-fourth or thirty-sixth: Hansen, GRBS 1982, 343 (=Ecclesia 95)):
Bouleutes epistates
--CHOS?

(iii) IG ii² 363, as dated to this year (SEG 23.53), is a decree in honour of Dionysios, restored by Meritt to the third day of the prytany, Anthesterion 11 (but see Hansen, GRBS 1982, 344 (=Ecclesia 96)), kyria ekklesia; Schwenk no. 67 dates it to 326/5 and it is problematic, but the secretary of this year can be fitted in and that of 326/5 is now known, though that does not rule out that date, as his patronymic and demotic remain unknown:
Proposer
[POLYEU]KTOS son of Sos[tratos] of Sphettos (V) PA 11925= 11934=11950
For the latter see SEG 12.89.

(iv) SEG 21.272 (Schwenk p. 128), still to be fully published, is a decree concerning Pythostratos from the twenty-third day of the tenth prytany, of Antiochis, Skirophorion 18; for the proposer see Hansen, GRBS 1983, 160:
Bouleutes epistates
. . .⁶. . . OS of Lamptrai (I)
Proposer
ALKIMACHOS son of . . .⁶. . . os or . . .⁶. . . es of Myrrhinoute (II) PA 622

(v) Hesperia 1940, 328 (36) (Schweigert; Schwenk no. 19), is a fragment from the fifth prytany, of Akamantis, Posideon 11 or 12:
Bouleutes epistates
[NI]KOKL[ES] of Rhamnous (IX)
Proposer
--N. .⁴. . or -- son of --n. .⁴. . of Paiania (III)

(vi) IG ii² 1623.280ff. records a decree dealing with pirates:
Proposers
LYKOURGOS (son of Lykophron) of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.
ARISTONIKOS (son of Aristoteles) of Marathon (IX) PA 2023=2028

(vii) The Athenians voted assistance for the Thebans (Diod. 17.8.6; in general see Plut. Dem. 23):
Proposer

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff. Phokion spoke against Demosthenes in this context (Plut. Phok. 17.1) and also in the debate when Alexander demanded the surrender of leading Athenians, when he was opposed by Lykourgos (Plut. Phok. 9.6, 17). Hypereides F LII may belong here. Diod. 17.15 reports the assembly also (viii) and a decree in answer to Alexander:

Proposer

DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(ix) Arrian Anab. 1.10.3 also has him responsible for the voting of the embassy.

Nomothetai

(x) IG ii² 333 (SEG 21.272; 31.78; Schwenk no. 21) is from the tenth prytany, of Antiochis, Skirophorion 6 (thus eleventh day of the prytany; see above no. iv) and concerns sacred matters:

Proposer

[LYKOUR]GOS son of Lykophr[on] of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(xi) I have postponed IG ii² 410 (SEG 22.94) as a transition to the boule. It includes the names of bouleutic hieropoioi, being in praise of them and certain priests, and though dated c. 330, it may as well be in this year, as Philostratos of Pallene was indeed a councillor (see the next entry); it is a decree of the council:

Proposer

-- son of --ktos of Skambonidai (IV)

Hieropoioi

EUNOMOS of Euonymon (I) PA 5869

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 335, 336a, 405, 414a:
Grammateus
MNESIPHILOS son of Mneson [of Phaleron] (IX) PA 10378

On the basis that IG ii² 1493 + 1494 + 1495 belonged to this year, Mitchel had two attempts at numbering prytanies of this year; in the second (AJA 1966, 66) this emerges as 4. Aigeis or Oineis; 5. Aiantis or Leontis; 8. Hippothontis; 9. Akamantis; 10. Kekropis. Osborne D 23 objects to this, wanting Hippothontis as fourth prytany in IG ii² 336, as in IG, but this is totally restored.

(i) IG ii² 335 (SEG 21.274; Schwenk no. 23) is a fragment dated to the ninth prytany, of Akamantis, Mounichion 24 or 25:
Bouleutes epistates
DEMO[KR . . . S of Paiania] (III)
Proposer
[DEMADES] son of [D]emeas [of Paiania] (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(ii) IG ii² 336a (SEG 21.273; Osborne D 17; Schwenk no. 31) is a citizenship decree for Archippos of Thasos, referring to a probouleuma, dated to Maimakterion 11, twenty-first day of the prytany (the fourth – see above), kyria ekklesia:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . OTHEOS of Kyda(ntidai) (II) or Kyda(thenaion) (III)
Proposer
-- son of --ophron of Lakiadai (VI)

(iii) IG ii² 405 (SEG 21.275; Osborne D 21; Schwenk no. 24) is a citizenship decree for Amyntor son of Demetrios, restored to the same day and with the same personnel as IG ii² 335 +, the demotic of the epistates being certain.

(iv) IG ii² 414a (SEG 21.276; Schwenk no. 25) is dated to the same day as the last entry, the kappa of the name of the epistates now appearing, and is made to concern honours to Diotimos (cf. Plut. Mor. 844a):
Proposer
[LYKOURGOS] son of [L]ykphron [of Boutadai] (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(v) IG ii² 222 is plausibly placed in this year by Osborne D 22; it is a citizenship decree for Peisitheides of Delos.

(vi) IG ii² 1156.36ff. is a decree of the boule in praise of the epheboi of Kekropis and their sophronistes:

Proposer
HEGEMACHOS son of Chairemon of Perithoidai (VI) PA 6282

(vii) IG ii² 1623.313 records a decree concerning naval equipment:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 336b (SEG 21.278), 338, 339a, 340:
Grammateus
ARCHELAS son of Chairias of Pallene (X) PA 2349

(i) IG ii² 336b (SEG 21.278; Osborne D 23; Schwenk no. 31) is a reaffirmation of citizenship for Archippos of Thasos (see 334/3 no. ii), dated to the last day of Elaphebolion, twenty-sixth of the prytany:
Symproedroi
THYMOCHARES of Te[ithras] (II) PA 7414

. . . ? . . . of Kydathenaion (III)
EUXEN-- of tribe IV
--OS of Kephale (V)

-- of Eleusis (VIII)
NIKI--
Proposer
--ES son of Aristarchos of Ph-- PA 1671
For the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 138.

IG ii² 337 (Tod 189; LS no. 34; Schwenk no. 27) has two decrees giving the
(ii) Kitians the right to build a shrine to Aphrodite. The first is of the boule in the first prytany, of Aigeis:
Bouleutes epistates
THEOPHILOS of Phegous (I) PA 7158
Proposer
ANTIDOTOS son of Apollodoros of Sypalettos (VII) PA 1019
(iii) The second is of the demos in the second prytany, of Pandionis:
Bouleutes epistates
PHANOSTRATOS of Philaidai (II) PA 14111
Proposer
LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(iv) IG ii² 338 (vii 3499; SEG 25.484; Schwenk no. 28) is a decree from the first prytany, of Aigeis, Metageitnion 9, thirty-ninth day of the prytany, honouring Pytheas, the epimeletes of springs:
Bouleutes epistates
NIKIAS of Themakos (I) PA 10801
Proposer
CHAIRIONIDES son of Lysanias of Phlya (VII) PA 15269
(v) The ending is restored with the opening of the boule's decree of the previous day.

(vi) IG ii² 339a (SEG 16.54; 21.277; 26.75; Schwenk no. 29) is a proxeny decree for a Chian from the second prytany, of Pandionis, restored to Metageitnion 25, fifteenth day of the prytany, but this is not certain.

(vii) IG ii² 340 (Schwenk no. 30) is restored to the fourth prytany, Maimakterion 11, twelfth day of the prytany, kyria ekklesia:
Bouleutes epistates
[?NIKOKR]ATES of Phlya (VII)

IG ii² 341, I am informed, will be redated to 303/2.

(viii) IG ii² 1673+AE 1971, 83ff. (4) (Clinton), may be of this year; line 9 mentions a decree which has something to do with Eleusis:

Proposer
CHARIKLEIDES PA 15396

(ix) This probably does not have a month date: SEG 32.167. Another deals with payments concerning the Eleusinion (line 65):

Proposer
LYKOURGOS (son of Lykophron of Boutadai) (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

Aisch. 3.166f. tells of Demosthenes' words in the assembly in the context of the Spartan rising. This may be the year in which Phokion was called to speak in the boule about Alexander's request for triremes, which Demosthenes and Hypereides spoke against (Plut. Phok. 21.1; Mor. 847c, 848e; Gehrke, Phokion 75f.).

Panathenaic amphoras: Beazley, Black Figure 415, 417.

Ephebic didaskaloi
[KAL]LAIS[CHR]OS son of Kallias of Paiania (III)
?PHILOKRA[T]E[S] son of [S]ostratos of Phrearrhioi (IV) PA 14629; APF 499
Reinmuth no. 10.7f. The date is not certain and Reinmuth's idea that Philokrates was one of the epimeletai of the shrine of Amphiaraos or the penteteric festival is problematic.

Financial administrator
?[XENOKLES] son of Xeinis of Sphettos (V) PA 11234; APF 414f.
Hesperia 1960, 2ff. (3.3, 8f.) (Meritt); cf. IG ii² 1191.22ff. He probably took over from Lykourgos for the next four years, but he could belong to the quadrennium beginning 328.

Tamias of stratiotic fund
DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.
See 334/3 and Plut. Mor. 818e.

Tamias of trireme funds

TEISIAS son of Dexitheos of Phlya (VII) PA 13482
PEISIAS son of Aristokrates of Marathon (IX) PA 11779
EUAINETOS son of Euthydikos of Anaphlystos (X) PA 5245
Grammateus
THOUKRITIDES son of Kallias of Thorikos (V) PA 7257; APF 272
IG ii² 1544.6ff. They served for four years.

Envoys
DIOPHANTOS (? son of Phrasikleides of Myrrhinous) (III) PA 4421 = ?4435; APF 166
ACHILLEUS PA 2796
Arrian Anab. 3.6.2. Sent to Alexander, they succeeded in their objectives, including the return of Athenian captives. Berve nos. 283 (with the alternative of PA 4419), 192.

HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff. Hypereides F XXVII; Plut. Mor. 850b; Paus. 5.21.5; P.Oxy. 3360. He was sent to Elis to defend Kallippos.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 344, 345, 346, 347, 368, 420 (SEG 22,93), vii 4253, SEG 32.84, Hesperia 1939, 26 (6):
Grammateus
ARISTONOUS son of Aristonous of Anagyrous (I) PA 2038

(i) IG ii² 344 has been distinguished from 368 (SEG 32.92; but see the
(ii) discussion of Schwenk nos. 33, 82); the prescript of 344 being totally restored from 368, we have at least proxeny decrees from the same assembly, the second prytany, Boedromion 9, thirty-second day of the prytany:
Proposer
[POL]YEUKTOS son of Sostra[tos of Sphettos] (V) PA 11934 = 11925 = 11950

(iii) IG ii² 345 (Schwenk no. 36) is a decree honouring a Plataian from the eighth prytany, of Antiochis, Elaphebolion 19, seventh day of the prytany, assembly in the theatre of Dionysos:
Bouleutes epistates

N[IKOSTRATOS of Kopros] (VIII) PA 11037
Proposer
[LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron] of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

The epistates in IG ii² 345 is restored from other decrees of the same day, 346 and 347, and is found also in Hesperia 1939, 26 (6) (Schweigert).

(iv) IG ii² 346 (Schwenk no. 37) is an honorific decree:
Proposer
DEMA[DES son of Demeas] of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(v) IG ii² 347 (Schwenk no. 38) honours the poet Amphis:
Proposer
[?ARISTOX]ENOS son of [Ke]phisodotos (? of Peiraieus (VIII)) PA 2044

(vi) Hesperia 1939, 26 (6) (Schwenk no. 39) is a proxeny decree for an Abderite:
Proposer
E[UBOIOS son of Kratistoleos of Anagyrous?] (I) PA 5313
On the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 140.

(vii) IG ii² 420 (SEG 22.93) is restored to this year; the prytany dating cannot be relied upon (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 346 (= Ecclesia 98); Schwenk no. 35):
Proposer
[EU]RYKRAT[ES] or [EU]THYKRAT[ES]

IG vii 4252 and 4253 were passed at the same kyria ekklesia in the ninth prytany, of Erechtheis, Thargelion 11, twenty-third day of the prytany.

(viii) 4252 (Schwenk no. 40) honours the god Amphiaraos:
Bouleutes epistates
EPICHARES of Hagnous (V) PA 4982
Proposer
PHANODEMOS son of Diyllos of Thymaitadai (VIII) PA 14033

(ix) 4253 (SIG I³ 287; Schwenk no. 41) mentions a law on the shrine of
(x) Amphiaraos sponsored by Phanodemos and praises him; it is proboul-eumatic:
Proposer
DEMETRIOS son of Euktemon of Aphidna (IX) PA 3392

(xi) A decree concerning the Eleusinion is mentioned at IG ii² 1544.30; it may belong in this year or earlier, the date being uncertain; for the proposer cf. 352/1:
Proposer
EMMENIDES (? of Koile) (VIII) PA 4687 = ?4689

(xii) The decree which is now SEG 32.84 is from pryt. Kekropis; Hansen, GRBS 1982, 349 (= Ecclesia 101), has shown that this can be fifth, seventh or tenth prytany, the equations being (a) Poseideon 11 = pryt. 5.15 (Schwenk no. 34); (b) Anthesterion 20 = pryt. 7.13; (c) Skirophorion 11 = pryt. 10.16.

Dem. 17, which is surely not by Demosthenes (Hegesippos? – scholia p. 195 Dilts), may belong in this year, dealing with relations with Makedon (xiii) and finally saying the speaker will move a proposal for war. For date see Cawkwell, Phoenix 1961, 74f.

NIKOSTRATOS

(i) IG ii² 348 (SEG 21.282; 23.54) honours an actor in the eighth prytany, of Akamantis, plausibly restored to (Elaphebolion) 19, sixth day of the prytany, assembly in the theatre of Dionysos, though other days are possible (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 343 (=Ecclesia 95); Schwenk no. 44):

Proposer

PHILEAS son of An[tigenes of Paionidai] (IV) PA 14232=14242

(ii) IG ii² 349 (Tod 193; Osborne T 66; Schwenk no. 45) honours Rheboulas of Thrace and dates to the tenth prytany, of Kekropis, Skirophorion 10, sixteenth day of the prytany:

Bouleutes epistates

[DO]ROTHE[OS] of Halai (II) PA 4603; APF 174

Proposer

NOTH[IPPOS son of Lysias] of Diomeia (II) PA 11131

Agora XV.45 (Schwenk no. 47) gives bouleutai of Teithras in tribe II Aigeis:

BLEPYR[OS son of Phyleides] PA 2882

MANTIK[LES]

--ANES son of An--

--I]NIADE[S] son of --es or --os

The date could be 330/29.

FD III, 1, 511. For the date see Charitonides, Hesperia 1961, 43f. against Lewis, ABSA 1955, 34f.; Lewis is still for summer 326 in Hesperia 1968, 377 n.29. On available evidence it is likely that Boethos represented tribe X, Hippokrates tribe V.

Priest of Asklepios

?DEMON son of Demomeles of Paiania (III) PA 3736; APF 116ff.
IG ii² 4969. Though a place in the cycle is not ruled out, APF has arguments that the position might have been given out of the cycle; cf. Schlaifer, CPh 1943, 39ff.

Envoys

ARISTOGEITON PA 1774
DROPIDES (of Aphidna) (IX) PA 4575=4576
Curtius 3.13.15; Arrian Anab. 3.24.4 (Dropides). They went to Dareios and were captured by Alexander. For Dropides' demotic see Hesperia 1950, 261 (19.22) (Crosby). See Berve nos. 123 and 291 and 333/2.

KTESIPHON PA 8894
Aisch. 3.242. He went to Kleopatra after the death of Alexandros of Epeiros. Berve no. 455, though patronymic and demotic come from the spurious documents at Dem. 18.54 and 118.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found at IG ii² 351 and 352 (see SEG 29.88 on SEG 16.55):

Grammateus

ANTIDOROS son of Antinous of Paiania (III) PA 1031

(i) IG ii² 351+624 (Tod 198; SEG 21.283; 24.99) honours Eudemos of Plataia and is dated to the ninth prytany, of Leontis, Thargelion 11, nineteenth day of the prytany, though the equation is wrong and it perhaps should be the twenty-ninth day of the prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 344 (= Ecclesia 96); more detail at Schwenk no. 48):
Bouleutes epistates
AN[TI]PHANE[S] of Euonymon (I) = PA 1232
Proposer
LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron [of Boutadai] (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.
The name of the epistates is as at SEG 24.99.

(ii) IG ii² 352 (Schwenk no. 49) is a fragment from the same prytany, Thargelion 14, thirty-second day of the prytany, kyria ekklesia.

(iii) There were decrees for the condemnation of triremes (IG ii² 1627.247f.; 1628.464f.; 1629.728f.; 1631.104f.):
Proposer
DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(iv) In this year or earlier there was a decree of the boule concerning naval equipment (IG ii² 1627.380, 386f., 394, 544; 1628.539, 544, 550f.; 1629.1016, 1021f., 1029; 1631.241f., 245f., 251):

Strategoi
The following are recorded in IG ii² 1672 as having sent grain from various places and I would not omit them on the ground that they are from klerouchies (cf. Davies, Wealth 166). Sopatros, Aischylos, Demetrios and Lysimachides are not specified as generals, being listed after an individual who is; if they were not generals, they would seem to have held some other position of authority. The full list is at lines 271ff.; Philon also appears at lines 97, 102, 194, 208.

Archon of Salamis?
TIMOTHEOS of Alopeke (X) PA 13698
IG $ii^2$ 1672.274. He sent grain from Salamis and there is every chance he was archon.

Envoy
THEBAGENES of Eleusis (VIII) PA 7131
IG $ii^2$ 360.45. He was sent to Dionysios of Herakleia. On the date see below.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG $ii^2$ 353 and vii 4254:
Grammateus
SOSTRATIDES son of Echphantos of Eupyridai (IV) PA 13322

Prytanies may be found at IG $ii^2$ 1672: 1. Antiochis; 2. Antiochis (sic; this or the previous prytany must be written by mistake); 5. Kekropis; 6. Pandionis; 10. Akamantis. Add 3. Hippothontis (IG vii 4254); 4. Aigeis (IG $ii^2$ 353).

(i) IG $ii^2$ 353 (Schwenk no. 51) honours a Larissan; it is from the fourth prytany, of Aigeis, the last day of Pyanopsion, eleventh day of the prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 344 (= Ecclesia 96)):
Bouleutes epistates
. . . PPOS of Oa (III)
Proposer
DEMADES [son of Demeas of Paiania] (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(ii) IG $ii^2$ 360.28ff. (Schwenk no. 68) has two decrees concerning praise for
(iii) Herakleides of Salamis which may belong in this year, as they mention his actions in the previous archonship:
Proposer
TELEMACHOS son of Theangelos of Acharnai (VI) PA 13562

(iv) There follows a decree of the boule:
Proposer
KEPHISODOTOS son of Eucharides of Acharnai (VI) PA 8327

(v) IG vii 4254 (SIG $I^3$.298; Schwenk no. 50) praises the epimeletai of the Amphiaraia; it is from the third prytany, of Hippothontis, Pyanopsion 16, thirty-third day of the prytany:
Bouleutes epistates
DEMOCHARES of Phlya (VII) PA 3723
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demokles of Lamptrai (I) PA 3593

(vi) IG $ii^2$ 1672.302f., which is of this year, mentions a decree of the council
(vii) concerning a sacrifice and one of the demos concerning pay to the hieropoioi, both proposed by the same man:
Proposer
LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(viii) Walbank, Hesperia Suppl. 19.173ff., suggests that the document which is now SEG 32.86 might be part of the law regulating the Amphiaraia drawn up by Phanodemos (cf. IG vii 4253).

Panathenaic amphora: Beazley, Black Figure 415.

Thesmothetes
TELESKOPOS son of Aristokritos of Rhamnous (IX)
Hesperia 1938, 95 (15.12ff.) (Meritt) – or 327/6 (Schwenk no. 61).

Note: While I have adopted on general grounds the idea that Lykourgos' twelve years of influence began in 336/5, I cannot believe that he held a second post as financial administrator beginning in this year. I do not think that Plut. Mor. 842e-f necessarily implies that he held any office when he died, but even if he did, I do not think we can say what it was (this against Davies, APF 351).

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found at IG ii² 354, 452 (SEG 21.284) and Agora XV.49.35:
Grammateus
PYTHODELOS son of Pythodelos of Hagnous (V) PA 12380

(i) IG ii² 354 (SEG 18.14; 21.285; 23.56; Hansen, GRBS 1982, 340 (Ecclesia 92); Schwenk no. 54) is a decree of the eighth prytany, of Antiochis (the rest of the dating is disputed), in honour of the priest Androkles:
Bouleutes epistates
EPIGENES of Eroiadai (VIII) PA 4795
Proposer
PROKLEIDES son of Panta[leon] of Kerameis (V) PA 12200

(ii) There follows a decree of the boule:

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored at IG ii² 356, 357, SEG 21.288 (assuring the patronymic):
Grammateus
AUTOKLES son of Autias of Acharnai (VI) NPA 41

(i) IG ii² 356 (Tod 199; SEG 21.286; 23.57) honours Memnon of Rhodes; it is dated to the fourth prytany, of Hippothontis, though the seventh is an alternative (SEG; Schwenk no. 58), the penultimate day of the month, twenty-sixth of the prytany, kyria ekklesia.

(ii) IG ii² 357 (SEG 21.287) is a proxeny decree for an Eretrian, dated in IG and Schwenk no. 57 to the sixth prytany, of Aiantis, though the tenth has been suggested, the last day of the month, in the early days of the prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 344 (= Ecclesia 96)).

(iii) SEG 21.288 seems to belong to this year (but cf. 25.69) and is honorific; it is from the ninth prytany, of Oineis, apparently Mounichion 21, but this is a problem (Schwenk no. 59; Hansen, GRBS 1982, 348 (= Ecclesia 100)):

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The name of the secretary may now be asserted through Hesperia 1985, 137–9, taken with and helping to confirm the date of IG ii² 800:
Grammateus
KEPHISOKL[ES]

(i) IG ii² 359 is a prescript from the prytany of Erechtheis, restored as the seventh, Elaphebolion 8, thirtieth day of the prytany, kyria ekklesia, and this may stand (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 336f. (= Ecclesia 88f.); Schwenk no. 63, unconvincingly suggesting an Astypalaian honorand).

(ii) IG ii² 800 (SEG 21.289) is a fragment from the prytany of Leontis, restored with a query as the sixth:
Bouleutes epistates
[THE]OPOMPOS
Symproedroi
--MENES of Lamptrai (I)
-- of Paiania (III)
DEM--
-- ? of Oe (VI)
THEOKL[ES]
-- of Anaphlystos (X)
-- of Sphettos (V)
Proposer
-- son of --toros or --tores of Sy[bridai] (I)
For the latter, Schwenk no. 64 leaves Sy[palettios] as a possibility, but this seems too long.

(iii) IG ii² 1628.38f. records a decree concerning triremes:
Proposer
PO[LYEUKTOS] of Kydantidai (II) PA 11947 = ?11928 = ?11927

(iv) IG ii² 1629.520 mentions a decree concerning the collection of naval debts:
Proposer
DEMADES (son of Demeas) of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(v) He proposed another decree concerning epidoseis (IG ii² 1628.348f.; 1629.869; 1631.65).

(vi) Hesperia 1985, 137–9 (Palagia and Clinton), is a decree honouring the priest of Asklepios (who was probably Philokles in this year) from the prytany of Pandionis, which was probably the eighth prytany, possibly the ninth.

?DEMETRIOS son of Phanostratos of Phaleron (IX) PA 3455; APF 107ff. IG ii² 2971. The inscription records service as hipparch and three generalships. Dow and Travis, Hesperia 1943, 145ff., put the latter in the years 325/4 to 319/18, but see APF 108.

Naval officer
DIOPHANTOS son of Phrasikleides of Myrrhinous (III) PA 4435; APF 166
IG ii² 1629.618. The precise position is unknown.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found in IG ii² 360 and 361:
Grammateus
ANTIPHON son of Koroibos of Eleusis (VIII) PA 1294

(i) IG ii² 360 (Schwenk no. 68) is in honour of Herakleides of Salamis; it is from the fifth prytany, of Aigeis, eleventh day of the month (Posideon 11), thirty-fourth day of the prytany (see Meritt, Ath. Year 102f.):
Bouleutes epistates
PHILYLLOS of Eleusis (VIII) PA 14798
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demokles of Lamptrai (I) PA 3593

(ii) We may include here the decree of the boule at lines 66ff.
Proposer
PHYLEUS son of Pausanias of Oinoe (VIII or IX) PA 15045

(iii) IG ii² 361 (Schwenk no. 69) is a fragment from the tenth prytany, of Akamantis, Thargelion 22, fifth day of the prytany, from the boule:
Bouleutes epistates
ARCHEST[RAT]OS of Athmonon (VII) PA 2416
Proposer
-- of Alopeke (X)

(iv) There was a decree concerning naval equipment (IG ii² 1629.14f., 35f., 57, 103f., 120, 137f., 157):
Proposer
HAGNONIDES (son of Nikoxenos) of Pergase (I) PA 176

(v) Another concerned the squadron sent to the Adriatic (IG ii² 1629.21, 42, 63, 75, 89f., 110, 127, 144, 163, 170):
Proposer
KEPHISOPHON son of Lysiphon of Cholargos (V) PA 8419
Hypereides F LVI can be associated with this mission.

(vi) There was a decree of the boule concerning a quadrireme (IG ii² 1629.273):
Proposer
ALKIMACHOS son of . . .⁶. . . os or . . .⁶. . . es of Myrrhinoutte (II) PA 622

Dated to this year is the prosecution of Aristogeiton represented in Dem.

25 and 26 and Lykourgos FF 1–7 (Hansen, Apagoge no. 32); the prosecutors were appointed by the assembly:

Kategoroi

DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.
From Deinarchos 2.13 we evidently learn the following:

Bouleutes

ARISTOGEITON son of Kydimachos PA 1775
He also addressed the assembly.

324/3 (Ol. 114.1)

Archon

HEGESIAS son of Kephisodoros PA 6313
MP B 8; FGH 255 (9); Diod. 17.113.1 (Agesias); Arrian Anab. 7.28.1; IG ii² 362 (SEG 21.291); [363] (but see 335/4); [454] (SEG 21.293); [547] (SEG 21.292; 32.88); 1176. [9] (CSCA 1974, 293 (Stroud); Schwenk no. 76); 1257 (Schwenk no. 77); 1258.22 (Schwenk no. 78); 1631.[62], [89f.], [94f.], 143, [151], 318, 370, 386, 441; 2935.3f.; SEG 21.290; Hesperia 1941, 43 (11.[11]) (Meritt: Agora XV.53, with patronymic), 52 ([13]) (Meritt). Panathenaic amphoras: Beazley, Black Figure 415.

Strategoi

?DEMETRIOS son of Phanostratos of Phaleron (IX) PA 3455; APF 107ff. See 325/4.

PHEREKLEIDES son of Pherekles of Perithoidai (VI) PA 14187
Reinmuth no. 15 (AE 1918, 76, 99 (Leonardos)); cf. IG ii² 2968. He was general at Akte; on date see below ephebic officials.

DIKAIOGENES (son of Menexenos) of Kydathenaion (III) PA 3776; APF 147, 540
IG ii² 1631.38of.; Reinmuth no. 15 (AE 1918, 76, 99 (Leonardos)). He was general at Peiraieus.

LEOSTHENES son of Leosthenes of Kephale (V) PA 9142 = 9144; APF 342ff.
?Diod. 17.111.1ff.; 18.9.1ff.; Reinmuth no. 15 (AE 1918, 76, 99 (Leonardos)). He was general over the country. We are told, however, of his dealings with mercenaries who had come over from Asia, a tale which continues into 323/2. See Badian, JHS 1961, 27, 37ff. (on chronology).

Ephebic officials

The following come from Reinmuth no. 15, though the date cannot be regarded as secure:

Sophronistes

THYMOCHARES son of Demochares of Leukonoion (IV) APF 142

Kosmetes

PHILOKLES son of Phormion of Eroiadai (VIII) PA 14541; APF 539ff.

Didaskalos

PYTHA-- son of --okles of Dekeleia (VIII)

Epimeletes

NIKODOROS son of Philotheros of Acharnai (VI)

Financial administrator

MENESAICHMOS PA 9983
Dion. Dein. 11 (660 U.-R.). Presumably chosen for four years.

Poletai

ERGINOS son of Theoklitos of Kydathenaion (III)
ANTIGENES son of Aristomachos of Xypete (VII) ?PA 994
AE 1973, 175f.

Hieromnemon

EUTHYKLES
FD III, 5, 61 I.4, II A.16.

Naopoioi to Delphi

EPITELES son of Soinomos (of Pergase) (I) PA 4955 = 4963
THEOPHRON son of Euthyphron (? of Lamptrai) (I) PA 7178
FD III, 5, 61 II B.25f.; cf. 91.26f.; cf. p. 242.

Kategoroi

HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff.
PYTHEAS PA 12342
MENESAICHMOS PA 9983
HIMERAIOS son of Phanostratos of Phaleron (IX) PA 7578; APF 108
?PATROKLES or PROKLES PA 12208
STRATOKLES son of Euthydemos of Diomeia (II) PA 12938; APF 495
Deinarchos 1.20f. (Stratokles); Plut. Mor. 846c; Photios Bibl. p. 494 a.36ff.
Ten prosecutors were chosen against those charged with taking money from Harpalos (Deinarchos 2.6) and these are the names which survive. Patrokles/Prokles has been doubted; Badian, JHS 1961, 32 n. 113, 42ff., for chronology.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is known from IG ii² 362 (SEG 21.291); 454 (SEG 21.293); 547 (SEG 21.292); Agora XV.53.17f. (especially); SEG 21.290; Hesperia 1941, 52 (13):

Grammateus

EUPHANES son of Phrynon of Rhamnous (IX)

(i) IG ii² 362 (Schwenk no. 73) is a prescript from the ninth prytany, of Akamantis, Thargelion 18, twenty-ninth day of the prytany, kyria ekklesia.

(ii) IG ii² 454 (SEG 21.293; Schwenk no. 75) is from the tenth prytany, of Erechtheis, Skirophorion 25:
Bouleutes epistates
CHARIDE[MOS] PA 15372
Symproedroi
--OS of Halai (II)
--S of Phrearrhioi (IV)
-- of Lakiadai (VI)
X-- of tribe VII
KALL-- of tribe X
Proposer
? -- son of --eri--
For the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 139.

(iii) IG ii² 547 (SEG 21.292; Schwenk no. 74) has been restored to the tenth prytany, of Erechtheis, Thargelion 29, fifth day of the prytany, but this is not secure (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 348 (= Ecclesia 100)):
Symproedroi
[DION]YSIOS of K[ydathenaion] (III)
. . . .[8]. . . . of Hekale (IV)
[?AR]CHIN[OS]
EP--
--S of Alopeke (X)

(iv) IG ii² 1631.350f. mentions a decree of the council concerning a naval debt:
Proposer
POLYEUKTOS son of Kallikrates of Hestiaia (II) PA 11943

(v) At lines 655ff. is a decree of this year or earlier concerning naval equipment:
Proposer
DEMOPHILOS son of Demophilos of Acharnai (VI) PA 3675; APF 498

(vi) SEG 21.290 (Schwenk no. 71) is restored to the fifth prytany, of Aiantis, Posideon 28, thirty-first day of the prytany, but this is speculative.

(vii) Hesperia 1941, 52 (13) (Meritt; Schwenk no. 72), seems to be an honorific decree; it is from the sixth prytany, of Pandionis (the only restoration available).

(viii) I will not rehearse all the details of the Harpalos affair (see in general Plut. Dem. 25f.). There was a decree that the Areiopagos should investigate (Deinarchos 1.4, 61, 82f., 85f., 89; Hypereides 5.1):
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.

(ix) He seems to have included a provision for death for himself if found guilty, as did another (Deinarchos 3.2, 5):
Proposer
PHILOKLES (son of Phormion of Eroiadai) (VIII) PA 14541; APF 539ff.

(x) A number of other measures are attributed to Demosthenes: that Harpalos be arrested and his money confiscated (Hypereides 5.8f.; Deinarchos (xi) 1.68f., 89); honouring Diphilos (Deinarchos 1.43; F 41); that no one should

(xii) believe in any but the traditional gods (Deinarchos 1.94). The latter was over the request for divine honours from Alexander, in which debate there spoke Diphilos (Deinarchos F 41), Lykourgos (Plut. Mor. 842d) and (xiii) Pytheas (Plut. Mor. 804b), while a decree that Alexander's claims be recognized was successfully challenged as unconstitutional (Athenaios 5.251b; Aelian VH 5.12; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 38):

Proposer

DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(xiv) Nevertheless such a decree was in fact passed, as it is claimed Demosthenes eventually supported it (Hypereides 5.31; Deinarchos 1.94).

We may note Leosthenes' secret consultation with the boule (Diod. 17.111.3).

Agora XV.53 records officers of the council. Alessandri, ASNP 1982, 66f., challenges Meritt's identification of the document as a dedicatory base and prefers it to be in honour of the prytaneis of a tribe, for him Erechtheis, as in line 9 he would restore the demotic [ἐκ Κηδ]ῶν instead of an indication of the archon (cf. SEG 32.175, where the line references are confusing as between the first publication and that in Agora XV). This would help with the mystery of the name at line eight and would produce:

Bouleutai

--NIAS son of Theopompos

Kedoi

H--IAS son of Kephisodoros

Thus the first official here mentioned might be doubtful:

Tamias of council

-- son of --ates

Grammateus of demos

[CH]ARIPPOS son of Ph[il]on of Rhamnous (IX)

Anagrapheus

--IDES son of Kichonides of Paiania (III)

In charge of laws

EIRENOKLE[S] of Athmonon (VII)

Officials of the boule are the following:

Syllogeis (hieropoioi)

EUTHYKRITOS PA 5612

LYSIKLES son of Eirenipp[os] PA 9426

IG ii² 1257 A.3, B.4 (Schwenk no. 77).

Panathenaic amphora: Beazley, Black Figure 415.

Strategoi

?DEMETRIOS son of Phanostratos of Phaleron (IX) PA 3455; APF 107ff.
See 325/4.

[DIK]AIOGENES (son of Menexenos) of Kydathenaion (III) PA 3776; APF 147, 540
IG ii² 1631.214f. General at Peiraieus. Reinmuth (67, 70) wrongly dates this to 325/4.

PHAIDROS son of Kallias of Sphettos (V) PA 13964; APF 525
Strabo 10.1.6; ?IG ii² 682.2f. He destroyed Styra in Euboia.

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559
Plut. Phok. 24.1ff.; Polyainos 3.12. He was chosen general against the Boiotians.

LEOSTHENES son of Leosthenes of Kephale (V) PA 9142=9144; APF 342ff.
Hypereides 6 passim; Diod. 18.9, 11.3ff.; Strabo 9.5.10; Plut. Dem. 27.1; Timol. 6.5; Phok. 23.1ff.; Pyrrhos 1.4; Mor. 486d, 546a, 803a, 849f; Justin 13.5.12; Arrian FGH 156 F 1.9; Paus. 1.1.3, 25.5, 29.13, 3.6.1.
See also 324/3. General in the Lamian War, he lost his life.

ANTIPHILOS PA 1264
Diod. 18.13.6, 15.7; Plut. Phok. 24.1f., 25.3. Chosen to replace Leosthenes, he commanded the Greeks in success against the Makedonians in Thessaly.

Nauarchos

EUETION (? son of Pythangelos of Kephisia) (I) PA 5461 = ?5462; APF 190
Diod. 18.15.9; IG ii² 505.18, 25; cf. 506.10f. He was twice defeated by the Makedonian fleet.

Financial administrator

MENESAICHMOS PA 9983
See 324/3.

Tamias of trireme funds

--OS of Pambotadai (I)
IG ii² 1631.504f.

Envoys

POLYEUKTOS son of Sostratos of Sphettos (V) PA 11925 = 11934 = 11950 Plut. Mor. 846c-d. He went to Arkadia.

HYPEREIDES son of Glaukippos of Kollytos (II) PA 13912; APF 517ff. Justin 13.5.10. He went to seek support in the Peloponnese. For another possible mission see 341/40.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 343 (SEG 24.103), 365 (SEG 21.294), 367 (SEG 21.295), 368 (SEG 21.296), 369+ (SEG 21.298; Osborne D 25), 448 (SEG 21.297; 26.81; Osborne D 24):

Grammateus

ARCHIAS son of Pythodoros of Alopeke (X)

(i) IG ii² 343 (SEG 24.103) honours Apollonides of Sidon:

Bouleutes epistates

EPAMEI[NON ? of Erchia] (II) PA 4759 = 4760 = ?4766

Proposer

-- of Anagyrous (I)

I do not wish to say that dotted letters in the texts are part of the latter's name. The document is totally restored to this year and to the fifth prytany, of Pandionis, Posideon 25, twenty-first day of the prytany, kyria ekklesia. Osborne, Naturalization II.104, and Schwenk no. 84 retain the same day as ii² 448, Posideon 16, twenty-second day of the prytany, but see also Hansen, GRBS 1982, 346f. (= Ecclesia 98f.). The demotic of the epistates fits the space in 448, where Osborne reads EPAME[, Schwenk EPAMEIN[.

(ii) IG ii² 448 (SEG 21.297; 26.81; Osborne D 24 (text D 38); Schwenk no. 83) is a citizenship decree for Euphron of Sikyon:

Proposers

EUPHILETOS son of Euphile[tos ? of Kephisia] (I) PA 6054; APF 206

PAMPHILOS son of Euphiletos (? of Kephisia) (I) PA 11531; APF 206

Schwenk prefers Kikynna (V) for the deme, following Charitonides (see Agora XV.42.326).

(iii) IG ii² 365 (SEG 21.294; 30.66; Schwenk no. 79) praises Lapyris of Kleonai and is thought by Walbank to deal with reports on the Nemean festival; it is dated to the first prytany, of Hippothontis, Hekatombaion II, eleventh day of the prytany:

Bouleutes epistates

TIMOSTRA[T]O[S] PA 13816

Proposer

EPITEL[ES] son of S[o]in[omos] of Pergase (I) PA 4963

(iv) IG ii² 366 (Schwenk no. 80) is an honorific decree from the second prytany, of Aigeis, sixteenth day of the prytany:

Bouleutes epistates
HEGESIAS of Marathon (IX) PA 6326
Proposer
ARI . . .[6]. . .
On the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 139.

(v) IG ii² 367 (SEG 21.295; 26.81: 32.91; Schwenk no. 81) concerns the Phokians; it is from the third prytany, thirty-sixth day, ekklesia kyria, but the date in Pyanopsion is uncertain (IG has 18, Meritt and Schwenk 19, Pritchett and Neugebauer, Calendars 25):
Proposer
-- son of --doros of Melite (VII)
On the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 139.

(vi) IG ii² 368.19ff. (SEG 21.296; Schwenk no. 82) concerns the proxeny of Theophantos; the prytany is the fifth, of Pandionis, the month Posideon, the rest uncertain (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 345 (= Ecclesia 97)).

(vii) IG ii² 369 + (SEG 21.298; Osborne D 25; Schwenk no. 85) is a citizenship decree for a Bosporan from the eighth prytany, of Oineis.

(viii) IG ii² 370 (SEG 21.299) is the heading of an alliance with the Aitolians dated to this year (cf. Diod. 17.111.3, 18.9.5, 11.1).

(ix) There is a chance that the honorific decree SEG 21.340 may belong here.

(x) A law concerning the navy belongs in this year or earlier (IG ii² 1631.511; 1632.19):
Proposer
DIPHILOS (son of Diopeithes of Sounion) (IV) PA 4467 = 4487; APF 168f.

(xi) For the decree concerning the Apatouria mentioned at Athenaios 4.171e see 366/5 (ii).

(xii) Diod. 18.10 reports the assembly at which a decree was passed for (xiii) mobilisation and the sending of envoys. Late in the year, it seems, a decree was passed for the return of Demosthenes from exile (Plut. Dem. 27.6; Mor. 846d):
Proposer
DEMON son of Demomeles of Paiania (III) PA 3736; APF 116ff.

Plut. Phok. 22.3f. has an assembly on the news of Alexander's death which pits Phokion against Demades and in c. 23 he is at odds with Leosthenes and Hypereides; c. 24 again has him speaking.

322/1 (Ol. 114.3)

Archon
PHILOKLES PA 14524
MP B 10; FGH 255 (9); Diod. 18.26.1; Dion. Dein. 9; Diog. 5.10

(Apollodoros FGH 244 F 38); anon. de com. 3.59 (Koster); IG ii² [371]; [372] (SEG 21.300; 23.60); 373.16 (SEG 21.301); [375] (SEG 21.302); 377.7; 1468.13f.; 1469.167; 1472.16; 2839.[4].

Strategoi

ANTIPHILOS PA 1264

Diod. 18.17.6 and see 323/2. He was in command at Krannon, which defeat occurred in Metageitnion (Plut. Dem. 28.1).

?CHARIAS son of Euthykrates of Kydathenaion (III) PA 15346; APF 193

Davies, Wealth 166, puts this here without a query, but it seems to have no justification from IG ii² 2847 nor is it so dated in APF.

?THYMOCHARES son of Phaidros of Sphettos (V) PA 7412; APF 525f.

This is equally shaky, for it depends on the invention of a campaign to Cyprus to accommodate the generalship mentioned at IG ii² 682.4ff.

Financial administrator

MENESAICHMOS PA 9983

See 324/3.

Envoys

PHOKION son of Phokos PA 15076; APF 559

DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

XENOKRATES son of Agathenor of Chalkedon

Diod. 18.18.2f.; Plut. Phok. 26.3f., 27; Diog. 4.9 (Xenokrates). They were involved in negotiations with Antipatros, Xenokrates, the head of the Akademy, being added to the second embassy.

DEMETRIOS son of Phanostratos of Phaleron (IX) PA 3455; APF 107ff.

Demetrios On Style 5.289. Possibly he was on the last mentioned embassy.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

The secretary is found or restored in IG ii² 371, 372, 373, 375, 376:

Grammateus

EUTHYGENES son of Hephaistodemos of Kephisia (I) PA 5512

(i) IG ii² 371 is a fragment from the seventh prytany, in Anthesterion, a proxeny decree if correctly associated with 308 (see Schwenk no. 86).

(ii) IG ii² 372 (SEG 21.300; 23.60; Schwenk no. 87) is a fragment from the eighth prytany, possibly Elaphebolion 18 or 19 at the assembly in the precinct of Dionysos, sixth, eighth or ninth day of the prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 345 (=Ecclesia 97)):

Proposer

[DEMADE]S son of Deme[as of Paiania] (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(iii) IG ii² 373.16ff. (SEG 21.301; Schwenk no. 88) is evidently a probouleumatic decree (though the procedure is problematic: see Schwenk) honouring Euenor of Akarnania; it is from the ninth prytany, of Oineis, Thargelion 2, twenty-third day of the prytany, but there seems to be a mason's error here (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 345 (= Ecclesia 97)):

Bouleutes epistates

EUALKOS of Phaleron (IX) PA 5264

Proposer

DIOPHANTOS son of Phrasikleides of Myrrhinous (III) PA 4435; APF 166

(iv) IG ii² 375 (SEG 21.302; Schwenk no. 89) is from the tenth prytany, of Pandionis, the last day of Thargelion (though this seems to be in error for Skirophorion), thirty-fifth or thirty-seventh day of the prytany (Hansen, GRBS 1982, 345 (= Ecclesia 97)):

Bouleutes epistates

?[A]N[T]ID[O]TO[S] of [Th]ri[a] (VI)

Proposer

HEGEM[ON ?]

(v) IG ii² 376 (Schwenk no. 90) is a fragment restored to the last day of Posideon or Gamelion.

(vi) IG ii² 377 (Schwenk no. 91) is little more than letters.

(vii) After the Greek defeat, a bill was passed establishing the death sentence for anti-Makedonian orators:

Proposer

DEMADES son of Demeas of Paiania (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.

(viii) He was also responsible for the decree for envoys to Antipatros: Plut. Phok. 26.2f., which has Phokion speaking to the people. Demochares also spoke (Plut. Mor. 847d).

APPENDIX

Basileus

[E]XEKESTIDES son of [Nikokr]ates of Alopeke (X)

Paredroi

NIKOKRATES son of Exekes[tides of Alopeke] (X)

KLEAINETOS son of Meno[n]

SEG 32.240. They could come within our period, but could be later. Note that SEG misreports the date in the original publication.

Paredros of basileus

EUTHYDEMOS PA 5518

IG ii² 1230.3. Perhaps within our period.

Polemarchos

DEMOTELES son of Ant[i]machos of Halai (II or VII) PA 3636; APF 26

IG ii² 1578.1 – c. 330 (cf. Lewis, Hesperia 1959, 236).

Thesmothetes

TIMOK[RATES] son of T-- of tribe IV or IX
Hesperia 1934, 44 (32.2, 8f.) = 1946, 189 (35) (Meritt) – possibly 320s.

Basileus or polemarchos or thesmothetes

PISTIAS PA 11823
Deinarchos 1.53. See Hansen, Eisangelia no. 117.

Note: Plut. Mor. 817c cites Demosthenes as speaking of himself as thesmothetes, but this is a misunderstanding of Dem. 21.30ff. at 33.

Strategoi

NAUSIKLES son of Klearchos of Oe (VI) PA 10552; APF 396f.
IG ii² 1623.329f. Before 334/3; cf. Dem. 18.114.

PHEREKLEIDES son of Pherekles of Perithoidai (VI) PA 14187
IG ii² 2968.5ff. He was general over the country about, but not in, 333/2; see Reinmuth 67.

PHILEMONIDES
Hesperia Suppl. 8.274.3 (Pritchett: Reinmuth no. 12). General in the 330s; cf. Davies, Wealth 165.

POLYEUKTOS (? of Kydantidai) (II) ?PA 11947
Hypereides FF 155–7. General between 360 and 322, probably late in that period. See Hansen, GRBS 1983, 175.

?CHARES son of Theochares of Angele (III) PA 15292; APF 568f.
Plut. Mor. 848e speaks of him commanding a mercenary force at Tainaron, perhaps after the death of Agis and not as Athenian strategos; see Badian, JHS 1961, 26 and nn. 69 and 70.

DIOTI[MOS] (son of Diopeithes of Euonymon) (I) PA 4384; APF 163f.
IG ii² 408.8f., possibly to be dated at the period of corn shortage, 330–326.

PHILOKLES (? son of Phormion of Eroiadai) (VIII) PA 14541; APF 539ff.
Deinarchos 3.12. He was general more than ten times before 324/3, one of which occasions is placed in 325/4.

Note: On Phokion see the appendix to Section VII. The generalship of Derkylos at IG ii² 1187.1f. is now dated to 319/18 (Mitchel, Hesperia 1964, 337ff.).

Officer

[?OLYMPI]ODOROS (son of Diotimos of Euonymon) (I) PA 11401; APF 164f.
IG ii² 408.8f. He was to see to the escort of corn. On the identity see APF. On date see above on the general Diotimos.

Taxiarchoi

PROKLEIDES (? of Thorai) (X)
SEG 3.116 – c. 330. For the demotic see Davies, Wealth 152.

DIAITOS of Pambotadai (I)
DEMOPHON of Erchia (II)
--RES of tribe VII
L-- of Marathon (IX)
G-- of Aigilia (X)
SEG 17.85 – second half of the century.

Peripolarchos
ARISTOMENES son of Kannonos of Philaidai (II) PA 2006
IG ii² 2968.5ff. He was honoured along with the general Pherekleides (see above).

Hipparchoi
LYKOPHRON PA 9255
Hypereides 1.17f. For three years on Lemnos before 333.

PHILOKLES (? son of Phormion of Eroiadai) (VIII) PA 14541; APF 539ff.
Deinarchos 3.12. Three or four times before 324/3.

?DEMETRIOS son of Phanostratos of Phaleron (IX) PA 3455; APF 107ff.
IG ii² 2971.18, 33. See under 325/4 strategoi.

[?EUE]TION son of Pythangelos of Kephisia (I) PA 5462; APF 190
EPILYKOS son of Nikostra[tos of Gargettos] (II) APF 312
Hesperia 1937, 462 (10) (Crosby) – before 325.

ANTIKRATES son of Sokrates of Hermos (V)
PATROKLES son of Hierokles of Philaidai (II)
Hesperia 1953, 51 (Thompson).

ANTID[O]ROS of Thria (VII)
SEG 30.114.

Phylarchoi
LYKOPHRON PA 9255
Hypereides 1.17. Before being hipparch (see above).

DEMETRIOS son of [Anti]phanes of Alopeke (X)
SEG 3.115.5 – possibly in this period.

EUTHYKRATES of Pergase (I)
MOIRAGENES of Ikarion (II)
[HA]GNODEMOS of Paiania (III)
Hesperia 1940, 58 (6) (Meritt). A date around 380 is not necessary.

--ON of Oe (VI)
Hesperia 1946, 176f. (24) (Meritt) – c. 325.

Ephebic officers
The following come from Reinmuth no. 12 (Hesperia Suppl. 8.273ff. (Pritchett)):

Sophronistes
CHEIMEUS (? son of Kikon of Lakiadai) (VI) ?PA 15545; APF 574

Didaskalos?
PHILIPPOS

Akontistes
KEPHISIPPOS

Paidotribes
?S--ON
SEG 32.206.

Tamiai Paralou
?MEIXIGENES son of [M]ikon of Cholleidai (IV) PA 9754; APF 58
DIOPHANTOS APF 166
IG ii² 1254.2, 6ff., 17f. – second half of the century.

ONESANDROS son of Ithaimenes of Eleusis (VIII) APF 420
Hesperia 1961, 268 (93.5) (Meritt) – second half of the century.

?KONON son of Kleisthenes of Athmonon (VII) APF 321
REG 1931, 296 (2.3, 6f.) = Dain, Insc. Bardo 27 – possibly in our period.

Tamias
?[TH]ALLOS son of [Ph]anotheos of Paiania (III) PA 6581
IG ii² 3208 – possibly in our period, but it is not clear what sort of tamias he was.

Note: D. M. Lewis informs me of his opinion that MDAI(A) 1941, 235ff. (7), goes with IG ii² 1469, so that the tamias there found was active after 321.

Tamiai of trireme funds
?APHRO--
?ARCHI-- of Anaphlystos (X)
IG ii² 1624.26, 29, where the restoration is not certain.

ANTIPHON of Erchia (II) PA 1296
EUPOLE[MO]S (son of Euthymenides) of Myrrhinous (III) PA 5928
LEOTROPHIDES of Kropidai (IV) PA 9158
IG ii² 1627.33f., 73f., 76f., 155f.; 1629.343f. They must antedate 330/29 and if tribal rotation applied to the position, Antiphon could belong to 335/4, Eupolemos to 334/3, Leotrophides to 333/2, and if Archi-- above was tamias, his year could be 337/6.

Tamiai?
The following come from Hesperia 1946, 178 (25), with SEG 14.112; Meritt believes this may be a list of tamiai, whereby the demotic of the secretary would fit 325/4 in the cycle:
--O-- of tribe I

PH[ILOI]TIOS of Ionidai (II)
SO[SI]MACHOS of Myrrhinous (III)
KALLIMEDON of Cholleidai (IV) PA 8033
P . . . IOS of tribe V
--ES of Acharnai (VI)
--S of Phlya (VII)
-- of Oinoe (VIII)
[DE]MOKLEIDES or [TI]MOKLEIDES of Aphidna (IX)
. .[4]. . ODOROS of Alopeke (X)

Grammateus

ARISTOKLEIDES son of Aristokles of Sounion (IV)

Financial

DIONYSIOS PA 4095
Deinarchos F 13 – ἐπὶ τῆς διοικήσεως.

Poletai?

-- ? son of Stry--
EUPOLIS ? son of Eu[themon of Halai] (VII) ?PA 5940; APF 198
EUKRATES son of Ma--

Grammateus

TIMO--

Hesperia 1957, 19 (58) (Crosby) – last third of the century.

Note: Davies, APF 137, takes Plut. Mor. 851b to ascribe, erroneously (?), a second position as sitones to Demosthenes in the early 320s, but the reference is general and not, I think, to an arche (perhaps it was in the subscription of 328/7: Dem. 34.38f.; IG ii² 360).

Epimeletes of pompeia

KEPHISO--
IG ii² 1494.4. Dated c. 334/3, but there are problems with the text which, I am informed, combines 1493, 1494, 1495, 1497 and Hesperia 1937, 456f. (6) (Crosby).

Epistates

NEOPTOLEMOS son of Antikles of Melite (VII) PA 10652; APF 399f. Dem. 18.114. He was epistates of many works and if he could be restored at IG ii² 1231 instead of Tlepolemos (Raubitschek unpublished; this in spite of Threatte, Grammar 1.490), he was epimeletes of certain rites and adorned the shrine of Plouton (I owe this to D.M. Lewis).

Epistatai of the temple of Zeus Soter

-- son of Plei[stias] of Ana-- PA 11866
-- son of Ep[i]phanes of Azenia (VIII) PA 4970
LE[OCH]ARES son of Le[ok]rat[es] of Pallene (X) PA 9175; APF 344
[KL]EO--
ARIS[T]EIDES son of Arist[on] of Pergase (I) PA 1714

Grammateus

[EPI]KRA[TES]
IG ii² 1669.2ff. – after the middle of the century.

Epistates of the Akademy

ARISTOMACHOS PA 1961
Hypereides 5.26. This mysterious post dates before 324/3.

Note: This may be the place to list the functions fulfilled by LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff. The evidence is set out in the testimonia in the Teubner edition of Lykourgos; cf. Paus. 1.29.16 and Hypereides F 118 and below IG ii² 3207:

a. Elected over preparation for war (cf. b–f).
b. Provided 400 triremes.
c. Built dockyards (Hypereides).
d. Finished shipsheds.
e. Finished skeuotheke.
f. Built harbours (Hypereides).
g. Built gymnasion in Lykeion.
h. Built palaistra.
i. Finished the theatre of Dionysos as epistates.
j. Completed other buildings.
k. Put foundation walls around the Panathenaic stadion.
l. Reorganized and saw to making of cult equipment for Athene.
m. Saw to the Odeion (Hypereides).

Hieropoios to Delphi?

TIMOKRATES son of Nikomachos of Acharnai (VI)
SEG 25.568.

Note: It may be doubted that --teles son of Medeios at IG ii² 4648 was a state hieropoios.

Plouton and the Furies

IG ii² 1933 gives us names associated with this cult about our period; D.M. Lewis informs me that 1934 cannot belong to this period (cf. Clinton, Sacred Officials 22):

KRITODEMOS son of [E]ndios of Lamptrai (I) PA 8812; APF 179
EPIKRATES son of [Pe]isianax [of Sounion] (IV) APF 378
THRASYLLOS son of [Th]rasyllos [of Dekeleia] (VIII) PA 7341; APF 241
ANTIGENES son of Xenokles of Oe (VI) PA 995
PYRRHOS son of Pythodoros of Acherdous (VIII) PA 12514
BOULARCHOS son of [B]oular[ch]os of Phlya (VII) PA 2913
APOLLODOROS son of Apollodo[ros] PA 1392
ETEOKLES son of Chremonides [of Aithalidai] (IV)
PHILOTIMOS son of Akestothemi[s] PA 14747
[A]RIST[ODE]M[OS] son of Aristodemos PA 1802

Epimeletai of tribe?
[KLEOPEITHE]S son of Theopompos of Pallene (X) PA 8611
--O]N son of Theophilos of Anaphlystos (X) PA 7128
IG ii² 1596.21ff. For the suggestion of the 320s see Lewis in Problèmes de la terre 191.

Epimeletai of tribe III Pandionis
[PHEIDIPPOS] son of [Ph]eidon of Paiania PA 14162; APF 567
. . . ? . . . AS son of Kallisthen[es of ?Myrrhinous] PA 8103
NIKOMACHOS son of Thra[s. . ⁵ . . ] of Kydathenaion PA 10951; APF 253
IG ii² 1152.3ff. (= 596) – perhaps after our period. The restoration of Myrrhinous depends on trittys distribution, not a safe assumption.

Demarchoi
PHILOTHEROS of Aixone (VII) PA 14502
IG ii² 1197.20 – c. 330

PHI[LERIPHOS] son of [A]ischeas of Halai (VII) APF 535, 537f.
IG ii² 1598.37f. – 320s ? For the restoration, rather than Philippos, see SEG 21.573 and Whitehead, Demes no. 16.

ISCHYRIAS of Halai (II)
SEG 2.7.6 – between 330 and 325 and before the next man.

KYBERNIS of Halai (II)
SEG 2.7.20. See the last entry.

--AIOS son of [Sos]igenes of Ikarion (II)
SEG 22.117.1, 7 – about 330 and before the next man.

THOUKYDIDES of Ikarion (II) PA 7273
SEG 22.117.6f. See the last entry.

MNESARCHIDE[S] of Oinoe (VIII)
IG ii² 1594.51 – 320s?

A[N]TIPA[TROS] of Sphettos (V)
IG ii² 1601.17 – 320s? See Whitehead, Demes no. 47.

Paredros of demarchos?
CHARISANDROS son of Charisiades of Halimous (IV)
SEG 2.7.3, 11ff. He was honoured for duties as substitute for the demarch about 330–325.

COUNCIL AND ASSEMBLY

(i) Potter, ABSA 1984, 229–35, has argued that IG ii² 399 may belong at this time; the argument is very speculative, but the document may belong in this period; it honours Eurylochos of Kydonia and is dated to the tenth day of the prytany or shortly thereafter:

Bouleutes epistates
PAMPHILOS of Phi[laidai] (II)
Proposer
DEMADES son of De[meas of Paiania] (III) PA 3263; APF 99ff.
For the epistates, Philaidai is the only demotic available, though Potter's text leaves too much room for it.

(ii) IG ii² 403 (LS no. 35) is a probouleumatic decree concerning repair to the statue of Athene:
Bouleutes epistates
. . . .⁸. . . . s of Kerameis (V)
Proposer
-- of Lakiadai (VI)
On the latter see Hansen, GRBS 1984, 139.

(iii) IG ii² 413 may have the following:
Proposer?
LYKOU[RGOS] (son of Lykophron of Boutadai) (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(iv) IG ii² 415 is a probouleumatic decree of about 330/29 in honour of the anagrapheus; it is dated to the last day of Skirophorion, thirty-fourth of the prytany; cf. Walbank, Hesperia 1982, 44:
Bouleutes epistates
DEMETRIOS of Erchia (II) PA 3400
Proposer
[HI]ERONYMOS son of Oikopheles of Rhamnous (IX) PA 7570
Anagrapheus
KALLIKRA[T]IDES son of Kallikrates of Steiria (III) PA 7988

(v) IG ii² 421 honours an Amphipolitan; it is dated before 318/17:

Proposer
[DEMOPHILOS] son of [De]mophilos of Acharnai (VI) PA 3675; APF 498
The alpha of Mnesikles' demotic is an unpublished reading communicated by D.M. Lewis.

(vi) IG ii² 422 honours a Histiaian before 318/17:
Proposer
-- son of --os or --es or --as of Oion (IV or VIII)

(vii) IG ii² 436 has the following:
Proposer
-- son of --os or --es or --as of An--
Hansen, GRBS 1984, 139, suggests the possible restoration of Meidias son of Meidias of Anagyrous (I) (PA 9720; APF 387), but this is obviously speculative.

(viii) IG ii² 1628.300 records a decree concerning naval equipment before 326:
Proposer
HEGEMON PA 6290

IG ii² 3207, taken as the bottom part of 457, refers to honours for Lykourgos, first in the boule:
Proposers
(ix) DEMEAS of Sphettos (V) PA 3325
(x) DIOPHANES of Kephisia (I) PA 4409
(xi) KTESIKLES of Bate (II) PA 8868
(xii) In boule and demos:
(xiii) Proposer
THEOMENES of Oe (VI) PA 6957
(xiv) Unspecified:
-- of Myrrhinous (III)

(xv) Hesperia 1940, 332f. (39) (Schweigert), is dated c. 330:
Proposer
-- son of --mo--
Hansen (GRBS 1984, 140) suggests, with no confidence, the possibility of Moirokles son of Euthydemos of Eleusis (VIII) (PA 10400 = 10401).

(xvi) Hesperia 1944, 231ff. (5) (Meritt: Osborne D 26), is a citizenship decree for a Plataian dated just before 321/20:
Bouleutes epistates
--IKOS of Thorai (X)
Proposer
DEMEAS son of Dem[ades of Paiania] (III) PA 3322; APF 101f.

(xvii) Hesperia 1974, 322 (3) (Camp), is a probouleumatic proxeny decree for Sopatros of Akragas before 324:
Proposer
[LYKOURGO]S son of Lyko[phron of Boutadai] (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(xviii) MDAI(A) 1957, 156ff. (1), is a decree concerning Samos:
Proposer
ARISTOPHON

A number of decrees are attributed to
Proposer
DEMOSTHENES son of Demosthenes of Paiania (III) PA 3597; APF 113ff.
(xix) Deinarchos 1.43 records citizenship decrees for Chairephilos and his sons, (xx)(xxi) Epigenes and Konon (Osborne TT 75–78, 80, 81), also honours for (xxii) Bosporan princes, possibly all around 330; Aisch. 3.85 and Hypereides
(xxiii) 5.20 record citizenship decrees for Kallias and Taurosthenes of Chalkis

(Osborne TT 73, 74); anon de com. 3.46ff. (Koster) records a citizenship
(xxiv) decree for Antiphanes, but this is problematic (Osborne T 79); Deinarchos
(xxv) F 42 refers to a decree of unspecified content which was indicted as unconstitutional (Hansen, Sovereignty no. 37).

(xxvi) A decree honouring Neoptolemos was passed in the period 338–330 (Dem. 18.114; Plut. Mor. 843f):
Proposer
LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(xxvii) Dem. 26.17 (cf. 25.94) and Deinarchos 2.12 suggest a number of decrees from:
Proposer
ARISTOGEITON son of Kydimachos PA 1775

(xxviii) That concerning the trial and execution of Hierokles was successfully challenged as unconstitutional (Dem. 25.40, 68, 87; hyp. i, ii, iii Dem. 25; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 29).

(xxix) A decree that the tribes Akamantis and Hippothontis should relinquish their share of Oropos to Amphiaraos was successfully challenged as unconstitutional (Hypereides 4.15ff.; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 35):
Proposer
POLYEUKTOS of Kydantidai (II) PA 11947 = 11928 = ?11927

(xxx) A decree concerning public water supply was also attacked after 335 (Deinarchos F 18; Hansen, Sovereignty no. 33):
Proposer
STEPHANOS PA 12879

(xxxi) Plut. Mor. 850b records an honorary decree for Phokion which must be before 322; the archon mentioned is the fictitious Xenias and if this is a corruption, 346/5 (Archias) or 324/3 (Hegesias) are possible years; it was indicted as unconstitutional (Hansen, Sovereignty no. 39):
Proposer
MEIDIAS son of Meidias of Anagyrous (I) PA 9720; APF 387

Speakers in the assembly are Aristogeiton (Dem. 25.41f., 64; Ep. 3.16; Deinarchos 2.12); Aphareus (Plut. Mor. 839c); Demeas of Paiania (Athenaios 13.591f); Euxenippos (Hypereides 4.14); Kephisodoros (Timokles F 17 Edmonds); Moirokles, Pataikos and Taureas (Dem. Ep. 3.16); Polycharmos (Plut. Mor. 726b – date uncertain); Hypereides (Athenaios 13.591f).

Nomothetai

(xxxii) Before 330 a law was passed affecting the duties of the theoric commission (Aisch. 3.25):
Proposer
HEGEMON PA 6290

(xxxiii) Nomoi were proposed before 322 (Athenaios 6.226a (Alexis F 126 Edmonds)):

Proposer

ARISTONIKOS son of Aristoteles of Marathon (IX) PA 2023 = 2028

Proposer

LYKOURGOS son of Lykophron of Boutadai (VI) PA 9251; APF 348ff.

(xxxiv) Plut. Mor. 841f–842a records laws concerning comic actors; concerning (xxxv) the statues and texts of dramatists; against buying freeborn captives for (xxxvi) slaves; concerning the festival of Poseidon; concerning women going to (xxxvii) Eleusis by carriage.
(xxxviii)

SEG 28.52 has a decree of the boule praising the tamias (of the boule) and a list of bouleutai of tribe IV Leontis, dated c. 333:

Tamias of boule

P . . . ON of Paionidai or Cholleidai (IV)

Addenda

Professor Lewis has communicated to me the details of an unpublished inscription of 422/1, which is in fact a republication of around 403, being preceded by lines from that time. It is an honorary decree for Polypeithes of Siphnos from the nineteenth day of pryt. Akamantis and provides the following:

Grammateus

ARCHIKLES of Halai (II or VII) PA 2495

Bouleutes epistates

DIDYMIAS

Proposer

ALKIBIADES (son of Kleinias of Skambonidai) (IV) PA 600; APF 9ff.

The secretary's identity means that IG i$^3$ 91 and 92 (App. V xi and xii) must now also be placed in 422/1.

Indexes

Index I: Persons

In this index will be found all who appear in the annalistic text, each assigned a number for future reference. Alternative names are included in brackets and then appear separately in their place as the number of the first entry plus 'a', 'b' as necessary. Thus we try to preserve the number of individuals who appear, but this is complicated by choices in prosopographical identification and subjective criteria which may leave probable identifications unmade. All suggested PA equivalences are included, so we have, e.g., no. 1278 as PA 4721 = 4710 and as Prop. 361 i, and no. 1279 as PA 4718 = 4710 and Prop. 361 i. On the other hand, as with nos. 2932 and 2933, two separate individuals may be listed, although they are identified in PA. Another problem arises with no. 503, who, because of identity suggested, has three entries as bouleutes, when an individual can only be allowed two.

All question marks and square brackets attached to entries in the main text have been removed, so that a question mark in the index indicates that the office is unknown. The index is effectively a guide to where people will be found. Users should in any case refer for any individual from the index to the text. Dates, too, have been simplified to the first year in the archon-year formula, except that 411 and 411/10 remain distinguished. Offices are listed according to the order used in the text.

The index proceeds first by alphabetization according to the spellings adopted (note again my retention of 'Thucydides' for the historian, 'Thoukydides' for others). With each letter we have: (i) those for whom only initial letter(s) of the name survive; (ii) those who show in addition a patronymic; (iii) those who show (patronymic or not) an indication of tribe (for those with demes see below); (iv) the list of those with full name, homonyms being organized in order as those with simple name, then those with patronymic only, those with tribe (patronymic or not), those with demotic, alphabetically by demotic, homonyms with full nomenclature being further ordered alphabetically by patronymic and/or chronologically.

The second part of this index is of incomplete names without initial letter(s). First come those whose name does not survive at all: (i) with patronymic, whole or part, alphabetically; (ii) with tribe, in tribal order and within that alphabetically by patronymic; (iii) two with the initial remains of demotics. Then we list the letters of those names which have survived, arranged alphabetically by letter and chronologically, regardless of whatever other elements occur.

The third part consists of all incomplete names with demotics attached, arranged alphabetically by demes: (i) those whose name is completely lost; (ii) those without initial letter(s); (iii) those with initial letter(s); (iv) those with incomplete patronymic, then those with at least initial letter(s) of patronymic, alphabetically by patronymic, whatever else survives.

Index III: Problematic Documents

Here I include inscriptional documents the date of which is dubious or debatable, where dates have been removed or assigned. There are two categories, decrees and documents used for placing officials, each indicating the inscription and the year or Appendix in which it will be found. I exclude those inscriptions which relate to priests of Asklepios and to Delphi, and those dealt with by Linders, Artemis, and Reinmuth.
